NRCS office in Grygla to close

The Natural Resource Conservation Service (NRCS) formerly the Soil Conservation Service, will no longer operate out of the Grygla office. The office is one of several NRCS offices that will be closing around the state with closing expected to take place by October 1, 1995.

The Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water conservation district will continue to operate out of the district office and district programs will be handled as usual.

NRCS plans are to move records to the respective county office (Warren and Bemidji). At this point, CRP files have been transferred to their respective counties. Wetland determinations will be transferred after current maps show wetlands areas are obtained, so landowners can still check in the office for information, without making an extra trip to the county seat. Case files will still have to be gone through, and some materials copied such as tree plans and ditch cut sheets, so these records can be kept in Grygla as well. A lot of other details will have to be worked out as they arise.

Plans are to have Mike Ratzlaff continue to do some of the field work in the Grygla area, and he will be in Grygla on Thursdays or as needed.

NRCS will continue to have a memorandum of understanding with the district, and plan to continue working with the district and attend district board meetings.

For more information on these changes contact the district office in Grygla.

Disaster sign-up period to end March 31

Chairman Orlan Stolaas of the Pennington County Farm Service Committee wants all farmers to be aware that the sign-up period for disaster assistance ends on March 31.

"The disaster program was authorized when the extent of the crop loss was determined last December," said Stolaas. "Since that time, the Pennington County CFSA Office in Thief River Falls has paid out $2.5 million dollars to 330 farmers who suffered financial losses due to weather conditions during crop year 1994."

If a farmer lost more than 40 per cent of his crop due to disasterous conditions last year, he should contact the CFSA office to see if he would be eligible for financial assistance. The period for filing these claims ends on March 31, and no applications will be accepted beyond that date.

NCC to offer new 3-hour music block

Music 243—Music in Recreation and Leisure will be offered during the spring quarter at Northland Community College. The course will be offered once a week on Tuesday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Northland music instructor Les Torgerson, who will teach the class, said the three-credit course is offered on a once-a-week, three-hour-block basis to make it easier for students in the community to participate.

The class is designed for music majors or minors, or other musicians who wish to develop skills in music and group leadership. It is an opportunity for those who direct, or would like to direct, a church choir or use music in a summer recreational program. Participants should have an ability to read music or at least a basic understanding of it, Torgerson said.

Classroom activities will include sessions in learning to accompany singing with the guitar and piano, playing the recorder and basic conducting techniques. Attention will also be given to strategies for improved group interaction that could be quite useful for camp counselors and others, he added.

"As a result of this course, students will develop an appreciation for the role of music in recreational activities and in therapeutic settings," Torgerson said. "They will also develop confidence in personal abilities for group leadership. Students will make a survey of recreational programs available at various community sites such as nursing homes, churches, summer recreation programs and other opportunities."

For more information, contact Torgerson at 681-2181, ext. 143.

– Whitey Olson –

Olson is selected for Hall of Fame honors

Long-time Thief River Falls coach Windfield (Whitey) Olson has been named to the Minnesota State Tennis Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

The announcement was made recently. Official presentation of the award will be made April 8 at Eagen High School, site of the State Tennis Coaches Association spring meeting.

Olson has retired from his coaching duties, which included boys and girls tennis, boys basketball and football, but continues to serve as a counselor at Lincoln High School.

After a year at Bertha-Hewitt and seven years at Littlefork-Big Falls, Olson arrived in Thief River Falls for the 1965-66 school year as head boys basketball coach and assistant football coach.

He stepped down as basketball coach after the 1970-71 season, and left football following the 1979 season. But he had added boys tennis to his coaching resume beginning with the 1968-69 school year.

Thief River Falls' girls tennis program began under Olson in the fall of 1974. He gave those duties up the following season, but was back as the girls head coach in 1974. The tennis double that found him coaching the girls in the fall and the boys in the spring continued through the 1988-89 school year.

Despite the short seasons and frequent cancelation of practice or matches due to cold and wet weather in northwestern Minnesota, the Olson-coached Thief River Falls tennis teams enjoyed a high level of success. During his coaching tenure Thief River Falls tennis teams won a dozen district or sub-region titles, and five Region 8 or Region 8AA crowns. His teams were second place finishers six times at the sub-region level and seven times in Region 8 and Region 8AA competition.

Thief River Falls had 27 state meet entries in singles and doubles during Olson's coaching career that also included 22 invitational tournament team titles and a 221-93 combined dual meet record for boys and girls.

Olson accepted the honor, but was quick to share the recognition. "You have to attribute whatever success I had as a coach to the quality of kids I had the opportunity to work with," he said.

A Forest Lake native, Olson received his BS degree from Moorhead State University and his masters degree from Bemidji State University. His family includes wife Jeanne, a Thief River Falls

Denny Minks recognized

Denny Minks of KKAQ and KKDQ Radio in Thief River Falls has been selected by the Minnesota State High School Athletic Directors Association as a recipient of the group's Distinguished Service Award.

The presentation will be made April 6 during the 25th annual athletic directors conference in Minneapolis.

Jarod Highberg of Bagley reached above Kevin Warne of Grygla-Gatzke for a second half rebound in Thursday's Section 8A boys high school basketball tournament semifinal game at the University of Minnesota-Crookston. Shaun Verbout (42) of the Eagles, along with Dan Riewer (14) and Chance Derby (20) of the Flyers looked on. Grygla-Gatzke won 57-52.

Grygla-Gatzke reached 8A finals with 57-52 win...

Eagles' rally stuns Bagley

It's hard to fast break without rebounds. The run-and-gun Grygla-Gatzke offense was all but shut down for three quarters Thursday before the Eagles started picking up rebounds to key a fourth quarter rally that stunned Bagley with a come-from-behind 57-52 Section 8A boys high school basketball tournament semifinal win at the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

With Bagley controlling the boards and scoring points, the Grygla-Gatzke fast break offense and pressing defense – the Eagles' bread-and-butter that produced their first ever Section 8A tournament appearance – were held in check. The Flyers led by a dozen, 45-33, heading into the fourth quarter and appeared ticketed for a Friday championship game berth.

But the last eight minutes produced vintage Grygla-Gatzke basketball as the Eagles out-scored the bigger, but noticeably-tiring Flyers 24-7.

Section 8A Boys

■ Semifinals Thursday, March 16 - Grygla Gatzke 57, Bagley 52, Fertile-Beltrami 65, East Grand Forks 60

■ Finals Friday, March 17 - (third place) Bagley vs. East Grand Forks, 6:30 p.m.; Grygla Gatzke vs. Fertile-Beltrami, 8:15 p.m.

During the course of the Grygla-Gatzke comeback, the Eagles were 9-for-15 from the field (60 percent), including four fast break baskets, and made 5 of 6 free throws. Beaten on the boards 23-11 through three quarters, the Eagles out-rebounded the Flyers 8-1 in the final period.

While Grygla-Gatzke was picking up steam, Bagley struggled down the stretch with 1-for-7 fourth quarter shooting. The Flyers did not score from the filed in the final 6:11 and did not score, period, over the last 3:32. They turned it over four times during that stretch, with two of the turnovers leading directly to Grygla-Gatzke baskets.

"We did a much better job keeping them off the boards in the fourth quarter," acknowledged Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson, who admitted the Eagles were in trouble when they broke the huddle to start the final period. "The rock was around our necks," he said. "But the kids never gave up. We came back and did the things that got us to where we are. I think it really shows the character of our kids that they didn't panic, and they kept working hard."

Most of the first half was a back-and-forth affair. The lead changed hands 10 times and there were five ties. Grygla-Gatzke led 13-11 at the end of the first quarter and had a 24-22 edge following a Jeremy Verbout 3-point shot with 1:24 remaining in the half. But Bagley went into intermission with a 29-24 advantage on the strength of an 8-0 burst over the final 63 seconds, including back-to-back treys by Daniel Fischer and Chance Derby.

The Eagles didn't challenge the Flyers' lead in the third quarter, but all that changed when Grygla-Gatzke blitzed Bagley 7-0 with three fast break baskets in the first 70 seconds of the final period – by Jamie Lunsetter, Jeremy Verbout (who added a free throws for a 3-point play) and Shaun Verbout.

Then it really got interesting when Lunsetter popped a 3-pointer and Shaun Verbout sank two free throws to cut the Bagley lead to just 49-47 with 4:45 still remaining.

Final Bagley point of the night came on a Daniel Fischer free throw with 3 1/2 minutes to play, making it 52-49.

Scott Hoganson scored on a drive as the Eagles pulled within 52-51 with 3:02 showing. The scoreboard didn't change until a nifty pass on the inside by Lunsetter was converted into a basket by Kevin Warne and a 53-52 Grygla-Gatzke lead with 1:10 to play.

A Bagley turnover led to a Hoganson drive for a 55-52 advantage with 40 seconds remaining.

Two Bagley misses from 3-point range kept the Flyers from tying the game. The second attempt caromed out of bounds, and the Grygla-Gatzke possession resulted in two game-clinching Jeremy Verbout free throws with 19 seconds to go.

"I was disappointed in our rebounding in the second quarter, and I thought we did a poor job defensively in the third quarter," said Johnson. "But in the fourth quarter, we put it all together."

The usual Grygla-Gatzke offensive balance showed up again as Shaun Verbout scored 16 points, Jeremy Verbout 12 and Kevin Warne 11. Hoganson and Lunsetter added to the balance with 9 and 7 points, respectively.

Fischer, a 6-4 senior who is No. 4 on the all-time career scoring list for boys in Minnesota high school basketball, finished with 30 points to lead the Flyers, including all seven fourth quarter Bagley points. Chance Derby netted 12.

Grygla-Gatzke was 23-for-50 from the field for the game (46 percent) and 9-for-12 at the free throw line. Bagley went 17-for-40 from the floor (43 percent) and 12-for-18 at the line. The Flyers finished with a 24-19 rebound edge, but also had twice as many turnovers, 16-8.

The Eagles, who have won 17 of their last 19 games, took a 19-7 record into the state tournament-qualifying Section 8A finals. Bagley fell to 21-4.

Northland Community College athletic director Rick Nelson (center) announced at a Thursday news conference that Shari Olson (left) has been named as the Pioneers' new head volleyball coach, succeeding Deb Jacobson (right), who announced her resignation after 20 years of coaching at the Thief River Falls school.

Pioneers name volleyball coach

Shari Olson has been named the new head coach of the Northland Community College volleyball team, succeeding Deb Jacobson.

A joint announcement during a Thursday press conference called at the school reported Jacobson's resignation and Olson's appointment.

Olson's husband, Rick Nikunen, is head coach of the Northland women's basketball and softball programs.

Athletic director Rick Nelson said the administration was accepting Jacobson's reassignment request, allowing her to concentrate on her teaching duties.

Jacobson has been involved in women's athletic programs since their beginning. She arrived at the Thief River Falls school in the fall of 1973, and directed the school's first softball team that spring. Volleyball and basketball were added the following year, with Jacobson as the head coach. She later coached the Northland men's and women's golf teams, and has also been involved in athletic administration.

"It was fun," said Jacobson. "It was an exciting time to be involved in women's athletics because of the start of the Title IX."

In a prepared statement, Jacobson said, "I truly believe in the biblical statement, 'To everything there is a purpose, and a time for every purpose.' After much consideration and deliberation I feel this is the right time for me. The years have seen many changes, and I have decided it is the right time to make another. My decision to step down from coaching will give me more time to devote my energy to the area that has always been my first love – teaching."

Jacobson said she has many fond memories of her coaching career. "When I was hired at Northland, there were no opportunities for women to participate in intercollegiate athletics," she explained. "I am very proud that I was able to be instrumental in the development of women's athletics. As I think back over my 20 years of coaching at Northland, names and faces fill my thoughts. I have coached over 50 competitive seasons at Northland – coaching nearly 600 athletes in volleyball, basketball, softball, and golf. I have been very fortunate to work with so many good student/athletes. I also have been fortunate to work with some very good and caring colleagues. Al Adams and Chet Engelman were both my mentors when I first started. Rick Nelson in the last 10 years has been a tremendous supporter of me and women's athletics at Northland. I want to thank him for his friendship."

She will continue to serve as Northland's assistant athletic director.

"Deb will be missed in the coaching end of things," said Nelson, "but she will continue to help us in the area of athletic administration."

An Alvarado native, Olson was involved in athletics in high school and at the University of Minnesota-Crookston. She received a Master of Science Degree in education and a Bachelor of Science Degree in vocational home economics education from North Dakota State University. She has served as a curriculum consultant at Northland, but is not a member of the faculty.

"I'm very excited to be involved in the Northland athletic program," said Olson. "I'm very honored to be part of a program at this level."

Recruiting is an immediate concern. The Pioneers' volleyball program was suspended last fall because of a lack of numbers. But Olson is confident in the area high school player pool. "Northwestern Minnesota has some tremendous female athletes," she noted, indicating that her recruiting would be concentrated locally. The school's top-notch facilities will be a major selling point, she said.

Part of the recruiting might have already been done by her husband, who has been busy talking to basketball players who also play volleyball.

Olson said she doesn't anticipate Northland's absence from volleyball in 1994 as a problem in recruiting for 1995. "I don't see that hindering us," she said. "There are so many good athletes to be had in northwestern Minnesota."

By the fall of 1995 Olson and others involved in Pioneer athletics will likely be coaching Northland Community Technical College – the expected name of the new Thief River Falls school following the completion of the statewide higher education merger will combine the Northland Community College and Northwest Technical College-Thief River Falls programs. Approval was given a number of years ago allowing technical college students to be eligible to compete in local community college athletic programs.

Ali Hietala

Jenny Smith

Northland signs pair of area basketball recruits

Ali Hietala of Badger/Greenbush-Middle River and Jenny Smith of Stephen have signed basketball letters of Intent with Northland Community College, it was announced by Pioneers coach Rick Nikunen.

Hietala is a 5-5 point guard who helped lead the Gators to a Section 8A runner-up finish this winter.

"Ali will bring us some quality ball handling, passing and defensive skills at the guard position," pointed out Nikunen. "She has tremendous leadership abilities and an intense work ethic. Coming from a very successful high school program at B/G-MR, Ali knows what it takes to have a winning team, and I'm confident that she'll be a major contributor to our program."

Smith is a 5-10 forward who averaged 13 points and 8 rebounds per game for the Tigers during the recently-completed 1994-95 high school season.

"We are very excited to have Jenny in our program," said Nikunen. "She brings outstanding athleticism to the team. Along with the versatility to play inside or on the perimeter, she has the intensity and the work ethic that will be contagious with her teammates."

Olson is honored

assistant tennis coach for several years; daughter Michelle, who is a tennis instructor in the Twin Cities area, and son Mark, a newspaper photographer/reporter in Austin.

"It's nice to be recognized," acknowledged Olson. "When I look back on it, I never anticipated anything like this. I really appreciate all of the work done by the people who put this (nomination) together and made this possible."

Olson earlier received a 25-year Service Award from the Minnesota State High School Coaches Association and was selected Counselor of the Year by the Minnesota Counselors Association in 1988.

John Wallberg is NCAA Division III track All-America

John Wallberg, son of John and Marilyn Wallberg of Thief River Falls and a junior at Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) in Cambridge, MA, recently earned NCAA Division II All-America honors in track for the second successive year.

Wallberg qualified for and competed in the National Indoor Track Championships March 10 and 11 at Ohio Northern University in Ada, OH. He competes in the 35-pound weighted ball event and finished fourth nationally, improving both his distance and sixth place finish from last year. He rallied from seventh place entering the finals and gained fourth with a personal best throw of 55 feet, three and one-half inches.

Athletes finishing in the top six places in each event are accorded All-America designation. In the outdoor season, John will compete in the shot, discus and hammer throw events.

SOUPÇON
Sherry LaCoursiere

More good recipes from the Embassy Community Center cookbook today — some of these would make good Lenten meals.

Why bother to cook that rice — try this easy dish:

WILD RICE HOT DISH
Martha Tharaldson, Fosston

2/3 cup wild rice
1 1/2 pounds hamburger
1 onion, chopped
1 can mushroom soup
1 can chicken soup
1 can mushrooms, drained
1/3 cup water
1 teaspoon parsley flakes
1/4 teaspoon salt

Place rice in bowl and pour over enough hot water to cover. Let stand overnight.

Brown hamburger and onion. Drain.

Add soups, mushrooms, water, parsley and salt. Mix well.

Bake at 350 degrees for two hours.

A tasty meal that's just right for a Lenten main dish:

SALMON LOAF
Elvira Muesing, Fosston

1 (#2) can salmon
1 small onion or celery
1/2 cup cracker crumbs
3 eggs, separated
2 teaspoons melted butter

Mix all ingredients together except egg whites. Beat egg whites to stiff peaks and fold in last.

Bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

Here's another tasty Lenten lunch:

TUNA BUN FILLING

3 hard cooked eggs, chopped
2 tablespoons olives, chopped
2 tablespoons dill pickles, chopped
Mayonnaise
1 small can tuna, flaked
1 tablespoon onion, grated
1/4 pound American cheese, grated
Salt and pepper

Mix all ingredients, using mayonnaise to moisten.

Fill buns and wrap in foil. Bake on cookie sheet for 15-20 minutes at 350 degrees.

OATMEAL WAFFLES
Linda Hand, Fosston

1 1/2 cups flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 slightly beaten eggs
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 cup quick cooking rolled oats
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 1/2 cups milk
6 tablespoons melted margarine

In a large mixing bowl, stir flour, oats, baking powder, cinnamon and salt.

In a small bowl, stir eggs, milk, margarine and brown sugar.

Add liquid mixture to flour mixture in large bowl and blend well.

Pour batter into preheated waffle iron. Do not open during baking.

Try this different side dish to go with those hamburgers or hot dogs:

PIZZA POTATOES

6 medium potatoes, peeled and thinly sliced
1 large onion, thinly sliced
Olive oil
1/2 pound grated mozzarella cheese
2 ounces sliced pepperoni
1 teaspoon salt
1 (8 ounce) can pizza sauce

In skillet, saute potato and onion slices in oil until onion appears transparent. Stir constantly to prevent browning. Drain.

Combine potatoes and onions with cheese, pepperoni and salt in crock pot. Pour pizza sauce over top.

Cover and cook on low for 6-10 hours.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Air, soil and water. Most of us don't spend a great deal of time thinking about them. We breathe, our feet touch the ground and we turn on the faucet. To America's farmers and ranchers, these three words form the mainstay of their existence.

The partnership between nature and agriculture is essential to our health and the health of our environment, our economy and much of the world. Each farmer produces enough food annually to feed 128 people and that number continues to grow.

American agriculture is helping to protect our precious wildlife by providing food and shelter. In fact, 75 per cent of the nation's wildlife lives on farms and ranches. Modern agriculture efficiency has left more land and forests for wildlife to forage.

American agriculture is improving our natural resources. Minimum tillage, contour farming, strip cropping and other conservation practices have reduced soil erosion by 25 per cent over the past 10 years.

American agriculture is an environment-friendly, renewable resource for consumer products. Biodegradable garbage bags and eating utensils are made from starch now. Soybeans can be found in cleansers. Milk is used to make tape for disposable diapers. New uses for agricultural products not only conserve non-renewable resources but also provide jobs for rural economies.

National Agriculture Week helps to remind us of the importance of American agriculture and the men and women who feed and clothe us. Take a moment this week to celebrate their enduring partnership with nature.

Sincerely,
Yvonne Erickson, president
Minnesota Agri-Women

Students in Odyssey of the Mind compete Saturday in Moorhead

Students from Challenger Elementary school in Thief River Falls will compete Saturday in the Regional Competition for Odyssey of the Mind in Moorhead.

One team worked on the problem "Vaudeville". The team's problem was to develop and perform a vaudeville show that would have three or more original acts, an emcee, and a commercial. The show's theme had to be about some aspect of society that the team decided was upbeat or positive. The members of the vaudeville team are Molly Hanson, Sarah Willis, Kay Steiger, Brenda Kopari, Sarina Nelson, and Naomi Lawrence. Gabe Hanson is the coach for the vaudeville team.

A second team worked on the problem "Scientific Safari". The team's problem was to design, construct, and drive a safari vehicle that would be propelled by two types of power. The vehicle will be driven on a safari where it will encounter team-constructed animals. The team will tag some of the animals, rescue an injured animal, collect a new animal species, relocate animals and stop poachers. In addition, the team developed a theme for its safari. The team members are Kate Levinson, Brittany Larson, Jason Swenson, Peter Ihle, Reed Waterworth, and Lance Pearson. Elizabeth Quick is the coach for this team.

The third team worked on the problem "Time Traveler". The team's problem was to create and perform a skit about traveling in time. The performance will include a time traveler and a team-created time machine that performs tasks. During the performance, there will be at least three scenes and two journeys through time. The problem also involves presenting a surprise ending. The team members are Jamie Radloff, Nicky Olson, Amy Donarski, Sarah Lofgren, Emily Tweet, Cody Knutson, and Jane Harlow. Donna Harlow is the coach for "Time Traveler".

MathCounts team from Franklin places 22nd at state competition

After finishing first in its chapter competition, Franklin middle school MathCounts team finished 22nd at the state meet recently at the St. Paul Ramada Inn. St. Paul Academy finished first for the third consecutive year.

Franklin coach John Wallberg said that the difficulty of the state exam is indicated by the average score of the 48 participants from throughout the state—14 out of a possible 46 points. Highest individual score of the meet was 34 points.

"Our students were disappointed by their placing," Wallberg said, "but they have worked hard all year and can be proud of being among the top 12 of 180 teams in the state. More than 1,000 students took part in MathCounts competition this year and only 48 made it to the state finals."

A WORD FROM YOUR AUCTION COMPANY ABOUT THIS SALE: Because Melvin has reached retirement age, and has also encountered serious health problems, he and Ruth have made the decision to retire from farming. The result is that the tractors and farm equipment that have served them so well over the years will now be made available to the fortunate bidding and buying public. Circle this date on your calendar and make every effort to attend this event!

Vicki Bitzagaio sings in a scene from Westside Story. She is one of the many Lincoln high school students performing in the school choir's presentation of "A Musical Review Extravaganza". The concert will be presented 7 p.m. Monday, March 20, in the school's auditorium. It is free of charge.

Lincoln high school choirs will present "A Musical Review Extravaganza Concert" in the school auditorium on Monday, March 20, at 7 p.m. The concert is free of charge and under the direction of Darcy Reese. The concert consists of selections from a number of musicals. Above, some of the choir members, rehearse a scene from Westside Story.

Bogestad earns honors

in cooperation with neighboring schools. She is also researching the possibility of getting Internet in the school and looking at ways to include the business communities and city governments in learning new technologies.

She sees a need for more preparation for vocation, more relevant, applied course work. She says students need to request that standards be raised. They need to ask for more difficult work. They also need more input on their own course work and to be responsible for their own outcome.

An opportunity for such change is included in the Tech Prep Program. This is an innovative new program for which Tri-County just received a grant. The program includes a detailed evaluation of a student's skills. After a student's skills have been identified, the student will, within the framework of the core classes, create projects that help to improve the student's weaker skills. Judy is very excited about this new program.

Judy also recognizes the importance of working with other small schools. She has been active in keeping in touch with neighboring school districts such as Badger-Greenbush/Middle River, Argyle, Stephen, and Newfolden to see how they can share and help one another. With many of these school districts shrinking, it is becoming increasingly important to work together and extend a hand of friendship.

Aside from all of Judy's work with the school board, she is kept busy at home. She is the mother of five children who are all involved in a variety of activities. They are really the reason she ran for the school board in the first place. She is also the corporate officer for JB Farms.

She has been involved in her church for many years as church council member, Luther League advisor, and Sunday school teacher. She is a former member of the United Hospital in Grand Forks, ND, and she is a parent aid for Girl Scouts.

Dr. Suomala is delighted that Judy was honored by the MSBA. She said that if anything good happens north of Elk River, people tend to think it's just a fluke. She points out that there are good things happening up here and good people like Judy Bogestad are making them happen.

Franklin parent advisory group meet postponed

Franklin middle school parent advisory committee will not meet on March 31 as had been previously scheduled. The meeting has been moved to Tuesday, April 18 at 7 p.m. in the Franklin middle school media center. All parents of Franklin middle school students are encouraged to attend.

Global Studies seeks students for program

Global Studies Institute of Red Lake Falls has received a grant to provide short-term exchanges between students in Minnesota and Russia. The institute is cooperating with Duluth public schools on this exchange experience.

Applications will be accepted by the Global Studies Institute and Duluth Public Schools from norther Minnesota students. Minnesota students will host Russian students from May 20, 1995 to June 30, 1995 and then live with families in Petrozavodsk, Russia (a large city in northern Russia) from July 29, 1995 to September 9, 1995.

Students must comply with the following requirements: be between the ages of 14 and 17 on July 29, 1995; take Russian lessons provided by Global Studies Institute for the remainder of the school year and part of the summer; host a Russian student from May 20, 1995 to June 30, 1995; be first time visitor to Russia; pay up to $500 unless economic need demonstrated; have a background or interest in the occupational areas of health, business or government; be in the top one half of their class academically; present a letter of recommendation from a faculty member; prepare a statement of personal goals; had a position of leadership in a student organization.

The number of spots available is limited so please apply as soon as possible. For more information about the exchange experience and or an application, please contact Karsten Anderson at 253-2139.

The grant is sponsored by the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the United States Information Agency under the authority of the Fulbright-Hays Act of 1961.

Northland College Foundation to increase its scholarship fund port of the college library; procurement of special equipment; planning for special college activities and programs; and development of regional interest in support of the college.

Donations to the Foundation are fully tax deductible and are used only locally. Gifts to the foundation may be made in several ways and can usually be arranged to achieve maximum benefit for the donor while still providing generous support to education. Contributions may be made by gifts of cash, real or personal property, securities, by provision of a will, by gifts of insurance policies or by the establishment of trusts.

Members of the Foundation's scholarship committee are Kay Wedul-Steiger, Diane Freeman, Jean Heinrichs, Tyrone Birkeland, Sue Minnick and Henke.

Other members of the Foundation's board are Allen Bertilrud, Red Lake Falls; Ila Flesche and Bob Miller, St. Hilaire; Tim Finseth, Angus; Delmer Nesland, Oklee; Wally Sparby, Eagan; Romal Burtness, Dr. Jim Langland, Arnold Narverud, David Olin, Milton Reierson, Richard Sjoberg, LeRoy Stumpf, Dale Dillon, John P. Mattson, Gordie Peterson and Regan Rohl, all of Thief River Falls.

Persons interested in becoming a part of the Foundation's scholarship fund drive may contact any of the board or committee members or Katy Henke at 681-2181 or 1-800-628-9918.

Young artists piano competition planned

Digi-Key Young Artists Piano Competition will be conducted Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25, at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls.

In conjunction with the competition, Estonian pianist Indrek Laul will present a free concert open to the public Friday, March 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Northland Community College theater. He will play music by Franz Liszt and contemporary Estonian composers.

On Saturday, March 25, at 1:30 p.m. a Winners Recital will be presented at the Northland theater. Pianists who place in first through third place in each of four categories for grades nine through 12 will be expected to perform one selection of their choice.

Piano teachers from throughout Minnesota and North Dakota have been notified of the competition although there is no geographic limitation. Contestants will compete in their age category regardless of experience.

Monetary awards are offered in all categories for first through third place. 4,091 signatures received to hold Roseau election

Taxpayer's Choice volunteer committee in Roseau county announced at a news conference in East Grand Forks Friday morning that 4,091 voters had signed petitions calling for an election on the location of the Roseau county seat.

Committee co-chair Rhody Heneman said that the signatures totaled 64.5 per cent of the number of county residents voting in the last election—exceeding the 60 per cent requirement by nearly 300 signatures. He said that petition cards were still coming in steadily on Thursday.

Heneman and co-chair Ruth Stukel said that all provisions of state law were met in the petition process.

"Every petition we received was meticulously verified according to state law," Stukel said. "Matter of fact, we went beyond the legal requirements. Our process insured the authenticity of signatures to a far greater detail than the ordinary paper and clipboard procedure.

"...The message to the county board, county auditor and county attorney is this: Don't use your office to stand in the way of the nearly 4,100 taxpayers who want to vote and don't let those who oppose this election delay the process. The voters are clearly in favor of having an election and we are confident that they are able to make this decision on their own."

It is understood that under state law the county board must meet to certify the petition. It is the board's responsibility to verify that a sufficient number of valid signatures were received.

Warroad Mayor Bob Marvin thanked volunteers for their efforts in collecting signatures on the petition. He said that opponents of the petition drive have threatened to challenge each signature and will be asking people to remove their names from the petition. He encouraged anyone who feels pressured or coerced to call the Taxpayer's Choice group at 218-386-2120.

Members of the Marvin family in Warroad have offered $4.5 million to Roseau county to build a new courthouse if the county seat is moved to Warroad.

Ampero Esterlich, Amity scholar from Spain, will present two programs Monday, March 27, at the Thief River Falls public library. At noon she will present a program for adults about her homeland and those attending are invited to bring their noon lunch. At 3:30 p.m. she will have a program for elementary school age children, at which she will teach them songs and talk about Spanish customs.

Centenial wagon train

Roseau — More than 100 wagon train riders will travel through Roseau county to celebrate the county's Centennial year. The Roseau County Centennial Wagon Train will leave Strathcona May 25 and travel to Wannaska on the first day. Subsequent days' trips will be from Wannaska to the Ryan Cole farm, the following day on to Roseau, then to Badger, and to Greenbush on day seven. The wagon train is a tribute to Wagon Train Boss Cordell Wiskow of Strathcona, who may not be able to travel with the caravan because of leukemia. Wiskow and his wife, Lucy, had long planned a wagon train trip in Roseau county that would travel the same path his forefathers once took. Wiskow organized the stops and volunteers for the train and trip and mapped out the trail last year.

Bemidji activists

Bemidji — American Indian activists marched into the office of Beltrami County Attorney Tim Faver last week and called for his resignation. "This is our chance to get Mr. Faver out of office before he has any more chances to hurt Native Americans," said Roy Martin, president of the Bemidji Area Indian Rights Commission. Martin formed the group after spending seven months in jail before being acquitted of charges of crimes that included sexual assault against a neighbor. The group blames Faver for "perpetuating racism in the court system and community in his pursuit of criminal charges against Martin," according to the Pioneer.

Cuts at tech colleges for 95-96 school year are deep

Budget cuts at the Thief River Falls campus of Northwest Technical College for the 1996 fiscal year (1995-96 school year) will have a severe impact on staff although no programs are scheduled to be cut at this time, according to information secured by the Northern Watch from the office of Dr. Orley Gunderson, president.

Thief River Falls campus of Northwest Technical College will consolidate with Northland Community College in the near future under the recently-approved name of Northland Community and Technical College and with Dr. Gunderson as its president.

Five remaining campuses in the Northwest Technical College system (Bemidji, Detroit Lakes, East Grand Forks, Moorhead and Wadena) also made cuts and are scheduled to undergo a reorganization at the administrative level. The six campuses made cuts totaling about $2 million or 10 per cent of their budget with the cuts approved Tuesday by the Northwest Technical College board.

At the Thief River Falls campus, seven full-time licensed and tenured instructors had their positions discontinued and four others were reduced from full-time to part-time status.

Three part-time licensed and tenured positions and five non-tenured part-time faculty positions were also discontinued.

One part-time and eight full-time non-licensed support staff members had their positions discontinued, and one full-time non-licensed support staff member was reduced to part-time. In addition, some employees who had been on extended contract were reduced to the standard 185 days.

Depending on the enrollment for 1995 fall classes, some faculty positions could be reinstated if warranted by student numbers. Despite the discontinuance of positions, no programs were cut at this time.

Among the five remaining schools in the Northwest system, there will be restructuring at the administrative level which eliminates the jobs of president and vice president at each campus.

Ray Cross will continue as chief executive officer for the regional system with four regional vice presidents serving under him. Nine deans will be appointed.

Public hearing scheduled on future of Norris Camp

Norris Camp will be the subject of public forums in several area communities April 3-5.

Norris Camp has been the Minnesota Department of Natural Resource headquarters for the Red Lake Wildlife Management Area since the late 1930s, but could be closed if plans of consolidation with the Forestry and Wildlife offices in Warroad are realized. The Federal CCC program built most of the buildings at the camp in the 1930s. Last November, it was placed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Public forums to allow interested individuals to express their opinions will be held at the Baudette Senior Center April 3 at 7:30 p.m., Warroad City Hall April 3 at 2 p.m., Thief River Falls City auditorium April 4 at 7 p.m. and St. Paul, DNR building, 500 Lafayette April 5 at 7 p.m.

A news release from the Minnesota department of natural resources explained that, "The Forestry Division has an office in Warroad that is overcrowded and needs to be replaced. A new DNR office building and garage will be built in Warroad. One proposed alternative is to expand on any new buildings in order to relocate the wildlife staff and equipment at Norris Camp to Warroad. This proposed consolidation of Forestry and Wildlife offices in Warroad is consistent with a move across the state to co-locate offices where possible."

The pros and cons of several options will be discussed at each of the four meetings. "The options under consideration are: 1 close Norris Camp completely and move everything to a new facility in Warroad, 2 keep Norris Camp operating as it is now and just build a new building for Forestry in Warroad, or 3 office only the wildlife manager from Norris Camp in Warroad and maintain the equipment and other workers at Norris Camp."

Background information concerning these options is available for review at Norris Camp and at the regional office in Bemidji. A copy of this information is also available by writing to: Paul Swenson, Regional Administrator, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Region 1 Headquarters, 2115 Birchmont Beach Road NE, Bemidji, MN 56601.

Comments about the proposals may also be expressed in writing to the above address.

Uffda Players at Roseau set musical

Roseau Community School and the Uffda Players will present Rodgers and Hammerstein's "The Sound of Music" in the Roseau school theatre April 2, 3, 6, 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. and April 9 at 3 p.m.

Tickets are $7 for adults and $5 for students (K-12) and all seats are reserved. For reservations call 218-463-2825 from 5:30 to 8 p.m.

Lynn Kostrzewski is cast as Maria, governess to the seven children of Captain Von Trapp, played by Kevin Nelson. The children are Liesl (Laura Kjersten), Friedrich (Adam Sandbek), Louisa (Lindsay Brummer, Kurt (Paul Mattson), Brigitta (Anneliesse Nelson), Marta (Laura Vagle) and Gretl (Amy Broten). Mary Ellen Kindzerski plays the role of the Mother Abbess.

More than 50 Roseau community residents and students are involved in the production directed by Troy Brewster (artistic director) and Robb Johnson (musical director).

Fourth of five concerts presented this season by the Thief River Falls Concert Association will be presented Tuesday, March 28, by Rhythm & Brass, six virtuoso performers playing trumpets, horn, piano, trombone, euphonium, tuba and percussion. The group has a repertoire ranging from the pristine baroque tradition to chamber jazz and beyond. Members are (top) Charles Villarrubio, Wiff Rudd, Bob Thompson and David Gluck; (bottom) Mark Kellogg and Alex Shuhon. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. Admission is by season membership only. Final concert of the series will be Sunday, April 23, by Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians.

Outdoor Sports and Gun Show at Newfolden

Thirteenth annual Outdoor Sports and Gun Show will be held Saturday and Sunday, April 1 and 2, in the Newfolden high school gymnasium under sponsorship of the Agassiz Rod and Gun Club.

Show hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days with admission to be $1. In addition to guns, there will be coins, crafts, jewelry, sports cards and other collectibles on display and for sale or trade.

Saturday's special attractions will be two fishing seminars by Marv Sandbek, Fishing Pro-Mo team member, at 1 and 3 p.m. and a wild game feed from 5 to 7 p.m.

Sandbek is a tournament fishing veteran, outdoor writer and photo journalist. At the 1 p.m. seminar he

Landowner's Rights meeting at Fosston

Minnesota Landowners Rights Association is sponsoring a public meeting Saturday, April 1, beginning at 1 p.m. in the Fosston school with a number of public officials expected to participate.

According to Leonard Furuseth of Thief River Falls, president of the association, invitations have been extended to Sen. Roger Moe of Erskine, Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls, Rep. Tim Finseth of Warren, Rep. Jim Tunheim of Kennedy, Rep. Edgar Olson of Fosston and Congressman Collin Peterson of Detroit Lakes.

Also invited to attend is Mike Mahoney of Grand Forks, president of the North Dakota landowners rights organization.

Sen. Stumpf and Rep. Tunheim have authored legislation on landowners rights in the Minnesota legislature this session and Rep. Peterson has headed legislative efforts in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"As landowners we don't mind doing our part for clean air and water," Furuseth said, "but we shouldn't go broke in the process. This is a wake-up call to property owners. The equity and ownership control they thought they had in their real estate probably isn't there."

Furuseth said the Minnesota Landowners Rights Association will provide written information at the Fosston meeting as well speakers and access to legislators.

"The 1991 Wetland Conservation Act is a massive deception that prohibits landowners from improving their farming operations and wildlife habitat on their own land," he added.

Home, Sport, Family show opens today

Doors open at 10 a.m. today (Saturday, March 25) at Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center in Thief River Falls to start the annual two-day Thief River Falls Times Home, Sport and Family show. The show will be open until 6 p.m. today and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, March 26.

More than 100 exhibitors will fill the civic center, including those with sport and recreational vehicles, accessories, home and building improvement, art, finance, music, health and beauty, education and more—including more than a dozen craft displays.

A complete list of exhibitors was published in the March 18 issue of the Northern Watch.

Denise Lavmm, show coordinator for The Times, said that the local model railroad club has arranged a display on the upper level at the civic center and Company B of the Minnesota National Guard in Thief River Falls will have a display of vehicles and equipment outside the building.

Admission at the door is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children ages six through 16. Children under six years of age are admitted free.

St. Bernard's Pizza drive is big success

Dozens of parents, students, friends, and parishioners of St. Bernard's gathered in the school cafeteria on Friday, March 10, to make pizzas. Over the previous three weeks, parents and students took orders from virtually anyone who stood still. The local area responded by ordering over 5,000 pizzas of which over 3,600 were produced at the school that day.

The pizza production started before noon and continued well into the night. The process got a big boost when several teenagers showed up to work. After the pizzas were made and heat sealed, a conveyor belt transported them outside to a freezer truck where they were sorted and stacked for distribution.

The long-standing annual event is the largest fund-raising project of the year for St. Bernard's school, and the cooperation from the community and surrounding area was outstanding. Many thanks are extended to Bridgemans, Hartz Foods, Skalsky Electric, Les's Sanitation and the dozens of volunteers for their contributions and hard work in making this project a success.

Results of taste tests are coming in very favorably from all areas. If you were unable to order, or would like to order more, pizzas are still available by calling the St. Bernard's school office at 681-1539.

Local quilters asked to help collect history

Local quilters will be participating in a project of the Minnesota Historical Society. The purpose of the Minnesota Quilt Project, is to search for quilt makers and owners of old quilts, preferable made before 1976, and record the history of quilts and quilters in Minnesota. Several other states have done this and some states have published a book of the information collected.

The Minnesota Quilt Project has already held Quilt Discovery Day in 38 Minnesota cities to photograph and catalog old quilts. The Thief River Falls area has not yet been canvassed.

Along with the photos of old quilts, the project would like oral histories of long-time quilters. The project has already learned that the Sunbonnet Sue pattern probably originated in Minnesota. Many other oral stories were woven into the stitches of quilts by hardy female homesteaders in the years of our states early development. The Project will preserve, in print, these stories about midwestern women before it's too late.

The Quilt Project wants oral, taped interviews with quilt makers about how they made their quilts including techniques, patterns, fabrics, batting, and how and where they learned their skills and gathered their patterns. They would also like to have interviews with owners of old quilts that know information about the maker. Photographs may also be taken of old quilts. The taped information will be transcribed and included in the history of Minnesota Women at the Minnesota Historical Society in St. Paul.

Please contact Donna Koehmstedt at 681-2921 to set up an appointment. Information will be gathered between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 3 p.m. in the Thief River Falls library meeting room. Information gathered for this project will become a part of the Minnesota Historical Society and will be stored as an important historical contribution of women in Minnesota.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

The true test of a good cookbook is its sweet section. Here are some of the Embassy Center's cookbook's sweets.

Oh my — make these for Christmas next year but try some for your Easter dinner first:

SALTED NUT ROLLS

Connie Lavoi Amundson, Crystal

1 (7 ounce) jar marshmallow creme
1 (17 ounce) package caramels
1 small can salted peanuts
2 1/2 cups powdered sugar
3 tablespoons water

Knead together the marshmallow creme and powdered sugar. Shape into small fingers and place on a cookie sheet. Freeze.

Melt caramels and water in double boiler over hot water.

Dip fingers in caramel mixture and then roll in chopped peanuts. Freeze until set. Refrigerate.

These cookies would taste great with milk, wouldn't they.

CHOCOLATE OATMEAL COOKIES

Bernie Solberg, Gully

2 cups flour
2/3 cup cocoa
1 cup melted butter
3 cups quick oatmeal
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups sugar
2 eggs, beaten
3/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
2 teaspoons vanilla

Sift dry ingredients together.

Mix butter, eggs, milk and vanilla.

Combine with dry ingredients and fold in oatmeal.

Drop on cookie sheet and bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes.

These cookies are so easy to make you may never buy cookies again:

UNBELIEVABLE COOKIES

Minette Naastad, Fosston

1 egg, well beaten
1 cup white sugar
1 cup chunky peanut butter

Mix all ingredients together and roll into balls.

Place on cookie sheet and press down with fork. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes.

Another easy sweet treat:

MUD PUDDING

Muriel Roy, Lengby

1 (5 3/4 ounce) vanilla instant pudding, made according to mixer method
1 (8 ounce) package softened cream cheese
1 (16 ounce) tub of Cool Whip
1 large bag of Oreos

Crush Oreos.

Layer ingredients in order in serving bowl (at least three times), topping with Oreos.

SRF technical staff moves to Grygla

Many changes are in the works for the conservation office in Grygla. The Natural Resource Conservation Service (NRCS), formerly the Soil Conservation Service, will be leaving the Grygla office. Taking their place will be the technical staff for the State Revolving Fund (SRF).

The State Revolving Fund is a multi-faceted program. The program funding is the result of the 1987 Federal Clean Water Act. Funds that have been used in the past for upgrades of municipal sewage treatment facilities are now funnelled through the Minnesota Department of Agriculture. One of these "funnels" is the SRF Ag. Best Management Practices (BMP) loan program. Counties can apply for part of $10 million annually, for low interest loans to farmers, rural landowners, or agricultural supply businesses for non-point source pollution projects.

At the same time state legislature also allocated funds to get technical staff, starting with a registered engineer and a technician, in the field to help implement these plans. The state has been divided into 11 joint powers areas. The Northwestern Minnesota Joint Powers Area will be housed in Grygla. Workload will cover eight conservation districts including Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Marshall-Beltrami, Pennington, Red Lake Falls, East Polk and West Polk. Plans are to have a registered engineer on board in late April or May with the technician position to follow.

For more information on the State Revolving Fund Program, contact the office in Grygla, or any of the other conservation districts in the Northwestern Minnesota Joint Powers Area.

POLYCARBONATE LENS PROTECTION

A great boon to sports enthusiasts (and other eyeglass wearers, especially the young, rough-and-tumble set) are the new polycarbonate materials. Back in the '50s and '60's, most lenses were made of glass. Then plastic became popular because it was lighter. However, polycarbonate is even lighter than plastic. As a matter of fact, it is 50% lighter than plastic and 20% thinner for the same correction. That means more comfort and style. In addition, it's a better ultraviolet (UV) protector and provides much greater impact resistance.

For this reason, it is the preferred lens for people who engage in athletics. Polycarbonate frames are also preferred. If you regularly participate in sports that involve a projectile, such as racquetball, baseball or tennis, ask your optometrist about polycarbonate lenses and frames. Polycarbonate lenses come in clear or any of the multitude of tints available. They're worth the investment.

State board approves name change for TRF college

Minnesota Higher Education Board has approved the name of Northland Community and Technical College (NCTC) as the name for the soon to be consolidated college campuses in Thief River Falls.

The consolidation of Northland Community College and the Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls will occur July 1, 1995. "The campuses have been working together very closely this year in preparation for the consolidation that will occur this summer," said Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of NCTC. He added, "Advertising, class schedules, and recruiting are currently being done jointly to relay to the public that we will be one college July 1."

Faculty at both campuses are excited to have the name approved as they feel it will be much easier marketing one name rather than two. A new logo is also being designed to complement the new name.

According to Gunderson, the name went through on its first reading without any hesitancy from the Higher Education Board. "I'm not surprised," remarked Gunderson, "we were confident that the name would be approved. It reflects the region and clearly identifies for the public that the college offers a wide variety of technical and liberal arts programs."

Thief River Falls is the third location to have it name approved for a co-located college as they were preceded by Brainerd and Duluth.

We Gladly Accept

LETTERS

To The Editor:

We have been thinking of this for quite a while, and maybe now is a good time to say it. We attended the Lincoln high school choir concert Monday evening and it disappoints us that there is only one handicapped parking space on Knight Avenue in front of the building.

People who are handicapped like to attend these events, but it is hard for them to get near the building. We realize there are spaces behind the building, but that is a very long walk for people who have difficulty walking.

We also belong to the Concert Association and have the same problem there. There must be others who feel the same way.

Is there some way to get more handicapped parking, either on Knight Avenue or First Street? We hope someone will take note of this and do something about it.

Sincerely,
Dan and Carol Rawerts
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

As I read the March 15 issue of The Times, I came across the headline "Bids Received for Washington Elementary School Property."

Now, if I remember right, when we as taxpayers in School District 564 were asked to vote on a bond issue for a new school, which is Challenger elementary school, we were told the Washington school building would be used for the district's administrative offices. Now the school officials are doing an about face on us.

They also tell us the highest bid is pretty much what it cost to build the building, but they don't tell us what it will cost to replace it.

In my opinion, the money received from the sale of Northrop, Knox and Washington schools should be put in a building fund, NOT a general fund where the money could be used for anything. I have lost faith in our school officials as they tell us one thing and do another.

Sincerely,
Alvin Rondorf
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

Just wanted to extend a sincere thank-you to the Times/Watch editorial staff for allowing my public opinion comments to appear in your papers over the past eight years. You would not believe the comments they have generated from some of your readers.

As our "tour of duty" ends in our hometown of Thief River Falls, we want to thank our friends for their support of our opinions and others for strengthening us through their opposition. It is not easy being open and honest about false cults, liberalism and modernistic corruption in and out of the churches.

Perhaps as we grow older and wiser, we will gain more tact, tenderness, truthfulness and thoughtfulness in our continuing contributions of opinion. Be assured that our hatred for sin—and love for the sinners—will continue to grow. In this city's great need for revival, we will endeavor to pray for loving, hard, honest preaching from the various pulpits.

We will miss our good friends and the interesting editorial coverage your papers provided. It has been good to grow with the help of your various publications.

Respectfully Yours,
Pastor M. Forsberg and Family
Precious Seed Baptist Church
Thief River Falls

(Editor's Note: Best wishes to pastor Forsberg and his family and our thanks for his contributions to our public opinion columns. But he need not miss our "interesting editorial coverage"—a subscription will allow our papers to follow him wherever he goes in this life.)

Quartet will give concert at LHS Sun.

The Chancellors Quartet from Minneapolis will present a concert of Southern Gospel favorites on Sunday, April 2, at 4 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium in Thief River Falls.

The concert is sponsored by a number of area churches and is open to the public with a free-will offering to be received. The quartet was formed in 1970, disbanded in the early 1980s and was reorganized in the late 1980s with some new members.

Giving Americans Some Of Their Money Back

In a column published in the Wall Street Journal, U.S. House Speaker Newt Gingrich expounds the pluses of a bill he expects to see passed in the first week of April. Time will tell if his confidence is rewarded, but his view of the "crown jewel" in the Contract With America is certainly an optimistic assessment.

"It's a bill that simultaneously reduces the size of government, the size of the deficit and the size of the American tax bite," he writes. "This is the first piece of legislation in American history to (a) cut taxes, (b) pay for each dollar of those tax cuts with a dollar in spending cuts and (c) substantially lower the deficit by $91 billion—all at the same time.

"....The bill proposes a fundamental change in the relationship between the American government and the American citizenry, and is the plainest assertion we have yet made of the key principle underlying the Contract With America.

"Simply put, the bill says this: 'The American government's money does not belong to the American government. That money belongs to Americans, and it's time to give Americans some of their own money back.'

"To reduce the deficit and the size of government without returning their own money to the American people is to seek actuarial perfection instead of economic and social justice."

Gingrich sets forth several of the provisions of the bill that he views as especially important:

(1) A $500 tax credit for each child in a family. This is not a deduction, which is subtracted from a family's gross annual income before computing taxes. This is a credit subtracted in full from whatever amount of money the family owes the Internal Revenue Service. A family with three children could subtract $1,500 from its federal income tax responsibility.

(2) American Dream Savings Accounts—an improvement on Individual Retirement Accounts. These would allow funds accrued over five years to be used without tax penalty for first-time home buyers, or for college or medical expenses.

(3) Capital gains restructuring. Goal of these changes would be to return to the financial incentive for investment that leads to economic growth.

(4) Economic growth encouragement. This would give one-person businesses and entrepreneurial start-ups the same deductions for such operating expenses as office space and equipment allowed to Fortune 500 companies. It would double the first-year deduction for new equipment to $35,000 for small businesses and ease tax rules on depreciation and cost recovery for larger businesses.

There is a degree of common sense to the proposals, most notably the recognition of the costs involved in rearing children and the necessity to reduce spending commensurate with tax cuts.

For that matter, we could tolerate a status quo in tax rates if spending were cut and a corresponding reduction made in the national debt. Until our nation is able to reduce its debt to a point where interest payment becomes tolerable, we can expect no legitimate tax reduction.

Despite the Gingrich optimism, we have serious doubts about any real victory in what he says will be "a full frontal assault on the assumptions that have governed Washington for the past 30 years." Change does not come easy where the federal bureaucracy is concerned, nor will it come quickly.

As an American taxpayer, this writer isn't as concerned about the government giving me some of my money back as it is about how much is being taken in the first place.

Assuring A Balance Is What People Want

In an article entitled "A Question of Rights," published in the Winter 1995 issue of WaterTalk, published by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Division of Waters, John Linc Stine comments on "balancing an individual's right to make reasonable use of one's property and the public's rights entrusted to government management...."

"Frequently in this debate," he writes, emotional arguments about abusive government laws and unresponsible bureaucracies fuel what is truly a question of legalities. Indeed, the United States and Minnesota Constitution defend the rights of landowners while acknowledging government authorities need to protect the public health and safety and to promote the general welfare.

"...The balancing act comes in the evaluation of when does a governmental action, law or regulation constitute a 'taking.' Courts have engaged in fact-specific balancing of landowners' interest in maximizing economic gain from their property with the need for sound land use management to avoid damage to the public health and safety and general welfare.

"...The laws of Minnesota and the United States have never said that landowners are free to do whatever they want on their own property. It would not be reasonable to build an oil refinery in a residential neighborhood. Such use would be denied in order to protect the neighbors' public rights...."

This is an obvious example and few people, including those who might want to build a refinery, would argue with the logic of it. By the same token, however, those who would build residences in the neighborhood of an existing refinery should expect no support to have that refinery closed or moved. And those who would build a refinery in an area removed from highly populated areas should not have unreasonable restrictions prevent such location.

"The Department of Natural Resources, and the State of Minnesota in general, are not interested in regulations for regulation sake nor for governmental purpose, but instead in the general public's best interest," Stine continues. "Existing water laws are complex and with several agencies responsible for regulations at federal, state and local levels, the DNR is trying to reduce overlap and we recognize the need for simplification.

"As an agency, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources also recognizes the need for protection of individual property rights and for the protection of the public's interest. The laws and courts allow for the balancing of these values and their balancing must be discussed periodically to confirm and assure that this balance truly exists. We therefore welcome this opportunity for an open discussion involving all interested parties and we encourage participation as this topic is explored once again," Stine concludes.

We feel that landowners generally believe public interest and private rights are out of balance and that is why they have appealed to legislative bodies this year. They also believe it is inequitable to have to go to court at their own expense to protect their property and livelihoods from intrusive regulations while agencies of the government are able to use public funds against them.

But it is good to know from Stine's words that a true balance is being sought as a general objective. We think most property owners would be happy with that.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively, letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

In the late 1800s my father-in-law, Carl Haosno, left a teaching position in Norway to homestead here in northwest Minnesota. He spent the next 60 years farming and raising his family in rural Marshall county near the town of Goodridge.

I met and married Lynn, one of his sons when we were both living in the Twin Cities. We were young, eager and seeking our fortune in the big city. But our hearts were still in rural Minnesota, and we soon returned to Marshall county to build our future.

Even at that time, people were talking about the difficulties facing rural communities. A lack of industry and good jobs were hurting the region's prospects for growth. Populations were declining and communities and families suffered. Young people were flocking to the cities believing the myth we once believed — that life had to be better in a large city.

Back on the farm, Lynn and I quickly learned if positive things were to happen, WE were the ones having to take the initiative. And, over the next few years, we started a 4-H club, a saddle club and a snowmobile club. I began the Goodridge Historical Society, founded the Minnesota Agri-Women's Association and, for 15 years, served on the Goodridge school board.

In 1986, I clipped an article from the newspaper about a new organization being formed by the McKnight Foundation. This organization would provide funds to address the many economic and social problems here in northwest Minnesota that so many of us were concerned about . . . and local people would govern and guide the organization.

This was the beginning of the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund. I told myself someday I wanted to be a part of this new venture. . . for I strongly believed (and still do) in the mission and vision of the Initiative Fund: "to improve the quality of life in northwest Minnesota by encouraging and energizing people to devise creative responses to change that will build a future with greater economic opportunity for all of us."

In 1988 I was elected to the Initiative Fund's Board of Directors and have personally seen the stimulus. . . the "shot in the arm" that the Initiative Fund has been for northwest Minnesota. It has given communities and organizations hope and encouragement, helping them plan and carry out new ideas. It has created jobs, helped people in need, and developed the leadership ability of many community people.

As a charitable foundation, the Initiative Fund provides nearly $2 million a year in loans, grants and training opportunities which help our people, communities and organizations address problems and shape the future of our region.

The Initiative Fund is working to become a permanent resource for northwest Minnesota. However, the McKnight Foundation will not provide support indefinitely. Maintaining our current level of giving will require an endowment of $12 million. With the help of many contributors from throughout the region, we are already over halfway to our goal.

Lynn and I are part of over 600 individuals and businesses who have helped build this organization. Won't you please join us in this effort? For a gift of $25, $50, or $100 or more you can become a partner and help ensure a brighter future for all of us here in northwest Minnesota.

Signed,
Norma Hanson
NWMIF board member

To The Editor
and Concerned Citizens:

As you may now be aware, the Minnesota DNR has set up public forums to examine the future of Norris Camp as operating headquarters for the Red Lake Wildlife Management Area. In our region they are set for Warroad city hall on April 3 at 2 p.m. and in the Brink Center in Baudette the same day at 7:30 p.m.

As currently practiced, the DNR presence at Norris Camp appears to provide the most efficient basis for operation as well as providing significant benefits to the public. This could become even more important in the future.

And further, maintenance for use achieves the preservation of this historic facility. It is proposed that, if Norris Camp is closed, a new facility would be built, at taxpayers' expense, in Warroad—a proposal which is both baffling and disturbing. It is to the DNR's credit that they are now willing to solicit public concerns on the matter.

If you don't care what happens to Norris Camp, all you have to do is stay home. If you do care, it is essential that you attend one of these meetings and state your feelings. A final resolution may be made shortly, there will not be another chance.

Sincerely,
T. E. Hehnstetter

East Grand Forks and Duluth bus service starts up

Scheduled bus service between East Grand Forks and Duluth, with stops at all towns along U.S. 2 is being resumed. Triangle Bus Lines abandoned the route in 1994, ending the only public ground transportation across northern Minnesota.

The new service will be operated by Eagle Transportation of Bemidji and will feature round trips from Bemidji to Duluth on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday and from Bemidji to East Grand Forks on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Additional service may be added in the future.

Legion Auxiliary, unit 117, presents safety books to students

Picture this: local children safe at home tonight because they were given a book on safety. They know to say "No" and get away from a stranger. They know to tell an adult right away.

This story is repeated with minor variations in news accounts from all regions of the country. The book on safety in the news story is "The Little Body Guards" Safety Club coloring book, provided free to all Thief River Falls second graders by the American Legion Auxiliary, unit 117 of Thief River Falls.

The "Little Body Guards" coloring book was given to second grade students on Tuesday morning, March 21. Each student in participating classes received a copy of "How To Keep A Body Safe" to take home.

Parents are urged to look for the "Little Body Guards" book, go over the information and develop a family safety plan with their children. The easy-to-understand safety language helps adults and children to communicate often difficult or avoided topics. A game page turns safety skills into child's play. The book also provides a home-alone emergency guide of special interest for working parents.

Participating schools are: Challenger, St. Bernard's, and Our Saviours Christian Academy.

Stefany Olson

Stefany Olson is entrant in pre-teen event

Ten-year-old Stefany Olson, daughter of Shannon Olson and Dale Olson of Thief River Falls, has been named a state finalist in the Miss American Pre-Teen pageant to be held July 8 and 9 at the Radisson Hotel in St. Paul.

The pageant is held for girls ages eight through 12. The winner will receive a $1,000 cash award, the official crown and banner, a bouquet of roses and transportation and sponsor fee to compete in the national pageant.

Stefany's activities include swimming, gymnastics, volleyball and Girl Scouts. She also enjoys reading, dancing and doing volunteer services.

Foot care clinic at Newfolden Tues., April 4

Foot care clinic will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, April 4, at the senior citizen building in Newfolden. Appointments are necessary and may be made by calling the Marshall County Nursing Service at 874-6900. Nurses will soak feet and trim nails. There is a $6 charge per person.

Deadline noted for disaster loan applications

Farmers in eight northwestern Minnesota counties have until April 17 to apply for emergency loans to help cover their physical and production losses from the 1994 crop year, according to the Pennington county office of Rural Economic and Community Development (formerly Farmers Home Administration).

The Secretary of Agriculture in August of 1994 declared the eight counties as eligible for FmHA emergency loans due to damages and losses from hail, excessive wind and heavy rain.

Polk, Pennington and Red Lake counties were named as primary disaster areas with Beltrami, Clearwater, Mahnomen, Marshall and Norman added because they are contiguous with the primary counties.

Current interest rate for emergency loans is 3.75 per cent. To be eligible, farmers must have suffered a 30 per cent loss of normal production in any major crop, be able to repay the loan and any other loans, be unable to secure credit elsewhere and must provide adequate security.

For further information contact the county RECD office.

Homemakers spring tea is Fri., March 31

"Miracles of Spring" will be the theme when eastern Pennington county homemakers clubs hold their spring tea Friday, March 31, at Oak Park Lutheran church northeast of Oklee.

Registration will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the program to begin at 8 p.m. Guest speaker Jean Vig of Lengby will speak on the topic "The Girl That Froze."

Readings and music will also be included on the program and there will be a display of crafts. Admission of $1 includes a dessert lunch.

Parent group plans workshop at Karlstad

PACER Center, a statewide non-profit training and information source for parents of children with disabilities, will present a free workshop on special education laws and services affecting families who have a child with disabilities at Karlstad in the Eagles Club Monday, April 17, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The event is co-sponsored by the Northwest Regional Interdistrict Council. A second workshop will be held April 18 in Bemidji.

The workshops will outline families' basic rights to a free, appropriate education for the children, no matter what the disability. The responsibilities of parents, public schools and social service agencies will be addressed, information handouts provided, and questions answered.

For more information or to pre-register call PACER at (612) 827-2966 or 1-800-537-2237.

Northland Community College baseball...

Pioneers have pitching, defense

Northland Community College baseball team is 2-for-3 heading into the 1995 season, according to Pioneers coach Terry Wiseth.

Baseball success, Wiseth points out, is determined by three things – good pitching, good defense and good hitting. The Pioneers appear to have the pitching and the defense to be competitive. If they can generate some offense, they will be more than competitive.

"We have two of the three, so we should be in pretty good shape," said Wiseth. "We just have to find a couple of people here and there to fill some spots."

There are 11 players returning from the one of the Pioneers' most successful baseball seasons ever, a year in which they finished 21-11 overall and qualified for both the National Junior College Athletic Association Region 13 and Minnesota Community College Conference state tournaments.

"Most of our pitching is back, and defensively we should do pretty well," noted Wiseth. "Offense is the question mark. We're untested."

Sophomore righthanders Michael Steen (Lancaster), Jeremy Olson (Thief River Falls), Josh Stromlund (Roseau), and Greg Lien (Warroad) all pitched for the Pioneers last year. They will be joined on the mound staff by freshmen lefthanders Brian Minks (Thief River Falls), Jamie Jack (Mayville-Portland, ND) and Joe Alexander (Glenwood).

"Seventy-five percent of our innings return from last year, and we think we have some kids who can fill in," pointed out Wiseth.

The pitchers will be throwing to either Mitch Nash (Warroad) or Ricky Rivera (East Grand Forks), a pair of sophomore catchers who double as first base candidates. Rivera was an MCCC all-state pick as a freshman.

Stromlund, when he's not pitching, and sophomore Nathan Knutson (Thief River Falls) will play key roles in the infield.

Rob Burley (Thompson, ND) and David Blazek (Middle River) are returning starters in the outfield.

Rest of the preseason roster includes sophomore outfielders Ray Reinhart (Warroad) and Ron Northup (Thief River Falls), along with freshmen Mark St. Marie (Red Lake Falls), Josh Donner (Waubun), Ryan Marquardt (Lakota, ND), Jon Riesinger (Richfield), Tony Salerno (Orlando, FL), Chris Shawstad (East Grand Forks), Nate Vatnsdal (Greenbush), Eric Hamre (McIntosh), Jeff Reynolds (West Fargo, ND), Joby Looker (Thief River Falls), and Brandon Storey (Warroad).

Key losses include Mitch Bernstein, Cory Graves, Corey Poole, and Marc Haugen. Bernstein, Graves and Poole were MCCC All-Northern Division picks. Bernstein and Graves joined Rivera on the all-state team, and Bernstein received additional honors as an NJCAA Division III All-America selection.

Those four also filled the top half of the Pioneers' batting order.

"We just hope the kids we have this year can come along and pick it up offensively," said Wiseth. "We've got a good group of kids. The sophomores have a good work ethic. They're leading the freshmen right now – providing good role models."

Northland will take its annual preseason spring training trip to Nebraska with a March 28-through-April 2 visit to the Omaha area for practices and scrimmages. The Pioneers' 1995 season opener is scheduled April 5 at Fergus Falls.

Kelly Skeim is selected as Prowlers' MVP

Kelly Skeim was named the most valuable player on the 1994-95 Thief River Falls girls high school basketball team during the Prowlers' annual post-season awards banquet Tuesday.

Skeim, a 5-7 senior, was also recognized as the team's top offensive player, an All-North Sub-Section 8AA honorable mention selection and co-captain of the 1994-95 Prowlers.

Junior Lisa Swanson was voted as the top defensive player; sophomore Kim Stenseth was named most improved and was on the All-North Sub-Section 8AA honorable mention list; senior Jenny Wilde received the Prowler Pride Award, and junior Laura Williams was announced as the winner of the team's free throw shooting contest.

Recognition also went to senior Sarah Huschle as a 1994-95 Prowler co-captain and a Section 8AA academic all-state finalist with a 4.1 grade-point average.

Athletic letters went to Skeim, Huschle, Wilde, Swanson, Stenseth, sophomores Jocelyn Helgeland and Alicia Bakken, plus eighth grader Nicole Kopari.

Skeim (11.5), Stenseth (11.3) and Kopari (10.5) all finished with double-figure scoring averages this winter.

The Prowlers struggled through a 4-19 season – obviously a disappointing showing in the won-loss department, acknowledged head coach Sally Wiltse.

Lack of depth played a part in the Prowlers' problems as the coaching staff tried to fill holes a quarter at a time with players off an already shorthanded junior varsity team. The situation became even more troublesome when injuries and illness struck the team.

"The kids got a lot of playing time," noted Wiltse. But they also got tired. And tired players have trouble with their defense and their shooting – both areas that hurt the Prowlers throughout the winter.

Thief River Falls shot 31 percent from the field for the season, which, while still below par, did actually represent an improvement over the year before. The Prowlers also gave up 1,445 points this winter – the most on the team record books. They averaged 48 points per game themselves, but surrendered 63 points per game.

"Our (lack of) endurance affected our defense," explained Wiltse. "We needed a strong effort from every player every game to be successful on defense, and we weren't able to do it consistently. Offensively we made some improvements, but it was a case of robbing Peter to pay Paul. We spent more time working on our offense, and our defense suffered because of it."

Two records went into the Prowlers' books this winter, both single game team marks – 84 field goal attempts vs. Fosston and 26 steals against Roseau.

Individually, Huschle finished No. 2 on the Prowlers' career blocked shot list with 66, well behind Dawn Lambert's school record 125 blocks, while Skeim wound up No. 5 on the career steals charts with 97. That list is headed by Jodi Kruta with 303.

With Skeim, Wilde and Huschle the only seniors on the team, and with Stenseth and Kopari leading the list of returning letter winners, Wiltse looks for the Prowlers to improve next season – getting back to the .500 level after going just 7-38 the last two years. "I think we'll be better," she said. "We've got some talented young kids with a lot of basketball potential. It's a matter of putting in the time during the off-season."

Wins were few and far-between, but it was still an enjoyable experience for the members of the 1994-95 Thief River Falls team, offered Wiltse. "The kids had a great time," she said. "We did a lot of fun things as a team, and I think they'll have some good memories."

Challenger takes part in nature project

Thief River Falls' Challenger Elementary school will develop or enhance a nature area and environmental education curriculum as part of a St. Olaf College project.

Challenger Elementary will receive funds and services from the St. Olaf-Blandin Foundation School Nature Area Project (SNAP), which helps elementary and high schools create nature areas for teaching science and environmental education.

Challenger is one of 14 Minnesota schools selected to work with SNAP in the 1995-96 academic year.

SNAP, based at St. Olaf College in Northfield, will assist Challenger officials in planning wise use of the nature area site, and will help train teachers to incorporate environmental education and the nature area into the curriculum.

Challenger Elementary will develop about 40 acres of land surrounding the new school for use as a nature area. Teachers and community members will work with SNAP to plan for development and use.

Each school will receive $500 for site development and $400 for curriculum resources from SNAP. The schools will match these funds by purchasing additional curriculum resources, or by purchasing or soliciting donations for site materials and professional services.

SNAP also will pay for some teachers to attend a week-long environmental education institute in August at Wolf Ridge Environmental Learning Center, Finland, MN.

Gary Deason, St. Olaf college professor of environmental history, created the School Nature Area Project in 1991 with the first Blandin grant. Since then the project has helped 31 Minnesota school districts establish nature areas and outdoor education curricula, and has identified more than 160 additional schools interested in establishing environmental programs.

SNAP will provide held to several other schools in the state this year including Grygla School.

Each of the schools participating in the program will form a curriculum team and a site caretaking committee to work with SNAP. Curriculum team members, other teachers and community members will participate in an environmental education course at the school. Curriculum team members also will develop environmental education units for use with the nature area.

Woodcrafters to hear about woodturning

Northland Woodcrafters will have an opportunity to learn more about woodturning at the monthly meeting to be held Monday, March 27, at 7 p.m. at the Occupational Development Center on highway 32 south, Thief River Falls.

Dave Cameron of Thief River Falls, who has developed an interest in creating bowls on the lathe, will talk about his craft and answer questions. A video tape made by Woodcrafters member Rick Adams of Cameron at work in his shop will also be shown.

Members and guests are again invited to bring items they have made for display and discussion. The organization is open to anyone from northwestern Minnesota interested in making items from wood. Visitors are always welcome.

St. Mary's Church, presents living stations of the cross

St. Mary's Church of Warroad will be presenting the Living Stations of the Cross on April 7 and 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the church.

The Living Stations is an inspiring devotion presented in live scenes by St. Mary's parishioners. Included in this moving re-enactment will be reflective music, prayer, and readings to help individuals experience more fully the Passion of Jesus.

The public is invited to come and hear the story, meditate through the music, see the agony of Christ's death, and experience the joy of His resurrection.

Grygla to hold foot care clinic

A foot care clinic is scheduled for Grygla area residents on Wednesday, March 29 at 9:30 a.m. at the Grygla Community Center. Nurses from the Marshall county Nursing Service will soak feet and trim nails. The charge is $6 per person.

Appointments are necessary. Call Mrs. Juel Aune at 459-3315 for an appointment.

Winners of the second "We Appreciate Agriculture" drawing were announced last week. Each winner will receive $100 in Chamber Bucks redeemable at sponsoring stores. The drawing is sponsored by the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce. The winners were Glen Peters of Thief River Falls, Palmer Lovly of Goodridge, and Shirley Yonke of Thief River Falls. Pictured from left are: Palmer Lovly, Glen Peters, and Bob Bergan, executive vice president of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Counties concerned about federal waste flow control bill

Future of waste designation as a way for counties to ensure proper management of solid waste is under question as Congress discusses interstate waste flow control legislation.

Currently, 12 counties in Minnesota have flow control programs. These generally require haulers who pick up garbage in the county to dump it at a county-designated facilities that meet all federal and state safety requirements. This ensures that enough waste material is hauled to the facility to pay for operation costs/cover the debt on bonds used to construct the facility.

Pennington county is not one of the 12 counties. The county has struggled with the issue and the board is concerned that it doesn't have the authority to control waste flow in its own county.

Howard Person, county solid waste officer, explained that if a private hauler came in, interstate commerce rules as they exist, would allow the hauler to pick up the waste and dispose of it in a landfill in another state. That landfill would not have to meet state of Minnesota requirements for a landfill. For counties that have spent a lot of money to build landfills or waste handling facilities, the loss of waste from the waste stream could drive up the cost of handling waste and put the investment at greater risk. To off-set the lack of control, counties have been either providing haulers with a subsidy that makes it more attractive to haul the waste to an approved waste-handling facility or putting a surcharge on everyone's taxes to lower the tipping fee at the approved waste-handling facility. That makes it less feasible for private haulers to go elsewhere.

Pennington county has been hauling waste which cannot be processed at its solid waste facility to a landfill in Grand Forks, which by Minnesota standards for a landfill is substandard. As soon as SwisCorp is on line, Person said they will be sending any over charge to the MinKot landfill.

The House Subcommittee on commerce, Trade and Hazardous Materials discussed flow control Wednesday, March 23, and focused specifically on H.R. 1085, a flow control bill supported by the National Association of Counties (NACo). This bill allows flow control to continue in the future for local governments grandfathered in under provisions of the bill.

On March 15, the Senate Subcommittee on Superfund, Waste Control and Risk Assessment approved an interstate waste/flow control bill. This bill allows certain facilities that currently have flow control authority to be grandfathered in, such as those that began operation before May 15, 1994. For those designated facilities which qualify to be grandfathered, the flow control authority permanently expires after the later of the end of the remaining life of the contract, the completion of the bond payments schedule, or the end of the remaining useful life of the original facility.

"Flow control authority is an important tool for counties trying to manage solid waste in a safe, efficient way," said Colleen Landkamer, president of the Association of Minnesota Counties (AMC). "We need to let our Congressmen know that H.R. 1085 is currently the only legislation that protects communities that have been exercising flow control authority. We also need to let senators know their flow control bill does not help county's flow control arrangement.

Loss of flow control authority in Minnesota will affect over $400 million in statewide bonding on waste facilities. For those facilities the cost would end up on bond holders and property tax payers.

"In the long run, loss of flow control authority will make future bonding projects a higher risk and much more costly," Landkamer said.

NACo and AMC are currently working to ensure passage of flow control legislation that will empower counties to provide the most environmentally sound and cost efficient solid waste management possible. If you have questions about how flow control authority affects your county or the status of federal flow control legislation, contact your county solid waste officer or Nick Riley at the Association of Minnesota Counties, 612 224-3344.

Public meeting on alternative fuels March 31

The public is invited to attend a meeting on alternative fuel for vehicles Friday, March 31, in the Aviation Center at the Thief River Falls Regional Airport.

Lou Clark, from the Minnesota Department of Public Service, will be the keynote speaker for the Pembina Trail RC&D Association's annual meeting. Clark will start his presentation at 11 a.m.

The title of his talk is, "Moonshine and Desert Storm". In this session, Clark will be discussing both vehicles and fuels to help participants develop a greater understanding of why all citizens should be concerned about the future of transportation energy in our country. He will be driving one of the new production line vehicles that is factory equipped to run on an E-85 ethanol fuel mixture.

For more details call (218) 253-2646.

Workshop on curricululm writing set

Curriculum writing workshop, sponsored by the North Borders and Pine to Prairie Tech Prep Consortia, will be held Tuesday, March 28, at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

AFLBS choir at Our Saviour's church April 1

Thirty-five member choir from the Association Free Lutheran Bible School in Medicine Lake will present a concert Saturday, April 1, at 7 p.m. at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls.

The choir tours annually in the United States and this year is performing in Minnesota, Montana, South Dakota and North Dakota. It is under the direction of Mrs. Marian Christopherson.

AFLBS began in 1966 with an enrollment of 13 students, all of whom sang in the first choir. The two-year school now has 96 students, 60 of whom sing in one of the two touring choirs.

In an evangelical ministry, the choirs' repertoire includes songs of praise, worship and proclamation of the Gospel in a variety of styles.

Everyone interested is invited to attend this concert.

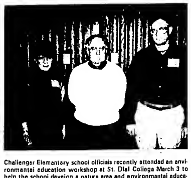
will share tactics on location, presentation and boat control. At 3 p.m. he will focus on kids, families and weekend fishing fun, and free tackle packs will be given to all youngsters attending the 1 p.m. session. Both seminars will be in the Newfolden school.

The $1 admission charge to the sports and gun show will include admission to the fishing seminars. Door prize drawings will take place following each seminar session.

On Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Dana Klos and other members of the Thief River Falls Archery Club will demonstrate use of equipment for beginning and experienced shooters, followed by trick shooting.

Further information on the show is available from Devere Chapman, show chairman, at 218-874-4763.



Challenger Elementary school officials recently attended an environmental education workshop at St. Olaf College March 3 to help the school develop a nature area and environmental education curriculum. Attending the workshop were Joyce Kopari, Principal Glenn Espe, and Alan Buhl. The St. Olaf College-Blandin Foundation School Nature Area Project (SNAP) is helping school officials improve a nature area for teaching science and environmental education. Challenger elementary is one of 14 Minnesota schools selected to work with SNAP in the 1995-96 school year, and one of 80 that will receive help from SNAP over a five-year period.

Volunteer Recognition in MN set for April 23-29

To celebrate the more than two million volunteers who are serving throughout Minnesota, Governor Arne Carlson has proclaimed April 23-29, 1995 as Minnesota Volunteer Recognition Week. The week coincides with National Volunteer Week. This year's recognition theme of the spirit of giving is "Stars of the North: Minnesota Volunteers."

Minnesotan's of all ages serve as volunteers throughout the year by making their communities better places in which to live. Volunteers provide support to the hungry and the homeless, mentor, at-risk children, deliver meals to the elderly, assist persons with disabilities and help with environmental and civic projects. Minnesota volunteers are truly the Stars of the North.

Giving and volunteering in the United States, shows that in the last four years there has been a continued downward trend in giving and volunteering in America. The survey found that overall volunteering was down from 54 per cent in 1989 to 48 per cent in 1993. Most of the decline in volunteering came in the form of informal volunteering, such as baby-sitting for free or baking cookies for a school fair. In the Midwest, however, volunteering has increased during this same period from 58 per cent in 1989 to 64 per cent in 1993.

The most significant increases in volunteering occurred among senior citizens, age 75 and older (36 per cent volunteered, up from 27 per cent in 1990) and among divorced, separated and widowed persons (40 per cent volunteered, up from 36 per cent in 1990).

More than one out of four volunteers (27 per cent) volunteered five hours per week or more. Based on these findings, it is estimated that 23.6 million adults in America volunteered five hours or more per week in 1993.

When asked personally, people are more than four times as likely to volunteer than when they are informed by other means of the need for volunteers. Among the 45 per cent who reported that they were asked, 82 per cent volunteered. Those respondents who were least likely to be asked were African-Americans and Hispanics; families with household incomes below $20,000; those who are single, divorced, widowed or separated; and persons who are not employed. However, when asked, these groups volunteer at a similar or even higher rate than the national average.

Young people whose parents volunteered were nearly twice as likely to volunteer as adults when compared with those respondents whose parents had not volunteered. Among the 44 per cent of respondents reporting that one or both of their parents had volunteered, six out of 10 volunteered as adults.

In addition to membership in religious organizations, memberships in a whole range of associations, such as voluntary organizations, civic associations, fraternities and sororities, alumni organizations, service clubs, business and professional societies and political organizations are associated with very high levels of giving and volunteering.

Having a direct experience in a youth group and having volunteered when young clearly leads to significantly higher rates of volunteering as an adult. As an example, among the 56 per cent who reported that they had belonged to a youth group or something similar, 61 per cent volunteered.

Nearly three-quarters of respondents (73 per cent) agreed that charitable organizations play a major role in making our communities better places to live.

All-class reunion being planned for 1996 in TRF

"Together Again" is the call: the Lincoln All-school Reunion is the reason. The summer of 1996 will see Lincoln alumni gathering in Thief River Falls for a reunion on June 27-30.

Plans are underway for three activity-packed days in conjunction with the American Festival. Registration, reminiscing, school tours, various sporting tournaments and individual class reunions will fill Thursday and Friday. Events Saturday include the parade, reunion band and choir concerts, more athletic events, and the grand celebration Saturday night.

The reunion is being coordinated by the Thief River Falls Education Foundation in conjunction with the Centennial Commission. A steering committee is chaired by Carla Hruby, class of 1979. The treasurer is Annabelle Cuppett, class of 1949.

Volunteers are needed to serve on various committees. If you would like to help, call Judy Dimich at 681-1088 or 681-8711.

H&R Block honors Bruce Russell

Bruce Russell was recognized by H&R Block's Grand Forks District for 20 years of service. He was among several individuals recognized at an annual awards banquet on Saturday, March 18 in East Grand Forks.

For the birds

Warren - Author Laura L. Erickson of Duluth will be the speaker at the 13th annual Wetlands, Pines and Prairie Sanctuary banquet Tuesday. Erickson is the author of "For the Birds _ An Uncommon Guide." She is also a radio host and a licensed bird rehabilitator.

—Warren Scheaf

No injuries

Fossten - No'one was injured in a two vehicle accident on Highway 2, three miles east of Fosston. There was, however, heavy damage to one vehicle.

Dr. Roger Sjulson of Fosston, driving a 1002 S-10 Blazer, was attempting to pass a 1992 Freightliner tractor-trailer driven by Michael Klenen of Manitoba.

According to the Minnesota State Highway Patrol, Sjulson was attempting to pass the semi in the left lane when he apparently lost control of the vehicle.

Both drivers were wearing thou seatbelts and no citations were issued in the accident.

Bowling for dollars

Bemidji - 82 bowlers, some of whom are developmentally disabled, got together for some fun at the Bemidji Bowl and to raise money for the Special Olympics.

The bowlers, from Bemidji, Blackduck and Bagley, were part of the Unified Bowl-a-thon, a doubles tournament which teams up a Special Olympics member with another member of the community.

The money goes directly to the athletes for training, equipment and other needs.

—The Bemidji Pioneer

A long Journey

Roseau - High school counselor, Gary Orvis and his son, Dan, plan to walk from the Canadian border to Minneapolis this summer. The day after his is scheduled to finish building a new home for his daughter and her husband, Gary will head south. Gary and Dan will start on Father's Day and walk for 25 days, arriving at the Metro Dome on July 1 for the Promise Keepers Convention. The convention includes men from around the state, and many from Roseau county, who are "dedicated to raising the standard of expectations among everyone in the community through a commitment to themselves, their family, and God."

A joyful noise

Crookston - An original piece of music will be heard on Palm Sunday at Trinity Lutheran Church, Crookston. The processional anthem, "He Who Comes" was composed by Katherine Majkrzak, composer-in-residence for United Lutheran and First Presbyterian churches in Grand Forks, ND and Trinity Lutheran, Crookston.

Majkrzak is the daughter of Glen and Lucille Torkelson and grew up in Crookston.

TRF developer complains about housing projects

Housing and zoning amendments occupied much of the Thief River Falls city council's time at its regular meeting Tuesday night. During the meeting concerns were raised about the construction of proposed housing units in the community, but snowmobiles and many other items were also discussed.

Dr. Orley Gunderson of Northland Community and Technical College (NCTC) appeared before the council urging their support for an amendment to a bill in the state legislature. The amendment would amend a time requirement to establish need since need had been demonstrated, and also allow a Multi-County HRA to be the developer of the 48-unit student housing complex behind the NCTC if it is built. Gunderson explained that the city obtained special legislation in 1992. The legislation provided property tax exemptions to a developer for 20 years if at least 51 per cent of the units were rented to students. The tax exemption also has to be used by the developer to make sure rents were affordable. The council approved the request, but that wasn't the end of the discussion regarding construction of housing units in the community.

Ken Berg, a local developer, said he can't find a housing shortage and believes the city is making a mistake in building the housing units. Berg said his units are experiencing vacancies and knows that other apartment owners are also experiencing vacancies.

Berg then presented a letter from Anda Construction Co., a private developer from Moorhead, which criticized the city for appropriating money for the project, and suggested instead that current apartment owners be given tax breaks to make improvements on apartment buildings in the community.

The housing problem in Thief River Falls has been discussed and publicized for five years, and objections raised Monday left the city council without much to say because it was one of the first times anyone had objected publically to the project.

Mayor Robert Reeve was quite firm in his stating that the city is not appropriating any funds for the project and the only obligation it has to the project is a "moral" obligation to pay any shortage in operating expenses.

Berg said he had recently completed many improvements to his buildings and is charging less for what renters would pay if they stayed at the proposed apartments — suggesting that there's a greater likelihood for vacancies at the HRA complexes and that the citizens would end up paying for the loss.

He also argued that the money for the project comes from taxpayers supporting tax exempt bonds for the project. One point in the Anda Construction's letter was that if anyone should benefit from opportunity, it should be the people and developers already living in the community.

The council was apprised of support from Northland Community College Foundation. The Foundation agreed to enter into a management/operation agreement with

Experiment station has five of 10 top cows in association

Northwest Agricultural Experiment station at Crookston had five of the top 10 producing cows in the Red Lake County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month of January, including the first and fourth place cows, based on dollar value of product.

Thirty-four cows in the association completed their 305-day or less lactation in January with production of at least 22,000 pounds of milk, 750 pounds of butterfat or 700 pounds of protein. There was a difference of $1,208 in product value from the first to 34th place cow.

The experiment station's first place cow produced 26,937 pounds of milk, 1,188 pounds of butterfat and 987 pounds of protein.

Second place cow—only $7 behind the first place animal—was from the Richard Dummer herd and produced 30,199 pounds of milk, 1,077 pounds of butterfat and 930 pounds of protein.

Third place cow from Johnston Farms had production of 27,817 pounds of milk, 1,169 pounds of butterfat and 880 pounds of protein.

Other cows in the top 10 came from the following farms with pounds of milk, pounds of butterfat and pounds of protein listed respectively:

NW Ag Experiment Station, 28,881, 875 and 874; Johnston Farms, 27,593, 861 and 823; Don and Karen Konickson, 26,635, 735 and 902; Greg and Susan Zak, 26,069, 990 and 790; NW Ag Experiment Station, 25,746, 890 and 806; 24,711, 968 and 798; and Donated to the Minnesota State Historical Society, the Satellite Drive-in Theater sign was removed last week for shipment to St. Paul.

The number of outdoor theaters in the state has dwindled from about 400 to a dozen or less and an era in history appears to have ended.

State historical society collects drive-in sign

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

It was with decidedly mixed emotions that Jerry Hickerson watched the Satellite Drive-in Theater sign being removed last week for transport to the Minnesota State Historical Society in St. Paul.

As owner of the outdoor theater which was in operation in Thief River Falls for 34 years—including 18 years under his ownership—he remembers the nights when the lot was crammed with cars and admission sales exceeded the lot's 300-car capacity.

"We used to have those all-night shows on the nights before Memorial Day and Labor Day holidays," he said. "Our car count went as high as 335 some nights as we admitted cars as others left.

"There were times when we went through a 50-pound bag of popcorn on a single night. I remember splitting a ton of popcorn with another theater owner and it didn't take all that long to use it up."

But Hickerson also sees the situation as it is now, when the number of drive-in theaters in the state has dwindled to about a dozen from the 400 there once were. His own outdoor theater had been closed for eight years and the abandoned ticket booth as well as the once glitzy sign had fallen victim to vandalism.

"Someone from the state historical society contacted me a couple of years ago about donating the sign, but I wasn't ready to let it go at that time," Hickerson said. "But in the last couple of years I have seen it deteriorate and there is something to be said for having a piece of Thief River Falls' history preserved at the historical society, so the last time they called I said O.K."

Grygla student entered in state Geography Bee

Eric Benson

Eric Benson, eighth grade student at the Grygla school and son of Raymond and Marshelle Benson of Grygla, has qualified to participate at the state level in the National Geography Bee.

Eric was the winner in his local contest and scored in the upper bracket on the qualifying test for state competition. His geography teacher is Bill Poole of Thief River Falls.

Previous winners at Grygla advancing to the state level of the National Geography Bee have been Ben Saurdiff and Brian Haugen.

The state event will be Friday, April 7, at Macalester College in St. Paul. One winner will be selected to advance to the national event May 30 and 31 in Washington, DC.

Public health....it's flu shots to farm safety

LaRue Johnson, a coordinator for Communities Caring For Children, spends some time with her friends Megan and Melisse. Communities Caring For Children, a part of public health, is a program that helps families with immunizations and well-child exams.

by Elizabeth Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

Public health services help all of us and are widely available, but do any of us really know what public health is? President Clinton has declared April 3 through April 9 "Public Health Week" and local public health offices hope people take time to learn more about public health.

According to the Institute of Medicine Report, "Public health is what we, as a society, do collectively to assure the conditions in which people can be healthy." In other words, public health covers many different things. Quin County Community Health, an administrative umbrella covering Marshall, Pennington, Roseau, Kittson and Red Lake counties, delivers services in six basic program areas: disease prevention and control, EMS, environmental health, family health, health promotion, and home health.

Disease prevention and control entails monitoring communicable diseases, provides immunizations, and, in cases like the measles outbreak of a few years ago or the recent meningitis in southern Minnesota, provides assistance. Public assistance has also worked hard at educating about HIV and AIDS.

EMS stands for emergency medical services, this includes ambulance and first responder units which provide optimum emergency care.

Environmental health deals with issues such as lead poisoning and monitoring and ensuring safe drinking water through well water tests.

Family health is covered in a variety of programs including WIC, Communities Caring For Children, Maternal and child health program, which has components for prenatal care, handicapped and chronically ill children and family planning, Immunization Action Plan, TAD, which educates about the dangers of tobacco, alcohol and drug use, school nursing, public clinics for foot care, blood sugar monitoring, blood pressure and immunization.

Health promotion addresses health issues which lead to chronic disease like heart disease and diabetes. Chronic disease may also include occupational risk. Occupational risk is also addressed through the work of the farming health project which is part of public health.

Home health is really one of the places public health started. Years ago nurses visited homes and taught people about sanitation and pasteurization or helped new mothers in their homes. When home care became popular, only public health was equipped to provide patient care in the home. Public health still does that, however private agencies are entering into that arena of service.

Public health is population based. "The counties work together to assess the needs of the population," says Claudia Nyegaard of Kittson Community Health Services. The counties may then take the information and use different methods to meet the needs of the population. Often, people think that public health is just something for people on welfare, but, that is not the case.

Although most programs are handled county by county, some are administered directly from the Quin County office. One of these programs is the Minnesota Farm Health Project. The project's two main goals are to document farm related illnesses and injuries and to initiate prevention and educational programs. The project follows-up injuries and illnesses and tries to identify the causes or hazards involved. It looks for patterns and similarities and then looks at how these illnesses and injuries could be prevented. The project includes educational programs like "Seeds of Safety," a school curriculum on farm safety for 2nd and 5th grade students. The program also works with agri-businesses to develop safety programs for adults. For example, chemical dealers and public nurses have developed a safety program called "Farm InSight." The program trains the people selling the chemicals how to use them safely, and in turn, the sales people can train the farmers on safety points. Colleen Nelson, the Quin County director of farm health and safety, said, "This program has been a pioneering effort where public nurses work with farmers.

Another program that public

Housing project enforces fair housing laws

In Minnesota, it is against the law for anyone to treat another person differently in rental or their housing situations because of the person's race, color, religion, sex, family status, welfare status, age, national origin, ancestry, creed, disability, marital status or sexual orientation.

To help fight unfair illegal housing practices, The Legal Aid Society of Minneapolis has opened a Housing Discrimination Law Project (HDLP). HDLP will work with people facing the blatant and subtle forms of discrimination seen by people like Howard and Jean. HDLP will bring lawsuits free of charge for people with low incomes in the Twin Cities metropolitan area, and for people with disabilities throughout Minnesota, who are being discriminated against in housing. This includes those who are renting, or trying to rent, as well as those trying to buy a home.

People who have been treated unfairly and illegally can get many different results from suing, depending on the facts, and depending on what fixes the problem. For example, the landlord may be forced to: stop the discriminatory behavior, permit a victim to move into the building, establish reasonable accommodations for persons with disabilities, stop evicting the tenant, get training on fair housing laws, and pay compensatory and punitive money damages to the victim, plus attorneys fees.

HDLP is supported in part by a Fair Housing Initiative Program grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Music is fun

Baudette - Students form Tri-County, Middle River, Roseau, Warroad, Kellihe and Lake of the Woods participated in a day of singing, dancing, learning, and fun at Lake of the Woods School last Saturday.

Dr. Claire McCoy, an associate professor of music education a the University of Minnesota, spent four hours preparing students to present a 30 minute performance of five songs.

The local teachers worked to prepare the kids. Dr. McCoy pulled them together. The students spent the morning learning technique. The goal of the lesson was to understand how to use the sounds of words to create artistic singing.

Recycling filters

Red Lake Falls - Red Lake county is at the forefront of recycling with the development of a new piece of equipment. Barry's Welding of Red Lake Falls invented a machine that drains the excess oil from old filters, so the oil can be recycled, then crushes the oil filters, so the oil can be recycled, then crushes the oil filters, so they can be sold for scrap metal.

The county is accepting used oil filters free of charge in Plummer, Oklee and Red Lake Falls.

Sherry LaCoursiere

Today's recipes are a hodge podge of different things I collected from area newspapers that sounded good to me at the time. Maybe one will sound good to you today.

This recipe sounds good, but you'll have to make an educated guess on cooking time and temp:

HAZEL'S SAUERKRAUT CASSEROLE

1 1/2 pounds hamburger
1 cup apple sauce
1 large jar sauerkraut
1 1/2 cups rice, cooked
1 tablespoon caraway seeds, soaked in a small amount of water

Brown and season hamburger. Drain.

Mix all ingredients together and bake in a large, greased casserole. (No directions on how hot or how long-- I guess just until bubbly and done-looking.)

This recipe was from Ray Juhl, who owns and operates Natural Way Mills by Middle River:

OLD FASHIONED BUCKWHEAT PANCAKES

1 cake compressed yeast
1/2 cup lukewarm water
2 cups cold water
1 cup sifted white flour
2 cups buckwheat flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon molasses
1/4 cup melted butter
1 teaspoon soda dissolved in 1/2 cup hot water

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Add cold water.

Sift flours together and then add to yeast mixture, along with salt. Beat vigorously until smooth. Cover and refrigerate overnight.

Next morning, stir in molasses, melted butter and soda-water mixture. Let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes before baking on hot griddle.

These would be great for Sunday morning breakfast:

CINNAMON BISCUIT ROLL

1 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons milk
3 rolls refrigerated buttermilk biscuits
1 stick margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Grease bundt pan and pour one-half of mixture into pan.

Separate rolls and dip in a mixture of the sugar and cinnamon. Stand on edge around bundt pan and sprinkle any extra sugar and cinnamon on top. Pour remaining caramel mixture over.

Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Let stand 5-10 minutes and then turn out on plate.

Doesn't this sound yummy -- and easy, too -- no noodle cooking:

PIZZA NOODLE BAKE

2 cups wide noodles
1/4 cup diced onion
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1 pound ground beef
1 (15 ounce) can tomato sauce
4 slices mozzarella cheese
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
Dash of pepper

Brown beef and onion. Drain.

Put a layer of uncooked noodles in a 9x9 inch baking dish. Add beef and onion mixture.

Mix tomato sauce, water and spices and pour over meat and noodles.

Cover and bake for 1 hour at 350 degrees.

After 50 minutes of baking, top the dish with the cheese slices and finishing baking, still covered.

Cut into squares and serve immediately.

Students on MSU dean's list

Twenty-eight students who are graduates of high schools at Argyle, Grygla, Middle River, Newfolden, Valley North, Stephen and Warren have been named to the winter quarter dean's list at Moorhead State University. They attained a grade point average no lower than 3.25 while carrying 12 credits.

Students earning a purple ribbon are eligible to attend the State Science Fair which will be held in Rochester April 21-23.

The student's science teacher at Goodridge is Kathy Magnusson, at Lincoln high school is Patti Johnson, and at Plummer high school Don Fox.

Good turnout for St. Hilaire blood drive

Robert Wahl, blood drive coordinator, reported a good turnout for the blood drive held at St. Hilaire on March 22. Forty-seven people volunteered to donate blood and 42 were able to give. Seven of the donors gave blood for the first time.

Bev Willits, community relations representative of United Blood Services said, "This is a clear example of concerned people in this area responding unselfishly to a great need — the need for blood. You can feel pride that these volunteer donors are your friends and neighbors."

United Blood Services appreciates the participation from the Lions Club for sponsoring the drive, recruiting donors, providing refreshments, and registering donors the day of the drive. Others who assisted with the drive were: Ron Anderson, Bill Sylvester, Bob Wald, Donna Sweet, and Tom Scholin. Bob Miller allowed time off to his employees and provided space to hold the drive.

Donations will help meet the blood needs of many patients in more than 46 hospitals served by United Blood Services.

Nine injured in Red Lake Co. accident

Two vans traveling the same direction on a gravel road hit ruts in a rural Red Lake county road, went off the road and rolled, causing injury to nine people in the two vans.

Minnesota State patrol is investigating the accidents in which two vans hit ruts on Red Lake County road 4 just north of the junction with Red Lake county 19, went off the road and rolled. The state patrol received a report of the accident at 8:15 a.m. on Thursday, March 30.

According to the accident report, Carol Schmitz, 33, Red Lake Falls, was driving a 1986 Dodge Caravan, which contained four members of her family, south on Red Lake county road 4 when the van hit ruts in the gravel road. Schmitz lost control of the van and it rolled in the ditch. Clayton, Lacey, Austin, Charles and Carol were all taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls by ambulance. Carol was transported to United Hospital in Grand Forks. Clayton and Lacey were listed in stable condition at Northwest Medical Center. Austin and Charles were treated and released.

A short time later, Sara Schmitz, 16, of Red Lake Falls, was driving a 1989 Ford Aerostar south on the same road, hit ruts in the road, went into the ditch and rolled. Three other members of her family, brothers and sisters, in the van were injured. Samuel, 15, Simon, 10, Amelia, 5, and Sara, were reportedly taken to Red Lake Falls Clinic by a private vehicle where they were treated and released. Red Lake Falls Clinic personnel said Thursday afternoon that they were not patients and therefore did not have condition reports on the individuals.

Both vehicles were considered total losses by the state patrol. The accident is still under investigation.

Plummer students active in "Arrive Alive" program

The Plummer High School drivers' training class entered a statewide contest to help people realize the importance of using seatbelts. They have also sponsored many other programs, including one on the dangers of drinking and driving.

The class has a carnival and smelt fry planned for April 8. There will be safety demonstrations and the crash test dummies will be there as well.

Area residents attend County Extension Day

About 350 participants visited the University of Minnesota's St. Paul Campus for the 15th annual County Extension Day, March 17. The event is devoted to tours, demonstrations and workshops illustrating how the Minnesota Extension Service and its university partners are helping solve community issues statewide through research, education and outreach.

Those attending from this area included: Orlin and Clarice Stolaas, Trail; Richard and Donna Parnow, Goodridge; John and Myrna Erickson, Red Lake Falls; and Kermit and Marian Finstad, Thief River Falls.

Representative of Dept. of Human Rights in Moorhead

A representative of the Minnesota Department of Human Rights will be in Moorhead on April 10 from 1 to 4 p.m. and April 11 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Job Service, 715 - 11th Street North, Suite 201.

Any person with questions about the Human Rights Act, Minnesota's anti-discrimination law, or who believes they may have been discriminated against in violation of the Act, may meet with the Representative for information or assistance. The Department of Human Rights will review any claims of discrimination to determine if a formal charge can be filed.

The Department Representative is also available for technical assistance to any employer, landlord, school, business, or organization seeking information about the Human Rights Act or the operation of the Department of Human Rights.

TV AND YOUR EYES

Your favorite TV show is on the screen, but why is the picture out of focus? Maybe it's not the picture. Maybe it's your eyes. Watching TV for long periods of time can cause eye fatigue. But TV watching is not harmful to the eyes.

To give your eyes a break when watching TV, you should be sitting at least six feet away from the screen. One guide is to sit at a distance that is five times the width of the picture. And don't sit in the dark, it's not good for your eyes. There should be light in the room, but not bright enough to wash out the TV picture. Move the light or the TV so that it doesn't cause a reflection or glare in the TV screen.

The set should be in perfect focus. If you've done all you can to get a clear picture but still have trouble seeing it well, maybe it's time for an eye examination.

Corrective glasses or contact lenses or a new prescription will put your eyes where you want them to be: back in the picture—clear and sharp.

Kelly Anderson holds recital in Stephen April 9

Kelly Anderson of Stephen will present a recital sponsored by the Stephen Arts Council and Karen Brolin on Sunday, April 9, at 3 p.m. in Stephen. This is Anderson's Senior Piano and Pipe Organ Recital. It will be held at St. Stephen's Catholic Church in Stephen.

Anderson has studied piano for 13 years and the last seven years with Mrs. Karen Brolin. She has also taken pipe lessons from Mrs. Brolin for the past seven years.

She has been active in music in her school, church and community, and has earned numerous honors and awards.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I am a former Roseau county resident and it makes me furious to read how Roseau Mayor Bernie Burggraf has falsely accused the Marvin family of trying to buy influence and/or being corrupt.

Evidently Bernie doesn't know the Marvin family at all. Well, I do. I grew up with them and you can not find nicer or kinder people anywhere. The Marvin interests have always been family, people and community. I know this first hand as I was a student of Margaret's. I was her worst nightmare as an English student, but she still loved me as one of her own.

She treated us as she would have her own children. She taught me more than she will ever know, and I can't thank her enough for her persistence in teaching me. Margaret taught because she loved her community and the children in it. She did not need the money. She will always have a special place in my heart.

Mr. Burggraf, on the other hand, should take a hard look at the till in his store. How many Marvin dollars were spent in his store, that kept his store afloat all these years?

It's time the residents of Roseau county and Mayor Burggraf stop and think of all the blessings they have because of the Marvin family. Next time you hear the Marvin name, don't just think windows—think blessings, love of family, love of people, love of community and love of county.

Respectfully Yours,
Jerry Unruh

While Driving In T.R.F., We Sometimes Wonder About Things....

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

It has probably been about eight years now since we have run a photo in our editorial column. It was that long ago that my 12-year-old black Labrador Retriever "Charcoal" died and I indulged myself in a tribute to her, along with a photo.

Today we are again resorting to the use of photographic images, but to illustrate several situations that have been brought to mind while driving in Thief River Falls. It is just more descriptive to show them than to attempt to describe them only in words.

The topic of discussion is traffic and how it is being dealt with through various attempts at control.....or lack thereof. Most of the time I just try to pay attention to signs and controls and to do what they direct me to do because the law says I must. It's safer that way, of course, and I always assumed that people who are a good deal more knowledgeable than I am knew what they were doing when they did what they did to control traffic and aid safety.

For some time now, however, I have been having some questions about a few things on the streets of TRF, and I would be interested in an explanation of how they came to be. I thought a few photos might help to illustrate my questions.

shows a stop sign at the intersection of Edgewood Drive and Kenwood Court in southeast Thief River Falls. It halts traffic—at least for those drivers who see it and/or observe it (one car sailed right through as I prepared to take this photo)—on a normally through street (Edgewood) to protect the exit from a cul-de-sac (Kenwood) on the right and a private driveway on the left. Neither of those has any traffic control. A stop sign on the other side of the intersection is intended to stop traffic coming from the other direction on Edgewood Drive.

When going in that other direction, a driver travels only a block to find this stop sign at another private driveway and Idlewood Court, also a deadend street.

In general, it is our understanding, stop signs are placed at intersections to provide for the flow of through traffic and protect it from vehicles entering the traffic flow. Here the reverse is true—not only once but twice, and only a block apart.

Meanwhile, at the intersection of LaBree Avenue and Fifth Street near downtown there is no traffic control at all despite the fact that Home Sweet Home is located on one corner, Bruce Pharmacy is across the street to the south, Green Funeral Home is across the street to the east from Bruce Pharmacy and there is half a block of city parking to the south of the funeral home. LaBree Avenue is heavily traveled as a convenient artery between Third and Eighth streets and Fifth Street also gets a fair share of use.

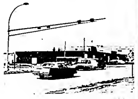
A recent addition to the city landscape is this overhead signal on Pennington Avenue near the Northern Pride turkey processing plant.



The signal marks a crossing area used by workers at the turkey plant to reach their vehicles parked across the street. Since it was erected earlier this year, it has been dutifully flashing day and night, around the clock. The turkey processing season ended late last fall. No one has used the crosswalk since then. It will not be used until this summer when processing begins again. By that time, drivers on Pennington Avenue should be totally convinced that the lights have no meaning and they will be conditioned to ignore them.

And finally, the intersection of First Street and Pennington Avenue (photo at the bottom of the editorial column) is a wonder of traffic engineering.

Apparently to increase traffic flow and prevent tie-ups for a right-hand turn, traffic coming from west on First Street and intending to go south on Pennington is provided with a curved entrance to Pennington Avenue. At the end of this convenient curve, however, is a yield sign. Drivers must yield to traffic on their left.

Because of the angle of the curve, neither center nor side rear-view mirrors will provide a view of the other traffic lane. Drivers must swivel in their seats, crane their necks and peer out of the corners of their eyes to determine if there is oncoming traffic. A preliminary view while starting the curve is not sufficient.

I have no official traffic count, but I would estimate that at least 10 cars come from the west and take the curve for every one that enters Pennington Avenue from the east off First Street. Drivers of those that do enter from the east have a windshield view of traffic on the curve. Who should be able to more safely yield to whom?

There are probably logical explanations for these situations and more. If someone who knows will give them, we will be happy to pass them along.

Career Center opens at LHS

Sorting through the ever-changing catalog of career opportunities, post-secondary schools, admission applications, and scholarship forms used to be a time-consuming and intimidating task for parents and high school students. That task was made many times easier this week, with the opening of the Lincoln high school Career Center.

The Career Center, located next to the Counseling office on the high school's first floor, will host an open house for staff, parents, community, and students Thursday, April 6, from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

The Career Center was developed from the 1992 School Bond Issue, and is staffed by volunteers according to coordinators, Judy Dimich and Julie Rohl. Both have put in countless volunteer hours of their own getting the center "up and running". Dimich says, "We wanted a one-stop shopping atmosphere. This may be some of the most important research expected of a child in high school. Until now, career information has been in bits and pieces, from the counselor's office to the library, the public library, the community and technical college. Now we have it all in one place, cataloged, computerized, and with chronicle guidance files to help students research careers, employment outlooks, and the post-secondary schools available."

Dimich and Rohl have been training volunteers throughout March, with the Career Center staffed weekdays from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Dimich says her hope is that all students will eventually spend time each year researching careers and post-secondary opportunities. "We know we have to prepare students for today's technology, and that means their course work in high school is very important. Children need to begin thinking about careers as early as eighth grade, and what classes they'll register for as high school freshmen." Rohl says volunteers are trained to assist students, and also to continue to catalog and organize the volumes of information available. "We have information on schools in most of the 50 states, and it keeps changing, along with new entrance forms, summer school options, even new careers."

Dimich says they will also keep local job listings for high school students looking for a summer job or part-time employment.

Crookston Diocese begins campaign for human development

Each year the Catholic Diocese of Crookston offers several small ($500) Campaign for Human Development grants to projects that benefit the poor, are self-help oriented, involve the poor in planning and implementation, and conform to the gospel values as taught by the Catholic Church. If you would like to apply for one of these grants, write to: The Office of Christian Service, Box 610, Crookston, MN 56716 or call (218) 281-4224 for an application. Applications must be returned by May 15 in order to be considered for the 1995 grant cycle.

Galilee Lutheran Bible Camp Corp. to meet

The Galilee Lutheran Bible Camp Corporation will hold its annual meeting at the United Free Lutheran Church in Greenbush on Tuesday, April 11, at 7:30 p.m. This meeting is for all Corporation members. A corporation member is anyone who has donated $25 to the Galilee Bible Camp at Lake Bronson.

Vanity opens fashion shop in TRF Plaza

Vanity Shops of Grand Forks has announced that it will open a store in the Plaza near Jubilee Foods in Thief River Falls, and a store in Crookston on Saturday April 1.

It was announced Wednesday that the store in Thief River Falls will open under the management of Brenda Bjorstad, and employ six to nine personnel.

Vanity was created in 1969 by Emery and Ann Jahnke, who continue to be the owners and operators of the company. The immediate success of the original Vanity store in downtown Fargo paved the way for an aggressive growth pattern of over 170 stores throughout the northwest, southwest, midwest and south central states. Vanity continues to grow increasing its number of stores 10 to 20 per cent each year.

As every individual is different, so too is every region of this country. Vanity understands and reacts accordingly within the expansion strategy. The key to this strategy is that of remaining flexible to change — adopting and customizing needs with each region. Therefore, each store is unique.

Vanity's merchandise is designed to appeal to the fashion conscious active lifestyle customers.

Lee will speak at SWCD meet set in Grygla

Gary Lee of Lee Nursery at Fertile will be guest speaker for the 44th anniversary banquet of the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District Tuesday, April 11, at 6:30 p.m. in the Grygla community center.

Tickets at $6 for adults and $3 for students under 12 (preschoolers will be admitted free) are available at the district office in Grygla or from supervisors Grant Satre, Orvis Byklum, Gordon Foss, Milton Anderson or Lloyd Wiseth.

Summer camp counselors needed for MDA camp

Muscular Dystrophy Association is seeking applications from those who would like to be volunteer counselors at the MDA summer camp.

Each volunteer acts as a companion to a child or teenager with a neuromuscular disease during a five to seven-day camp session.

To volunteer, or obtain more information call the local MDA office at (701) 235-1988.

Agassiz Education committee offers tree packets for sale

Tree packets are being offered for $15 by the Agassiz Environmental Education committee. This 12th annual tree seedling sale will help fund environmental education programming in Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Polk and Lake of the Woods counties.

Each packet contains 12 shrubs and trees especially selected to attract wildlife and to add color to the landscape. Each group contains three each of four species: Gray Dogwood, Hansen Hedge Rose, Amur Maple, and Red Splendor Flowering Crab. The seedlings are bare root stock packed in moist cedar shavings and wrapped with plastic. They can be easily transported in the trunk or back seat of your car.

A limited supply of packets are available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Checks for $15 per packet should be made payable to Agassiz Audubon and mailed to Tom Feiro, 817 Sampson Street, Crookston, 56716. Orders should indicate which of the following pick-up sites is preferred: Gretchen Mehmel, Roosevelt; Linda Ronchetti, Thief River Falls; Bud and Betty Johnson, Roseau, Agassiz Environmental Learning Center, Fertile; and the Horticulture Department, University of Minnesota at Crookston. Assistance and information about the trees and shrubs will be available at each site.

For more information, call: Gretchen Mehmel, 783-2521; Linda Ronchetti, 681-5289; Bud or Betty Johnson, 463-2181; Wayne Goeken at 574-2622; or Tom Feiro at 281-5515.

SD 564 gets $94,000 to aid reform

School District 564 of Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire has been awarded a $94,000 School District Reform grant from the Minnesota Department of Education for improvement of elementary and secondary education.

"This project builds upon previous district strategic planning efforts and features collaborations with higher education, adult basic education and community industry and business," the Minnesota Department of Education said. "SCANS skills will be used within the curriculum to implement the graduation standards."

The department also noted that funds are awarded to support and strengthen existing plans and activities for educational improvement rather than create new programs. Award-winning proposals used technology to achieve their educational goals involved parents, business representatives, educators and other citizens in an advisory capacity.

Plummer to receive small cities grant

Grant of $382,119 to the City of Plummer under the Small Cities Development grant program of the Minnesota Department of Trade and Economic Development has been announced recently.

The grant is contingent on the state's receipt of its anticipated allocation under the Community Development Block Grant program.

The City of Plummer would use the grant in conjunction with funds from local lenders and local agencies to rehabilitate 24 owner occupied homes in the community.

Under the program, funds are granted to communities which loan them to individuals to correct serious structural deficiencies and code violations in their homes and businesses.

NRCS part of Grygla office to be closed

Although the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District will continue to operate its programs out of the Grygla office, the Natural Resource Conservation Service (formerly Soil Conservation Service) at Grygla will be closed, probably by October 1.

The Grygla NRCS office is one of several to be closed under federal reorganization. Mike Retzlaff, district conservationist from the Thief River Falls office, will likely be doing some of the field work in the area and will be in Grygla on Thursdays and as needed.

It is expected the records from the office will be removed to the respective county offices in Warren for Marshall county and Bemidji for Beltrami county.

The Grygla office will also become the new home of the state revolving fund technical staff of the Northwestern Minnesota Joint Powers Board—a group involving Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Marshall-Beltrami, Pennington, Red Lake Falls, East Polk and West Polk conservation districts.

Plans are to have a registered engineer on staff in April or May with a technician to be added later. They will work on projects prioritized by the Joint Powers Board.

Alternative livestock are meeting topic

Designed for people considering an alternative livestock enterprise, an Alternative Livestock Conference is scheduled for July 27-29 at the University of Minnesota's St. Paul campus.

The conference is also for those who have established such an enterprise, raising buffalo, llamas, ostriches, elk or other animals. It will provide networking opportunities with other producers and there will be animals on hand for show and demonstration as well as displays on production and support services.

The conference will include educational presentations on alternative livestock production, health and nutrition, and housing. There will also be information on the economics and marketing of alternative livestock and value-added products.

To receive a preliminary brochure for the conference, call Judy Sunvold at 1-800-367-5363 or 612-625-2636.

Workshops for writers to be held in Roseau

Roseau Area Writers' Workshops will be held at 7 p.m. on April 13 and May 4. Anyone interested in polishing their writing skills or styles welcome to attend these two remaining sessions of their current series at the Roseau Public Library.

Participants at the April session are invited to bring samples of their writing for friendly reactions by those present. A paragraph or more relating to Christmas memories is requested but not required.

A brochure about "Legacies," a new writing contest is now available at the Roseau Library and at Four Seasons Senior Center. Questions regarding both the local and the national contests will be answered at the RAWW session. Anyone over 60 who is willing to take time to write or type short memorable incidents from their own lives may enter one of several area contests. Winning stories by local people will be sent on to the national contest in December. The local deadline is Thanksgiving. The brochure gives many ideas for topics.

In May RAWW will meet on the first Thursday instead of the second Thursday in order to feature Sigrid Bergie, an author from the Metro Area. She was born at Albert Lea and is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. Since 1981 she has been serving as a visiting writer in schools.

Bergie, who has published poems, essays and book reviews, will read some of her work for the public from 7 to 8 p.m. on May 4. Later she will share writing advice with RAWW participants.

Admission is free; donations will be accepted. Refreshments will be served.

Shoppers in a number of Thief River Falls stores will have an opportunity to win a giant stuffed bunny through the "Best Bunny Buy" retail promotion. A number of store personnel who hopped on down to pick up their bunnies for store display this week are pictured above. Drawings will be held in each store on Friday, April 14.

Legion meetings

The American Legion Post 117, and Auxillary will meet in Thief River Falls on April 4th at 8 p.m. A dinner will precede the meeting at 7 p.m.

Visiting day for children entering kindergarten set

Visiting day for children who will be entering kindergarten next fall will be held at Challenger Elementary on Friday, April 7. Parents who do not receive an invitation by March 30 are asked to contact the secretary to schedule a time for their child to visit. The phone number is 681-2345.

You will need to bring the following if your child has not attended Preschool Screening or you did not have the necessary information with you at the time of the screening session: birth certificate, current immunization records, your child's social security number.

Please bring information to update the immunization records if your child has received any of the necessary shots or vaccines since participating in Preschool Screening.

Thief River Falls developer complains about city plans for building for rental

Northwest Multi-County Housing Re development Authority. (A management firm will probably report to the Foundation.) In addition, the Foundation was said to have agreed to provide a letter of credit for $25,000. This would be the first line of defense if an operating deficit occurred.

Local officials are at a loss to explain the vacancies. It was described as a possible 'blip' or anomaly. An independent housing study conducted by one of the most reputable agencies in the business, Maxfield Research, concluded that there was a significant need for additional housing in Thief River Falls. In addition, the special legislation approved in 1992 for the city, required that the city determine that there wasn't an adequate supply of student housing, there was a significant demand for housing by students, and that students were unable to find affordable housing in the private market. The requirements have been met.

After a need was established, and there were no objections to the contrary, the search for developers began with private developers. A non-profit organization was the last and only light at the end of the tunnel.

Don Stewart, community development director, explained that the senior housing projects were undertaken because not only was there a need, but it was hoped that seniors would move into the projects and thereby open affordable housing in the community. He noted expansion at Arctco and Digi-Key to support an anticipated need for housing. He added that student housing has been a documented complaint and a problem that has limited growth of programs at the colleges in Thief River Falls for a number of years. Stewart said he has a long list of individuals interested in moving into the housing units.

The council eventually approved a zoning amendment recommendation that would allow construction of housing projects on a portion of the Northrop school site, and behind the NCTC. They also approved a recommendation that after the term of the bond (30 years) the city would have the option to purchase Northrop site project for $1, and granted a lease to Northwest Multi-County HRA to operate the NCTC site project.

More road blocks were thrown up before Gus Berggren and Hilary Stoltmen who are proposing to construct a multi-family housing unit on a corner lot abutting Oakland Park Road. Their request to rezone the property from urban residential, a township designation, to R-2, a city designation once the area is annexed, was denied when the council approved a recommendation to re-zone the property to R-1, the city's most restrictive residential housing zone.

A memo from the planning commission to the city council explained that the community development department had received numerous telephone calls prior to the hearing regarding the request. Copies of letters from Steve and Cindy Tsukichi, Bob and Bunny Dondelinger, John and Beth Anderson, and William and Joan Robson, all property owners in the area, were distributed to the planning commission. All of the letters stated that the property owners were in opposition to the request. In addition, there were 28 people at the hearing, although not all were there for the request.

The memo states that most of the comments in opposition to the request for the R-2 designation dealt with views that existing property owners' homes would be devalued if the Berggren property was developed for multi-family dwelling (duplexes); also, that such development would not be consistent with the nature of the existing neighborhood which is single family.

During the city council meeting, Alderman Dale Wennberg, who lives in the neighborhood, empathized with the home owners. He explained that he always hated to see changes to the neighborhood when he was growing up, but he accepted it, and now believes that change is necessary. Wennberg said it's a nice area and he can see why people want to move out there.

It was also noted during the hearing, and the city council meeting Tuesday, that if the property were re-zoned to R-1 when it came into the city, Stollman and Johnson could, with a conditional use permit, construct their duplex on the corner lot abutting Oakland Park road. Further, it was noted that if they met all the requirements of a conditional use permit, according to the statute there would be little the council could do to stand in the way of the project.

Though the snowmobile season appears to be over, Gary Kelsch of 219 Main Avenue South, was still talking about them. Specifically, Kelsch wants the city to do something to prevent snowmobilers from driving over his property on the corner of Zeh and Main.

Kelsch appeared before the council with a bag of troubles for snowmobilers. From inside the bag he pulled out broken chips of curb, supposedly caused by snowmobile traffic over the curb, ineffective signs and a poster detailing possible solutions to the problem.

Kelsch has complained to local law enforcement many times, and appeared before the council in the past. One solution was to put barrels and signs around trees in his yard and berm. He said the snowmobiles went around the signs and barrels and came within six feet of his front door and across his yard. Next, he put up a snow fence to prevent them from going into his yard and they almost knocked it down. Kelsch is concerned that this pattern of abuse of the snowmobile rules and traffic safety will continue and even get worse when a proposed convenience store is built on the corner across from his property.

Kelsch said he is definitely going to build a fence on his property, but wants help with the berm. Kelsch was referred to the public safety committee.

A recommendation to create two additional positions of electrical construction worker, eliminate the position of utility construction worker and assign personnel to the two additional positions of electrical construction worker was approved by the council, but not without a little debate.

Alderman Dale Wennberg wondered how the city could add new positions when the rest of the city is looking at cutbacks.

Arlo Rude, superintendent of utilities, explained that this was a re-organization, that there were no newly hired people, the union was in agreement, and the changes had been brought about by an unfunded mandate from OSHA.

There were more comments Tuesday night about the language being heard in music at local dances.

Police Chief Ken Froschheiser said that his officers told him that lighting and music selection problems at a local dance had been taken care of.

Alderman Don Barron said that following reports of his comments at the last city council meeting, he had been approached by one person who agreed that some of the language of the music was bad, and that two parents said they would not let their children go even with police officers present.

A parent in the audience Tuesday, said that she was thankful that dances were being held in Thief River Falls rather than in other nearby communities where there might be less control.

In other business, the council: approved development of a GIS base map and parcel map for the city in cooperation with the county by Pro West at a cost of $25,300 ($17,900 from the city and $1,500 from the county); entered into an agreement with MnDOT which spells out that the city will take responsibility for a road and parking lot that will be built for the Golf Club; approved a low bid submitted by W.W. Wallwork/Tunberg Motor Co. in the amount of $23,716 for a 1975 Ford F700 two and one-half ton truck for the street department; accepted a low quote submitted by Bert's Truck and Equipment in the amount of $6,337 for a box and hoist for the street department; approved a city's contribution to the American Festival of $1,000 for 1995 and in-kind services; accepted plans and specs and called for bids to paint the East water tower and color selection; approved a delinquent account collection method; and supported county extension services for Pennington county to be an access Minnesota site.

Olson second as outstanding club treasurer

Kimberley K. Nelson, artist and papermaker, will be the artist in residence in the Roseau high school, April 3-7. She will be teaching sheet formation, paper casting/sculpture, and Japanese-style, handbook binding.

Students will use cotton pulp and abaca pulp (made from banana leaves). They will be able to experiment with natural items, such as spices, dried flowers, onion skins, and wild rice, as well as, use pigments to make their own colored pulp and paper.

Some of Kimberley's handmade paper items can be seen at The Golden Shears and The Gift Gallery, Roseau, Hall's Floral, Thief River Falls, and The Idea Bin, Stephen.

Pop machines damaged in theft attempts

Six pop machines in Marshall county were broken into during the past week.

Marshall county sheriff's department is seeking any information that might help them solve the case. The sheriff's department is investigating incidents in which one pop machine was broken into in Stephen, two in Newfolden, two in Middle River, and one in Argyle. Two pop machines were also found in a river. The incidents were reported on Monday and Wednesday of last week. The damage loss has not been determined yet.

On Tuesday, Karlstad sheriff's department received reports that two pop machines were taken. They were later located in a river at different locations.

Pribula is top TRF swimmer

Sophomore Chris Pribula was named the most valuable member of the 1994-95 Thief River Falls boys high school swim team at the Prowlers' annual post-season banquet Monday.

Other varsity awards went to seventh grader Zach Olson, hardest worker; sophomore Josh Engevik, most improved; freshman Nate Keller, Spirit Award; and senior Steve Lyman, Coaches Award.

Pribula and junior Sam Adams were named captains of the 1995-96 Prowlers, a position held by Lyman this winter.

Junior varsity awards went to sixth grader Chad Borneman, hardest worker; seventh grader Anders Brown, most improved; and eighth grader Colin Browning, Coaches Award.

Athletic letters were presented to Lyman; juniors Chris Efta and Adams; sophomores Jarohmia Efta, Charley Follett, Matt Gustafson, Mickey McEnelly, William Packard, Aaron Sjaaheim, Engevik, and Pribula; Keller, Browning and Olson in grades 9-8-7, respectively; along with student managers Amanda Clark and Eeva Young.

Participation certificates went to freshmen Josh Curfman and Nick Tveitbakk; seventh graders Matthew Beito, Rory Hoven and Brown; plus sixth grades Ryan Peoples and Borneman.

Dual wins or high place finishes in multiple-team events were out of the Prowlers' reach through much of the 1994-95 season that included an unusually high number of depth-deleting absences due to injuries, illness and personal reasons. But Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken was nevertheless happy with the team's finish.

"They showed a lot of grit this year," said Lokken. "It was a tough season, but they came together as a team at the end of the year."

With Lyman the lone senior on this year's squad, the Prowlers figure to improve when the 1995-96 season arrives. "We've got a good group coming back," acknowledged Lokken. "We've got a very strong sophomore group that should do well for us next year."

Sanden selected Prowlers' MVP

Kyle Sanden, Nathan Anderson, Ryan Swanson, Robby Farbo, and Dan Bjerknes were special award winners Tuesday during the 1994-95 Thief River Falls boys high school basketball banquet.

Sanden was selected the Prowlers' most valuable player, Anderson was named Mr. Defense and Swanson was tabbed Mr. Hustle. Farbo and Bjerknes shared most improved honors.

Athletic letters went to seniors Josh Hedin, Eric Bjorgaard, Bjerknes, and Anderson; juniors Tom Koehmstedt, Derrick McFarlane, Farbo, Sanden, and Swanson; sophomores Karl Anderson, Jon Blomker, Jared Brandt, Paul Kopari, Stefan Ronchetti, and Courtney Skjerven; along with student managers Jessica Brekke, Christy Chapa, Reid Froiland and Kylie Peterson.

Sanden, a 6-10 center, drew considerable attention from the college ranks with a banner season in which he set career and single-game school scoring records. He averaged 23.6 points, 10.8 rebounds and 3 blocked shots per game while shooting 69 percent from the field and 70 percent at the free throw line.

A 43-point night against Crookston gave Sanden the school single-game scoring record, and he is already the school career scoring leader with 1,226 points heading into his senior season. The 543 points he scored this winter ranks No. 2 on the school single-season scoring chart behind only a 577-point effort by Dave Hanson in 1956-57.

As a sophomore, Sanden scored 397 points, averaging 18 points and 9 rebounds per game. A press conference has been scheduled Wednesday when he is expected to make an early commitment to one of the college basketball programs seeking his talents.

"Kyle had another good year," said Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "He showed great improvement. And the other kids did a nice job getting him the ball. You don't want to take anything away from his teammates; they all contributed. But obviously it was important for us to get the ball into Kyle's hands if we were going to be successful."

Anderson, a 6-2 guard, and Bjorgaard, a 6-0 forward, also finished with double figure scoring averages – 11 points per game for Anderson and 10.1 for Bjorgaard, who was moved inside this year where he was often out-sized, but rarely out-muscled.

"Our seniors all had nice a nice year for us," noted Brekke. "They all played well. Eric did a great job inside, Nate got his points, Danny worked hard whenever we put him in the game, and Josh did a nice job fitting in (as a transfer student)."

A 12-11 finisher the previous season, Thief River Falls' slow climb up the basketball ladder produced a 13-10 record this winter, and even though they won just twice in eight match-ups against North Sub-Section 8AA opponents, the Prowlers proved to be competitive at the Class AA level – a claim they couldn't make the past few years.

"I thought we made some strides this year," offered Brekke. "We were able to play with the AA teams. The wins and losses might not show it, but the kids played with a lot more confidence against the AA teams this year. Now we have to take our game to the next level and beat those teams."

To do that, explained Brekke, the Prowlers will have to make a serious off-season commitment to the weight room and shooting. "We have to get physically stronger and develop [illegible]," he said. "We were close [illegible] AA teams in the first half this year, but they were stronger [illegible] than we were and they physically wore us down."

It was a [illegible] season for the Prowlers, who started the year 5-1, then lost 6 of 7 before reversing that figure to win 6 of their final 8 regular season games. The schedule, of course, had a lot to do with the mid-season struggle – when Thief River Falls played a bulk of its North Sub-Section 8AA games.

Led by Sanden, the Prowlers did a reasonably good job in the shooting department this year, but were plagued by turnovers. "We have to improve the turnover and assist ratio if we're going to be successful," mentioned Brekke.

And Brekke thinks the Prowlers have the potential to do well in 1995-96 behind a nucleus headed by Sanden, Swanson, Farbo, and Brandt. Swanson replaced Brandt in the starting line-up through the course of the 1994-95 season, and Farbo contributed off the bench. Players like McFarlane, Skjerven, Ronchetti, Kopari, Blomker, Karl Anderson, and Jeremy Jensen all played well at the junior varsity level.

"We've got a good group of kids coming back," said Brekke. "We'll have the biggest team we've ever had. Our No. 1 need is to find a point guard."

Ranum leads Nordics' scoring

Stay in the game long enough and you will likely experience most of the highs and lows the sport has to offer. Ron Ueland's 30th year as a high school basketball coach reminded him of that as the Marshall County Central boys bounced through frustrating 8-18 season this winter – the most losses ever for a Ueland-led team.

"The chemistry just wasn't there," explained Ueland. "We were not able to come together as a team. It did finally start to jell at the end of the season, but by then there just wasn't enough time to get it all done."

Marshall County Central, after a 6-16 regular season, picked up Section 8A Sub-Section 4 tournament wins over Kittson Central 57-38 and Stephen 56-53 in overtime and took eventual champion Grygla-Gatzke to the final horn before losing a 64-61 semifinal decision. The season ended with a 77-62 third place game loss to Badger/Greenbush-Middle River.

While the Nordics struggled as a team, Micah Ranum stood out individually. Often undersized under the basket, the six-foot junior forward nevertheless emerged as one of the top players in northwestern Minnesota with a 19.9 scoring average. His teammates got him the ball, and he converted, shooting 61.6 percent from the field (196/318) and 73.7 percent at the free throw line (126/171). Ranum also finished with a team-leading 142 rebounds.

"Micah was consistent," noted Ueland. "He was tough inside. There weren't many teams who could shut him down."

Brandon Borg, a 6-1 senior guard, joined Ranum in the double figure scoring column by averaging 11.4 points per game. He set two school records in the 3-point shooting department with 9 in a single game (vs. Roseau) and 91 for his career (breaking the previous mark of 81 held by Jeremy Undertahl).

Part of the Nordics' troubles this winter developed because of personnel absences, including an extended early-season stretch on the sidelines by senior Kent Rokke due to illness. "I didn't realize just how much we missed Kent until I looked at the record," noted Ueland. Without the 5-10 guard available for a full-time duty, the Nordics were 1-10.

Led by Ranum's foul-drawing inside play, the Nordics set a single-season team record with a 66.9 percent shooting figure at the free throw line this year (234/350). And with Borg leading the way, they set a single-game mark by hitting 12 treys in their match up with Roseau.

Marshall County Central's middle-of-the-pack fourth place finish in the North Border Conference could be greatly improved in 1995-96 when the Nordics return the four players who logged the most playing time this year – Ranum, 6-2 junior Trever Magner, 6-0 junior Terry Olson, and 6-1 junior Kyle Halvorson. "That will be the most experience we've ever had coming back," pointed out Ueland.

Aaron Brotan, a 5-11, 175-pound freshman from Thief River Falls – by way of Waterloo in the USHL – scored 8 goals and added 7 assists for 15 points in 31 games for the Mankato State University hockey team this winter. The Mavericks finished 20-13 and a No. 4 ranking in NCAA Division II with a 28-member team featuring 14 freshman and 22 underclassman. The team played its home games in the new 4,832-seat Mankato Civic Center.

St. Hilaire Elevator wins playoff title in city league hockey

Regular season champion St. Hilaire Elevator added a post-season title to its credit Wednesday with a 14-9 win over Wennberg's in the finals of the 1994-95 Thief River Falls city league hockey playoffs at the Old Arena.

Chad Ostlund enters plea to escape charge

Chad Allen Ostlund, 21, Thief River Falls, pled guilty in a plea agreement to escape from custody and possession of stolen property on Thursday in a Ninth District Court in Pennington county.

According to the plea agreement, Ostlund will serve 28 months on each count concurrently. He will also pay restitution. Judge Dennis Murphy accepted the guilty plea and ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Sentencing has been scheduled for April 24.

Ostlund pled to two counts involving two separate incidents. Ostlund was being held in a Pennington county law enforcement jail on a burglary charge dating back to an incident on January 30. Ostlund has pled guilty to the lesser included offense of possession of stolen property in that case. The second count, escape from custody, stems from an escape from the jail on March 5. Ostlund was one of two men who climbed up into the ceiling of the jail and dropped down into another section of the jail where they broke out a window in an emergency escape door on the north side of the building. Ostlund was caught a short time later in an alley near the 800 block of North Knight. The other prisoner who escaped with Ostlund, Tracy Zomes, was captured several days later and is now awaiting court hearings on escape and damage charges.

Jennifer Vad, a sophomore at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, recently was awarded a purple ribbon at the regional science fair held at Bemidji State University. Her project on "Fertilization" will now advance to state competition in Rochester later this month. Jennifer is the daughter of Lynn and Laurie Vad of Goodridge and is shown with her coach, Patti Johnson, a science teacher at Lincoln high school.

Classical Musical Showcase to be held in Fosston on April 9

The monthly Classical Music Showcase of Talent will be held by participating music teachers and children on Sunday, April 9 at 3 p.m. at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston.

Purposes of the showcase are: to allow young people the opportunity of performing in a public situation, and to allow parents, music teachers, young people and the interested public to inter-act.

In addition to the performers, there will be a lesson on a classical composer's life and a learning activity designed to serve as an icebreaker. Doris Krogstad of Winger will be the day's emcee and present the lesson on a composer. Special adult guest for the day will be Nila Basset of Bagley who is an instructor at the Red Lake school system as well as a former accompanist for the Bagley school musicians. Bassett is a piano instructor as well.

Any music teacher or interested parent may sign up their child to take part in the showcase. It is not necessary to pre-register for the showcase, just arrive early.

There is no charge for admission. Refreshments will be served.

Soo Line vets to meet Wed.

To discuss the scheduling of future meetings on a regular basis, a meeting of Soo Line Railroad veterans will be held Wednesday, April 5, at Handy Farms restaurant in Thief River Falls. Retired and active employees are urged to attend.

Anita Cardinal of Inter-County Nursing does mental health testing at Pennington County jail and helps at the jail with basic health assessment.

Public health covers many areas from shots to safety health is involved in is Communities Caring for Children. This program is designed to encourage pregnant women to receive early and continuous prenatal care and to assist families with infants and young children in receiving well-child exams and immunizations. This program was started because 25 percent of women in the area did not obtain early prenatal care and because only 61 percent of rural two-year-olds were fully immunized and only 17 percent of children under five were receiving well-child exams. Based on these statistics, 13 counties in northwestern Minnesota joined together and applied for a grant to form this program. The program provides information about the importance of prenatal care. If a woman does miss a prenatal appointment, a nurse will assist her in receiving care. The program also sends timely reminder letters to families with children who need immunizations or well-child exams.

Inter-County Nursing service of Pennington and Red Lake Counties provides help with assessment of illness at the jail and does mental health tests of all inmates at the jail.

A concern of some in the public health is health care reform. Public health care needs to be considered when people talk about health care reform because it is such an important part of intervention, education, and disease control. "Public health is an important part of the package for preventive health care," said Mary Anna Pelowski, director of Roseau County Home Care.

"Public health is everybody's concern," said Barbara Coeterier, director of Marshall County Nursing Service. A common misconception is that it is just for people on welfare, but it covers more than that, it's ensuring clean drinking water, it's providing school nurses, it's any thing that promotes healthy living.

"People are entitled to basic health," said Carol Borchert, the administrator for Quin County Community Health. "Public health wants to ensure optimum health for all people. That's what we're all about."

Experiment station has top cows

25,510, 874 and 811.

Other cows which achieved the minimum production standards for inclusion on the list came from the following herds:

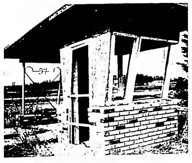
· Johnston Farms (3), Randy and Jo Gast (2), NW Ag Experiment Station (3), Richard Dummer, Tom and Diane Kolstoe (2), Don and Karen Konickson (3), Wayne Nelson, Wayne Vettleson (2), Tom Willett (2), Greg and Susan Zak, Gary and Grant Gullekson, Harold Desrosier and Sons, John and Warren Malwitz and Arlan and Barb Weiss.

Vietnam vets dinner set at Roseau Legion

Planning has been done for a Vietnam (in country) veterans dinner on Saturday, May 6, at American Legion Post 24 in Roseau, according to Allan Wicklander, dinner organizer.

Those interested in attending must notify Wicklander by April 8 by calling 218-463-3715 before 2 p.m. Monday through Friday or anytime on weekends.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2793 in Thief River Falls has received a National Youth Award from the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. Signed by national Commander-in-Chief Allen F. Kent, the award is "in recognition and praise of outstanding contributions to America's youth through sponsorship and promotion of the VFW Youth Activity Program. Pictured with the award are (left to right), Lorraine Morben, president of Post 2793 Auxiliary; Del Bergdahl, senior vice president of the Ninth District Cooties; and Roger Olson, Commander of Post 2793.



When originally built in Thief River Falls, the Satellite Drive-In Theater was called the 59-HI Outdoor Theatre. The wrought iron 59 emblem is visible at left in this photo of the ticket booth which has been abandoned since the drive-in closed in 1986.

History society gets theater sign

lections curator at the historical society, apparently saw the sign during an earlier visit to Thief River Falls and initiated the contact with Hickerson. Although donation of the sign was approved some time ago, it took until now for the state society to set aside funds to pay for having the sign removed and transported to the society's warehouse in St. Paul.

"I bought the theater in 1968 when it was called the 59-Hi Outdoor Theater," Hickerson recalls. "It was about the time of Sputnik (the Russian satellite put into space orbit) and the space race, so we changed the name and had this sign built by Bemidji Sign Company. It was an expensive sign—with all the lights and the ball that rotated. We were pretty proud of it."

For five years Hickerson also owned the Falls Theater in downtown Thief River Falls—the site of the present Falls Mall. He sold that theater and built the double Galaxy Twin Theater on ground near the outdoor theater in 1973.

What created the demise of the outdoor theater in Minnesota after its spectacular popularity?

"It was the 18-year-old drinking law," Hickerson says without hesitation. "The state lowered the legal drinking age to 18 and our prime outdoor theater customers went from the movies into the bars."

If it was the lowered drinking age that dug the grave for drive-in theaters, it was probably expansion of the video market that filled in the hole.

"Not television," Hickerson says of reasons for lack of drive-in patronage. "The drinking law and videos, they did it."

Although the legal drinking age has since been raised again, the chances of drawing young people back to the outdoor theaters seem to vary between slim and none. An era has apparently ended, and thus the reason for preserving a piece of it for history. You might call it another sign of the times.

Veterans are advised to have check-up on their benefits

Former military personnel who have been out of uniform for awhile should have a veterans benefits check-up, according to the Minnesota Department of Veterans Affairs.

"Even if they were recently discharged from service," advises Veterans Affairs Commissioner Bernie Melter, "veterans should contact their county veterans service officer for a check-up. Every county in Minnesota has a veterans service officer.

"Few veterans are up to date with their records and the programs open to them, so it is in their interest and in the interest of their dependents to know where they stand on state programs which may affect their lives."

Melter said that Minnesota has long been a leader in helping veterans adapt to civilian life, re-enter the workforce, further their education and get assistance when they need it.

There are nearly a half-million veterans living in Minnesota, and Melter said he would like to have a larger percentage of that number get to know their county veterans service officer. In Pennington county, veterans service officer John Ellison may be contacted by calling 218-681-3550.

Festival of spring musicales in Fosston

The Embassy Community Center at 3rd and north Eaton Avenue in Fosston will hold the April sing-along in the form of another of its Festival of Spring musicales on Friday April 7 at 7:30 p.m. All who wish to participate in the musical designed to usher in Easter Week may do so. Vocals, instrumentals and readings on the Easter theme are welcomed. Those playing musical instruments may bring them to accompany the sing-along portion of the program.

An attendance gift will be awarded and refreshments will be served by Ruby Balstad, Ragna Valden and Mary Tweten.

Come and enjoy a variety of gospel music sponsored by the Ambassadors of Praise Gospel choir and orchestra.

Bluebird program

Fertile — On Tuesday, April 11 at the Rydell National Wildlife Refuge there will be two programs on bluebirds. The Minnesota DNR Nongame Wildlife Program personnel will show a film about the birds. After the film there will be a chance to build a nest box of your own.

The program is a joint venture of the Agassiz Environmental Learning Center, the MN DNR Non-game Program and the USFWS/ Rydell National Wildlife Refuge.

New look downtown

Red Lake Falls — The city of Red Lake Falls, Red Lake county and Glenn Solsrud, owner of Red Lake County State Bank, are partners in a project to help improve the downtown area of Red Lake Falls.

The agreement states that Red Lake County will allow the debris for the demolition to be dumped in the county demolition landfill. The city will receive a grant as long as it meets certain conditions.

· Solrud will construct a new bank and an apartment complex.

—The Gazette

No grant for project

· Ada — After learning that their chances for a grant were slim, the Ada city council decided to re-prioritize the sewer plans.

The city went through an eight-month pre-application procedure, and was notified by the Rural Economic and Community Development Service that the city is not eligible for grant funds.

The city is eligible for a RECD loan, however. If the city raised utility rates to pay for the loan, it would still be below the average sewer and water rates.

New apartments in Badger

Badger — A new eight-plex apartment building will be built in Badger this summer. It will be operated by the Northwest Minnesota Multi-County Housing and Redevelopment Authority.

The complex will be similar to the two six-plex apartments in Greenbush. Estimated rents will be from from $385 to $464 a month. All utilities will be paid.

A new police building

East Grand Forks — The East Grand Forks city council authorized the HEA Group to proceed with Phases II of the police biulding project. This phase consists of preliminary design and budgeting of the existing building.

Complete Phase II will cost $43,800 plus reimbursable expenses.

Sentiment about Norris Camp is very strong

People attending TRF meeting on camp opposed to move

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Sentiment attached to Norris Camp is strong, but sentiment alone won't save the former Civilian Conservation Corps camp and current DNR office. Alternatives for its future were discussed at a public hearing in Thief River Falls Tuesday night. It was one of several meetings planned in the region and in St. Paul to discuss its future.

About 25 people attending the hearing in Thief River Falls. And those attending the meeting expressed more than sentiment about the camp. Many were concerned about the loss of history, safety of those who continue to visit the remote camp, security of property in the area, and the loss of resources to manage natural resources.

Paul T. Swenson, regional administrator for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, said the decision is in his hands. He explained that there are three options being explored: 1) Consolidate the forestry and wildlife departments in a new building in Warroad and lease Norris Camp; 2) Maintain a part-time presence at Norris Camp; and 3) Leave it as it is.

Norris Camp is currently headquarters for the Red Lake Wildlife Management area, which is the largest WMA in the state at 250,461 acres. Its mission is to protect and manage the area's wildlife, native plants, and their communities for their intrinsic values and long-term public benefits. Full-time positions at the camp include an area manager and assistant area manager, and several staff. The area manager and assistant manager are provided housing and live at the camp.

The land upon which Norris Camp sits is owned by the state. It became part of the Red Lake Game Preserve in 1929. The federal government entered the picture in 1935 when Norris Camp was built under the supervision of the U.S. Army as a Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) camp. Additional land was purchased from settlers by the federal government.

In 1940, the management of these lands, along with the custodial control of Norris Camp was transferred to the Minnesota department of natural resources.

Of an original 33 buildings at Norris Camp, 16 remain. There are three newer buildings that have been added for a current total of 19 buildings. Only eight of these buildings are essential for the current operation of the facility.

Last November, several buildings at the camp were placed on the National Register of Historic Places.

The total estimated cost for doing a complete rejuvenation of the needed buildings at the camp was $256,500. This wouldn't need to be expended all at once.

In the past 10 years Norris Camp has become somewhat of a political football, said Swenson. Some legislators have argued that the facility should be consolidated with the forestry department in Warroad. The concept behind the effort, Swenson said, has been "one stop shopping." The concept has been used to justify consolidation in numerous locations such as Fergus Falls, Detroit Lakes, Bemidji, St. Cloud, Rochester, New Ulm and Windom.

As a result of its ambiguous future, little maintenance has been done on the buildings at the camp in the last 10 years.

Swenson said the purpose of the meeting held in Thief River Falls Tuesday night was to find out from the people who utilize the camp and area resources what they think the DNR should do with Norris Camp.

Swenson said he had received a lot of written communications. In addition about 60 to 65 people have attended the two previous meetings held on the subject.

Many of the people attending the meeting in Thief River Falls Tuesday expressed their opinions. None of the people in attendance were in favor of moving the DNR office at Norris Camp to Warroad. A representative of the local chapter of Deer Hunters said that they had officially adopted a resolution requesting that a DNR presence be maintained at Norris Camp.

Some of the reasons people at the meeting thought the DNR should remain at Norris Camp included the following:

- Use has increased significantly in the past several years.
- Presence of law enforcement in the area is a deterrent to vandalism, theft and other problems.
- Many feel they have a proprietary interest in the facility. It has

Bullride slated for county fair

Two nights of bullriding excitement will take place at the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls Thursday and Friday, July 13 and 14, with outdoor performances both nights to start at 7 p.m.

Announcement of the event was made jointly by the Pennington County Fair board, Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce and the local Bullride Committee.

"We're looking for this to become an annual event with the Pennington County Fair," stated Roger Shaffer, Bullride Committee spokesman.

"Initial local support from sponsors has been terrific and interest in the area is extremely encouraging. With bulls from Bailey Stock Promotions in Oklahoma, we think it will be a great event. And there will be 'mutton bustin' both nights for the kids."

County fair officials noted that the bullrides will account for two of three major entertainment nights at the county fair. Country music star Pam Tillis will headline the program for Saturday, July 15, with shows at 7 and 9 p.m.

Chamber of Commerce executive Bob Bergan said the concert and bullrides will be promoted locally and regionally with ticket information to be announced soon.

Housing project concerns expressed at TRF meeting

Thursday morning, about 45 people crowded into a basement meeting room of the city auditorium to tell city councilmen what they think about proposals to construct housing in Thief River Falls. In that meeting, apartment owners came face to face with students, developers and others to discuss supply and demand, quality of housing, and why no non-subsidized apartments have been built in the city in the past 20 years.

Frank Dunbar of Dunbar Development the organization proposing to construct three separate housing projects in Thief River Falls through Northwest Multi-County Housing Re-development Authority out of Mentor, explained that the projects will be built with essential function bonds, 100 per cent of which comes from private investors and so no taxpayer dollars are used to fund any construction, acquisition or building of the facility. They generate market rate rents to pay the mortgage, operating costs, pay taxes, and PILOT (Payment in Lieu Of Taxes) level tax which is a tax rate available to housing and redevelopment authorities.

In response to a question about the city's obligation to pay for any operating loss, a representative of of Northwest Multi-County HRA, explained that the city of Thief River Falls is part of a project that includes facilities being built in Roseau, Badger, Black Duck and Baudette, but Thief River Falls will never have to pay for a loss in another community.

In response to a question from Ken Berg, a local apartment owner, about how the facility will survive on Rents higher than his own when he has 16 empty apartments at Country Acres, Dunbar explained that the student housing rent includes heat and washers and dryers in every apartment. All of those features, and other features, he explained are built in to the rent.

Berg asked many questions but appeared most upset that Northwest Multi-County HRA will be paying a lower tax. "It's not a level playing field," he said.

Berg noted that for several years the city has tried to get a private developer in here to build a student housing complex and private developers couldn't because of the tax situation. Now, he said, these people come in and say they can do it, but they can only do it on an unlevel playing field.

Don Stewart, community development director for Thief River Falls, said the city has been working on this issue in excess of five years. The city spent in excess of $40,000 on studies and in trying to get private developers to address the housing problem. He said he understands the frustration at the tax structure by private developers, but something had to be done.

Stewart said he has a list of 60

Routine report leads to arrest and deportation

When Pedro Contreras, 26, Thief River Falls, came to the Pennington county law enforcement center it was to report a crime, but he ended up in jail and his wife being deported.

Contreras came to the law enforcement center in Thief River Falls at about 11 a.m. Thursday to report that his government check had been stolen. Law enforcement personnel ran a routine computer background check on Contreras and discovered he was wanted in Polk county on a warrant for driver allowing open bottle and driving after revocation. He was arrested. Within a short period of time he was able to post bond.

Law enforcement personnel report that his wife, Maria, came down to the law enforcement center when he was released. During the investigation into the missing check and discussions with social services personnel, however, it was discovered that Maria only held a border crossing card. After checking with U.S. Border Patrol personnel it was learned that Maria was an illegal alien. Border Patrol personnel then began the deportation process.

In the meantime, the government check, which led to their current predicament, was discovered and the report of a theft, unfounded.

Tree project helps farmers and environment

Eight by eight foot spacing allows for cultivation in two directions. Hybrid poplar don't compete well against weeds and grass. Cultivating is important for a good crop.

As the world changes, so does one of the world's oldest professions...farming. In an effort to preserve natural resources and our fragile planet, scientists and farmers are looking at new ways to farm and new crops to grow. The Agriculture Utilization Resource Institute (AURI) is involved in researching and developing some of this new technology.

Ed Wene of the AURI office in Crookston is a microbiologist who has been working with a project to grow hybrid poplars in the northwestern region of Minnesota. The Oklee Tree Project is a cooperative effort among AURI, the U of M Crookston, Natural Resources Research Institute, Minnesota Power and Light, local, state and federal agencies. Those involved in the project will plant trees on land in the Oklee area that was set aside in the mid 1980's for the Conservation Reservation Program (CRP). The 10 year CRP contracts will be ending soon, but this project will allow farmers to extend their contracts for up to five more years.

Why plant hybrid poplars?

AURI lists several reasons both economic and environmental, for getting involved in the Oklee Tree Project.

(1) The project is a way to diversify agricultural crops; exploring growing crops for non-consumption is one of the main goals of AURI.

(2) It is also a way for the growers to participate in state and federal conservation programs.

(3) Growing trees is a way to quickly establish protection against wind and water erosion, and reduce nutrient runoff near bodies of water.

The main goal of the project is to determine if growing trees as a cash crop is feasible.

Getting Started

The Oklee area was chosen because of the available CRP land, the suitable growing conditions such as soil type and slope, and because of its proximity to wood markets. The trees, which are a cross between eastern cottonwoods and European black cottonwoods, grow best in fertile soil with a middle-range pH of 5.5 to 7.8 and low slope.

In June of 1994 letters were sent to all CRP contract holders in the area and informational meetings were held. Interested parties gave permission for soil sampling. The testing included assessing pH, organic matter, slope, drainage, water-holding capacity, and depth to water table. Of the 10,000 or so acres of soil tested, 5,000 were found suitable for growing the trees. (Only 3,000 acres were needed.) Contracts were then based on ratings and the year of planting was chosen by the farmer.

YAG Capsulotomy

Laser Treatment After Cataract Surgery

After cataract surgery, your vision can become cloudy, much as it was when you had a cataract. Although this condition is sometimes called "after-cataract," the cause isn't a new cataract. The problem is a clouding of the posterior capsule, which holds the lens in place.

Your eye after Cataract Surgery. When your cataract was removed, your eye's natural lens was replaced with an intraocular lens, or IOL. This clear lens is placed between the iris (the colored part of the eye) and the posterior capsule. You can see again because the IOL allows light to reach your retina, which sends visual messages to the brain.

When the Capsule becomes cloudy—the posterior capsule is a thin, clear film, much like a piece of cellophane. Months or even years after cataract surgery, the posterior capsule can become cloudy. This clouding blocks light from reaching the retina, just as the cataract once did. Luckily, your eye doctor can usually restore your vision with a laser treatment called Capsulotomy.

YAG capsulotomy is done in your doctor's office or at an outpatient surgery center. The treatment is quick and painless, and you can usually return to your normal activities within a few hours. There are no needles, no stitches, and no risk of infection. You will probably find that your vision is fully restored soon after treatment.

Superintendent resigns

Bemidji — Bemidji public schools superintendent, Wayne Haugen has resigned from his position. Haugen, who has been with the district for the last five years, signed a contract with Hastings school district.

"There is nothing negative against Bemidji. It's simply location," said Haugen. He is looking forward to moving to the metro school district. He also pointed out that Hastings is close to where his most of his family lives.

Women's shelter

Crookston — The Crookston city council unanimously approved a resolution for the construction of a transitional housing shelter for battered women.

The Hope Center must receive a grant from HUD in order for the resolution to stand. Currently, the Hope Center is able to house up to 20 people, but is is not strictly for battered women and children. The new addition would double the capacity and would exist specifically for the purpose of housing battered women and their children.

DNR tagging LOW northerns

Baudette — The DNR is conducting a study to help boost trophy northern pike fishing in Lake of the Woods.

Resident and visiting fishers will be asked to help by reporting their tagged catches. Anglers who participate will receive a letter with the length, weight, and gender of their fish, plus the date and location where it was tagged. If they release the fish, they will get follow-up letters every time the fish is caught and reported.

Easter Cantata in McIntosh

The McIntosh Community Choir will be presenting their 17th consecutive Easter Cantata at 8 p.m. Good Friday, April 14 at the McIntosh new gym.

The choir has been rehearsing the "Christ the King" Cantata by John Innes for several Sundays. The men in the choir will also sing "Go to Dark Gethsemane" and the choir will sing "This is the Day" arranged by Bruce Greer and "Glorious Lord" arranged by Bruce Greer and Joseph Ayala as a prelude and postlude to the cantata.

There are several familiar hymns included in the cantata such as "Were You There" and "The Old Rugged Cross."

This year's choir includes members from Fosston, Winger, Oklee, and McIntosh. Soloists are Erin Olson, Cindy Ostenaa and Doug Johnson. The choir is accompanied by Diane Boucher and Garnet Annenson.

Everyone is welcome and there is no admission charge. Following the cantata, lunch will be served in the old gym.

NWRDC awards funds for arts programs in area

Northwest Regional Development Commission (NWRDC) recently awarded funds for arts programs in northwestern Minnesota. With funding provided by the Minnesota State Legislature, awards totaling $17,225 were given for local regional arts development projects and $890 were given for small arts projects. With funding provided by the McKnight Foundation, an award for $1,650 was given for a McKnight Small Capital project and a $500 award was given to a McKnight Individual Artist project.

Under the local regional arts development program, Stephen Arts Council, will receive $700 for the production of a musical revue. Renaissance Association presented a film on lightning strikes. Cash and prize drawings were a $20 early bird drawing presented to Vernl Mosbeck, $10 cash to Vernon Peterson, June Mosbeck, Chester Solberg, Fred Mayga, Helen Lafayette, Kenneth Wieland, Loren Lafayette, Etta Payment, an outdoor thermometer to Walter D. Novak, a lightning surge protector to Cecilia Surprenant, a flashlight to Greg Anderson, a game set to Mrs. Maurice LaCoursiere, a clock radio to Virginia Sauve, a miniature John D. Tractor to Burton Carlson, a fire extinguisher to Joyce Carlson, and a quilt blanket to Adeline Maygra. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Even though it doesn't look like spring, it is time for some springtime dessert ideas. Try them all and then pick out one to top off your Easter dinner.

This delicious dessert can be made a day ahead:

ENGLISH TOFFEE DESSERT

15 vanilla wafers
3/4 cup pecans
1/2 cup butter
1 cup powdered sugar
3 egg yolks
1 1/2 squares melted chocolate
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 beaten egg whites

Crush vanilla wafers and mix with pecans. Place in pan.

Mix butter, powdered sugar, egg yolks, one at a time, chocolate and vanilla. Fold in egg whites and pour over crumbs in pan.

Sprinkle with remaining crumbs and chill several hours before serving.

Wouldn't this be a great finish to your Easter feast:

PRALINE ICE CREAM CAKE

1/2 cup melted butter
2 cups softened vanilla ice cream
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups flour
2/3 cup sugar
1 tablespoon [illegible]
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup graham cracker crumbs

Combine ingredients in order given, mixing well. Pour into greased 9x13 inch pan and bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes.

While cake is baking, prepare:

Topping
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup caramel ice cream topping
Pecans

Combine sour cream and caramel topping and pour over warm cake. Top with pecans.

Cook and cut.

This dessert is elegant enough for company and easy enough for every day:

PARSONAGE MARBLE PUDDING CAKE

1 1/2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
3/4 cup milk
3 tablespoons shortening
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup nuts
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
6 tablespoons cocoa
2 2/3 cups hot water

Mix flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add milk, shortening and vanilla and then nuts. Place in greased 9x13 inch pan.

Combine brown sugar and cocoa and sprinkle over batter.

Pour water over ingredients in pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 50-55 minutes.

Invert on serving platter and serve warm, with ice cream or whipped cream, if desired.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

In your April 1, 1995 editorial, you asked a question regarding the position of the yield sign as you enter Pennington Avenue from the west. This conflict area was at one time signed as you have suggested. In the early to mid-1980's the sign was changed by the County Highway Department in response to concerns expressed by tractor trailer drivers that they could not see anything coming from their right side after they made the turn onto Pennington Avenue from First Street.

Although the truck drivers have a clear view as they sit at the light facing west and as they turn left, they accelerate very slowly, giving ample time for a vehicle coming off the bridge to compete for the south bound lane on Pennington Avenue.

The yield sign is located to give these trucks the right-of-way to proceed south with full confidence that they won't collide with a car coming from their blind side.

Very Truly Yours,
David B. Kildahl, P.E.
Widseth Smith Nolting

To The Editor:

In response to your editorial "While Driving in T.R.F. We Sometimes Wonder About Things," the logical explanation for the stop signs (located at Edgewood Drive and Kenwood Court and Edgewood Drive and Idlewood Court) is basically simple, safety for our family and property.

Edgewood Drive has been a raceway for years. With the building of Challenger our children must walk on the street to and from the school bus stop on Edgewood Drive and this has helped raise our concern for pedestrian safety. During the past year vehicles have damaged trees in two separate yards and sections of one family's fence have been destroyed twice.

The residents on Edgewood petitioned the city to permanently close Edgewood Drive. Edgewood Drive is not a through street, it is a residential street. The city responded by conducting a car count, performed a cost analysis for closing the street and then decided to erect the stop signs. I would guess that the city's decision was based largely on economics and the need to respond to the petition.

I agree that it might not be what stop signs are intended to do for traffic flow, but the stop signs have reduced the number of vehicles as well as the speed of the vehicles traveling on Edgewood Drive, and for this we are thankful.

We also understand that these signs have inconvenienced numerous individuals and for this we make no apologies. Edgewood Drive was not designed to be a short cut across town.

Thanks for the open invitation to respond.

Sincerely,
Tom and Pauline Parish
1218 Edgewood Drive

To The Editor:

Sunday afternoon our community was blessed with a wonderful concert by the Chancellor Quartet. Their ministry through music spoke to the hearts of those present. My deepest thanks to the Chancellors for making Thief River Falls part of their three-day tour of northwestern Minnesota.

Because of the warm reception they received here, they have already expressed interest to me in coming back next year.

Thank you to everyone who helped make this concert a memorable event. Let's keep working together to have more of these opportunities in the future.

Sincerely,
Valerie Solem

Carla Torgerson joins staff at TRF Chamber

Carla Torgerson of Thief River Falls recently accepted a position as an administrative assistant at the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Torgerson is a 1985 graduate of Lincoln high school and a 1987 graduate of Northland Community College. She has since worked at Arctco, Inc., in the marketing department, Northwest Medical Center in the admitting office, and most recently, Northland Community College.

Her experience, professionalism, and enthusiasm combined with her knowledge of the community will be a great asset to the Chamber of Commerce, according to Bob Berg, chamber of commerce executive vice president.

Carla and her husband, Mike, who is employed by UPS, have three children, Jordan, age 6, Mariah, age 3, and Kaleh, age 1.

Questions On Traffic Drew Lots Of Comment

It's been great! The number of people commenting on last week's editorial questioning the reasons for several traffic "controls" being the way they are (or aren't) in Thief River Falls has far exceeded the response for any other editorial in years. At a minimum, we have received at least a couple dozen direct comments and most people giving those reported having talked about it with others.

Unfortunately, few written comments have been received. While all of the direct comments made to the editor agreed with the points we raised, the two written responses received as of the time this is being written are intended to justify the existing conditions. They are being published in this issue and we encourage people to read them as well. We would like to have had more written comment with personal experiences or views regarding the questions raised.

Of all the comments made, the most common was, "I thought maybe I was the only one who wondered why.....(the stop signs were there, the lights are flashing, the yield sign is where it is)." Some had favorite descriptions for the situations with terms like "crazy," "ridiculous," "stupid," "senseless" and "dumb" being the most frequent.

We wouldn't go so far as to be that critical of those who were responsible for the situations mentioned in the editorial. In most cases, there is a reason or reasons for things being done the way they are. We were looking for explanations as much as suggesting the possibility of change, and the two letters published today explain the background for a couple of the areas mentioned.

Probably the most difficult to deal with is the Pennington Avenue and First Street Intersection. It is a high traffic area with a couple of complications which can't be changed—the most important of which is the First Street bridge immediately to the west of the intersection. We can understand the rationale in Dave Kildahl's letter as it relates to truck (and we might add, bus) traffic.

The curve by-passing the semaphore allows traffic to keep moving and clear the bridge. If all traffic coming from west and turning south had to go to the light and make a right turn, vehicles would be backed up across the bridge and beyond many times of the day—and making a left turn from First Street onto Pennington Avenue against that traffic would be a real adventure!

What to do?

Since trucks coming from east on First Street probably come into the city from southeast on Highway 59, it would help if they could travel Greenwood Street to Pennington Avenue and avoid the congested and awkward First Street intersection entirely (residents along Greenwood Street would love that!). At the present time, of course, Greenwood is not a through street and not improved beyond Kendall Avenue.

It is presently possible for trucks to exit Highway 59 at County Road 7 (Smiley bridge corner), go west to County Road 17 (airport road, extension of Pennington Avenue) and come into the city from south (past my house!). It adds a couple of miles but avoids the First and Pennington corner. Trucks coming to that intersection from any other origin than highway 59 South would likely approach the corner from the west.

Regarding the stop signs a block apart on Edgewood Drive—the source of most irritation among those who made personal comments—the letter from Tom Parrish in today's issue explains the position of at least some residents of that area. We appreciate the concern for safety of children and we don't doubt there are drivers who speed in that area.

But we disagree with Tom in this case. We believe Edgewood Drive is a through street—although a residential one—and that as an artery in that area's street pattern it should be expected to carry a fair amount of traffic. Children taking the bus to Challenger school realistically is not a consideration since students who need to cross Edgewood to board the bus are provided crossing guards to do so.

Existence of the signs may be a hazard in itself, primarily because they are so impractical as to be unexpected. We recall at least one accident where a driver noticed the sign late, hit the brakes, skidded on compacted snow and hit a tree. We witnessed one driver go through both signs without pausing. Those who expect traffic to stop because there are signs could be in danger.

There comes a point where people must accept the realities of where they choose to live and recognize the needs and convenience of many other people. In the case of Edgewood Drive, a single stop sign might have raised only eyebrows. The double dose has raised ire.

And the crosswalk signal on Pennington Avenue near the Northern Pride turkey plant continues to flash merrily away, around the clock. Some day, someone will cross there.

Thanks for your calls, letters and comments. No, you are not alone in wondering what is going on; you have plenty of company.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

NWRDC to fill public interest slot

Northwest Regional Development Commission is seeking nominations for 12 public interest representatives on the commission in the areas of agriculture, business, financial institutions, industry, labor, low income, minorities, seniors, soil and water conservation districts, vocational schools, watershed districts and women.

The commission encourages groups with expertise or special interest in any of these areas to nominate a representative for a position. These are one-year terms of office and members receive a [illegible] per diem payment and travel expenses for the days on which they attend commission meetings.

Northwest Regional Development Commission is a multi-purpose planning organization serving Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau counties. It is a policy-making body comprised of 35 individuals who serve as representatives of counties, municipalities, townships, school boards and public interest groups.

Persons interested in placing a nomination may contact the NWRDC office for the "Nomination for Membership" form to be used when nominating an individual.

Nominations should be submitted by June 9 and appointments will be made at the commission's annual meeting scheduled for June 27 in Thief River Falls.

"Citizen participation in the decision-making process of the NWRDC is essential to the agency's [illegible] planning mission," states director [illegible]. "Therefore we encourage everyone to give serious consideration to this nominating process."

For a nomination form or further information contact Carol Sorenson at 681-2637.

Arts council has performing, visual arts grants available

The Arts Council of the Northwest Regional Development Commission (NWRDC) is accepting applications for grants of up to $500 for individual artists. Supported with funding from the McKnight Foundation, this program provides artists with grants for specific projects which contribute directly to their creative and professional growth and development. The deadline is May 1, 1995.

Artists may apply for assistance with costs associated with the production and presentation of work, professional training, supplies related to specific projects, and other services. Applications are encouraged from individuals working in literary, performing or visual art.

Artists must be Minnesota residents, who have resided in the seven-county northwestern Minnesota area for at least one year prior to the deadline date of May 1. Counties of northwestern Minnesota included in the area include: Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, and Norman.

Application guidelines and forms are available from Mark Lunde, Arts Council Director, NWRDC, 525 Brooks Avenue South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, (218) 681-2637 or 1-800-450-2637.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew - saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Marshall Co. officials make big drug bust

Over 15 pounds of marijuana, $10,000 cash and two vehicles were seized by Marshall county sheriff's department officials Wednesday.

Marshall County Sheriff Dennis Brekke said that at about 10:30 n.m. Wednesday, April 3, he, and three deputies made a traffic stop on a vehicle one mile east of Oslo on Highway 1. The vehicle was suspected of carrying marijuana. Taken into custody at that time was Salvador Otero, 24, Oslo. Officers found three pounds of marijuana in the vehicle. Further investigation led officials to a residence in Oslo where an additional 12 pounds of marijuana, which has an estimated street value of $40,000, was seized. Also seized was $10,000 cash and two motor vehicles.

Otero has been charged with controlled substance crime in the third degree, and controlled substance crime in the fifth degree. He appeared in court on April 6 and is being held in the Marshall County jail on a $100,000 bond.

Sheriff Brekke said, "This is one of the biggest (drug busts) we've had in many years".

He said the case was the result of an on-going investigation by his department.

Starting new business seminar

Congressman Collin C. Peterson will hold a seminar in Fergus Falls for district residents interested in beginning a business venture. The seminar, entitled "Steps to Starting a Small Business", will be presented by the Small Business Development Center of Moorhead State University.

"I urge all potential entrepreneurs to take advantage of this type of training as early in the process of starting a business as possible," said Peterson. "The opportunity to learn about business start-up basics is very valuable. I'm particularly pleased to co-sponsor these sessions in various locations in the District, giving more people a chance to get this help." Other co-sponsors of the seminar are Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund, First American National Bank, Crookston Development Authority and Ottertail Power Company.

The topics of the seminar, according to Nancy Straw, the consultant from Small Business Development Center who will be the seminar leader, are reasons to start a business, studying the industry, naming your business, legal structures, writing a business plan, financing and discussion of myths and realities of owning your own business.

The seminar will be held Thursday, April 11, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the Otter Tail Power company Community room, 410 College Avenue, Crookston. Pre-registration is required. To register, call the Small Business Development Center at (218) 236-2289. The fee for the seminar is $10.

Student loan funds available

Thief River Falls Foundation has a limited amount of funds available for student loans for the coming year, it was pointed out by Jason Funk, secretary-treasurer, at the annual meeting of the Foundation Tuesday at Northern State Bank.

Annual report of the Foundation indicates about $12,000 is available for student loans with a seven per cent interest rate. Details are available by contacting Funk at Northern State Bank (681-4020).

The report showed that there are currently 27 loans totaling $75,823 in active status and that two were completely paid at the end of the fiscal year. During the year payments of $7,080 in principal and $2,857 in interest were made on the loans and $9,500 in new loans were made by the Foundation.

At the annual meeting, Whitey Olson and Terry Soine were elected to the board of directors to succeed Ronald Hanson and Milton Reierson. Officers reelected were Marvin Lundin, president; Paul Ihle, vice president; and Jason Funk, secretary-treasurer.

The Foundation approved awarding of two $100 scholarships later this year to Northland Community and Technical College. The board also approved a resolution of special appreciation to Ronald Hanson for lengthy service as the Foundation's secretary-treasurer.

Sheldon's Used Auto Parts has state honors

Sheldon's Used Auto Parts of Thief River Falls has been recognized by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) as one of 10 selected from 476 salvage yards evaluated statewide as "being especially conscious of environmental issues and taking steps to protect the environment."

MPCA Commissioner Chuck Williams said other salvage yards in the state should look to these 10 for examples of practices the industry should strive for when they manage, recycle or dispose of auto wastes, such as used oil, batteries, waste tires and antifreeze.

"These 10 salvage yards have put in a strong effort to protect the environment from vehicle wastes and have also protected their businesses from future cleanup liabilities," Commissioner Williams said. "They have incorporated environmental protection into their everyday business practices—the kind of practices we'll be looking for at all salvage yards in the future."

At eight workshops held between mid-December and late February throughout the state, the MPCA presented Best Management Practices (BMPs) to the vehicle salvage industry. These BMPs provide guidance on how to protect the environment and businesses from vehicle waste pollution, and were developed with support from the Automotive Recyclers of Minnesota, an industry trade association. According to the agency, the 10 salvage yards named already follow many of the recommended practices and have developed innovative solutions for preventing pollution.

Miss Rodeo Minnesota event set

Statewide competition for 1996 Miss Rodeo Minnesota will be held June 29-July 3, 1995 in conjunction with the Headwaters of the Mississippi Rodeo and Bullride in Park Rapids.

Young women ages 17-23 who are interested in an opportunity to succeed in a horse-related field are invited to call Tracy Olson, pageant coordinator, at 612-388-8991 for details.

Miss Rodeo Minnesota will represent the state at Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association sanctioned rodeos as well as state events such as the state fair and WEFest. Prizes will be awarded with the grand prize being an all expense-paid trip to compete in the Miss Rodeo America pageant held in connection with the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas, NV.

The title winner will also receive a sterling silver trophy belt buckle valued at $500, a $250 scholarship and the Miss Rodeo Minnesota crown to wear during her reign. The Miss Rodeo Minnesota Pageant is a non-profit organization.

Living Stations of the Cross to be presented

Nearly 20 members of the St. Ann's Catholic Church youth group and the choir will present the Living Stations of the Cross on Wednesday, April 12, at 8:30 p.m. in St. Ann's Catholic Church in Goodridge.

The presentation is under the direction of Norma Johnson, Maggie Ryan and Cindi Kotrba. There is no admission charge and refreshments will be served following the production, which is an annual activity of the youth group.

"The Living Stations is a prayerful and spiritual meditation on the passion and death of our Lord Jesus Christ, based on the Stations of the Cross as handed down from Catholic tradition," the directors said.

"The Living Stations is not a historical re-enactment nor a dramatic production. The Stations challenge us to look at our own lives in relation to how Jesus lived and how He asks us to live. The live presentation is very prayerful, inspiring and a spiritually moving experience."

Portrayals in the Stations presentation will include Anthony Kassa as Jesus, Amy Pittman as Mary, Chris Grabowska as Pilate, Jason Naeseth as Simon, Courtney Vraa as Veronica, Adam Kassa and Jared Eidelbes as Guards, Arlan Eidelbes and Steve Bryl as Soldiers, Joanna Johnson, Jessica Johnson, Andrea Cullen, Monica Johnson, Michelle Johnson, Amanda Mutnansky and Tiara Kotrba as Holy Women and Scott Grabowska, Tammy Cullen and Kristen Mutnansky as Little Children.

Readers are Charlotte Cullen and Jenny Mutnansky.

Knowledge Bowl regional won by East Grand Forks

With a total score of 113 points, East Grand Forks high school won the regional Knowledge Bowl competition Wednesday, April 5, at the conference center on the Crookston campus of the University of Minnesota.

Second place went to Roseau with 109 points and third place to Clearbrook/Gonvick with 105 points. All three teams advance to the state competition May 2 and 3 at Madden's Resort near Brainerd.

Other teams competing in the regional Knowledge Bowl which matched the top 12 teams from Regions 1 and 2 were Fisher and Grygla, 104 points each; Thief River Falls, 99; Bemidji, 90; Crookston, 90; Warroad, 90; Greenbush/Middle River, 89; Littlefork/Big Falls, 89; and Nevis, 79.

Minnesota ECSU high school Knowledge Bowl competitions are interdisciplinary academic contests designed for secondary high school students in grades 9-12. During the contests, teams of students participate in written and oral rounds by answering questions related to all areas of learning typical of secondary educational programs.

Questions test students' recall, problem solving and critical thinking skills. The competitions consist of a written round of 60 questions and four or five oral rounds of 45 questions each. Teams consist of four members and one alternate and schools may field more than one team during the competition season.

Twenty-nine school districts were represented in Region 1 and 2 Knowledge Bowl. Weekly competitions were scheduled in February and March at UMC in Crookston and in the aviation center at the regional airport in Thief River Falls. Fifteen, 18 or 21 teams participated in each of these competitions. Team advisors also hosted some additional meets in their respective school districts.

Schools participating in Knowledge Bowl from this region this year included Ada/Borup, Badger, Baudette, Bemidji, Blackduck, Clearbrook/Gonvick, Crookston, East Grand Forks, Fertile/Beltrami, Fisher, Fosston, Goodridge, Greenbush/Middle River, Grygla, Kelliher, Lancaster, Littlefork/Big Falls, Nevis, Northome, Oklee, Park Rapids, Plummer, Roseau, Thief River Falls, Tri-County, Twin Valley; Warroad, Waubun and Win-E-Mac.

Members of the winning East Grand Forks team were Ryan Pesch, Scott Balek, Jeremy Hageman, Brent Taylor and Brad Rose.

Second place Roseau team included Mike Mattson, Karlyn Mugaas, Anna Johnson, Jason Schneider and M. David Johnson Jr.

On the third place Clearbrook/Gonvick team were Chris Holm, Barry Halvorson, Mikael Andersson, Serenity Olsen and Anna Thompson.

Thief River Falls team members were Reid Froiland, Matt Johnson, Cristi Cota, Sarah Leach and Chris Pribula.

Greenbush/Middle River team included Kristin Johnson, Mark Wilson, Nathan Gerth, Josh Gross and Loren Scramstad.

Grygla's team consisted of Brian Haugen, Jamie Lunsetter, Jessica Zavoral, Rachel Rychlock and Chris Zavoral.

Warroad team was Eric Kleven, Renae Bernard, Hieu Ngo, Oasha Dergacheva and Hunter Fish.

St. Hilaire Lions gift increases scholarship fund

St. Hilaire Lion's Club scholarships awarded through the Thief River Falls Education Foundation were increased by a recent contribution from the club, according to Judy Dimich, executive director.

These scholarships are awarded annually to graduates of Lincoln who have completed one semester or two quarters of post-secondary schooling and whose home residence is within the boundaries of the former St. Hilaire school district or are the son or daughter of a member of the St. Hilaire Lion's Club.

Applications for the scholarships may be obtained from the Thief River Falls Education Foundation at 230 LaBree Avenue South in Thief River Falls.

Rockstad again member of Girl Scout Council

Linda Rockstad of Viking was reelected a member-at-large of the Pine to Prairie Girl Scout Council at the recent annual meeting held in Jamestown, ND. Also reelected to the council was Allan Kastner of Roseau.

The council operates the Girl Scout program in 34 counties in eastern North Dakota and northwestern Minnesota, serving more than 5,000 girl and 1,400 adult members.

St. Bernard's school takes registrations

Registrations for the 1995-96 prekindergarten program at St. Bernard's Catholic school are now being taken with a limited number of openings. Class sizes are limited to 25 students. To register or for more information call the school at 681-1539.

City of Viking plans pet clinic

City of Viking has arranged to hold a pet clinic with vaccination of dogs and cats for rabies on Wednesday, May 3, from 5 to 7 p.m. Dr. F. W. Hazard of Thief River Falls will conduct the clinic in the Viking fire hall and other types of vaccinations will also be available.

Hybrid popler at six weeks after planting. The trees are planted as 10 inch sticks and grow to maturity in about 10 to 12 years.

Tree project will help both farmers and environment

Preparation and Planting

In July of 1994, the contracted growers started to prepare for 1995 planting by spraying herbicide, burning, deep tilling, disking and planting a cover crop. This spring the fields will need spot spraying of perennial grasses and deep tilling. The fields will later be marked for planting and herbicide will be applied. These poplars don't compete well against weeds and grass, so it is important to keep the weeds out. A similar pattern will be followed for planting in Spring 1996.

Ten-inch sticks will be hand planted in an eight-foot by eight-foot pattern. This pattern allows room for cultivation for weed control. The crop will take about 10 to 12 years to grow to maturity. These trees grow from their stumps, so it may be possible that the next crop would be mature in only eight to 10 years instead of 10 to 12. Currently, however, there is no data to prove this.

Will It pay?

How will farmers make a living from a plant that yields a crop only every 10 to 12 years? The project has received funding from the state because of its focus on energy. Participating farmers will receive $85 per acre, and the federal government offers $106 per acre for planting hardwood.

Minnesota Power and Light will contract with growers over a 30-year period and guarantee annual payments, thus eliminating some of the economic concerns of a 10 year growing cycle.

What does the future hold?

The 3,000 acres in the Oklee Tree Project have five-year extensions of their original CRP contracts. The CRP is funded in part by the 1990 Farm Bill, so the future of the CRP is uncertain until the 1995 Farm Bill is passed. Up to 25% of farm land can be used for the CRP. Right now Pennington county and Red Lake county have the maximum acres allowed in the program and Marshall has 171,000 out of 199,000 allowed. Until the 1995 Farm Bill is passed, no one knows for sure if the owners of this land will be able to extend their CRP contracts.

If the government allows for it, more of the CRP land in these counties may possibly be used for growing the hybrid poplars as well. Other land around the region may be suitable for growing the hybrid poplars as well.

Minnesota Power is looking into using the trees for state-of-the-art power generation. The hybrid trees are also suitable for producing strand board and paper, says Ed Wene. Whether the trees are used in the future for power or for wood products, farmers won't be left with a field of unsold trees. "We located the trees in an area where there are secondary wood markets...it's economically feasible either way," Wene said.

Wednesday press conference was called by Kyle Sanden as a forum to officially announce that the 6-10 Thief River Falls center has made a verbal committment to play basketball at the University of Minnesota following his high school career. Sanden is a junior who will be signing a tender with the Gophers next November. Thief River Falls boys basketball coach Scott Brekke (second from left) was on hand for the announcement, along with Kyle's sister, mother and father – Nada, Sandy and Dale.

Sanden will be Golden Gopher

■ TRF junior makes early verbal committment

Worst-kept secret in Minnesota was officially unveiled Wednesday when Thief River Falls' Kyle Sanden announced that he was making a verbal commitment to play basketball at the University of Minnesota – beginning with the 1996-97 season.

Sanden, a 6-10 junior, is already the Prowlers' career basketball scoring leader for boys with 1,226 points. He averaged 23.6 points, 10.8 rebounds and 3 blocked shots per game this winter, setting a single-game school record with 43 points in a January 19 match-up with Crookston. The 543 points he scored during the 1994-95 season was just 34 points off the single-season school scoring record.

Sanden said he was making an early announcement about his future plans to avoid the heavy recruiting pressure that was expected to begin in July when schools can begin to make official personal contacts. Nation-wide interest already produced calls to Thief River Falls boys basketball coach Scott Brekke and has filled four shoe boxes in the Sanden household with letters from schools across the country.

Through a selection process, Sanden narrowed his list to Minnesota, Arizona, Iowa and North Dakota – an NCAA Division II member that he considered along with the Division I schools because of the proximity, success and familiarity of the Sioux program.

"I liked the coaching staff, the academics and the atmosphere at Minnesota," explained Sanden, who said it was almost a case of love at first sight. He was sold on Williams Arena and the enthusiasm surrounding the Gophers the first time he attended a game at the University of Minnesota facility in Minneapolis.

Sanden said he was looking forward to playing college basketball with 6-9 Morris Area High School junior Kevin Loge, who announced earlier he would be signing with the Gophers. The two have become friends as teammates in AAU summer programs and are currently regarded as two of top big players in Minnesota high school basketball. "I think we could do some damage," quipped Sanden, who feels confident enough to anticipate playing Division I basketball as a freshman. "I can see myself playing," he said. "I don't know about starting, but I think I can play."

"Kyle runs the floor extremely well," noted Brekke, "and he has a great touch. He needs to improve on his aggressiveness and foot quickness. He needs to bulk up to handle the physical play in the Big Ten. Right now he weighs 225. He should be up to 245. And he can do it if he dedicates himself to working on the weights."

Sanden has already tried out for the state-wide Selects basketball program that fields three summer all-star teams. The Maroon and Gold teams will play in three national tournaments, and a newly-added White team will play in one national plus several regional tournaments. Rosters will be announced at a later date.

It was also reported that Sanden has been contacted about playing in the prestigious mid-summer Nike Basketball Camp, designed to accommodate 120 of the best high school players in the nation.

"I wanted to get the recruiting part done early so I can go out and have fun in my senior season," said Sanden. "I've been working on developing an outside game to go along with the inside. This year I want to get a few more dunks – add that to my game."

Being the coach of a top high school basketball recruit has been interesting, mentioned Brekke. "It's been fun," he said. "A player like Kyle only comes along once in a lifetime."

College baseball, softball seasons delayed by weather...

Northland openers moved back

Three days of 70-degree weather greeted the Northland Community College baseball team during the Pioneers' annual spring trip to Nebraska. But after spending Saturday, Sunday and Monday in the Omaha area sun, the Pioneers returned to the reality of April baseball in northwestern Minnesota – snow and cold temperatures.

The weather forced changes in the first-week schedule as the Pioneers moved a Wednesday opener at Fergus Falls to Friday and called off their planned home debut today (Saturday) vs. Vermilion.

"We had a good trip," reported Northland coach Terry Wiseth after three days of scrimmages and drills. "It was a chance to see the kids on a baseball field instead of in a gym. The kids worked hard, and made good use of their time."

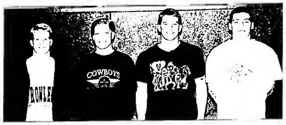
Wiseth was most impressed with the Pioneers' pitching. "I liked what our pitchers were doing – throwing strikes," he said.

Three sophomores who were used mainly as pitchers last spring also caught Wiseth's eye in their bid for playing time as a position player, including Greg Lien (second base), Mike Steen (first base) and Jeremy Olson (outfield).

"Our sophomores picked it up a notch, when we got outside, and our freshmen saw the level they have to raise their game to be successful here," explained Wiseth.

The Pioneers are scheduled to be in Crookston Thursday for a 2 p.m. nonconference doubleheader before hosting Hibbing Saturday, April 15, in a 1 p.m. Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division twinbill.

Weather also forced postponement of Thursday's Northland vs. UMC season-opening softball doubleheader in Crookston. The Rick Nikunen-coached Pioneers will try to make their 1995 debut with a Friday, April 14, doubleheader against Vermilion in Ely.



Award winners for the Thief River Falls 1994-95 high school wrestling team went to, left to right, Luke Davis, most pins and most takedowns; Philip Nelson, most valuable and Oil Can Award; John Davis, Irv Wilson Award and most wins; and Nick Dee, hardest worker.

Prowlers compete in Pirate Indoor

First portion of the back-to-back trips to the Winter Shows Building for the Thief River Falls boys and girls high school track teams had the Prowlers in Crookston Thursday for the Pirate Indoor. The same site will be used Monday for the Northwest Indoor.

Host Crookston was a winner in both the boys and girls portion of Thursday's meet that attracted 13 schools.

Crookston boys collected 106 points, followed by Stephen with 70 1/2, Clearbrook-Gonvick-Trail 60, Thief River Falls 55, East Grand Forks 42, Red Lake County 41, Roseau 36, Norman County East 32, Warroad 25, Fertile-Beltrami 13 1/2, Tri-County 6, Grygla-Gatzke 4, Kittson Central 0.

The Crookston girls finished with 71 points, followed by Norman County East with 68, Thief River Falls 51, Roseau 50, Stephen 50, East Grand Forks 44, Tri-County 32, Kittson Central 20, Marshall County Central 19, Fertile-Beltrami 16, Clearbrook-Gonvick-Trail 11, Warroad 1, and Grygla-Gatzke 0.

Because of conflicts with other school activities, Thief River Falls coach Tim Olson had to make adjustments in the Prowlers' line-up, but he was satisfied with what he saw. "Some of the newer kids got a chance to run, and they did a nice job," he said.

Arlen Stenvik led the Thief River Falls boys with a first place in the 60 meter high hurdles and a second in the 60 meter intermediate hurdles.

Anderson is TRF hockey MVP

Special awards went to juniors Keith Anderson, Nick Chiodo and Paul Gonsorowski Tuesday during Thief River Falls' annual high school hockey banquet.

Anderson was named the most valuable player, Chiodo received the the Coaches Award and Gonsorowski was selected the team's most dedicated player.

Tim Barry was presented with a captain's plaque for the 1994-95 season.

All-Section 8A certificates were given to Anderson and Chiodo, while Brian Howe and Chanc Keefe were recognized as All-Section 8A honorable mention picks.

Athletic letters went to seniors Jared Lee, Barry and Howe; juniors Jason Breiland, Aaron Ehrenstrom, Adam Fulton, Andy Furuseth, David Halsa, Chad Hanson, Brad Inglis, Steve Rambeck, Rob Stock, Anderson, Chiodo, Gonsorowski and Keefe; sophomores Brian Barry, Bryan Cleven, Curt Edwards, Ben Furuseth, and Chad Nordhagen; along with student managers Suvi Hamanen and Kelly Newton.

Receiving participation certificates were juniors Kyle Cedergren, Bill Fogarty, Craig Hunt, Ryan Philipp, and Jeremy Swanson; sophomores Chris Bruggeman, Joshua Clark, Nathan Jordet, Nathan LaRoque, Chad Paulson, Nathan Pracek, Jared Sunsdahl, Adam Swanson, and Greg Wik; along with freshmen Tony Fletcher and Trevor Lee.

The Prowlers finished the season 11-12-1 under first-year head coach Pat Cullen. They started 1-5-1, and were 6-10-1 before winning four of their final five regular season games. Section 8A tournament play included a 6-3 quarterfinal win over Kittson Central and a 6-2 semifinal loss to No. 1 seeded Roseau.

"I thought the first year went really well," said Cullen. "We would have liked to have won a few more games of course, but with the schedule we had, we knew it would be tough. The biggest thing is that we were playing our best hockey at the end of the year. It was an enjoyable season. The kids worked hard. We pushed them, and they never complained. If all my years in coaching are as enjoyable as this one, I'll be a very happy coach."

Anderson led the Prowlers in scoring this year with 25 goals and 25 assists. The 50-point performance ranks No. 9 on the Prowlers' all-time single-season scoring list and is the highest figure for a Thief River Falls hockey player since a 53-point effort by Tim Bergland in 1982-83. The 25 goals – good for a tenth place tie on the school single-season charts – are also the most for the Prowlers since Bergland notched 30 as a senior.

Chiodo also had a big season in the scoring department with 41 points. His 31 assists puts him in a fourth place tie on the single-season school chart with Jeff Bottem (1972-93) and John Seaverson (1990-91).

With just three seniors on this year's roster, and with the combined 91-point scoring duo of Anderson, and Chiodo leading the list of returnees for 1995-96, Cullen looks for an improved product.

"With the people we have coming back, and the way we were playing at the end of this season, the expectations are going to be high for next year," acknowledged Cullen.

A key to meeting those expectations, he explained, will be the Prowlers' commitment to a summer program featuring weight room work, along with shooting and stickhandling drills.

Berger in WLAF

Blaine Berger, the University of Utah graduate with Thief River Falls connections, is a member of the Amsterdam Admirals of the reconstructed World League of American Football.

Berger, a 6-5, 295-pound defensive tackle, signed with the San Diego Chargers as a free agent last summer, but was cut before the start of the 1994 NFL season.

He was among the pool of players who attended the WLAF try-outs in March and was selected by the Admirals, who left two weeks ago for Amsterdam.

The Admirals face the Barcelona Dragons today (Saturday) in their WLAF opener. The other four clubs in the European circuit include the Duesseldorf Rhein Fire, Scottish Claymores, and Frankfurt Galaxy.

WLAF began operation in 1991-92 with 10 teams on two continents. The league was reorganized into its six-team European-only format this year.

Berger was born in Thief River Falls, and although he moved from the area at age 5, he returned each summer and played in the youth baseball program here through age 15. With numerous relatives in the area he still visits regularly.

Rogalla with UND team

University of North Dakota sophomore Carter Rogalla of Thief River Falls had a productive weekend (March 31/April 1) for the UND baseball team with four stolen bases and four RBI in a four-game series against the University of South Dakota.

UND lost 17-12 and 9-4 on Friday, but came back to win 11-3 and 8-0 Saturday.

CORRECTION

In last week's Watch, it was reported that Anita Cardinal gave mental tests. This is incorrect. She gives mantoux tests.

Widows to Meet

All widows in the area are invited to a brunch at Bethesda Lutheran Church in Strandquist on Saturday, April 22 at 10 a.m. The widows group has been meeting approximately every three months and the group invites more ladies to join the group for informal support and fellowship.

The menu will include ham and egg bake, muffins, fruit and Swedish coffee. A donation of five dollars is suggested.

Reservations should be made by April 19 by calling either Iola Rokke (681-6910) or Iris Berggren (436-2644).

Bluebird house building meet at Lake Bronson

From 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday, April 22, Lake Bronson State Park will be hosting a bluebird house workshop at the park picnic shelter. Park staff will assist with the project and a short presentation about bluebirds will be given.

Cost of the workshop is $4 per nestbox and refreshments will be served. Materials are limited and those wishing to attend are encouraged to contact the park manager's office at 218-754-2200 to pre-register. A 1995 state parks vehicle sticker, available at the park, must be displayed to enter the park.

AAL Branch 9590 earns gold star

Branch 9590 of Aid Association for Lutherans at Silver Creek Lutheran Church has been awarded a gold star rating for exemplary volunteer service to the community.

Officers of the branch are John Lubitz, president; Myrtle Solberg, vice president; Shaun Muzzy, secretary; and Sandra Lubitz, treasurer.

Goodridge HS musical slated on April 22-23

Goodridge high school music department will present its musical production "Beauty and the Beast, Really" on Saturday, April 22 at 7 p.m. and Sunday, April 23, at 4 p.m., under the co-direction of Kristin Buckley and Eric Mickelson.

The musical is based on the story of Beauty and the Beast but the plot takes some surprising and humorous twists and turns, the directors said.

Cast members include Martin Dahlen, Tiara Koirba, Laura Vettleson, Kari Nelson, Brent Philipp, Ben Hanson and Charlotte Cullen. Ticket prices are $3 for adults and $2 for students.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank everyone for coming to the supper for Adam and for all who sent cards. We wish we could have gotten to thank everyone personally. It is such a good feeling knowing so many care.

We'd also like to thank the ladies of Nazareth, who did the cooking and serving of the meal. It was very good.

A special thank you to Aid Association for Lutheran Branches #7983 and 9589 and Lutheran Brotherhood Branch #8129 for matching funds.

Housing project concerns expressed at TRF meeting

people who went in on the senior housing project and there is a definite need for student housing.

The future of the college is bleak if the college doesn't get student housing, concluded Dr. Otis Gunderson, president of Northwest Technical College and future president of Northland Community and Technical College. Gunderson said he realizes that the housing problem is a complex issue, and he could only address student housing. He said in 1989 and 1990 the school received 876 prospects in requests for applications. Of those requests, 635 enrolled. That's a 72 per cent conversion rate. Since then, however, the conversion rate dropped to 45 per cent in 1991-92 and 32 per cent this year. He also estimated that the technical college lost 253 students this year because students could not find housing. If the community college were included, he said an additional 75 to 100 students did not attend the school because they could not find adequate and quality housing. He reminded those in attendance of the impact the student population has on the community. It is estimated that the impact students have on the community is as much as $1.5 million.

Gunderson said enrollment is down 50 per cent from three years ago and a lot of it is due to changes in aviation. He said the bottom line, however, is that there is a problem with student housing.

With that, several students were introduced, each relating their difficulties in obtaining housing in the community.

The subject is discussed quite frequently at school, said one student. There are good apartments, but the problem, according to students, involves too few good apartments and too many poorly maintained and over priced apartments.

Several told of weeks and months of searching for apartments. Some said they were shocked at the condition of some of the apartments. One student said, "Honestly, it's about time they did something."

One student said she spent a day each week for three months looking for an apartment that would accommodate her and her three children. She said she ran into over-priced and run-down facilities. Some without proper egress. She said she finally found something the day before school started.

Another student said she had difficulty finding an apartment for her and her child. She said it was if the community wasn't supporting the college which has been here for years. All of the apartments went to the pipeliners. In addition, the pipeliners took up motel space, which she said has an effect on tourism. Many of the apartments she did find left her saying "why would you want to live here and subject yourself to these kinds of conditions?"

A student from Roseau said he was a freshman at Northland Community College. He said he spent several days during a three-week period looking for apartments.

Sue Munnick, acting provost at Northland Community College, said they had hired three new faculty this year. They all had difficulty finding apartments. One ended up commuting from Grand Forks. Two others lived in a motel until they were forced into buying housing.

Julian Gunderson, a local developer, had serious concerns about whether apartment complexes could be filled under the current conditions. He said similar apartment complexes in other communities were empty.

Dunbar provided vacancy rates on all of the newly constructed apartments. The average vacancy rate was around 50 per cent. He noted, however, that these apartments had only opened in February and he expected that the vacancy rate would improve.

Evert Langelett, who owns several homes in the community, said it probably isn't the time to build housing in the community. He said he expects an economy slow down that could affect local businesses. In addition, he said recently he had counted an average of 76 apartments available in the community at any given time. Currently he estimates there are 100 apartments available in the community.

Ron Kalinoski, another local apartment owner, attributed the housing shortage in the past two years to pipe liners who were in the community working on the Lakehead Pipe Line.

Ken Berg and another one of his partners in Country Acres, said they had spent a great deal of money improving their apartment complex and they had 16 empty apartments. He said he thought some of the stories told by the students probably stretched the facts a bit.

One of the students said the Country Acres apartments were nice, but they weren't available when students needed them last fall. She asked "why should we have to live in a hole until something opens up?" She also noted that many apartment owners aren't interested in renting apartments to students.

Mark Larson, president and chief executive officer of Digi-Key, said from the stand point of a business, if the community "hits the wall" in housing market, and more people are needed for a business, the business will take advantage of a situation where they can find it. So, he said, if Digi-Key has to expand somewhere else, they will.

Don Barron, city council member, said the city had received numerous comments about the need to inspect apartments in the community and find those which do not meet code. He said the city council had talked about it, but had done nothing about it.

The meeting concluded on much the same note. The public was given another opportunity to express their opinions, but the council did not take any formal action.

Norris Camp hearing has high degree of sentiment great sentimental value to those who have lived in the area and worked with the CCC at the camp.

- DNR presence is necessary to provide directional assistance, and medical emergency assistance.
- Norris Camp is of significant historical value.
- Absence of DNR at the site will lead to further deterioration of the camp, a loss of security, and the loss of history.
- The public doesn't often get to rub shoulders with the DNR on a friendly basis. At Norris Camp the public comes into contact with DNR officials on friendly terms, rather than as an enforcement contact. It therefore enhances the image of the DNR.
- Moving DNR from Norris Camp to Warroad would make it more expensive for DNR officials to maintain trails, conduct necessary work to manage resources, such as using heavy equipment to clear trails and conduct shearing operations.
- One person argued that taking people away from their work area to improve communications is a flawed and out-dated concept. In today's hi-tech society, computers and technology make it possible and even necessary, for people to be where their work is, even remote locations.
- Resources would not get the kind of attention and management that they would if DNR relocates to Warroad. The resources are sometimes more important than the people who use the resources.
- Moving the DNR office to Warroad would make it less accessible to the people who use the area.

Swenson said because of interest expressed in the future of Norris Camp from residents in St. Paul, another meeting in St. Paul had been scheduled. Swenson added at the end of the meeting that staff at Norris Camp were in favor of remaining at Norris Camp, and none of the people attending meetings previous to the meeting in Thief River Falls were in favor of moving all of the staff to Warroad.

Swenson will be collecting comments, which he will use in making his decision about the future of Norris Camp. He hopes that once that decision is made the controversy and ambiguity surrounding the camp's future will be behind him.

Goodridge Area MCCL holds its third meeting

Third meeting of the Goodridge Area Chapter of Minnesota Citizens Concerned for Life (MCCL) was held Tuesday, April 4, with Bernard and Francis Crummy of Warren as guests. Francis is Region 7 MCCL coordinator.

Discussion was held on things the chapter could do to promote pro-life education. It was decided to have an information table in the old fire hall at the consignment auction sale in Goodridge on April 22.

Date and place for the next meeting has not been set but will be announced in the Northern Watch or The Times. Persons interested in joining the chapter and helping with activities may call Donna Hornchek at 218-378-4338.

Social Security rep visits here

A representative of the Grand Forks Social Security office will be at the Heritage Community Center in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, April 18, from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Applications for benefits are not completed during the town visit. These can be made by calling the national toll-free number 1-800-772-1213.

Public radio plans series

From April 24 to 29, public radio station KNTN (102.7 FM) will feature a series on cancer with programs on Morning Edition at 7:20 a.m. and All Things Considered at 5:30 p.m.

The reports will be rebroadcast during Midmorning's 9 a.m. hour and Midday's 11 a.m. hour. Listener call-ins will be featured Friday, April 28 at 12 noon and Saturday, April 29, at 11 a.m.

Trip to Washington

Warroad — The Warroad High School band left on Tuesday for Washington, D.C. The students will tour the White House, the U. S. Bureau of Engraving, the U. S. Capitol Building, and seven museums. They will play a concert at the Old Post Office and at the Lincoln Memorial. The Warroad American Legion donated $3,000 for the trip. Mr. Jim Hallan, the band director, donated a shot gun which was raffled off to raise $2,100. The group will return late Sunday night.

Big bucks for bridges

Red Lake Falls — Red Lake county is planning about $1.8 million in road work and bridge projects this summer. Most of the money needed for the plan will come from the state and federal government; about $816,000 will come from the state. Three of the bridge projects are pending on state funding. The state legislature must pass the bridge bonding bill if the projects are to get underway. The bridge project in Plummer was sighted as difficult because the bridge has historical significance.

Request for mini jaws

Hallock — Karlstad Fire Chief, Al Lundeen has asked that Kittson county fund a mini jaws of life for use by all county fire departments and ambulance services. In June of 1986 the county purchased a jaws of life upon the agreement that it remain in Hallock. Lundeen says the existing jaws is "too far out of touch for the southern half of the county." The commission asked Lundeen to find out what other fire departments and ambulance units want and draft a proposal, and then report back to the county.

Manager resigns

Oklee — The manager of the Oklee Farmers Co-op Elevator Association resigned, effective April 12. Jim Tholund has worked at the elevator since 1990. In the past five years, he has overseen over a million dollars worth of improvements at the elevator and never had to borrow money for the changes. Jim is leaving the Oklee Elevator for a job at the Mahnomen Elevator.

Remodeling kitchen

Newfolden — The city of Newfolden will remodel the Newfolden community center kitchen. The city was given a $15,000 grant for the purpose of remodeling the kitchen which will function as a Lutheran Social Services meal site. A delegation of senior citizens met with the city council to ascertain the renovation process.

Discontented petitioners wish to leave Greenbush/Middle River School District

Residents encourage people in other school districts to participate and carefully consider options

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

Eighty-two petitioners representing more than 17,500 acres of land in the present School District 440 (Middle River) expect to appear at one of the next meetings of the district's board of education to present their petition to be detached from the Middle River district and attached to School District 441 (Newfolden).

Most of the petitioners are in Spruce Valley and Cedar townships south and west of Middle River. The property involved includes about 11,000 acres—nearly half of the total land area—in Spruce Valley township; about 6,000 acres—or nearly a third of the total eligible land area in Cedar township, 640 acres in Huntly township, and 80 acres in Whiteford township.

At issue for the petitioners is a consolidation of the Middle River district with School District 678 (Greenbush). That consolidation was approved by the voters of the Middle River district by a margin of one vote (215 to 214) at the general election held last November and is scheduled to take effect July 1 of this year.

Although they are sincere in their attempt to become part of another district, most of the petitioners also are aware that their effort may be an exercise in futility and that they are, in all probability, "flogging a dead horse." Their prior differences with the school district board and administration have been rebuffed, they believe, and they feel trapped in a legal bind that leaves them little recourse.

Petitioners Opposed Pairing

Many of the petitioners opposed the pairing of Middle River and Greenbush schools which began in the fall of 1992. At that time high school students from Middle River began attending classes in Greenbush, as they have continued to do. The opposition continued through hearings and surveys and the election last November.

It was in early February when some of the Middle River district residents opposed to the consolidation put together a petition drive and secured the 82 signatures in about a week of contacting landowners in the district.

As it is written, the petition is addressed to the Marshall county board of commissioners. Each petition contains a legal description of the property owned by the petitioner and attests that it is adjacent to the Newfolden district (or connected to other parcels proposed for annexation to that district).

Although it is addressed to the county board, it must first be approved by the board of education of the district in which the land is presently located. Based on past actions and decisions, the petitioners are less than hopeful they will be successful. Preliminary comment to one of the petitioners by at least one present board member

Shaded areas on this map of Spruce Valley township show the land area of people who have signed petitions asking to be set off from School District 440 at Middle River and annexed to School District 441 at Newfolden. A similar map for Cedar township is printed inside today's issue of the Northern Watch. More than 17,500 acres are included in total.

TRF Stampede set Sept. 1-2-3

Fourth annual TRF Stampede, a sanctioned Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) rodeo, has been scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday of the Labor Day weekend, September 1, 2 and 3, indoors at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center in Thief River Falls, according to Randy and Denese Jokela of Jokela ProWest Productions, promoters of the event.

"We're excited about having another great show for regional rodeo fans," Denese Jokela said. "We again will have all six major rodeo events—calf roping, bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling, WPRA barrel racing and bullriding. And we expect some of the top professionals in the country to be riding and roping for cash and PRCA points once again."

"The cowboys like Thief River Falls and the Stampede," Randy Jokela added, "and they like the prize money here. The Stampede will be one of the top four rodeos in Minnesota for prize money in 1995 and one of the top five in the entire country on the Labor Day weekend."

Support of local sponsors and attendance by rodeo fans from a wide geographic area have been key to prize money offerings in the three previous years, the Jokelas said. They added that last year's sponsors who have been contacted about the 1995 Stampede also seem enthused about this year's event. Previous success has also drawn national sponsorship from Gist Buckles, Inc., Wrangler and Justin Boots.

A contract has been signed with rodeo clown Steve Tomac of St. Anthony, ND, a PRCA member since 1982 who is also a member of the North Dakota Legislature. He was twice elected to the House of Representatives and in 1990 was elected to the Senate.

One of a family of 18 children, he draws a number of parallels for his legislative and rodeo work.

"The objective in both," he says, "is to stay ahead of the bull."

Rodeo dances will again be held Friday and Saturday nights and a "Happy Trails" party with video highlights of the Stampede taking

NTC board votes for program cut, transfer

Meeting at the technical college's aviation facilities at the Thief River Falls regional airport Wednesday evening, the Northwest Technical College board voted to place the Small Business Management programs at Moorhead, Wadena, Bemidji and Detroit Lakes on inactive status and to transfer the automotive technology program from Wadena to East Grand Forks.

The board also set a special meeting for Thursday, April 20, at 7 p.m. to act on the Farm Management and Specialty Crops programs. That meeting will be conducted by interactive television at all six campuses in the NTC system. Also considered would be transfer of Small Business Management programs and funding to Thief River Falls.

Transfer of Small Business Management, Farm Management and Specialty Crops programs had been planned for Thief River Falls where they would come under the direction of the newly-created Northland Community and Technical College. Such transfer was provided for in the Memorandum of Understanding for merging the local co-located campuses.

Item No. 7 under Article I of the memorandum agrees to "Transfer management and budget responsibility for Small Business Management and Farm Business Management programs, with mutual consent of affected campuses, to NTC-TRF."

It was pointed out at the meeting in comment by Rick Morgan, farm management instructor at Moorhead, that all Farm Management and Small Business Management instructors in the system approved of the transfer as it had been proposed. It was also pointed out by Raymond Cross, president and CEO of NTC, that there was not unanimous consensus among administrators for the transfer.

Plummer students enourage others to buckle up

These Plummer students stopped for a minute to pose with their heroes Vince and Larry. Laurie LaCoursiere, Kyle Lefebvre, and Sylvia Lallier were educating people about the importance of seat belts. They will be going to the state capitol to speak to the legislators who did not sign the latest seat belt bill and try to convince them of the importance of seat belt laws. Laurie was in charge of getting people at the Lions' dinner and at the carnival sponsored by S.A.D.D. to sign a promise to use seat belts and childrens' car seats. Their advisor Mark Lee said these are some of the hardest working kids he had ever met.

by Elizabeth Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

Last Saturday was a busy day in Plummer. The Lions had their 20th Annual Smelt Fry and the students of S.A.D.D. hosted their 7th annual carnival. Helping out at both functions were the Plummer high school driver's training class.

The drivers training class is promoting seat belt use. They were at the dinner with crash dummies Vince and Larry to talk to people and ask them to sign a seat belt pledge. The students also sponsored an outdoor display to catch the eye of people just arriving at the dinner. The display included a truck that was smashed in an accident just outside of Warroad. The driver and passenger survived because they were wearing their seat belts.

At the carnival, S.A.D.D. students and the drivers training students provided games, prizes and fun for children and their parents. The "Buckle Up for Safety" booth was at the carnival as well.

Last year's class made a video about these young men. The video was entered in the 1994 Seat Belt Challenge and won first place. This year students are using the video as part of their display.

This year's class were the only students at the Minnesota Drivers Training Safety Education Association convention in St. Cloud. At the convention, they met Joanell Dyrstad. The Lieutenant Governor was so impressed with the students' efforts she invited them to the state capitol. The students also met the Commissioner of Public Safety and the Minnesota Drivers Training Association Director.

Next door to the drivers training convention was an insurance company convention. One of the organizers was so impressed with the students and their display that he asked the students to speak at the insurance convention.

Driver's training instructor, Mark Lee, stated that this area of the state has the worst seat belt record in the state. His class hopes to improve this statistic. "If we save one life, it's worth it," said Lee. Part of the seat belt campaign includes getting parents to buckle up their kids. In 1992, 59 percent of children age four and younger who died in traffic accidents were not restrained. According to the National Safe Kids Campaign, every $40 child safety seat saves this country $80 in direct health care costs and an additional $1,200 in indirect health care costs and costs to society.

Petitioners give opinions

confirms that expectation.

Board Reacts To Petition

Further, a letter sent to all district residents from the Middle River school and containing the printed names of its school board members as a signature, refers to the petition. Dated February 11, the letter states:

"It is our understanding that no action may be taken on this petition until the effective date of consolidation, July 1, 1995, at which time the petitioners would have to get the consent of the consolidated school board. Our attorney has advised us that we, as a school board, have a right to deny this petition, and that no further action can or will be taken."

Faced with this stated intent of rejection, organizers of the petition effort reportedly still intend to present their request to the board. They feel they owe the attempt to themselves and other petitioners and they want to voice their concerns.

Reasons Given In Petition

In the petitions, the petitioners set forth the following reasons why they believe it is in the best interest of students who are children of the landowners that the change in districts be accomplished:

(1) The school building located at Newfolden is closer to the majority of the petitioners' property than the school located at Greenbush;

(2) The school site at Middle River no longer offers ninth through 12th grades;

(3) The Newfolden district "maintains one of the highest technological offerings in northwestern Minnesota;"

(4) Independent School District 441 has a newly constructed facility at Newfolden "which is fully paid for with the exception of the grade school expansion and therefore offers substantially better learning conditions for the students at a lesser cost;" and

(5) Independent School District 441 is able to provide substantial offerings to students while maintaining a lower tax rate.

Motivation Is Varied

There are multiple motivating factors for the petitioners. One is the distance from some of the petitioners' homes to the Newfolden school in comparison to the Greenbush school. Parents point out that it is not only the distance traveled by the students on the bus to and from school, but the distance the students and parents must travel for after-school activities and events.

While this is a definite concern for some, there are not many families with school age children among the petitioners. Elderly land owners who are considering sale of their farms in the near future, however, are concerned the distance which children would have to travel to attend high school would deter potential buyers.

Another concern—which in itself is multi-faceted—is the question of taxes. Middle River and Greenbush district taxpayers will assume debts of both districts in the July 1 consolidation. There are rumors of a projected building project at Greenbush, but the letter from the Middle River school board says there is presently no discussion about that issue.

The Newfolden district has a new high school which was rebuilt after a fire just a couple of years ago and is paid for. It has relatively modest debt for demolition of a portion of the elementary school and construction of a new section along with some remodeling. Most petitioners seem to believe the future tax burden would be less in the Newfolden district than in the consolidated Greenbush district.

Petitioners Say Options Ignored

Perhaps as much as anything, the petitioners believe their expressions of concern and requests for greater study prior to making a consolidation decision have been ignored or at least shunted aside. They point to a survey conducted by the school board in November of 1993 in which 126 of 377 survey forms sent out were returned. That survey asked opinion on several preferences regarding arrangements specifically with the Greenbush district. Only seven favored consolidation with Greenbush and 54 favored continued pairing. No questions were asked in the survey about exploring agreements with other specified districts.

They also point out that prior to the educational pairing agreement being made with Greenbush, a petition containing 155 signatures of residents in the district had objected to the pairing. Some of the signatures involved both spouses in a household signing as one, making the actual number of individuals signing greater than the 155 number listed. Despite the petition, pairing was undertaken.

An Alert To Other Districts

Several of the petitioners who provided information and comment for this article admit they have little chance to get the change they want. Their main concern at this point, they say, is that residents of other small school districts in the general area are aware of the position in which they can find themselves. Once decisions are made, many people can be adversely affected without any legal means to improve their situation.

It is important, the petitioners say, that district actions are taken with consideration for—and represent the concerns of—all the residents of the district. And the petitioners say residents themselves should get involved, attend school board meetings and make the effort to serve on volunteer and study committees where they can have early input and impact on actions being considered.

Open Enrollment Used

For families with children much closer to the Newfolden school than the Greenbush school, choice of school to attend is available under Minnesota's open enrollment law. Although school taxes are paid to the school district in which the property is located, a student may attend another district which then receives the state's basic school aid for that student.

This school year the state basic aid is $1,669.50 for kindergarten pupils, $3,339 for children in grades 1-6 and $4,095 for students in grades 7-12.

At the time educational pairing with Greenbush began, 14 children from the Middle River district enrolled at Newfolden instead of Greenbush. A number of those have since graduated and the number of Middle River district students enrolled at Newfolden has now declined to six. It is not known if other students will take that option for the coming school year.

Petitioners disappointed that more consideration hasn't been given to their concerns and to other possible options, including working with the Newfolden district, are quick to emphasize that actions taken by the Middle River school board have been entirely legal. But they also say they believe that what is legal is not always morally right.

Jobs Inc. to hold annual meet Tuesday

Annual meeting of Jobs Incorporated of Thief River Falls has been scheduled for Tuesday, April 18, beginning with a luncheon at 12 noon in the lower level of the Evergreen Eating Emporium.

President Dave Strong will preside at the meeting which will include reports and an election of directors.

Five of the city's major employers have been invited by the board of directors to attend and make brief presentations describing opportunities and problems that they presently are facing.

Nominating committee has placed the names of David Beito, John Tofte and Stan Upham in nomination for election to the board for the 1995-1997 term. Nominations will also be accepted from the floor at the annual meeting.

Peer support

Karlstad— A show of support form his peers may have been what made the Tri County school board decide to disregard a resolution to place junior high social studies teacher, Tim Magnuson on unrequested leave. Last fall Magnuson received a letter from the board stating their intent to place him on unrequested leave.

Football coach Jeff Westberg spoke on behalf of the Tri County Education Association. "We wonder why, because he has worked as a volunteer in the junior high football program where we needed people. I understand that his classroom evaluation is very good and that his working relationship with other staff members is excellent," said Westberg.

Man charged with drug possession

Warren — Salvador Otero, 24, Oslo, was arrested April 3 on two charges of Marijuana possession. The Marshall county sheriff's department seized a total of over 15 pounds of marijuana, valued at about $40,000. They also seized two vehicles and $10,000 cash.

Otero's vehicle was stopped at about 10:30 a.m. by Marshall county officers including sheriff Dennis Brekke. Three pounds of marijuana were found in the vehicle and 12 more pounds were found when Otero's residence was searched.

Community center fire

Grygla — The probable cause of the fire which damaged much of the Grygla community center was listed as "spontaneous com-bustion." The fire occurred early Sunday, April 9 and insurance representatives, fire fighters, and the state fire marshal spent most of Monday investigating the site.

After the investigation, fire marshal, Dale Volstad ruled out the electrical equipment of wiring as the cause. The fire appears to have begun in an area where garbage, such as cooking oil and fried smelt remnants, was located. Investigators believe that the fire may have started through a chemical reaction.

A reader had a bad experience with the Chocolate Oatmeal Cookie recipe from the Fosston cookbook which was printed in the March 25 Watch. She stated that all recipes should be tried before placing in this column, so this week all recipes are from my very own cookbook — tried and true. I will be trying the cookie recipe as soon as I have a minute and let you know how mine turn out.

If you love lemon, you will love these bars:

LUCY LEMON SQUARES

1 cup flour
1/2 cup butter
1/4 cup powdered sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
2 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
Zest from one lemon
Dash of salt
1 1/2 tablespoons flour

Mix 1 cup flour, butter and powdered sugar and pat into 9x9 inch pan. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees.

Mix remaining ingredients and beat well. Pour over crust and bake 20-25 minutes more. Let set before cutting.

These are very rich, heavy bars, but very yummy:

MARBELED BROWNIES

2 squares melted chocolate
1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
4 eggs
2 cups nuts
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix all ingredients in order except melted chocolate.

Add chocolate to one-half of the batter.

Drop chocolate and white batters alternately in greased 9x13 inch pan.

Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. Frost with fudge frosting if desired.

This is one of my favorite cakes — I make it for birthdays a lot — try it for Easter:

CHOCOLATE CAKE

1/2 cup cocoa
1/2 cup boiling water
2/3 cup shortening
1 3/4 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
2 1/4 cups unsifted flour
1 1/2 teaspoons soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/3 cups buttermilk or soured milk

Stir cocoa and boiling water in small bowl until smooth. Set aside. Cream shortening, sugar and vanilla in mixer bowl until very light and fluffy. Add eggs, beating well. Combine flour, soda and salt and add to the shortening mixture alternately with buttermilk. Blend in cocoa mixture.

Pour into three greased and floured cake pans and bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes (check at 25 first). Cool 10 minutes then remove from pans and cool on a rack.

PEANUT BUTTER CLOUD COOKIES

1 cup butter
1 cup peanut butter
1 cup sugar
1 cup powdered sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream butter, peanut butter and sugars. Add eggs and mix well. Add soda and salt and then flour. Form dough into balls and dip one side of ball into sugar before placing on greased cookie sheet. Flatten with glass.

Bake at 350 degrees.

Star homemakers meeting on Monday

To The Editor:

In response to an editorial April 1 in our town paper commenting on stop signs on Edgewood Drive, we would like to make a few comments on the subject.

In April of 1990 our son's '87 Blazer was parked in our driveway on Edgewood Drive and he had just left the car and entered the house. A pickup came down Edgewood Drive, lost control, entered the yard across from our house and then came in our yard and hit and totaled out the '87 Blazer.

The pickup then hit the tree in our front yard, leveled out the pickup and left our yard a field of glass, oil and antifreeze. Our insurance company had to have Service Master try and vacuum up all the glass in our yard. Our yard could not have children play in it for a long time.

That's only one incident, and one thing we should consider is that five minutes earlier our son would have been in that Blazer. If facts want to be checked on this case it is filed at the Police Department.

Before that a pickup was found one morning partly in our yard with three flat tires because it came off Dale Street onto Edgewood Drive so fast they lost control, hit the curb and deflated their tires... not to mention the numerous times all of us have lost mailboxes.

We are fortunate no lives have been lost yet. This is an area that has a lot of people walking. We want to keep it as safe as possible.

Sincerely,
Wally and Lola Wiskow
1229 Edgewood Drive

To The Editor:

I am clerk of Oak park township in Marshall county near Oslo. I recently read a news item in the Grand Forks Herald headlined, "Lawmaker wants to eliminate townships." The Rochester I R Representative Dave Bishop apparently is very much out of contact with the rest of the state and not at all aware of duties township government are responsible for. He stated townships are not needed because all they do is care for rural roads and often interfere with annexation needed by cities to protect ground water and provide orderly growth.

On Tuesday morning, February 14, our township board of Oak Park met for our regularly scheduled meeting. We discussed several items of business other than roads. We must be overstepping our authority if the only responsibility of a township board is the caring for roads.

This is an example of many of our meetings. We discussed our audit meeting, a pledge of some financial support to our nearest hospital and ambulance group, our annual meeting which has a change in voting hours this year, the scheduled township officers short course, our taxation and board of review, the statement by Rep. Bishop, gravel bids for the 1995 season, meetings with two neighboring cities with which we contract for fire protection and an appreciation luncheon as a thank-you to those who have supported our community projects which have helped our closest hospital and ambulance to continue to serve our emergency medical needs.

Other items of business with which we are involved are weed inspection (it is the law that noxious weeds are to be destroyed), grasshopper watch and control and election judge/training sessions before we can serve as an election board. This is required.

There are, I'm sure, many other ways that we as town board members serve our community besides caring for rural roads, but then, what is bad about caring for our rural roads!

We all are aware of our declining rural population, but there will always be a need for some to remain in the sparsely populated rural areas, and there will always be a need for roads, some schools, some churches and some small towns. We can't all live in the metropolitan areas. Some will continue to live in "outstate" Minnesota.

We hope the plan Rep. Bishop or any others who agree with him will not be taken seriously and that they will reconsider their plans as this action would be devastating to rural Minnesota.

Sincerely,
Gilmen Tinney
Oak Park Town Clerk

Opinions

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Opinions expressed by the editor are his own and not necessarily those of other staff members. Opinions expressed in items from other publications may be contradictory to the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

So You Think You Know What's In A Name...

If someone told you he or she had just purchased a Morab, you would know exactly what it was, wouldn't you? Would you pet it, plant it, paint it, give it to the kids to play with or eat it for dinner? If the same person said he or she had also considered a Bashkir Curly, Westphalian or Akhal Tekke, you could offer your appraisal of which one you would personally prefer, couldn't you? If the person asked what to feed his or her Peruvian Paso or Andalusian, could you properly advise?

Sure you could.

This northwestern part of Minnesota is farm country, right? The people up here are agricultural base people who know the land and what it will produce, right? We rural folks know a thing or two about animals, right? So it shouldn't be any problem for us to identify an animal by its breed name, right?

Maybe.

If you wanted to see what all of those things mentioned above look like, where would you go? You would go to the Minnesota state fairgrounds in St. Paul on April 29 and 30 for the 13th Annual Minnesota Horse Expo. These and 30 other breeds of horses will be on display at the show, including the more familiar Thoroughbred, Palomino, Pinto, Morgan, Clydesdale, Percheron, Appaloosa, Paint and Quarter Horse.

You didn't know there were that many breeds of horses? Neither did we, but the list makes us a bit curious: Is the Norwegian Fjord a horse that could be expected to compete with a Norwegian Chjevrolet?

State Should Keep Its Parallel Shipping Law

Ask most people what parallel shipping is and they would probably think it was sending two items side-by-side on the same truck. Former Minnesota Governor Elmer L. Andersen, publisher of the Anoka Union, points out in a recent editorial that it is an item that has meaning for all of us. His editorial follows:

Some U.S. manufacturers sell their products at higher prices in the U.S. than in foreign countries—sometimes at much higher prices. Alert domestic distributors find it cheaper to buy such products abroad and ship them back, rather than buying locally. This is called parallel shipping.

To counter such activities, the U. S. manufacturers engaged in differential pricing practices some time ago persuaded the U.S. Congress to pass laws forbidding parallel shipping. It is impossible to imagine a public interest justification for such legislation, but it exists. Discussion of ethical pricing practices would fall on deaf ears.

States can override U.S. legislation relating to trade and commerce, but only as affecting activity within the state. States can, and Minnesota has, passed a law that permits parallel shipping of merchandise for resale within state borders. Powerful national commercial lobbies seek to repeal state laws that permit parallel shipping and are seeking to repeal the Minnesota law at this legislative session. That effort should be opposed and if, for whatever reason, the legislature passes the repeal bill, the public interest would be served by its veto.

Industry would be strongly opposed to legislation that required it to sell at no lower prices outside the U.S. than within the country. Firms would argue vehemently that they must control their selling prices. However, they overreach when they expect to keep smaller firms from being as creative in their buying procedures as the manufacturers want to be in their pricing policies.

To oppose parallel shipping is to support policies that charge higher prices to domestic consumers in order to subsidize price cutting abroad. If U.S manufacturers want to keep freedom of pricing policy they better quit seeking to control other firms' buying policy. Laws can be devised that cut both ways, and the interests that create the issue may get hurt the most. Should not the goal be to protect free enterprise?

Sen. Grams On Private Property Rights....

"Under the guise of protecting our nation's natural resources, Minnesota landowners are too often taken advantage of by overzealous government bureaucrats and extremist organizations pushing policies which tilt the delicate balance between environmental concerns and private property rights," states U. S. Sen. Rod Grams of Minnesota.

"Over the past 20 years, the federal government has been granted unwarranted power in making local land use decisions and absorbing land from our nation's property owners. That power is assumed due to the rules and regulations enacted under environmental laws such as the Clean Water and Endangered Species Acts and similar state and local legislation.

"Though these laws are for the most part well-intentioned, the overly burdensome government regulations they have spawned allow bureaucrats to acquire or devalue certain private lands without due process or fair market compensation. A 'taking,' as these actions are known, can be costly for rural Minnesotans, who too often find they have either been stripped of their property or left with land impossible to sell or use because it has been so severely devalued or restricted.

"A government taking often does not provide compensatory measures for one reason: a clear, legal definition for a regulatory 'taking' does not exist. Therefore, under current law, a property owner is left to either challenge the regulatory action with a costly legal claim that is rarely successful, or take what little, if any, compensation the government offers," the senator said.

".....Fortunately, this is changing on the federal level with the recent passage of comprehensive landowner's protections in the U.S. House of Representatives and the introduction in the Senate of a bipartisan proposal....Most importantly, the senate bill specifies a proper definition of 'takings' to help protect private property rights while simultaneously providing a balanced approach in protecting our environment and its resources. As Congress focuses on the reauthorization of the Endangered Species and Clean Water Acts, lawmakers must seek this reasonable, balanced strategy so we can achieve equitable and just results."

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I want to publicly thank the good people at the Car Hospital for their help which was way above and beyond the call of duty.

My car totally broke down recently. Living in St. Hilaire, I am very dependent on a car as I am a disabled widow and cannot walk very far. I was at my wits end and didn't know what I was going to do. There was nobody near me who would be able to help if I needed it.

I explained my problem to the people at the Car Hospital, and expressed to them that I hoped I wouldn't be without my car for too long. They came and got my car, worked through the night, and had it back to me the next day—and the cost was very reasonable. I can't thank them enough, and I thank God there are still good people in this world.

Sincerely,
Lenore Bergdahl

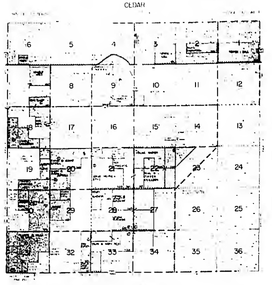
THE DERRY BROWNFIELD Show

"MAKE HIM PART OF YOUR MORNING!"

Things aren't the same today as when Derry was a kid. While Derry was growing up on the farm, America was changing. Fifty years of farming, teaching, broadcasting and public speaking have given Derry a broad spectrum of views.

And Derry tells stories based on his own experiences. He's watched our farms grow larger as farmers moved away from the land. He has seen local stores close as shopping malls sprang up on the outskirts of town. He has watched the federal bureaucrats try to control every aspect of our free-enterprise economy.

Derry discusses serious problems with a delightful sense of humor and a distinctive point of view harvested from a lifetime of personal business encounters. Derry's common sense yet witty broadcasts have entertained radio audiences for over 30 years.



Property shown as shaded areas on this map is included in petitions for transfer from School District 440 at Middle River to School District 441 at Newfolden.

a young dog new tricks, these ninth grade students don't just talk to adults, they talk to kids too. As part of their participation in the Arrive Alive program, the students talked to elementary school kids about highway safety. They also helped the 5th and 6th grade students start a school crossing guard program.

"It takes a lot of courage for these kids to speak up like this. They do a real good job," said Mr. Lee. He says the students really take the project seriously and they are real good kids in general. In fact, he said that when they were in St. Cloud, he had to leave the kids in the hotel while he attended a meeting. When he returned to the hotel room, he found the students doing their homework. The students are not all work and no play, however. Some of them entered a three-on-three basketball tournament hosted by the hotel and won!

When the students go to St. Paul, they will bring a copy of the Minnesota state seat belt bill that failed. They will try to talk to the legislators who did not sign the bill and hope to convince them of the importance of seat belt laws. They hope to show law makers and others that the cost of not wearing a seat belt isn't just a fine, there is a ripple effect. When people are injured it costs the insurance companies, which is then passed on to all consumers. If an accident victim is unable to work, the employer must deal with finding a replacement or production may decrease. In the end, seat belt use, or misuse, effects everyone.

Those views of Ace Hardware show the store as it looked when it opened in 1945 and the way it looks today as it observes its 50th anniversary.

Ace Hardware notes 50 years in business here

Fifty years of business in Thief River Falls is being observed by Ace Hardware with a celebration retail promotion which began Tuesday, April 11. Free registration is being held for nearly 100 prizes.

Owner Ron Kalinoski is the second generation of family ownership in the store which was started in April of 1945 and purchased by his father, Vic Kalinoski, in 1961.

Bill Ekstrand, formerly of Greenbush, was manager and co-owner of the store with Olaf Hildahl and Arnold Hildahl when it opened "in completely remodeled quarters in the former Masonic block on Main av., north of the Red Owl food market," according to an article in the Thief River Falls Times from April of 1945.

"The new store presents an attractive appearance with its front of glass brick and plate glass," the article stated. "With dimensions of 50 by 80 feet and with an office in the balcony in the rear, the quarters provide ample space for the display of merchandise, with wide aisles for easy access by patrons."

Vic Kalinoski began his hardware career in the Ace store in Greenbush in 1939 and managed that store for 13 years before moving to the store in Roseau for two years. He then managed the Thief River Falls Ace store for four years, moving to Waukegan, IL, in 1959 and returning in 1961 to purchase the Thief River Falls business.

Ron Kalinoski began his hardware career and second grade simultaneously the year his dad bought the business. He counted and delivered circulars, swept floors, emptied trash cans and continued in various duties throughout his school years. He then left for a time to experience life outside his father's store, returning in 1975 at the age of 21 to reenter the family business.

In January of 1982 Ron purchased the hardware business from his father, allowing his parents to retire from the store and enjoy some leisure time.

A number of remodeling and expansion efforts have taken place over the years and merchandise stocks have changed to reflect local market demand and changing times. One of the constants, however, Kalinoski points out, has been the Ace brand of paints which was carried in 1945 and continues to be an acclaimed paint value today.

Ace Hardware is a dealer-owned cooperative which had 120 stores when the Thief River Falls store opened in 1945 and now has some 5,000 stores in all 50 states and 53 foreign countries.

"We're pretty proud of being around after 50 years in business," Ron Kalinoski said. "There aren't many businesses that have that long a history, so we must have been doing something right. We appreciate the customers who have made it possible for us to reach this half-century milestone."

Steve Tomac of St. Anthony, ND, a member of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association since 1982, has been contracted as clown for the fourth annual TRF Stampede in Thief River Falls September 1, 2 and 3.

place on Sunday evening.

The rodeo performances themselves will again include kids' mutton bustin' (sheep riding)—originated in Minnesota by the Jokela rodeos—a kids' calf scramble and the wild saddle cow race with teams competing for silver Gist trophy belt buckles.

Last year the TRF Stampede was moved to May because of work to be done on the floor of the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center after the county fair in July. This year sees a return to the Labor Day weekend that marked the first two Stampedes and the third year of indoor rodeo at the civic center.

"It will be nearly a year and a half since the last full scale PRCA rodeo in Thief River Falls when this year's Stampede rolls around," Randy Jokela said. "Rodeo fans should be chompin' at the bit for another three days of top caliber rodeo competition."

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Three from TRF selected to play in Super Series

Three Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey Association players – Jared Altepeter, Mike Dowers and Seth Martell – participated in the second annual AAA Minnesota Super Series April 7-9 at the Eden Prairie Community Center.

Designed by promoters to showcase the young hockey talent in Minnesota, the Super Series features North, South, East, and West rosters at six age levels, including Minor/Major (first/second-year players) Squirts, Pee Wees and Bantams.

Altepeter, son of Tim and Deb Altepeter, was a forward in the Minor Squirts portion of the event. He played for the TRFAHA Squirt A team this winter.

Dowers, son of Sue and Scott Dowers, and Martell, son of Mary and Doug Martell, shared the goaltending duties for the Thief River Falls VFW Bantam A team this season. Dowers was part of the Super Series Minor Bantams while Martell played at the Major Bantam level.

Super Series tournaments featured a round-robin format Friday and Saturday, followed by finals at each level Sunday.

Both Altepeter and Dowers were both members of championship teams, while Martell was on a second place squad.

Altepeter had one goal and seven assists in four tournament games as his North squad posted wins over the West 6-5, East 5-3 and South 7-2 before knocking off the West again in the finals, 5-2. Altepeter collected three assists in the championship game. His teammates hailed from Alexandria, Duluth, International Falls, Roseau, Detroit Lakes, Hibbing, and Hermantown.

Dowers was part of a championship North team, along with players from Duluth, Grand Rapids, Roseau, Crookston, Fergus Falls, East Grand Forks, Bemidji, Brainerd, and Moorhead, that first tied the West 2-2 and lost to the East 5-1 before beating the South 7-3 and the East 8-7 in a title game rematch.

Martell's North teammates came from Grand Rapids, Fergus Falls, Eveleth, Duluth, Moorhead, Alexandria, Roseau, Brainerd, and Coleraine. They beat the West 2-1 and the East 8-4, but lost to the South twice, 3-2 in round-robin play and 5-4 in the championship game.

Sanctioned by the Minnesota Amateur Hockey Association and USA Hockey, the Super Series uses a portion of its proceeds to benefit the Brainerd-area Confidence Learning Center for the mentally handicapped.

New TRF coach is optimistic

■ Dean Woodman directing baseball program

Dean Woodman thinks he has the makings of a good high school baseball team. But the first-year Thief River Falls head coach won't know for sure until he can get his club on a baseball field.

Because of the weather, the team will likely head into the 1995 season without the benefit of a full outdoor work-out. A Monday opener against Badger/Greenbush-Middle River scheduled to be played at Irv Wilson Field in Thief River Falls has been moved to Greenbush.

"It's really been frustrating," said Woodman. "The kids are anxious to get outside. We've been working out in the gym and playing parking-lot ball."

There are 18 lettermen among the 19 seniors and juniors Woodman has been working with. The seniors are Nathan Anderson, Eric Bjorgaard, Adam Henney, Corey Jenkins, Mike Bauman, and Chris Vanyo. The juniors include Ryan Bendickson, Nick Chodo, Aaron Ehrenstrom, Chris Efta, John Elizondo, Paul Gonsorowski, Josh Harris, Chane Keefe, Derrick McFarlane, Steve Rambeck, Rob Stock, Ron Larson, and Ryan Poole.

"It's a really good group of kids," noted Woodman. "They've got a real good attitude."

Eleven of those players include pitching on their resumes, but Woodman said he will likely go with a four-man rotation featuring Vanyo, Bjorgaard, Ehrenstrom and Stock, the lone left-hander in the group. Bjorgaard was 2-1 with a 4.70 earned-run average over a team-high 29.2 innings last spring. Vanyo was 1-2 with a 4.75 ERA in 16.2 innings. Ehrenstrom was 0-3 despite a 2.85 ERA in 17.2 innings.

Thief River Falls finished 6-14 a year ago when the Prowlers struggled with a .241 team batting average. Keefe and Anderson are the only players back who hit .300 last year. Keefe finished at .313 (20/64) and Anderson wound up hitting .300 (12/40).

Woodman expects the Prowlers to be solid defensively with Keefe or Anderson catching, Bjorgaard at shortstop or third base, Vanyo at shortstop or second base, and Bendickson at first.

Chodo will make a move from second base to the outfield this year where his quickness should enable him to cover a lot of ground, explained Woodman. Henney and McFarlane are the top candidates for the other two outfield spots.

Woodman, a Nashwauk native and University of North Dakota graduate, worked with the Thief River Falls junior varsity last year under head coach Lee Alger, who stepped down following the season. He teaches math and computers at Lincoln High School and Franklin Middle School.

Prowlers fall twice in 1995 tennis debut

East Grand Forks and Moorhead handed Thief River Falls a pair of setbacks Thursday in a double-dual boys high school tennis outing at East Grand Forks.

It was the season-opener for the Prowlers, who lost to the Green Wave 7-0 and fell to the Spuds 6-1.

Lone Thief River Falls win for the day came from Andy Furuseth at No. 4 singles against Moorhead.

1995 Prowler Hall of Fame tickets go on sale Monday

A limited supply of tickets, priced at $12.50, will be available beginning Monday in the office of School District 564 Activities Director Lee Alger for the 1995 Prowler Hall of Fame induction banquet, scheduled to be held Saturday, May 6, at the Best Western Inn.

The event will start with a social at 6 p.m. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m., with the induction ceremonies to follow.

Second group of Prowler Hall of Fame inductees, announced earlier, includes former athletes Derwood 'Swede' Lund, Wes Hovie, Kent Smith, Loren 'Sid' Vraa, and Michelle Puetz; former coach George Lee; and distinguished alumni John Michael Anderson, Rob Swenson, George Mostue, Jack Scanlan, Lynn Dorn, and Chester Dahlen.

TRF summer baseball registration is April 20

Registration for the 1995 Thief River Falls summer baseball programs for players ages 13-18 will be held Thursday, April 20, from 5 to 8 p.m. in the Northland Community College cafeteria.

Newly-organized Thief River Falls Baseball Association will direct the programs for each age group from 13-year-olds through American Legion baseball.

Thief River Falls Baseball Association officials stress the importance of the early registration date in order to give the group time of make decisions in regards to the number of teams and coaches that will be needed this summer.

All-star high school basketball team...

Sanden named to Selects

Kyle Sanden of Thief River Falls has been named to the Minnesota Select Maroon high school all-star basketball team which will play in national tournaments this summer in Louisville, Kentucky; Hunington Beach, California; and Las Vegas, Nevada.

Sanden, a 6-10 junior, recently orally committed to play basketball at the University of Minnesota. Among his Maroon teammates will be 6-9 Morris junior Kevin Loge, who has also said he will play for the Gophers beginning with the 1996-97 season. They can officially sign tenders in November of their senior year of high school.

Jason Retzlaff of Fergus Falls was also named to the Maroon squad, the top Select team in the state. Randall Holthusen of Red Lake was named to the Select Gold squad, the state's No. 2 team that will play in the same three tournament.

The two ten-member teams were picked from 235 players who attended try-outs over two weekends following the end of the 1994-95 high school basketball season. Current juniors and sophomores fill the rosters of the two teams. A third team, the Select White, which will feature players who are sophomores and younger, will be named later.

NCC softball opener is postponed, again

Field conditions prompted officials to rearrange the scheduled start of the 1995 Northland Community College softball season.

The Pioneers, who were earlier weathered out of an April 6 appearance at the University of Minnesota-Crookston, had Friday/Saturday, April 14/15 doubleheaders at Vermilion and Mesabi called off.

Northland will try to open its 1995 season Tuesday with a 3 p.m. nonconference doubleheader at home against Itasca.

TRF Sports Schedule

Saturday, April 15
■ Tennis - LHS boys at Detroit Lakes Triangular, 10:30 a.m.
■ Baseball - NCC vs. Hibbing (2), 1 p.m.

Monday, April 17
■ Baseball - LHS vs. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River (at Greenbush), 4:30 p.m.

"Heart of Croatia" tamburitza orchestra has been added to the list of entertainment for the All Nations Cultural Festival to be presented Saturday and Sunday, July 8 and 9, in St. Hilaire. Playing the unique string instrument of Croatia known as the tamburitza, the group will provide dance music for the Croatian Folklore Ensemble and take center stage as an independent entertainment attraction. The festival will also include the Irish Tavern Singers, French Canadian and Caribbean groups, a Cajun band, Native American dancers and a group from Sweden to replace the Norwegian group which canceled due to a scheduling conflict. Also featured will be a fur trade encampment, petting zoo, clowns, ethnic foods and arts and crafts. The festival is sponsored by KTRF-KSNR, City of St. Hilaire, St. Hilaire Community Club and KYCK. For more information contact the St. Hilaire city clerk's office at 964-5257.

THANK YOU
We wish to thank Dr. Sanjay Pate, all the nurses on 2nd floor for all they did for Earl on his trips to the hospital, to all the staff at Valley Home and Oakland Nursing Home, and to Greens Funeral Home for all their kindness. Also, to Pastors Sandy and Kathy Stevenson and all the servers for his funeral. Thank you and may God bless you all.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF
who passed away October 15, 1994.

Six months ago today,
God took you away,
From family and friends
Whose pain never ends
We live amongst the memories of the love that you've shown,
Yet, we feel so alone
We hear your laugh,
We see your smile,
We remember how you always went that "extra mile."
For family friends and strangers, and how you never held any anger
Just love.
As the days go by
Through the tears we cry,
We miss you and love you more everyday. A.H.

Sadly missed by
Dad, Mom, Kris, Annie and families

NTC board votes to cut SBM and transfer program to E.G. Forks

"The issue is funding," Dr. Cross said at the meeting, adding that the termination of Small Business Management would cut costs by approximately $200,000. He said he had no problem with the transfer of the programs to Thief River Falls, but NTC could not afford the transfer of funding along with them.

Suggesting that action be taken by the board at that night's meeting, Dr. Cross said, "I don't want to treat the lives of people frivolously, but I also don't want to prolong the pain."

Unanimous vote on the program termination came later in the evening after most of the delegations attending the meeting to present public comment on the proposal had left.

Proposed transfer of the automotive technology program from Wadena to East Grand Forks drew opposition from Thief River Falls campus staff who considered the program to be competitive with the existing program in Thief River Falls.

Kim Philipp, instructor in the drafting program, said that an agreement had been reached 22 years ago among the technical colleges at East Grand Forks, Moorhead, Detroit Lakes, Bemidji and Thief River Falls not to enter into competing programs. She said that the local college has honored that agreement, including refusal to pursue requests for courses in the medical and hospital fields because they might be competing with technical college offerings at East Grand Forks.

In 1981, she said, the local technical school's carpentry program had four instructors, 56 students and was building two houses a year for sale. East Grand Forks started its carpentry program and four years later the Thief River Falls program was gone, she said.

Philipp said the local school has "a tough row to hoe" with a merged campus, new identity, budget cuts and now duplication of programs. "We don't need that kind of competition," she said.

Norm Halsa, instructor in the Thief River Falls automotive technology program, said that there are now 28 automotive service programs in Minnesota. "We need less, not more," he said. "The number and location is about right for this area, and it doesn't make sense to have similar programs 55 minutes apart."

East Grand Forks faculty countered the arguments later in the session.

Paul Hanson, an instructor in the East Grand Forks program, said it has always been known as a light and medium truck program but it has always done automotive training. He said he didn't like the word competition and emphasized service to automotive dealers in the area and students in the program.

Hanson said the EGF campus teaches elective courses on evenings and weekends to accommodate the people it serves and has had people from Hallock and Roseau enroll in update courses. "Something is wrong when these people have to drive 90 miles to take update training," he said.

"If we don't move the program (from Wadena to East Grand Forks)," he continued, "it will hurt automotive dealers in northwestern Minnesota. I don't think it will affect Thief River Falls, but if it does, they better get on the ball and do some of the things that we do."

A carpentry instructor at East Grand Forks said that he had been pleased to see the Thief River Falls carpentry program close, because he expected an increased demand at the East Grand Forks program. It never came, he said, and he believes the closing of the Thief River Falls carpentry program had little or no impact on the East Grand Forks program.

The board voted 5-1 to approve transfer of the automotive technology program to East Grand Forks with board member Dennis Kiesow of Thief River Falls voting in opposition.

Jerome Flottemesch of Detroit Lakes, chairman of the NTC board, commented on the Small Business Management termination by noting that the board had been determined to balance its budget, and that it had approved the elimination or reduction of 139 faculty and staff positions at its previous meeting.

Methodist Youth host breakfast

United Methodist Youth will host an Easter Sunday breakfast April 16 from 8 to 10 a.m. at the church in Thief River Falls. It will follow the 7:30 a.m. sunrise service and precede the 10:30 a.m. worship service at which the Living in God's Creation Chorus will be featured. Everyone is welcome.

Bluebird program at Rydell National Refuge rescheduled

Informational program on bluebirds and a bluebird house building project postponed from April 11 due to bad weather has been rescheduled for Wednesday, April 19, at the Rydell National Wildlife Refuge near Fertile. Repeat programs will be offered at 4 and 6:30 p.m.

The program is free but those who would like to make one of the popular Peterson-style bluebird houses are asked to pre-register, pay a $5 fee for materials and bring a hammer if they have one. Call 218-945-3130 to preregister.

Greenbush/Middle River consolidation achieves main objectives of school board

Board says action maintains MR school, gives all students high quality education, holds line on taxes

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

Several years of educational pairing with School District 678 at Greenbush has reaffirmed the belief by members of the School District 440 board at Middle River that consolidation with the Greenbush system will accomplish the objectives sought by a majority of Middle River district residents.

Through a number of years of declining enrollment at the Middle River school, various school boards serving the district have considered the questions of how to provide quality education for the remaining students and retain a school presence in the community. During that time the board members have been assisted in their deliberations by studies and discussions to define options and assess the desires of district residents.

Objectives Surfaced

As a result of the studies, meetings, hearings and deliberation, three major objectives surfaced as the most important concerns of the district and its board. They are:

(1) Assuring the highest possible quality of education for all of the students who are residents of the Middle River school district;

(2) Retaining a quality school site in the community of Middle River; and

(3) Reducing the tax burden for residents of the Middle River district.

Two of the three objectives could likely have been attained by consolidation with one or more of several other districts. Those are tax reduction and quality education. The third—maintaining a school site in Middle River—is believed to be an unlikely possibility in a consolidation with any other district than Greenbush.

In support of this belief, board members point to the fact that the Middle River school building—which is of good size and condition—now has more students in attendance each day than it has had for many years. This is a result of students from the Greenbush district coming to Middle River for classes.

Attendance Arrangements

Under the present system, all seventh and eighth grade students from both districts attend classes in Middle River. Of 51 seventh graders and 57 eighth graders, 39 in each grade are from Greenbush.

All students from both districts in grades 9-12 attend classes in Greenbush. In these grades, 24 of 57 freshmen, 21 of 54 sophomores, seven of 43 juniors and 14 of 47 seniors are from Middle River.

Both Greenbush and Middle River districts operate schools for kindergarten through sixth grade. Primarily because of smaller class sizes in Middle River, parents of 34 elementary students in Greenbush have voluntarily opted to send their children to classes in Middle River.

Middle River elementary enrollment now totals 125, including the 34 Greenbush students. There are nine in kindergarten, 17 in first grade, 21 in second grade, 13 in third grade, 25 in fourth grade, 18 in fifth grade and 22 in sixth grade.

Middle River Gains Students

With the 125 K-6 students added to the 108 students in seventh and eighth grades, the Middle River school now serves 233 students—the largest enrollment since 1982 when all 13 grades totaled 244. There are 66 Middle River district students attending grades 9-12 in Greenbush and 112 students from Greenbush attending grades K-8 in Middle River.

In addition to the student number exchange, Middle River board members emphasize the smoothness of transition of students between schools and the working relationship between school boards. This apparently comes about from a realization by both boards of the mutual need of one district for the other.

Greenbush Support Appreciated

They also appreciate the attitude of the Greenbush board, faculty, students and community in their willingness to accept the Middle River district as an equal partner in the educational effort. Middle River district children have been well received in Greenbush high

Two errors in the maps printed in last Saturday's edition of the Northern Watch have been called to our attention. Those maps indicated, in shaded area, the land represented on petitions to be detached from the Middle River school district and annexed to the Newfolden district. Areas of the errors are circled on the corrected maps at right. In the Cedar township site, residence properties of Scott Brandon and Lee Carriere were incorrectly shaded on the map printed last week. In Section 36 of Spruce Valley township, the residence site of Clayton Troskey also was erroneously shaded. The Northern Watch apologizes for these inaccuracies and any problems they may have caused.

Farm bill concerns discussed

Red Lake Falls — Last week U.S. Representative Collin Peterson was in Red Lake Falls to talk with farmers about the 1995 Farm Bill. Areas of concern included dairy farming, CRP, the budget and wetlands. Peterson said," I think we need to broaden the CRP so people can use them to put wetlands in." Many farmers said they were fed up with paying for the wetland program. Peterson replied,"If society-at large decides wetlands are important, then society at large should pay for it."

Others expressed concern about excessive regulation. Peterson agreed, "In my judgement, I think we're over regulating."

Landfill ownership

Hallock — Mar-Kit Landfill board members met with people from Red Lake, Cass, Koochiching, Beltrami, and Roseau counties to address questions and concerns over the control of the Mar-Kit Landfill. Roseau and Koochiching counties wrote and requested information concerning a possible "buy-in."

"There is a concern from the solid waste officer's standpoint that there's not going to be enough garbage to handle all the facilities," said Roger Rolf, Minnesota Pollution Control Agency, Detroit Lakes.

Mar-Kit Chair Ben Kleinwachter said he couldn't see how it would change for these counties to own part of Mar-Kit.

Compromises reached

Roseau — At 1 p.m. on Monday, April 17, attorney Jerome Rice stated that both sides of the "courthouse" issue had reached an agreement. Jake Marvin, Timothy Pabst, Bob Bergland, Gary Cerkvenik and Jerome Rice met and discussed procedure for verifying signatures on the petition for an election on the courthouse proposal.

"The general mood was good," Bergland said. "Neither side wants this thing to drag on for a whole year."

"To date, not one forgery or similar problem has been discovered," said Gary Cerkvenik.

Kids and carts

Karlstad — Gary Cook, manager of the Karlstad Municipal Golf Club, met with mayor, George Wilstrom, and members of the city council to express concerns about kids on and off the golf course.

Children who are not of legal driving age have been seen driving golf carts on Highway 1, a practice which is both illegal and dangerous. Mayor Wilkstrom stated, "My feeling is that we should eliminate the golf carts for anyone not having a legal drivers license." He also commented that anyone not driving safely should be removed from the golf course.

Cook agreed that if the council feels that there is a problem, something should be done. He also agreed that kids who are being disruptive or discourteous should be asked to leave.

Save the Depot campaign winds down

The campaign to save the historic Soo Line Depot in Thief River Falls draws to a close this month, with a final fund drive in today's (April 21) edition of the Northern Watch. The "Green for the Depot" campaign includes a contributor's envelope, inserted into this edition of the Watch, for readers throughout Pennington county.

The Historic Depot Preservation Committee extends its sincere appreciation and thanks to everyone who has so enthusiastically joined in the community effort to save the building. The successful community campaign has been matched by private benefactors, state and federal grants and will result in the purchase, repair, and renovation of the property which has been a regional landmark for more than 80 years. Because of strong community support, the State Historical Society has already agreed to nominate the site for the National Register of Historic Places.

The "Green for the Depot" campaign will give everyone a final opportunity to have their name or memorial included in the "1024 Steam Engine Crew Tribute Wall"— a listing of contributors who donated over $100 — which will become a permanent part of the renovation project. Supporters will also have a final chance to qualify for framed and matted prints of the Depot, given in appreciation for gifts of one thousand dollars or more.

The committee will sponsor a "Save the Depot" Finale and Pancake Breakfast Sunday, April 30, at the Thief River Falls Eagles Hall from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Final contributions can be forwarded through the mail or turned in at the breakfast celebration.

Readers should also be "on the look-out" for four "Lucky Envelopes", specially marked to entitle the holder to one of the Douglas Hudson prints. Prints can be claimed at the "Save the Depot" breakfast, April 30.

Petitions presented; action is deferred

Petitions to detach more than 17,500 acres of land from School District 440 (Middle River) were presented to the SD 440 board of education at its meeting Tuesday evening in the Middle River school. The board voted to take no action on the petitions until after July 1.

In behalf of approximately 80 petitioners, William Halme presented a thick file folder of petitions to board chairman Clayton Troskey. The meeting was the first in which the soon to be combined boards of the Middle River and Greenbush school districts had met in combined session.

A number of the petitions from the folder were handed out by Greenbush board chairman Keith Kilen to Middle River and Greenbush board members in attendance for them to read. Troskey began to read the petition aloud when interrupted by Middle River board vice chairman Tom Gullikson, who questioned that the petition was addressed to the Marshall county board of commissioners.

Petitioners responded that it was their understanding that it would be the county board that would ultimately act on the petition's request to detach petitioned property from the Middle River district and attach it to the Newfolden district.

Gullikson then made a motion not to accept the petitions as presented, citing advice from the board's attorney that no action could be taken until after the consolidation of the Middle River and Greenbush school districts takes effect July 1, 1995. The consolidation was approved by voters in the Middle River district in last November's election by a one-vote margin.

An exchange of questions, some of which were answered, then took place between some of the board members and some of the approximately 30 property owners who signed the petitions and were in attendance for their presentation to the board.

Among the primary questioners was board chairman Kilen who pressed for explanations of what was meant by statements in the petition. He was repeatedly asked by David Thompson of the petitioners group to "read the petition."

The statements were listed under part 5 of the petition which states the following:

"5. That the petitioners believe that it is in the best interest of students who are children of the above named landowners that the change in districts should be accomplished for the following reasons:

"a. The school building located at Newfolden, Minnesota is closer to the majority of the petitioners' property than the school located at Greenbush, Minnesota.

"b. The school site at Middle River, Minnesota, no longer offers 9th through 12th grades.

"c. Independent School District No. 441 maintains one of the highest technological offerings in northwestern Minnesota.

"d. Independent School District 441 has a newly constructed facility at Newfolden, Minnesota, which is fully paid for with the exception of the grade school expansion and

NCC Theater to present play

Andrea Erickson of Thief River Falls, Robert Carlson of Erskine and Tim McAnnany of Thief River Falls rehearse a scene from "The Voice of the Prairie". They are members of the Northland Community College theater department presenting a play that will take the audience on a trip back to the Roaring 20s. The play will be held 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday, April 27 and 28, and at 2 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30.

Northland Community College's theater department is taking a trip back to the Roaring Twenties in its presentation of "The Voice of the Prairie" Thursday and Friday, April 27 and 28 at 8 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30, at 2 p.m. Saturday's performance will be interpreted for the deaf.

Tickets are $5 for adults and $4 for senior citizens and students in kindergarten though 12th grade. Northland Community and Technical College students, faculty and staff are admitted free. Children under five are not admitted. For more information or to reserve seats call 681-2181, extension 131.

The Roaring Twenties were when prohibition was the law of the land, flappers graced the scene and radio was a new-fangled contraption whose popularity was sweeping the nation.

When "The Voice of the Prairie" begins, an old hobo named Poppy is telling a tall tale. It is a flashback to the 1890s when story tellers such as Poppy were the voices of the prairie.

Many years later, when Poppy's companion Davey is grown up, he is discovered by radio entrepreneur Leon Schwab telling his tales of Poppy and of Frankie the Blind Girl, whom he rescued from a cruel father and with whom he went on a cross-country adventure. Schwab thinks Davey's stories will attract an audience for radio. Sure enough, David Quinn becomes famous as the Voice of the Prairie.

The play cross-cuts between scenes of Leon and David, and scenes of young Davey and Frankie on the lam in search of adventure. Davey and Frankie are separated when she is recognized and sent away. David has not seen nor heard from her since—until Leon locates her in hopes of using his discovery of the famous Frankie the Blind Girl for its sentimental value to keep the newly formed F.C.C. off his back.

"Will David forgive Frankie for Permits are required for open burning

Fire Chief Dave Bjorkman reminds residents that spring leaf burning is not allowed within the city limits of Thief River Falls, and that burning is allowed by permit only outside the city limits.

Leaf burning is permitted only from October 1- November 15. Spring leaf burning within the city limits is not allowed.

Any open burning outside the city limits is by permit only and it applies only to vegetative debris. The Thief River Falls fire department issues permits for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources in the five-town fire district.

Happy 90th birthday

Middle River — The city of Middle River will celebrate its 90th birthday during the Goose Festival this October.

The history of Middle River is a proud one. The town's official name in 1905 was Middle River City, because at that time, Argyle was named Middle River.

The theme of the festival will be "old west." The 6th - 8th grades are having a contest to design the festival button.

Teacher of the Year

Stephen — Mike Wysocki's peers chose him as teacher of the year. He is a 17 year veteran with a degree in mathematics, physical education and coaching.

He says a teacher needs patience, humor and enthusiasm. He said a good teacher must, "believe in structure while setting high expectations."

Mr. Wysocki is now a candidate for Minnesota teacher of the year.

Original ruling upheld

Oklee — On April 14, the Minnesota Supreme Court reversed an appellate court decision and upheld the original judgement of conviction in the State of Minnesota vs. Duane Lowell Parsley. Parsley was found guilty of first-degree involuntary manslaughter in the shooting death of Steven James Klasen which occurred in January of 1993.

An appeals court found Parsley guilty of second-degree culpably negligent manslaughter, but the Supreme court ruling reinstated the original conviction and sentence.

Companies to merge

Salol — Farmers Union Oil Company and the Salol Farmers Union Cooperative Elevator Association may merge so that they can deliver better service to their members. Directors of both boards are in favor of the idea.

An informal poll of Farmers Union shows members were split 50 -50 over the issue. Many members belong to both co-ops. Salol Co-op president Kelman Kvien says that the merger will provide better service and eliminate duplications.

Headed for State

Warren — Kaia Torgerson, a junior at Warren/Alverado/Oslo will compete in Stillwater at the state Speech tournament on Friday. Kaia competes in serious prose, interpreting a cut from "Night" by Elie Wiesel.

Kaia has tied for first twice this season, but lost the tie-breakers. The win at the Section 8A tournament is the first time she placed first all season.

Public hearings on commitment issues set

A supreme court task force has been formed to address civil commitment issues. A series of public meetings on this issue are also taking place around the state. So far, meetings have been held in the Twin Cities and Owatonna, Willmar and Duluth. The final hearing will be held on April 26 at the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls.

Site visits by the task force will also take place on the afternoon of the day of each scheduled meeting. Metro area site visits in May or June may include crisis intervention and residential programs.

For more information on the public hearings, contact Carolyn Schworer at (612) 297-7587.

FMS bands to present Spring Concert April 25

Franklin middle school sixth, seventh and eighth grade bands will present their annual spring concert Tuesday, April 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the new multi-purpose room of the school. This will be the first instrumental performance in new room which has chair seating for about 450 people and a performance stage.

"Although proper stage lighting and a sound system are future projects, we are very much looking forward to presenting our concert in this performance area," states Mike Lehrer, who will direct along with Bruce Felt and eighth grade student director Leah Kenner, who will direct her band in "Meadowlands," a Russian folk song.

Those attending the concert should enter the building through the south entrance across the parking lot from the tennis courts. Family, friends and general public are encouraged to attend. Admission is $2 for adults and students in grades 9-12 and $1 for students in grades K-8. Preschool children are admitted free.

Members of the bands include the following:

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle length. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

The saga of the failed cookies continues...Bernie Solberg from Gully called me this weekend to correct the amount of milk in the Chocolate Oatmeal Cookies she had in the Fosston cookbook. I am reprinting the entire recipe, along with a few other good cookie recipes.

This is the correct amount of milk -- good luck:

CHOCOLATE OATMEAL COOKIES

2 cups flour
2/3 cup cocoa
1 cup melted butter
3 cups quick oatmeal
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups sugar
2 eggs, beaten
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons vanilla

Sift dry ingredients together.

Mix butter, eggs, milk and vanilla. Combine with dry ingredients and fold in oatmeal.

Drop on cookie sheet and bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes.

These sound like Grandma's raisin cookies that I make, except they don't have the oatmeal. I undercook them a little so they get very soft after sitting a day:

BOILED RAISIN COOKIES

2 cups raisins
1 cup shortening
3 eggs
4 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup boiling water
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cloves

Add raisins to boiling water in saucepan and cook for 5 minutes. Cool.

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and flavorings. Beat fluffy. Add raisins and liquid and then dry ingredients.

Drop on greased sheet and bake at 350 degrees for 12-15 minutes.

Yummy raisin-filled cookies will fill up the cookie jar and the family:

OLD FASHIONED FILLED COOKIES

2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon vanilla
6 cups flour (approximately)
3 1/2 teaspoons cream of tartar
2 teaspoons soda (scant)
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk

Filling

3 cups raisins, ground
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1/4 cup chopped walnuts

Mix all ingredients and cook until thickened.

Cream sugar, eggs, shortening and vanilla.

Sift 5 cups of the flour, salt, cream of tartar and add to above mixture alternately with milk.

Add last cup of flour gradually to make soft dough. Chill thoroughly.

After dough is chilled, roll 1/8 inch thick on floured board. Using a 2 inch cookie cutter dipped in flour, cut rounds and place half of them on greased baking sheet, about 2 inches apart. Re-flour board between rollings, as dough is soft.

Place 1 heaping teaspoonful of filling on each circle and top with another circle of dough. Press edges with fingers or fork and prick top with fork.

Bake at 350 degrees for 10-12 minutes.

These cookies are different, but very tasty:

FRUIT COCKTAIL COOKIES

1 cup sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup shortening
3 eggs
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 (20 ounce) can fruit cocktail
3 1/2 cups flour

Mix all ingredients except fruit cocktail and flour.

Drain fruit cocktail and add fruit to mixture. Add flour and mix well.

Bake at 350 degrees until golden.

Volunteers

Recognition of 170 volunteers from Pennington, Polk, Norman and Marshall counties will be given at the 30th anniversary year banquet of Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, Inc., at noon on April 26 at the American Legion club rooms in Crookston.

Speakers will be Crookston Mayor Don Osbourne and Jenny Amon from Riverview Health Care in Crookston.

Summer 1995 Parks guide in Northern Watch

Thief River Falls Parks and Recreation department will distribute its Summer 1995 Parks and Recreation Guide in the April 29 edition of the Northern Watch.

The booklet and guide provides general information on policies and fees, a calendar of events, park information, special events, baseball, softball, hockey camp, specific park facilities and locations, various camps and other activities. It also provides specific policies on forestry, brush and sanitation pick up, and police and fire department policies. For example, brush pick up is on Mondays, and garbage pick up will be held the first week of June at the sanitation department. Readers will also find out how to properly store vehicles and furnishings, what the rules are for roller blading in the community, and that curfew for minors under 16 is from 11 p.m. to 5 a.m.

The booklet also provides information on the golf course, a calendar of events for the American Festival in Thief River Falls, and much more.

This useful guide will appear in the April 29 edition of the Northern Watch.

"MAKE HIM PART OF YOUR MORNING!"

Things aren't the same today as when Derry was a lad. While Derry was growing up on the farm, America was changing. Fifty years of farming, teaching, broadcasting and public speaking have given Derry a broad spectrum of views.

And Derry tells stories based on his own experiences. He's watched our farms grow larger as farmers moved away from the land. He has seen local stores close as shopping malls sprang up on the outskirts of town. He has watched the federal bureaucrats try to control every aspect of our free enterprise economy.

Derry discusses serious problems with a delightful sense of humor and a distinctive point of view harvested from a lifetime of personal business encounters. Derry's common sense yet witty broadcasts have entertained radio audiences for over 30 years.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Senator Roger Moe (DFL-Erskine) is sponsoring legislation known as S.F. 1602 which I think should be of great interest to property owners. This bill would require any state official who desired to enter private property to give notice to the owner or occupant of the property before the entry could be made, or as soon as possible thereafter. Any violation of this bill by a state official would be a misdemeanor.

Anyone interested in seeing this legislation become law should contact your State Representative and Senator and let them know what you think. If property owners can't make the decision who can and who cannot be on their property, they really don't have many rights in property at all.

While this legislation might leave a few things to be desired (like even stronger restrictions on state officials entering private property), I think it is a good start toward regaining some sort of balance of interests for the rights of property owners.

Sincerely,
Vern Parks
Solway, Minnesota

To The Editor:

We are writing in response to the article from the discontented petitioners in the Middle River school district. Currently we are raising five children on a mere 4.3 acres in [illegible] land is well [illegible] township as it [illegible] petition. We did [illegible] we had been [illegible] could not have signed it. How many legitimate [illegible] on the list are like us, [illegible] kids out to look [illegible] had signed?"

Four of our children attend the Middle River school and three now attend the Greenbush high school. They are all doing very well. Due to the open enrollment we left the choice to the kids as to where they wanted to attend school. They quickly established lasting friendships in Greenbush and have adapted well.

The kids have never complained about the bus ride to Greenbush and for us it's not any farther than to Newfolden. Our kids are getting an excellent education and their grades and self-esteem are improved since joining with Greenbush. Our kids are happy and that is what is important to us.

The radical petitioners sound as though they have forgotten that the Middle River school is still open! By joining the Newfolden school district, tax dollars would be taken from the students still going to Middle River. Don't they matter any more? Don't you feel a tinge of guilt knowing you would be taking money from the kids in your own district and giving it to Newfolden!

Everyone would like a tax break, but are you willing to sacrifice the Middle River students in the process? This decision should not be left up to out-of-district landowners, speculators or folks who no longer have students in school.

The bickering about the school has got to stop! It has caused a rift between many a friend. It seems the parents have more problems joining than do the students. We should be able to send our kids to the school of their choice without worrying about offending our neighbors.

Think about what the kids want for a change and set an example, stop making trouble!

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the S.T.S crew that picked 21 bags of cans, bottles etc., in the ditch from the Casino to Highway 59 (three-quarters of a mile) on April 18.

I wonder how many (bags of garbage) there would have been with no water in ditches.

Too bad the stooges that throw the cans out of their windows don't have the common sense to fill up their own bags, which they complain they pay too much for anyway.

Sincerely,
Barb Rahn

Tips For Students Attending Prom and Graduation Celebrations

In Wednesday's edition of The Times, we listed some suggested rules for parents of students attending proms and graduation celebrations as provided by the Minnesota Safe and Sober organization. Today's suggestions are from the same organization but directed to the young people who do the attending.

"The number one rule," the organization suggests, "—don't use alcohol." Tips to avoid situations that could put young people in jeopardy are listed as follows:

(1) Plan your night well in advance. Don't wait until you're at the prom to decide where you'll go afterward. By planning ahead, you can make sure you and your date won't wind up in a situation you don't want to be in.

(2) Avoid parties where you know alcohol will be served. Avoid "keggers" and other parties in which alcohol is the main focus. Most importantly, don't put yourself, your date or your friends in the position of having to make a choice about alcohol use.

(3) If your school has an all-night party, attend that. The number of people and the things to do will ultimately be more fun than a house party.

(4) If you go to a party where alcohol is being served, leave. Peer pressure is sometimes tough to handle.

(5) Never get into a car with a driver who has been drinking. Always know how you'll get to and from the party. If the person you rode with is drinking, don't leave with him or her. Instead, call your parents or a cab, or ride with a sober driver.

(6) Always wear your seat belt. It's the law. And make sure all your friends have theirs on, too.

(7) Always carry extra money with you to arrange an alternate ride home. Before you leave, make sure you have a quarter and cab fare with you at all times in case you need to call home or catch a cab for a ride.

(8) Remember, if you're under age 21 and you've been drinking, you could be arrested. You can also be cited for possessing or attempting to purchase alcohol, carrying or lending a false identification, providing alcoholic beverages to other people under age 21, and more.

If You're Going To Make A Mistake, Might As Well Make A Big One.....

Thank goodness some people are tolerant of other people's human frailties—it sure makes apologizing for a mistake a lot easier.

In preparing a story regarding petitioning in the Middle River school district late last week, we "re-did" a couple of township maps which we had received to give them a better appearance in print than the original hand done version. It was a late night project before publication day, but we thought we had been careful to follow the original map and to re-check the new work against the old section by section.

As recounted in a public apology elsewhere in this issue, there were apparently at least a couple of mistakes made, one by us and one by those who marked the original maps. Both involved indicating on the map that persons who had not signed the petition were signers. The error by the petitioners was bad enough, in that it improperly labeled non-signers as supporters, and we followed out that error in the map we reproduced.

Our error was worse. Not only did it improperly identify a piece of property as petitioned to be detached from the Middle River school district, that piece of property is the residence site of the chairman of the district's board of education!

Some people might find the coincidence or irony in that kind of mistake to be amusing. We don't....and we don't think that Clayton Troskey, the school board chairman innocently involved, did either. Nor could we blame him for failing to find humor in the situation, given the circumstances. He is, however, understanding, and we appreciate that. Our apologies are sincere.

If a person is going to make a mistake, it might as well be a big one.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Historic Depot Pancake breakfast

Pancake breakfast April 30 at Eagles is final fundraiser

The Historic Depot Preservation committee will sponsor a "Save the Depot Finale and Pancake Breakfast" Sunday, April 30 from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Eagles Hall in Thief River Falls.

This is the last chance for the community to donate to the Save the Depot campaign. The final deadline on the offer to purchase the depot from Soo Railroad is April 30. A free-will offering will be accepted at the breakfast.

The community has raised about $125,000 in actual donations. The City of Thief River Falls has also received approval of a grant application from the Minnesota historical society, and it is trying to secure approval of a grant application for federal Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act funds. If those grants are secured it could bring the total over the project goal of $200,000. A benefactor has also pledged to match everything up to $200,000.

Don Stewart, community development director, said he expects that the city council will be asked to purchase the building at its next city council meeting, which is scheduled for Tuesday, April 25.

The committee sends its thanks and appreciation to everyone in the community who has helped make this such a successful campaign.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT
JIM OLSON
OPTICIAN

PARENTS ATTITUDE VITAL

Ten-year old Johnnie had trouble seeing the blackboard. He did poorly at little league baseball. He couldn't focus on the moving ball. An eye examination indicated that Johnnie needed corrective glasses. In a few days Johnnie came home wearing his first pair of glasses. As he entered the front door, Johnnie's father showed obvious disappointment that Johnnie was wearing glasses. This negative attitude was devastating to Johnnie's self-esteem.

The greatest problems encountered with children who wear glasses originate from parents—not children. Children are quite willing and sometimes even eager to wear glasses. They are quick to understand that glasses will allow them better vision and thus give them an easier time at school and at play. The idea that there is something wrong is usually picked up from their parents.

Advice: Try not to express disappointment in your child's presence if glasses are indicated. For the sake of the child, try to be positive about the visual benefits glasses will afford.

Two sentenced on drug conspiracy

Karl Heinrichs, formerly of Thief River Falls and currently living in Brooklyn Park, was sentenced Tuesday to seven and one-half years in prison. Another individual, Andrew Windt, Fargo, was sentenced to two and one-half years in prison. The two were sentenced for their involvement in a conspiracy to distribute and possess with the intent to distribute methamphetamine and marijuana.

Windt and Heinrichs had each pled guilty earlier to the conspiracy which occurred from July 1992 until November 1994 within the states of North Dakota, Minnesota and California.

United States District Court Chief Judge Rodney S. Webb sentenced Heinrichs to 90 months imprisonment to be followed by five years of supervised release. Heinrichs was also ordered to pay a $5,000 fine and a $50 special assessment to the Crime Victims Fund.

Chief Judge Webb sentenced Windt to 30 months imprisonment to be followed by three years of supervised release. Windt was also ordered to pay a $50 special assessment to the Crime Victims Fund.

The case was investigated by the Red River Valley Drug Task Force, which includes the Drug Enforcement Administration, Internal Revenue Service, Cass County Sheriff's department, Clay County Sheriff's department, Fargo Police department, and Moorhead Police department. The Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension and the North Dakota Bureau of Criminal Investigation also assisted in the investigation.

Assistant United States Attorney Keith Reisenauer prosecuted the case.

Small Business Mgt. to close

Meeting in special session through interactive television Thursday evening, the board of Northwest Technical College affirmed its previous vote to close the Small Business Management Program.

The board also voted to transfer the farm management and specialty crops management programs to Northland Community and Technical College (NCTC) in Thief River Falls with partial funding.

The transfer would involve only instructional funding with no transfer of funds for administration. No decision has been made by NCTC as to whether it would accept the programs without full funding.

Under terms of the transfer, farm management instructors would remain in their communities of Detroit Lakes, Bemidji and Moorhead in addition to Thief River Falls but the program would be administered through NCTC.

After prom party at Elks

Thief River Falls Elks Lodge and the Women of the Elks have made arrangements for an after prom party to begin at 11:30 p.m. Saturday, April 22, and end at 3:30 a.m. Sunday, April 23. All junior and senior class members from Lincoln high school and their dates are invited to participate.

More than 80 business places and organizations have contributed to the event with cash and/or prizes which will be given away during the evening. Some of the cash donations have been combined to purchase a grand prize to be awarded in a drawing at the end of the party.

Members of the Elks organizations express their appreciation to the community for support in this and prior years and encourage those attending the prom to join in the fun of the after prom event.

Author to speak at church

Pastor David R. Barnhart of Melbourne, FL, director of Abiding Word Ministries, will speak at the Free Lutheran Church of Roseau, located one mile east of Roseau on Highway 11, on April 23-26. Evening services are at 7 p.m., and Monday through Wednesday Bible studies are at 10 a.m.

Barnhart is the author of several books and is the editor of a newsletter that reaches all 50 states and several foreign countries.

Woodcrafters to meet Mon.

Northland Woodcrafters will meet Monday, April 24, at 7 p.m. in the Occupational Development Center on highway 32 south in Thief River Falls.

All persons interested in making items from wood are invited to attend and to bring items they have made for display and discussion at the meeting.

Veterans Service office to close

Pennington county Veterans Service office will be closed Monday through Wednesday, April 24-26, while service officer John Ellison attends the DVA/CVSO spring conference in Fargo, ND.

The conference is conducted by the Minnesota Department of Veterans Affairs and the Veterans Administration Medical Center/Regional office in Fargo, ND.

Singles group at Fosston to meet Sunday

April meeting of the Singles Christian Fellowship Assembly will take place Sunday, April 23, at 3 p.m. at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston. Special guests will be the Gordon Engebretson family which is home on furlough from Zambia, Africa.

A short business meeting will be held and a potluck supper at 5 p.m. will conclude the meeting. All single adults are invited to participate.

CORRECTION

In the last Wednesday's edition of The Times, the news report discussing the new curfew law in Thief River Falls incorrectly stated that it applied to children 16 and under. The ordinance specifies that it applies to children under the age of 16. The Times regrets the error.

Red Lake County out-scores TRF

Nathan Martell finished off a high scoring high school baseball matchup Thursday with a grand slam home run in the bottom of the sixth inning that lifted Red Lake County past Thief River Falls 16-14.

It was the second big offensive outing of the week for the Prowlers, who opened their 1995 season Monday with a 11-2 win over Badger/Greenbush-Middle River. But this time the Thief River Falls defense sabotaged the offense with eight errors.

"Our bats were hot again, but we played defense on our heels," reported Thief River Falls coach Dean Woodman.

Adam Henney had a three-run fourth inning home run for the Prowlers, while Nick Chiodo and Nathan Anderson both had two hits. Brian Gervais was 2-for-2 for the Red Lake Falls/Oklee/Plummer cooperative.

Derrick McFarlane, the third of four pitchers used by Woodman, took the loss. Aaron Ehrenstrom was the starter, with Rob Stock, McFarlane and Mike Bauman pitching in relief.

"Aaron pitched well," said Woodman. "He kept the ball low and had them hitting it on the ground."

But the Prowlers couldn't make the plays on defense. And both sides had trouble with a tight strike zone that led to 25 walks – 14 issued by Thief River Falls pitchers and 11 by Red Lake County.

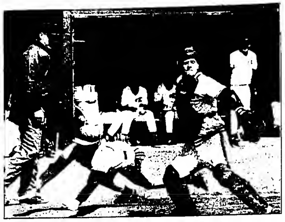
TRF JV wins pair of softball games

Thief River Falls was an 8-5, 13-2 winner over Crookston Tuesday in a season-opening junior varsity high school softball doubleheader.

Sara Rasmussen and Sam Hjelle were both 3-for-3 in the opener. Rasmussen was the winning pitcher in Game 1; Stephanie Leach was the winning pitcher in Game 2.



Brainerd catcher Matt Biehn had already stepped on the plate to force out Northland base runner Chris Shawstad as he positioned himself for a throw to first base in an attempt to complete a bases-loaded, no-out double play in the fourth inning of Wednesday's community college baseball doubleheader opener in Thief River Falls. Umpire Mike Drury looked on.

Brainerd home runs beat NCC

Brainerd used the long ball to beat Northland twice Wednesday in a Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division doubleheader 5-1 and 7-6.

The Raiders went home with two wins and a 6-2 record thanks to five home runs. The Pioneers, after four consecutive doubleheader splits to start the year, fell to 4-6.

Mike Nelson led the long ball-hitting Brainerd attack with three home runs. He was 3-for-3 in the opener with a home run and a triple, and stroked home runs in his first two at-bats in Game 2.

Without that kind of power, Northland has to string singles and doubles together for runs. But even bunching hits doesn't guarantee runs for the Pioneers, who collected eight singles in the first three innings of the opener, yet had just one run to show for it.

Three first inning singles failed to produce a run, and a lead-off hit in the second didn't lead to anything, either. Finally, after loading the bases with nobody out in the third, a runner trotted home on a drive to left field by Josh Stromlund.

All that work was washed out, however, on solo home runs by Nelson in the second and Ben Houle in the fourth inning.

Brainerd iced it in the sixth on RBI singles by Chris Clemensen and Nelson, along with a run-scoring sacrifice fly by Tim Shereck.

Brainerd got to Northland Game 2 starter Jamie Jack for six hits and three runs in the top of the first inning, including a two-run home run by Nelson, who added a solo shot in the third – his fifth straight hit of the day – for a 4-0 lead.

However, four Brainerd errors in the bottom of the inning led to three Northland runs, and the Pioneers went ahead 6-4 in the fifth on an RBI double by Josh Stromlund and a run-scoring single by Mike Steen. But Northland left the bases loaded, and paid for it when Brainerd came up with a game-winning 3-run seventh inning.

A lead-off error opened the gate for the Raiders in their final at-bat. Stromlund came on in relief of Jack with one out and promptly recorded a strike-out. But Derek Schmeck hit an RBI double and Clemensen followed with a two-run home run for the win.

The two losses all but eliminated Northland from earning a mid-season berth in the NJCAA Region 13 tournament, but the Pioneers are still in the race for a post-season MCCC state tournament spot. Top two teams in the Northern Division standings at the midway mark of the regular season are regional qualifiers. Top three finishers in the final regular season standings advance to state tournament play.

"The kids played hard," said Northland coach Terry Wiseth after the double setback. "If we play like that the rest of the year, we'll win more games than we'll lose."

Brainerd	010	103	0 -	5	10	0
Northland	001	000	0 -	1	9	1

NCC - Greg Lien (LP). David Blazek, Josh Stromlund, Joe Alexander were all 2/3.

BCC - Dean Lapen (WP). Mike Nelson 3/3 with a home run and triple. Ben Houle 2/4 with a home run.

Brainerd	301	000	3 -	7	6	6
Northland	003	030	0 -	6	5	3

NCC - Jamie Jack, Josh Stromlund (7-LP).

BCC - Mike Hetland, Chris Haasser (5-WP). Mike Nelson 2/3 with a home run and 3 RBI. Chris Clemensen 2/4 with a home run, double and 2 RBI.

Pioneers softball...

Northland opens with doubleheader setback

Nine Northland Community College errors helped fuel the University of Minnesota-Crookston offense Tuesday as the Trojans swept the host Pioneers 19-6 and 17-8 in nonconference softball.

It was the 1995 season opener for the Pioneers, who had little outside work because of the weather, prior to the twinbill.

"I was a little disappointed in our pitching," reported Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "I thought we would have been a little better. But it was the first time out, and the kids were a little nervous."

UMC combined 17 hits with 4 Northland errors in Game 1, then used 9 hits and 5 more Northland errors in Game 2 to complete the sweep.

The Trojans, who turned an 11-5 game into a five-inning win with seven runs in their final two at-bats in the opener, used an 11-run first inning to quickly decide the nightcap. Six hits, three errors, three

Prowlers run in first outdoor meet

Weather conditions were less than ideal Monday as the Thief River Falls boys and girls high school track teams competed in their first outdoor meet of the 1995 season.

Cold temperatures, rain and wind greeted the competitors at the Park Rapids Invitational, but it didn't stop the Prowlers from turning in a strong performance, according to head coach Tim Olson. "It was a miserable day weather-wise, but our kids ran well," he said. "Our relays really ran well."

The host Panthers won both portions of the meet. Park Rapids boys finished with 174 points, followed by Fergus Falls with 88, Detroit Lakes 68, Thief River Falls 66, Wadena 45, Win-E-Mac 15, and Northome/Kelliher 2. Park Rapids girls collected 139 points, followed by Thief River Falls with 96, Detroit Lakes 86, Win-E-Mac 53, Fergus Falls 45, Wadena 24, and Northome/Kelliher 19.

Thief River Falls boys received first place performances from seniors Steve Bursie and Mark Spyhalski in the 200 meters and shot put, respectively.

There were three first place finishes by the Thief River Falls girls – junior Lisa Swanson in the 800, sophomore Kate Ihle in the 1600 and the 4x800 relay team of Ihle, Swanson, seventh grader Emily Mugaas, and freshman Becky Mooney.

The first outdoor meet of the year for the Prowlers followed five indoor outings. They will be at the East Grand Forks Invitational Tuesday beginning at 4 p.m.

Eagles surprised by success

A Section 8A runner-up finish by the 1994-95 Grygla-Gatzke boys high school basketball team caught most people by surprise – including the coach.

"It was a surprise," acknowledged Eagles coach Vern Johnson. "In the preseason polls, five or six of the 11 schools in the sub-section were considered contenders, and we weren't one of them. But I had no trouble with that. We hadn't done anything to warrant consideration. It was a big surprise to a lot of people in the area that we won. They're still shaking their heads...including the coach."

The magical season, which produced the school's first-ever post-season title, started inconspicuously as the Eagles lost five of their first seven games. But then came a nine-game winning streak that led to a 13-2 regular season-ending run.

And in a not-soon-to-be-forgotten Section 8A Sub-Section 4 tournament at Northland Community College, Grygla-Gatzke racked up wins over Kittson Central 60-45, Marshall County Central 64-61 and Tri-County 48-37 to advance into Section 8A play at the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

The surprises continued when the Eagles upset Bagley 57-52 in the opening round semifinal before the bubble burst in a 69-52 championship game loss to Fertile-Beltrami.

There was no one signal, said Johnson, that indicated a title-winning campaign for the Eagles except for the fact they were able to play with and beat established programs like Marshall County Central, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River and Kittson Central through the course of the regular season.

Even then, Johnson wasn't sure how long the Eagles' season would last. "Before the first tournament game, someone asked me how I thought we would do," he said. "I told him I had no idea. I told him we could win it all, or we could lose our first game."

The undersized Eagles used a fast break offense and pressure defense to advance in tournament play.

"We played well together as a team," noted Johnson. "I didn't think we played that well offensively in the tournaments, but we played good team defense, and defense gets you as far as you can go in the tournament."

A well-balanced outfit, Grygla-Gatzke's bench provided minutes for 8-10 players most nights. "Our depth was a key," said Johnson. "We didn't rely on one or two kids. We had six-seven kids who were capable of scoring 20 points any given night."

It was a fun tournament run, said Johnson. "We enjoyed the heck out of it," he offered. "We didn't let the pressure get to us until the final game. Then I think it finally hit the kids – they were one game away from state. Reality suddenly set in."

Graduation will take four of the Eagles' top nine players, including Jeremy Verbout, Denny Warne, Kevin Warne, and Tony Mosher. But those returning include starters Jamie Lunsetter and Scott Hoganson, along with Shaun Verbout, often the first player off the bench this winter.

Magers earns award

Sarah Magers, a Mayville State University senior from Plummer, has been selected as a 1994-95 NAIA Division II women's basketball All-American Scholar Athlete.

Magers, a guard on the Comets' basketball team, carries a 3.59 GPA in business administration. She is a member of the scholastic honor society Alpha Phi Sigma, a residence hall assistant, and was one of seven MSU students named to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges in 1995.

Wildlife food plot seeds

Those interested in planting a food plot for wildlife are invited to attend the Thursday, April 27, meeting of the Thief River Falls Chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association.

Bags of corn seed, sunflower seed and small packets of various nutritional crops for the deer herd of northwestern Minnesota will be distributed to those attending the 7 p.m. meeting at the Eagles Club.

Boys Basketball Camp scheduled to be held at LHS

Fourth annual Thief River Falls Boys Basketball Camp, directed by Lincoln High School head boys basketball coach Scott Brekke, will be held June 5-8.

The camp is designed for boys who were in grades 1-9 during the 1994-95 school year. Camp sessions for grades 1-4 will be held at Challenger Elementary School. Grades 5-9 will meet at Lincoln High School – grades 5-6 in the main gym and grades 7-9 in the auxiliary gym.

Camp sessions for grades 1-2 will be held from 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Grades 3-9 will be on the court from 5:30 p.m. to 8:15 p.m.

Registration fee is $35, which includes a regulation-size basketball, camp T-shirt, certificate, and refreshments. Registration deadline is May 19.

For registration material write to Scott Brekke, Activities Office, Lincoln High School, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Crookston sweeps TRF softball squad

Crookston combined 27 hits with 22 walks and seven Thief River Falls errors to win a 24-2, 14-8 high school softball doubleheader Tuesday.

It was the 1995 season opener for both teams.

Losing pitcher Jamie Lemonte surrendered 18 hits and issued 13 walks in the opener that was 24-0 before the host Prowlers picked up a pair of runs in the bottom of the fifth.

"Jamie was a little too excited and had trouble finding the strike zone," pointed out Thief River Falls coach John Anderson.

Second-game Thief River Falls pitcher Sarah Huschle fared a little better, giving up nine hits and nine walks, but four Thief River Falls errors supplied the Pirates with additional scoring opportunities.

"A better pitching effort, but we threw the ball around too much," noted Anderson after Game 2 in which the winners overcame an 8-7 deficit by scoring seven runs in their final two at-bats.

The play will be held 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday, April 27 and 28, and at 2 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30, at the college theater.

MR school board meets goals

school in academics and co-curricular activities and faculty members have been working cooperatively to make the system work for students.

A great deal of pride is taken by the Middle River board and administration in the leadership role the district has taken in availing itself of technological advancements and utilizing this technology in the education of students. Interactive television permitting several schools to have collective instruction or to be in with post high school institutions in the area has been in place for some time. Updating of the school wiring system to provide building-wide access to the Internet is a more recent action.

Action Followed Much Study

While the board is not surprised that opposition to the pairing and consolidation with Greenbush has surfaced in its district, present board members maintain that neither the pairing in 1992 nor the consolidation election in November of 1994 were hasty actions. Preliminary discussions have been held for many years and at least 23 open meetings or hearings have taken place since November of 1990 at which potential district actions have been topics of discussion.

A planning committee was formed in 1991 following an open invitation to the public to volunteer as a member. The board made a special effort in appointing the committee to have representation from throughout the district geographically as well as various ages and interests.

Committee Given Guidelines

A number of guidelines were given to the planning committee for its investigation and deliberation. It was asked to convey ideas to, and gather opinions from, as many friends, neighbors and school district constituents as possible; to keep and open mind and consider all possible aspects of ideas before an opinion was formed; and to be willing to recognize and accept state laws and restrictions regarding education.

The committee held a number of meetings with several area school districts to discuss problems and potential solutions through cooperative efforts. It also sought information from the Minnesota Department of Education and met with Norm Chaffee from that department in the fall of 1991 in regard to state funding, expected requirements, the views of the Commissioner of Education on school sizes and merging of districts, and other educational issues.

Committee reports were given to the school board at its public meetings periodically and the committee discussed its findings and recommendations with the public directly at a special meeting in March of 1992.

Best Course Of Action

As a result of the committee's study and recommendation, and the school board's own determination of public sentiment in what would be the best course of action for the district, pairing with the Greenbush school was adopted March 26, 1992 and the agreement signed about three months later. Cooperative classes in the two districts started that fall.

In the fall of 1993 the board began asking additional public input in regard to further action. One of these input tools was a survey asking residents their opinions of several potential actions. Three of the questions dealt with possible actions involving the Greenbush district—continued pairing, consolidation, or cooperation and combination (C&C), a similar step to consolidation.

Provision was also made for noting other preferences or suggestions. Opponents to consolidation point out that only seven of the forms returned favored consolidation and 54 favored continued pairing. Board members point out that 37 also favored C&C with the Greenbush district while very few who returned survey forms showed any interest in pursuing actions with other districts.

Take Advantage Of New Law

They also note that the action to consolidate was accelerated by state legislation which made consolidation more desirable. Rationale for this was presented to the residents of the district in an informational packet titled: "Consolidation: Why Now Instead of Later?" State incentive money of $300 per pupil unit for consolidation was made available through new legislation secured by Sen. LeRoy Stumpf but it was not known how long that incentive might continue to be available.

Fiscal responsibility to the residents of the district has also been a major board concern while considering all options. Middle River has retired the last of its bonded indebtedness and the Greenbush district has a fund balance.

Tax rate in the Middle River district for 1994 (taxes payable in 1995) stood at 96.779—second highest to Badger in five northwestern Minnesota counties. Greenbush district tax rate was 55.257. Combining the two districts will substantially lower the Middle River district's rate.

Goals Are Being Met

"We believe this board and previous boards have given long and hard study to realistically assess the position of our district, projections for its future and options available in all conceivable directions," states Clayton Troskey, chairman of the Middle River board of education.

"Through this investigation and deliberation we have tried to involve as many of the district's residents as would participate in the process. We have provided forums for expression of opinion and been open and public in our actions.

"It is unfortunate that we have been unable to satisfy the desires of all of the residents of the district, but we recognize that is impossible. All indications to this time are that the results of our decisions and the response by the majority of voters in our district are positive.

"Educationally, things are going well for our students. Financially, we are going to be in better condition than we were before. And our local school is being productively utilized as a vital part of our community. As much as it is possible, our goals are being met."

therefore offers substantially better learning conditions for the students at a lesser cost.

"e. Independent School District No. 441 is able to provide substantial offerings to students while maintaining a lower tax rate."

Following the questions and discussion, chairman Troskey called for a voice vote which unanimously favored the motion for the present board to not consider the petitions.

He then asked Halme what he wished to have done with the petitions, and Halme said he would take them back. Troskey returned the folder to him.

The Middle River and Greenbush boards will be merged into a single board for the consolidated district after July 1. It will be reduced in size over a period of several years to six or seven members.

Army Band and Soldiers' Chorus

United States Army Field Band and the Soldiers' Chorus will be featured in a free public performance Sunday, April 23, at Lysaker gymnasium at the University of Minnesota—Crookston.

The band is the official touring musical organization of the U.S. Army and the chorus is the "voice" of the field band.

Free tickets were made available in advance through orders taken by the Crookston Area Chamber of Commerce. A limited number of tickets will be available at the door.

Christian music concert inWarren

Rod Eastman of Roseau will be presenting a concert of Christian music at the Evangelical Covenant Church in Warren on Sunday, April 30 at 6 p.m.

Rod grew up in Roseau, received a B.A. in music from Gustavus Adolphus College and spent two years in full-time youth ministry. He has been ministering as a Christian singer and speaker since 1985 and focuses on the local region within a one hundred mile radius of Roseau.

His musical style includes a mix of contemporary, inspirational and traditional. Many of the songs he preforms are from well-known contemporary artists including Steven Curtis Chapman, Larnelle Harris, Steve Green, and Steve Camp.

Young and old alike will be inspired and blessed by Rod's music and message. This event is part of the church's Spring Offerfest. The public is invited to attend.

Talk of tanks

Hallock — Kittson county commissioners agreed to solicit quotes from area contractors and advice on the process of removing underground fuel storage tanks from the former Lake Bronson Creamery site.

Because the property is tax-forfeit and there by administered by the county, it Is the county's responsibility to remove the tanks, but the general clean-up of the area is the city's responsibility.

It is not known at this time If the surrounding soil is contaminated. If it is, the state would reimburse the city for clean-up costs.

Jobs Inc. hears viewpoints from industry

Representatives from four local industries presented reports at the annual meeting of Jobs Incorporated of Thief River Falls April 18 at the Evergreen Eating Emporium.

Presenting the reports were Paul Nelson of Hartz Foods, Ron Ray of Arctco, Inc., Russ Christianson of Northern Pride, Inc. and Steve Tsukichi of Digi-Key Corporation.

Reelected to the board of directors were David Beito, Stan Upham and John Tofte. President David Strong presided at the meeting and announced that vice president Art Tranby would serve as president for the coming year. Roy Lunde is secretary-treasurer of the organization and presented the financial report at the meeting.

Although the reports from industry were generally positive and optimistic in nature, recurring problems were again brought to the fore-front, including the need for trained and qualified employees in several specialized areas and the availability of adequate, affordable housing.

Paul Nelson, who has been president of Hartz Foods for 17 months, said that all areas of the wholesale food distributorship have been revamped and that changes in the Hartz Trucking operation are now being considered.

He said the truck line is undergoing an expansion and in June or July of this year will have 18 instead of 12 rigs. Emphasis has been placed on the Take 5 convenience store concept and supplying a line of food items to convenience stores. Nelson said his goal is to have all assets of the business performing profitably.

Ron Ray, vice president of manufacturing for Arctco, said the expectations of that company will be to add 100 to 150 people to its staff this year with a third manufacturing line to be added in the plant.

Steve Tsukichi, vice president of Marketing for Digi-Key, noted that there were 487 employees on the company payroll at the end of 1994 and that number is expected to reach 590 by the end of 1995. The intelligent conveyor system is being expanded into the new three-story building addition which is nearing completion.

Tsukichi said Digi-Key believes the community offers a good education system and a good choice of community events and activities for its employees. Its concerns for the future lie with availability of affordable housing and daycare for children of employees.

Russ Christianson, general manager of Northern Pride, Inc., said that the local turkey processing cooperative, now in its seventh year since purchasing the plant from Land O'Lakes Cooperative, is the 25th largest processor of turkeys in the United States. He said that the turkey industry has always been a

Norris Camp will remain open

A decision that Norris Camp remain open as headquarters for the Red Lake Wildlife Management Area, including the retention of its current staffing pattern, has been announced by Paul T. Swenson, regional administrator for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources at Bemidji.

Swenson announced his decision Thursday following deliberation after receipt of correspondence and four public comment meetings held during the first week of April at Warroad, Baudette, Thief River Falls and St. Paul.

"The result of the public comment is that overwhelming, if not unanimous, support prevailed for maintaining the facility at Norris Camp in its present capacity," Swenson's statement notes.

"In addition, internal reports and evaluations, projected costs, new technology, improved telephone service, recent office staffing decisions at Wannaska and Warroad and a substantial upgrade to the road system in recent years to and around Norris Camp support the retention of Norris Camp as the headquarters for wildlife operations."

Findings (in summary) indicate that (1) all public responses strongly support continued staffing and operation; (2) Norris Camp is historically significant; (3) the area has a history of utilization by large numbers of sportsmen and other users; (4) present staffing supplies important elements for efficient resource management, customer service, public safety and security for historic and public facilities; and (5) the benefits for co-location with other state facilities 35 miles away are limited and outweighed by the benefits resulting from continued staffing and operation of the Norris Camp facility.

Swenson also issued the following recommendations:

(1) That Norris Camp staff continue to work closely with volunteers, the State Historic Preservation Office, local units of government and special interest groups for the purpose of preserving and interpreting the historical and natural significance of the camp and area.

(2) That a plan be developed by the Area Wildlife staff, in consultation with local interests and the regional buildings and grounds supervisor, describing the long range maintenance of the facilities including short term and long term needs.

(3) That the Section of Wildlife continue to coordinate with the division of Forestry in order to keep current with the needed technological infrastructure for maintaining good communication, sharing of information and to accommodate efficient decision making between their respective offices.

(4) That opportunities for the use of the Red Lake Wildlife Management Area and Norris Camp facilities for environmental learning experiences be promoted.

(5) The the Norris Camp staff take steps to establish a "support group" of interested citizens and organizations that can assist in the preservation and promotion of Norris Camp.

The decision to retain the present functions was one of three options under consideration. The others were to move the entire Section of Wildlife operations, including staff and equipment, to Warroad and abandon the Norris Camp site, or to maintain support staff and equipment at Norris Camp and transfer the Wildlife supervisor to Warroad.

Scout Exposition here Sunday

Nearly 20 units are expected to participate Sunday, April 30, when the annual Voyageur Trails District Boy Scout Exposition is held from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center on the fairgrounds in Thief River Falls. The exposition is sponsored by the District Activity Committee of the Northern Lights Council.

"Character Counts" is the theme of this year's exposition, according to Art Heinze, chairman of the event.

"This year's three-hour show will have a large variety of activity for children of all ages," Heinze said. "It is designed to demonstrate to the public some of the wide variety of scout skills that the boys can learn and/or participate in."

Heinze said that the Cubs and Scouts have been enthusiastically preparing their displays for the show and are looking forward to active participation from the public. He further stated that this year's exposition will have a large number of action displays involving most of the booths where spectators can actually participate in the activities.

Units may set up their booths between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Sunday, April 30, the day of the exposition. Admission to the event is free since scouts sold candy bars earlier to cover the expenses of the expo. Everyone is invited to come to the civic center to see scouting in action or actually participate in the fun.

Thief River Falls morning Kiwanis Club is providing the volunteer help needed to set up the exposition booths and clean up after the show.

A list of units registered to participate, their leader's name, town and theme of the booth activity are as follows:

Roseau area toddler diagnosed with fatal disease

17-month old Libertie, daughter of Kim and Bob Traxler, of Roseau has been diagnosed with Tay-Sachs disease. The Knights of Columbus are organizing a fund raising drive for Libertie's family.

by Elizabeth Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

"We have our okay days and our bad days," says Kim Traxler. "Today is an okay day." Kim and Bob Traxler of Roseau were recently told that their 17-month-old daughter, Libertie, has Tay-Sachs disease.

The disease is most common among people of Eastern European Jewish or French Canadian descent, but it is rare that people outside these ethnic groups carry the disease. The Traxlers are a rare case; only one in one-half million people of non-Jewish descent are born with Tay-Sachs. In fact, Libertie is the only child in Minnesota currently diagnosed with the disease.

Libertie developed like a normal baby for her first few months. She started sitting up at six months and had lots of dexterity by seven months. However, by nine months she still had not started to crawl and Kim became concerned. She talked to a co-worker at REM who said not to worry unless Libertie got to be 14 months old and was still not walking. In December, she did take some steps with help from Kim and Bob, but something still seemed wrong.

The Traxlers took Libertie to the doctor in Roseau for a well-baby check. The doctor did a mantoux test and gave the Traxlers some exercises to do with Libertie, but the exercises caused a lot of pain for Libertie. When she went back for a check-up in January, the doctor said she looked different and suggested that the Traxlers take her to a doctor in Grand Forks. He thought she might have Cerebral Palsy, but he wanted a second opinion.

In Grand Forks the doctors ordered bone and eye tests. It was the eye doctor who noticed the cherry red dots on her retinas, a sign of Tay-Sachs.

At this point, the Traxlers were told to go to the Twin Cities for more blood tests and eye exams. On March 14, Libertie was diagnosed with the fatal disease.

"It was such a shock at first," said Kim. "We were there 10 to 15 minutes when they told us." They were given a lot of information on the disease and learned of a support group called the Tay-Sachs Foundation. They can call people from the foundation for information and support, but they are all located out east. Kim and Bob wish there was a group near by where they can go and talk about what they are feeling.

Libertie has physical therapy three times a week, swims once a week, and receives occupational therapy at the Roseau Community School. She is not able to walk or crawl, and as the disease progresses, her abilities will regress. Doctors say her hearing will deteriorate and she will go blind. Kim and Bob are glad to report that so far she has not had any seizures which are common at this stage of the disease. To check her regression, Libertie must be taken to the doctor in Grand Forks every two months.

Children with Tay-Sachs usually die between the ages of three to five years. Libertie is not expected to live for much more than a year. Kim cut back her hours working at REM from full-time to part-time, so she would have more time to spend with her daughter.

There is no known cure for Tay-Sachs disease. It is a genetic disorder which progressively destroys the nervous system. By age one, children experience convulsions as the brain's ability to function diminishes. The child begins to regress and loses skills one by one. Eventually the child is blind, mentally retarded, and paralyzed.

Because the disease is passed on through a recessive gene, both of the child's parents must be carriers in order for the child to have Tay-Sachs. The chances of two carriers producing a child with Tay-Sachs are one in four; the chance of having a child who is a carrier is 50 per cent. The chance of having a child who neither has Tay-Sachs nor is a carrier is four to one. A blood test will tell if parents are carriers.

Although there are no Tay-Sachs support groups in the area, the Traxlers are not alone. Kim's parents, Oben and Sandy Sunsdahl live in Thief River Falls and Bob's mother, Anne Traxler, lives in Plummer. They have also received lots of support from the Roseau community.

Kim's co-worker, Gwen Hasson, has been particularly helpful. She started fund raising for the Traxlers because the cost for medical care for the child can be up to $100,000 per year. Gwen's husband, Doug, and the Knights of Columbus have also organized a fund raising drive for the Traxlers. A few weeks ago, the Knights held a soup and sandwich fund raiser.

The people helping raise funds feel that, although Bob and Kim may not be able to experience the joys of a healthy child, they should enjoy their little girl while she is still with them.

2 tragedies, 2 deaths

Red Lake Falls — Two separate tragedies have resulted in the deaths of two Red Lake county men in the last week.

Last Friday April 21, Lester LaJambe of rural Oklee was found dead in his home as the result of a house fire. The state fire marshal ruled the fire accidental. The cause of the fire was probably due to items being placed too close to an electrical heater.

Mitch Rock was found dead in his rural Red Lake Falls home on Monday, April 24. According to Red Lake county sheriff, Allan Moiken, foul play is not suspected.

— The Gazette

Combined teams

Oklee — At a recent school board meeting, Oklee school superintendent brought a recommended resolution that they combine with Red Lake Falls and Plummer for sports. After meeting with the superintendents from the other two schools, he recommends combining for girls and boys basketball, baseball, track and golf for the 1995-96 school year and football and vollyball for the 1996-97 school year.

The board discussed the topic then, tabled the resolution indefinitely.

Oklahoma!

Greenbush — Students from Greenbush/Middle River high school performed the popular Rogers and Hammerstien musical last week.

The play cast has decided to donate 25 per cent of the proceeds of their play to the victims of the Oklahoma bombing. Along with matching funds from AAL #6049 and personal donations, the total comes to about $1,400.

Drug-free students

Winger — Win-E-Mac sixth graders were honored for graduating from the D.A.R.E. (Drug and Alcohol Resistance Education) program. The students completed an 18 week course on self-esteem and keeping clean.

Speakers and guests included Tiffany Wirz of the UND women's basketball team and Walt Keler of the Polk county sheriff's department. The course instructor was, Mark LeTexier of the Polk county sheriff's department.

MCC schools to conduct Kindergarten round up

Marshall County Central schools will conduct the 1995-96 kindergarten round-up Tuesday and Wednesday, May 9 and 10, for children who will be at least five years old on Sept. 1, 1995 and have not yet attended kindergarten.

The round-up will be held at the Viking elementary school during the school day. Children are being assigned to one of two groups and will attend only one of the two days, according to Jim Hodny, elementary school principal.

Letters have been sent to parents of all eligible children known to reside within the Newfolden school district. Parents of eligible children who have not received a letter are asked to call 874-8805 or 523-4425 so they may receive information about the kindergarten round-up.

ELECTRIC SKILLET LASAGNA

1 pound hamburger
1 (28 ounce) can tomatoes
1/2 cup water
1 (1.5 ounce) package spaghetti sauce mix
1 (8 ounce) package lasagna noodles
1 pound creamed cottage cheese
1 1/2 teaspoons parsley flakes
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese

Lightly brown hamburger in skillet at 325 degrees. Drain. Sprinkle half of spaghetti sauce mix over meat.

Layer cottage cheese, uncooked noodles, remaining spaghetti sauce mix, parsley flakes, salt and 1 cup mozzarella over meat in skillet.

Add tomatoes and water to moisten. Cover tightly and set temperature to 225 degrees. Cook 30 to 35 minutes or until noodles are done.

Sprinkle remaining mozzarella over top, cover and let stand 10 minutes in skillet.

A simple-to-fix side dish or a main dish meal:

WILD RICE CASSEROLE

1 stick butter
5 beef bouillon cubes
4 cups hot water
1 cup wild rice
Salt and pepper to taste
Dried onion

Mix all ingredients together and place in large greased baking dish. Bake 1 1/2 hours at 350 degrees.

Add mushrooms, hamburger, celery, sunflower seed, or other ingredients, if desired.

Here is another quick and easy main dish meal.

HAMBURGER CASSEROLE

2 pounds hamburger (or less)
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can cream of chicken or celery soup
1 can corn
1/2 bag egg noodles, cooked
1 cup sour cream

Mix all ingredients together and bake at 350 degrees for half an hour to 45 minutes.

Another easy dish — one the kids will love:

PIZZA QUICK HOT DISH

1 package egg noodles, cooked
1 can tomato paste
1 pound ground beef, browned and drained
1 package mozzarella cheese
1 package (1.5 ounces) spaghetti sauce mix

Mix tomato paste, 1 can water and spaghetti sauce mix in pan. Cook 10 minutes and then stir in cooked ground beef.

Add noodles and stir together. Place in greased casserole.

Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Top with mozzarella cheese and cook 20 minutes more, until bubbly and done.

Nordic Wood Products seeks tree-growers

Nordic Wood Products, Inc. of Newfolden is attempting to develop a new market for the hybrid poplar tree developed by the University of Minnesota—Crookston and the Agricultural & Utilization Research Institute (AURI) of Crookston.

Recent articles have identified this tree to be potentially useful to the energy, paper and chipboard industries of Minnesota, but Nordic Wood Products, Inc., is working to increase the value of this manageable resource to lumber grade material.

An organizational meeting of 28 of Nordic Project's cooperators and growers was held Tuesday, April 25 in Newfolden. To date, 3,200 acres are being sampled and analyzed for growing suitability. Nordic management reports that interest in the project is high and the list of cooperators is substantial.

AURI named the effort "The Nordic Project" and it will be coordinated and monitored by Nordic Wood Products. The Nordic Project will involve Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acreage from Pennington county to the Canadian border.

The current federal farm bill allows a five-year extension to grower agreements, enabling many growers to continue to receive CRP payments through most of the tree's growing cycle. The tree will be harvestable and processable to Nordic Wood Products in approximately the 10th growing year.

Nordic Wood Products will use the wood product for its manufactured products, including pallets and pre-cut pallet materials. Any CRP landowner interested in exploring this project may call the Nordic Project coordinator at 874-4385.

Agencies involved in the coordination of this new alternative farm crop are the University of Minnesota—Crookston, AURI, Pembina Trail Resource and Conservation District, Minnesota Technology, CFSA (formerly ASCS) offices, SWCD offices and Minnesota DNR as well as Nordic Wood Products, Inc.

Students plant trees as education project

Second grade students at a number of schools throughout the area are participating tree planting activities this spring through the "Grow Your Own Tree" educational project.

Among schools in the area participating and the teacher in charge at each school are the following in this area:

Badger School, Sonia Foster; Plummer Elementary, Carole Wright; Goodridge School, Lois Anderson; J.A. Hughes Elementary at Red Lake Falls, Linda Mickelson and Loma Schlightmann; Karlstad-Strandquist Elementary, Marcy Helling; Kittson Central Elementary at Hallock, Cynthia Johnson; and Lancaster School, Peggy Hess;

Also Argyle School, Jackie Chwialkowski; Middle River Community School, Gail Holmes; Oklee Elementary, Yvonne Johnson; Roseau Elementary, Julie Johnston and Elaine Lang, St. Bernard's School, Thief River Falls, Pat Krystosek; St. Joseph School at Red Lake Falls, JoAnn Derosier; Tri-County School at Karlstad, Cathy Davis; Warroad Elementary, Heidi Ogden, Janet Knebel, Lori Schaible and Mary Beisel.

The students are planting thornless honeylocust trees provided as part of a project package.

Red Lake Co. Dairy Princess contest May 12

Additional contestants will still be accepted for the Red Lake County Dairy Princess contest to be held Friday, May 12, at the Third Base Restaurant in Brooks.

Contestants must be residents of Red Lake county, have involvement with dairy production, be high school graduates as of the end of the 1994-95 school year and neither married nor engaged.

Girls interested in competing may call any of the following: DeeAnn Lemes (253-2897) or Lucille Weiss (253-2259), Red Lake Falls; Diane Kolstoe (796-5282), Oklee; Debbie Vettleson (796-5204), Trail; Carol Gerards (465-4372) or Debbie DuChamp (465-4239), Plummer.

Up to three winners from each county are eligible to compete in the Region I Dairy Princess Contest to be conducted this year at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls.

Middle River man faces charges of sexual assault

Robert Edwin Olson, 27, Middle River, has been arrested and faces a charge of criminal sexual conduct in the first and third degrees.

Marshall County sheriff's department reported that they received a sexual assault complaint in the Middle River area at 4:10 a.m. on April 25. An investigation was conducted by the sheriff's department and Olson was arrested.

On April 26, Marshall County Sheriff Dennis Brekke filed a complaint with Ninth District Court charging Olson with criminal sexual conduct in the first and third degree. Olson made his first appearance and is presently in custody in the Marshall county jail on a $40,000 bond.

Class of 1975 reunion meeting

A class of 1975 reunion planning meeting will be held Tuesday, May 2 at 2 p.m. at the Elks in Thief River Falls.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I believe the national "news" stories implying blame for the Oklahoma City bombing on the Michigan Militia are liberal bias and unfounded, deceitful scapegoating. I don't condone terrorism or violent acts of destruction and mayhem. However, the rising distrust of government isn't unfounded and was constitutionally demonstrated in the November, 1994 elections.

The following are a few examples of why some people might join a militia:

(1) Undisclosed radiological testing on U.S. citizens in the 1950s. This was disclosed and reported because of the Freedom of Information act.

(2) Federal law enforcement agencies infiltrating and harassing private groups and organizations without probable cause. This has resulted in the curtailment of powers of the FBI and other federal agencies by Congress in the early 1970s.

(3) Waco, TX—The B.A.T.F. had other means to resolve the siege peacefully before and after the initial confrontation and had the choice whether to take direct action or not. Their actions killed innocent men, women and children needlessly. Janet Reno accepted full responsibility for the B.A.T.F. actions and yet she nor anyone else from the B.A.T.F. were suspended, fired or tried for any type of criminal wrongdoing or criminal incompetence.

(4) Federal and State agencies can write their own regulations which have the power of laws, without the approval of the Federal Congress or State Legislature and/or the President or Governor. Agencies include, but are not limited to, the I.R.S., E.P.A., Human Resource Services (State of Florida, which can take your children without a search warrant based on anonymous calls of child abuse) and like social service agencies and the D.N.R.

(5) Federal judges usurping the authority of U.S. citizens in voting results. Proposition 187 passed in California by a 2-1 margin. A federal judge ruled, the next day after the elections, that the new law was not legally binding until he made a ruling on it. It has since been tied up in court or has been made ineffective and nonbinding. The people of California have effectively lost their voting authority.

I support the right of Americans to meet, bear arms, and spend their weekends in legal paramilitary outings. The past and recent past practices of our government need to be watched and challenged. I find comfort in the fact that there still are American Minutemen out there ready to defend the Flag and the Republic for which it stands, from all enemies, foreign and domestic!

Sincerely,
David Melnkens
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

I have, on two occasions in recent years, been admitted to the Northwest Medical Center emergency room. I'm writing in praise of the excellent and prompt care I received on both of these occasions.

The nurses were so efficient and Personable. The doctors were prompt and reassuring. Lab and x-ray services were also needed and their services were great.

I also need to mention the comfortable transportation and lively, humorous conversation provided by the employees of the ambulance service. These pleasant people really shortened the trips.

I believe we are fortunate to have a hospital with such quality staff and service in our community and I want to thank each of you who contributed to my care.

Sincerely,
Ruth Nepper

An Explanation For First Street And Airport Road Intersection

A few weeks ago we commented editorially on several road and traffic situations around the community which we had noticed and questioned over a period of time. One of these was the intersection of First Street and Pennington Avenue, more commonly known as the Airport Road. We contended that it would make more sense to have southbound traffic yield to vehicles on the curve coming off First Street than the other way around.....as it is now.

We received a letter from David Kildahl, a former TRF native and now an engineer in Crookston. He wrote that the present situation resulted from truck driver complaints that they were unable to see vehicles on the curve after turning left from First Street onto Pennington Avenue.

Just the other day Cliff Larson, retired as an engineer with the Minnesota Department of Transportation, stopped by with another explanation. He said the existing yield pattern was a traffic flow consideration. There is room for only a few cars on Pennington Avenue between First Street and the yield sign at the south end of the traffic island separating Pennington and the curve coming off First Street. If several cars had to wait in that area to yield to traffic on the curve, they could create a left turn traffic jam closing off First Street.

On the other hand, traffic halted on the curve to yield to Pennington Avenue traffic could be "stored" all the way across the bridge to LaBree Avenue without impeding other traffic. Cliff says that this "storage" of vehicles in traffic was the rationale for the yield sign being located where it is.

The rationale is certainly valid when....and if...there are many vehicles waiting to turn left off First Street and travel south on Pennington. From a practical standpoint, that circumstance is rare. Not only are there many fewer cars turning left off First Street than turning right on the curve, but that left-turning traffic is subject to yield to traffic proceeding east on First Street through the intersection on the green light. If there is any appreciable traffic, one light change would not allow more left-turning cars to enter Pennington Avenue than could be "stored" in the area up to the yield sign. They should be able to clear the area by the next light change.

We thank Cliff for the explanation. It would appear that there are few alternatives to controlling a difficult intersection. The fact that there have been few if any accidents at the intersection may attest to the way it is working successfully in its present form, not that there hasn't been opportunity for some bad ones.

We occasionally see drivers of northbound vehicles on Pennington pull all the way into the southbound lane at the semaphore as though it were a left turn lane—completely blocking access for anyone turning left off First Street. On Wednesday we saw a vehicle traveling west on First Street cruise through the intersection on a green light and have to wait for eastbound traffic to clear in order to turn left onto the curve. Needless to say, a couple of eastbound drivers appeared startled at the car waiting in that vulnerable position - not to mention drivers of the cars following it through (or at least into) the intersection!

We still receive occasional comments about the other areas mentioned—the stop signs at cul-de-sacs on Edgewood Drive and the crosswalk on Pennington Avenue about half a block north of Nora Street. The lights on the latter continue to flash night and day while the only pedestrians we have seen crossing the road have been near Nora Street.

So we continue to wonder.....

Sick Minds, Sick Hearts

It is impossible to comprehend the kind of thinking that went into the planning and carrying out of the bombing of the federal building in Oklahoma City. How can anyone involve himself in the massive indiscriminate killing and maiming of people in the name of any cause or reason or purpose?

Time and investigation may be expected to bring to light more than the speculation that surrounds the suspect presently in custody and the other primary suspect being sought by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Explanation of a motive for such a senseless, brutal and devastating crime may be attempted ...but we will never understand it.

In a telephone conference call with Sen. Rod Grams Thursday morning, we asked Minnesota's newest U.S. Senator about his views on the current situation, especially relative to the efforts being put forth in Washington to expand federal powers to—in the words of President Clinton—combat terrorism. We were pleased with the general reasoned tone of his response.

First of all, he emphasized the belief that those individuals responsible for the crime should be dealt with according to the law both quickly and severely. Second, he said that placing blame other than on those individuals is wrong and that it is improper to attempt to use the incident to further other causes or agendas.

Regarding expansion of federal powers on the premise of stopping terrorism, he said that some things could reasonably be done to assist in swifter apprehension and prosecution of people responsible for such acts, but that the Congress must be extremely careful not to step too far in taking away freedom in an attempt to provide security.

And from a realistic standpoint, it must be recognized that it is impossible to prevent such acts by individuals who are of a mind to commit them.

The nation is sick at heart over this tragedy. The loss of life and the extent of injuries and property damage are as difficult to comprehend as the warped minds of the perpetrators. That many of the victims are children only magnifies the innocence of those who simply happened by circumstance to be in the wrong place at the wrong time.

Sick minds...sick hearts. Will we ever be able to understand the meaning of it all?

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Rural Life Commission pledges support for programs to aid farmers

Catholic/Lutheran Rural Life Commission (C/L RLC) representing the Crookston Diocese of the Catholic church and Northwestern Minnesota Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America has pledged its support of a nationwide appeal by the National Catholic Rural Life Conference (NCRLC).

In dialogue with other concerned organizations, NCRLC has identified three proposals as those that would be most beneficial to farmers and which have the best chance of being incorporated into the 1995 Farm Bill. The proposals include:

(1) Reduce support payments to big agriculture by closing payment limitation loopholes. For example: The practice of large farms subdividing into multiple legal entities in order to receive multiple payments needs to be ended.

(2) Eliminate program support payments to investors by tightening up the "actively engaged" definition so that it means those actively engaged in managing the farm operation.

(3) If programs must be further reduced, protect moderate-sized farms by imposing no additional cuts on a farmer's first 40,000 to 50,000 bushels of program crops.

"The goal of these proposals is that payment cuts will fall on big agriculture, not on farmers in our communities who are already stretched to the limit," stated Rev. Milo Mathison, chair of the C/L RLC.

"Farmers moving ahead financially are far outnumbered by those falling behind," he added. "Outreach workers with the C/L RLC report there are farmers who were debt-free in the 80's who now are facing bankruptcy. Meanwhile, large industrial farms tied into the vertical network of our nation's largest agri-businesses are prospering."

Rev. Mathison said that at a hearing in Red Lake Falls April 13, Rep. Collin Peterson warned of the difficulty in writing legislation protecting the average farmer.

"All too often we have passed legislation only to discover later that the language used was such that the results were very different from what we intended," Rep. Peterson was quoted as saying. "The most powerful lobby in Washington influencing ag policy is funded by the nation's largest agri-businesses."

"These agri-businesses," Rev. Mathison added, "succeeded in incorporating provisions in previous farm bills favorable to themselves. Grassroots support for the above proposals to change this bias is strong, and these proposals have a good chance of passing. However, we need to take seriously the warning of Rep. Peterson. Big ag interests are willing to lose the debate as long as they can influence the language of the regulations."

"We need to let our legislators know that we want a Farm Bill that not only sounds good, but one which has the language that will in fact accomplish the goals of the above provisions."

CHS board updates health plan

Quin County Community Health Services Board is beginning the process of updating the community health services plan to cover 1996-1999, according to Carol Borchert, administrator.

CHS subsidy is currently allocated to four public health nursing agencies, the WIC/EPS agency, four rescue squads and seven ambulance services. Subsidy funds can be allocated in the public health areas of Disease Prevention and Control, Family Health, Health Promotion, Home Health, Emergency Medical Services and Environmental.

Anyone wishing to apply for subsidy funds must submit a letter of intent by May 10 to Quin County Community Health Services, Newfolden, MN 56738. Funding allocations are approved by the county boards of commissioners and the Quin County CHS board.

Summaries of the plan will be available to anyone requesting it from the Quin County office by September 1. Public hearings will be held in each county in September. Locations and dates will be publicized.

Anyone with further questions may contact Borchert at 874-7845.

HERE'S HOW TO KEEP YOUR HOME'S NATURAL WOOD SIDING AND TRIM NEW LOOKING YEAR AFTER YEAR

Thousands of home owners across America have discovered how to retain a fresh cut, new wood appearance to cedar, redwood, and other natural wood claddings with the Sikkens Cetol® exterior wood finishing system.

Developed by Dutch masters of the world's most advanced wood coating technology, this time-proven translucent finish is a stunning departure in chemistry from common semi-transparent stains and clear coatings.

Correctly applied and maintained, it ensures color permanency of wood, prevents surface deterioration and loss of visual appeal, and ends discouraging attempts at renovation.

If you're building a home with a natural wood exterior, or dissatisfied with the appearance of one you're living in now, call or write for our brochure describing this extraordinary wood finish. Free samples available at our office or sent on request.

Tom Harlow accepts position in TRF bank

Tom Harlow
Vice-president of Agricultural Finance

Tom Harlow, a Warren, MN native and former officer with Farm Credit Services, has accepted the position of vice-president of Agricultural Finance at Northern State Bank in Thief River Falls. Harlow, who joined the bank this April 17, will work in all areas of agri-business finance and lending.

Harlow grew up on a family farm. He graduated from Warren high school and holds a degree in agronomy from North Dakota State University in Fargo. For the last 16 years he has worked with farmers as a loan officer for Farm Credit Services offices in Warren and Thief River Falls. Harlow says he has a deep appreciation for his farm customers. "In our local economy, the last two years have taken their toll." 1995 is a very important year for many farmers. Overall, I have confidence in the future of agriculture because of the attitude of farmers and the high level of professionalism in management and marketing."

Harlow says the agribusiness community has entered a new age of technology. "Farmers have very good information and that has made marketing an even bigger part of this business. They have really come into their own in our computer age, and at the same time, this is so much more than a business to them. I think that's why we see people cling to this way of life, even when it's not economically easy. Farming is also an investment in quality of life, and it's a life style people will work very hard to preserve."

Tom, his wife Donna, and their three children live in Thief River Falls.

New beef cattle booklets available from university

Two new publications on beef cattle are now available by mail from the University of Minnesota's department of animal science. They are designed for producers, extension educators and agricultural professionals.

The 85-page "1995 Minnesota Cattle Feeders Report" contains information on beef cattle feedlot research conducted in Minnesota. It also has proceedings papers from presentations at the Cattle Feeders Days held last December at three locations. Price of $5 covers printing, postage and handling costs.

The 99-page "1995 Minnesota Beef Cow/Calf Report" contains updates on various Minnesota cow/calf research and extension projects. It also contains proceedings of presentations from the 1995 cow/calf days that took place at seven locations in February. Copies of this report are available for $6 each. Both books ordered for shipment together reduces the combined price to $10.

To order either or both, send a check for the proper amount payable to the University of Minnesota to Brent Woodward, U of M Dept. of Animal Science, 101 Haecker Hall, 1364 Eckles Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55108-6120.

Thief River Falls has received another Tree City USA award. John Johnson (right), city forester, presented a Tree City USA National Arbor Day Foundation flag to Mayor Robert Reeve at the city council meeting last Tuesday. Mayor Reeve congratulated Johnson, and city crews, for their hard work and dedication.

Mother and daughter lunch in Newfolden May 13

A Mother-daughter luncheon will be held at the Newfolden Evangelical Free Church on Saturday, May 13 beginning at 11:30 a.m.

A very special afternoon is being planned and everyone is invited to attend. The theme for this year's luncheon is "Outreach Within Reach" and the featured speaker will be Helene McCauley. A variety of special music and other entertainment will round out the program. A photographer will be on hand to take pictures of any moms and daughters who would like a momento of the special day.

Tickets are not necessary, but a free-will offering will be received. Please come to Newfolden Evangelical Free Church on Saturday, May 13 and enjoy a memorable afternoon with your mother daughter, grandmother, aunt, or any special woman in your life.

Spuds score early, finish with an 11-2 win over Prowlers

Moorhead jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the first inning Tuesday and went on to beat Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke 11-2 in North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball at Matson Field.

"The guys were just not mentally prepared to play baseball," said disappointed Prowlers coach Dean Woodman.

Moorhead batted around in the bottom of the first by combining three hits with four walks and two errors.

"We settled down after that, but it was too late," noted Woodman.

It was the fourth straight loss after a season-opening win for the Prowlers, who mustered just three hits and had five errors – giving them 25 errors during the four-game losing streak.

The Prowlers only offense came in the fourth inning when Ryan Bendickson drew a bases-loaded walk and Eric Bjorgaard stole home.

Celeste Cormican was the winning pitcher Tuesday as the Northland Community College softball team ended a season-opening six-game losing streak with a 7-6 victory over Brainerd in the first half of a Northwest Division softball doubleheader.

Kansas City picks up Brian Lambert...

Former NCC player signs NFL contract

Former Northland Community College football player Brian Lambert signed a National Football League contract Friday as a punter with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Northland was one of four collegiate stops for Lambert, a Fort Myers, Florida native, who was a redshirt freshman at the University of Kansas and attended East Central (Mississippi) Community College before arriving in Thief River Falls for the 1992 season.

His single-season stay at Northland was a memorable one as he turned in a National Junior College Athletic Association-leading 44.3-yard average and became the Pioneers' first-ever NJCAA All-America football selection. The 6-3, 228-pounder also played some defensive back and some wide receiver for the Pioneers. In high school, he played in the Florida-Georgia all-star game and set a state record with a 99-yard touchdown reception.

In leaving Northland, Lambert contemplated two options: accepting an invitation to be a walk-on at Florida State, or a scholarship offer from Northeast Louisiana. He took the full ride, and was the team's No. 1 punter the past two years.

As a junior, Lambert averaged 38.9 yards on 37 punts as NLU completed a highly-successful run at the NCAA Division I-AA level. Six of his punts were downed inside the opponent's 5-yard line and 11 were downed inside the 10.

The Indians moved up to Division I-A last fall, and while they struggled as an independent playing a schedule that included the likes of Georgia, Auburn, Wyoming, Kentucky, and BYU, Lambert's stock as a punter took off – a 45.3-yard average on 53 kicks. His longest punt was 64 yards. He did not have a kick blocked, and he placed 16 punts inside the opponent's 20-yard line.

Lambert attended the NFL scouting combine for college talent in Indianapolis this winter and had been contacted by the Cleveland Browns, New York Giants, Miami Dolphins, and Carolina Panthers.

A surprise call from the Chiefs after the recent NFL draft put him on a plane Thursday for a Friday contract signing.

The National Football League is well aware of Northeast Louisiana. The 11,000-student school in Monroe had seven players in the NFL in 1994, including San Diego Chargers quarterback Stan Humphries. NLU defensive end Shawn King was a second-round draft choice by Carolina last weekend.

With his Kansas City contract in hand, Lambert has now completed a Triple Crown for a Northland football alumni as the Pioneers' first All-America, first NCAA Division I player, and first NFL signee.

Northland, Brainerd split softball games

Northland ended a season-opening six-game losing streak with a 7-6 win in the opener, but Brainerd came back to take the doubleheader nightcap 10-7 Tuesday in Minnesota Community College Conference softball.

The Pioneers broke into the victory column by matching the Raiders offensively. But Northland's stay in the winners circle was short lived because the defense didn't. The visiting Raiders played 14 innings of error-free softball. Northland was charged with six errors – four of them leading to eight unearned second-game runs.

"The first game was pretty well played," said Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "There was lots of hitting and some good defensive play. But we didn't make the plays in the second game. Offensively we're as good as anybody in the league, but we have to do a better job defensively."

Celeste Cormican, a sophomore from Moro Bay, CA, was the winning pitcher in Game 1 when she helped her own cause with two hits and three RBI.

Odetta Blomker, a freshman from Thief River Falls, turned in her best pitching effort of the season in the nightcap, according to Nikunen, but was victimized by the Pioneers' defense.

Northland freshman shortstop Marcy Olsen of Minnewaska Area had a home run, triple and four RBI in Game 2.

Game 1

BCC - Sheila McIntire (WP), Angie Kummel (7), Judy Hinnenkamp 3-4.

Weather affects scores of TRF girls golf squad

Eighteen holes of golf for area high school girls teams were split between two courses Thursday for the Crookston/Warren-Alvarado-Oslo Invitational.

Fosston won team honors with a 367 and Jenny Bruun of Crookston – in a playoff win over Kristen Hanson of Fosston – was the individual champion with an 84 as participants played nine holes at both Crookston and Warren.

Thief River Falls placed fifth in the 13-team field with a 415. It was the second outing of the year for the Prowlers, who golfed in the Bemidji Invitational the previous Friday.

"We need warmer weather," said Thief River Falls coach Charlie Cornell. "When we get warmer weather, our scores will improve."

Crookston/W-A-O Invitational
- Team totals - Fosston 367, Crookston 378, Roseau 386, East Grand Forks 394.

- Sports Briefs -

Politically correct

In order to be politically correct, today's issue of the Northern Watch starts our use of the cooperative sports program labels involving Thief River Falls teams.

The cooperative ventures between Thief River Falls, Goodridge and Grygla-Gatzke might have been in place previously, but the teams were listed in The Times and Northern Watch as Thief River Falls only.

Since the start of the cooperative and consolidated-type arrangements under Minnesota State High School League guidelines, we have been prudent in attempts to have schools appear in our publications according to their MSHSL listing.

Except, and we have no real reason why, when it came to Thief River Falls. Call it a sense of guilt, a revelation, or simply the recent arrival of the 1995 MSHSL spring sports activities listing, but it finally occurred to us to make the change.

But the name switch doesn't affect all of the Prowlers' teams. Boys tennis, along with boys and girls golf, remain Thief River Falls-only programs. The baseball and softball teams go by Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke, and since Grygla-Gatzke is fielding a track team for the first time this year, the cooperative track program is Thief River Falls/Goodridge.

Each team, no matter the cooperative structure, will retain the Prowlers' nickname.

Track teams scores points at EGF

Depth produced points and top-two or top-three finishes for the Thief River Falls/Goodridge boys and girls high school track teams at the 14-team East Grand Forks Invitational Tuesday.

East Grand Forks won the girls' portion of the meet with 115 points, followed by Thief River Falls/Goodridge with 84, Oklee/Red Lake Falls/Plummer 64 1/2, Win-E-Mac 63, Stephen 61, Roseau 58, Mahnomen 48 1/2, Kittson Central/Kittson County North 28 1/2, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Tri-County 24 1/2, Marshall County Central 13 1/2, Warroad 2 1/2, Grygla-Gatzke 2, East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 0, and Norman County East 0.

The Green Wave also won the boys' title with 119 1/2 points, followed by Stephen with 95, Thief River Falls/Goodridge 94, Roseau 78, Oklee/Red Lake Falls/Plummer 44 1/2, Norman County East 42, Mahnomen 26, Win-E-Mac 24, Warroad 19, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Tri-County 13, Kittson Central/Kittson County North 9, Grygla-Gatzke 5, East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 4, and Marshall County Central 1.

With only a single winner in both portions of the meet, the Prowlers scored heavily with second-through-seventh place finishes. Lone win for the boys came from Steve Burslie in the 200 meters, while the girls' victory was supplied by Kate Ihle, Emily Mugaas, Lisa Swanson, and Becky Mooney in the 4x800 meter relay.

"We had a good day," reported Prowlers coach Tim Olson. "The kids ran hard, and they ran well. We're doing what we hoped we would be doing at this point of the season. The distance runners are really doing well. They're starting to stretch it out and are looking like runners."

While the performances have been solid, the cool spring weather has slowed progress, acknowledged Olson. "The times should drop when the weather warms up," he said.

Prowlers' baseball losing streak ends

Corey Jenkins contributed both on the mound and at the plate Thursday as Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke snapped a four-game losing streak with a 12-2 high school baseball win over Marshall County Central/Tri-County in the Prowlers' 1995 home opener.

Jenkins struck out six while pitching the first four innings of the five-inning, 10-run rule contest. He also supplied a two-run single in the third inning to turn a 3-1 edge into a 5-1 cushion.

And the Prowlers' mistake-prone defense turned in its first error-free game of the year.

"Corey did a nice job, and we played well defensively," pointed out winning coach Dean Woodman, who switched to a younger line-up for the Prowlers' Wilson Field debut. "We gave the younger kids a chance to play, and they played well," he said.

Marshall County Central/Tri-County stayed within 5-2 until the bottom of the fifth when the Prowlers ended a cold, wet game by scoring seven times on two hits, four walks, two errors and five wild pitches.

Pioneers come up with first '95 softball sweep

First doubleheader sweep of the 1995 season for the Northland Community College softball team netted the host Pioneers 8-7 and 13-5 wins over traditionally-strong Fergus Falls Thursday.

Ronda Olson, who was 3-for-4 in the opener helped wipe out an early 5-0 Northland deficit with a two-out, two-run double to finish a five-run second inning.

The Pioneers won it in the bottom of the seventh on a lead-off walk issued to Angel Mickelson, a double by Carrie Olsen an infield single, and then a bases-loaded walk issued to Marcy Olsen.

Odetta Blomker pitched a strong 3-hitter in Game 2 when Celeste Cormican (5) and Gina Salverson (3) combined for eight RBI.

"It was a good day for us," said Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "Every time out you can see a noticeable improvement, and today we put it all together."

Northland improved to 3-7 for the year.

NCC plans baseball camp

Boys and girls who will be in grades 6-9 next year are invited to participate in the first Northland Community College Touch 'em All Baseball Camp scheduled to be held Tuesday through Friday, May 30 through June 2.

Instructional sessions will be held from 3:30 to 7:30 p.m. daily at the Northland baseball diamond.

Terry Wiseth, head baseball coach at Northland the past eight years, will be the camp director. The staff will include area coaches and four award-winning Pioneers: Mitch Bernstein, a 1994 Junior College All-America infielder; Chris Mills, a 1989 Minnesota Community College Conference all-state outfielder; Ricky Rivera, a 1995 MCCC all-state catcher; and Josh Stromlund, a 1995 MCCC all-state pitcher.

Exposure to philosophies, fundamentals and drills that have been successful at Northland will be the emphasis of the camp. Daily sessions will include work on hitting, throwing, base running, bunting, fielding, catching, and pitching.

"We have long-felt a need for some type of baseball fundamentals camp for area youth," said Wiseth. "This camp will lay some important groundwork in preparation for the summer baseball leagues."

Northland has stressed recruiting baseball players from northern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota, and Wiseth sees the camp as a way to help insure a supply of area talent for the Pioneers. "Building a solid foundation in the area youth baseball players is important to the future success of Northland's baseball program in its goal of playing in the junior college World Series," he said.

Cost of the camp will be $30, which will include a baseball cap. In case of inclement weather, camp sessions will be moved inside to the Northland gymnasium. For regis-

Northland Community College sophomore Nathan Knutson was all smiles while receiving congratulations from his teammates as he crossed home plate after hitting a game-tying home run leading off the bottom of the seventh inning in the first game of Wednesday's Northwest Division baseball doubleheader opener vs. Fergus Falls.

Northland, Fergus Falls split games...

Seventh-inning rally nets 3-2 Pioneer win

Seventh inning scoring produced the winners Wednesday as Northland and Fergus Falls split a Minnesota Community College Conference baseball doubleheader.

Final-inning dramatics produced a 3-2 come-from-behind win for the Pioneers in Game 1, but the Spartans came up with a run in their final at-bat in Game 2 for an 8-7 victory and a Northern Division split.

Northland trailed 2-1 going into the bottom of the seventh in the opener before Nathan Knutson sent a lead-off home run down the left field line for a tie.

The Pioneers then won it when, after David Blazek singled and Josh Stromlund was hit by a pitch with one out, back-to-back infield errors on two potential inning-ending double plays allowed the winning run to score.

Knutson, hitting No. 9 in the Northland batting order, was 3-for-3. He singled to start the fifth and later scored on a fielder's choice ball hit by Stromlund.

Fergus Falls designated hitter Adam Tow homered to lead off the fourth. Ryan Bauer opened the Spartans' seventh with a single and later scored the go-ahead run on a two-out infielder hit by Jeremy Zubes that had an error tacked on to it.

Northland twice came from behind and twice lost leads in the Game 2 loss that put the Pioneers at 7-9 for the year and 6-8 in the MCCC.

Changes announced for bear permit areas

Applications are now available for the 1995 Minnesota black bear hunting season which will run from Sept. 1 to Oct. 15. Applications for the computerized drawing will be accepted through May 5. There are 11,950 permits available in 11 quota areas, an increase of 2,550 permits (27 percent) from 1994.

Each hunter who entered the 1995 bear hunting lottery has been sent a pre-printed application for this year's drawing, according to Department of Natural Resources officials. Hunters are encouraged to use the pre-printed applications to help reduce errors and processing costs. Application forms are also available from license agents throughout the state.

Hunters should check the quota area map carefully, especially in the northwestern part of the state where portions of the no-quota area in the Randeen Ridge area east of Thief Lake and the Minnesota Hill area east of the Roseau River State Wildlife Management Area have been added to Quota Area 12.

Bear habitat and densities in the Randeen Ridge and Minnesota Hill areas are similar to adjacent areas in Quota Area 12. The DNR has also observed excessive crowding of hunters into these two areas in recent years, creating increased complaints of bait station interference among hunters, greater incidence of trespassing on to private lands, and sometimes excessive bear harvest in these areas. To help alleviate the problems, the changes were made.

The Randeen Ridge addition includes the area west of CSAH 9, north of Marshall County Road 6, east of State Highway 89, and south of Marshall County Road 134. The Minnesota Hill addition includes the area west of State Highway 310, north of the Roseau River, east of State Highway 89, and south of the Canadian border.

Harvest figures for Quota Area 12 have been increased for 1995, in part, to reflect the addition of Randeen Ridge and Minnesota Hill (an area of 91 square miles).

Anyone wishing to hunt bear in either the Randeen Ridge or the Minnesota Hill area will have to submit an application to hunt in Quota Area 12. Successful applicants will be notified by May 30. Unsuccessful applicants can still hunt in the no-quota areas of the state.

Additional questions regarding these changes in bear management should be directed to Paul Telander or John Williams at the Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area (218-222-3747) for Randeen Ridge and Stan Wood or Randy Prachar at Roseau River Wildlife Management Area (218-463-1557) for Minnesota Hill.

Bear licenses cost $35 for residents and $166 for non-residents. Hunters should not send money with their applications.

The bear permit drawing is based on a preference system similar to the system used for antlerless deer permits. Hunters receive preference for each year that they apply but do not receive a permit. Permits are drawn first for those applicants who have the highest preference.

All applicants who have reached their 18th birthday by May 5 must provide a driver's license number, Minnesota Public Safety ID number, or a 13-digit Firearms Safety Certificate number to apply for the drawing. Those applicants under age 18 who do not supply one of those numbers will have a number assigned and will be automatically entered into the drawing. Applicants must be at least 12 years of age prior to Sept. 1 to apply.

Portions of the bear range in east-central and northwest Minnesota will be open to an unlimited number of hunters. Licenses for the no-quota area will be available after July 1 at county auditor offices and at license vendors in Marshall, Roseau, Pine, Kanabec, Chisago, Isanti, and Mille Lacs counties. Hunters may purchase only one bear license per year.

Pirates sweep 7-0 high school tennis dual from Prowlers

Play improved, but results were unchanged Monday when the Thief River Falls boys high school tennis team opened its 1995 home schedule with a 7-0 loss at the hands of Crookston.

It was the fifth straight dual setback for the Prowlers – four of them by 7-0 margins.

"We're playing better," said first-year Thief River Falls head tennis coach Mark Dannhoff. "The sets are closer and longer."

Poor weather has hampered the Prowlers' progress, a situation complicated by a tough early-season schedule, explained Dannhoff. "We've played some pretty tough competition, and because of the weather, we just weren't ready for it," he said.

Water clinics scheduled in Marshall Co.

Three water screening clinics have been scheduled in Marshall county for May 8, 9 and 10 in conjunction with National Drinking Water Week, May 8-12.

The screenings will be conducted by Kim Hockstedler, Marshall county water plan coordinator, and Ray Thompson, extension educator with the University of Minnesota Extension Service.

Testing schedule and locations will be as follows: Monday, May 8, 9 to 11:30 a.m., Newfolden community center; Tuesday, May 9, 9 to 11:30 a.m., Argyle community center; and Wednesday, May 10, 10 a.m. to noon, Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District office in Grygla.

Samples will be tested for nitrate, bacteria, iron, pH and hardness. They should be brought to the screening site in one-pint sterilized containers and taken before the water enters a softener or any filtration system.

"Regular screening of private wells is the only sure way to know if there is a problem with the drinking water," Hockstedler said. "An annual water screening is recommended for all private water supplies. Water may look clear and clean but still have contaminants that may present health risks."

The water screening program is sponsored as a cooperative effort by Marshall County Water Planning and the Marshall County Extension Service. There will not be a charge for this screening as funds have been provided through the county water plan.

Spring burning regulations go into effect now

Restricted spring burning regulations for extreme northwestern Minnesota go into effect today (Saturday, April 29), according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources forestry headquarters at Warroad and Wannaska.

Beginning today burning will be limited to piled debris and restricted to the hours between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Burning outside these constraints requires a special permit, according to Robert Wennerstrand, area forest supervisor at Warroad.

"Special permits require forest officer approval," Wennerstrand said. "Township fire wardens may issue special permits but only with forester authorization. Fire departments commissioned to issue permits have authority to issue special permits within their protection districts."

Wennerstrand added that under no circumstances may permits be issued to burn such things as peat, railroad ties, tar paper, tires, plastics or garbage.

City agrees to purchase Soo Line depot

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Thief River Falls city council approved a recommendation to purchase the Soo Line Depot from CP Rail at its regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday night.

Larry Rohlf, chairman of the Depot Preservation Committee, announced to the council that "it's safe to say the the Depot can be saved." He noted that current contributions are moving at such a pace that it was unnecessary to wait until the last minute to approve the purchase offer which ends on April 30. He said the committee still welcomes pledges and donations because he is a little guarded about grants, and there is a lot of work to be done.

Dave Strong, who appeared with Rohlf at the meeting, said things still need to be done, but saving the depot has been accomplished.

Mayor Robert Reeve, thanked Rohlf, Strong and members of the committee for their hard work and dedication.

The purchase price of the depot is $10,000. A total of $1,000 has already been put down towards the purchase price. The remainder of the amount being raised, which will amount to over $400,000 will be used towards repairing the facility.

On April 13 the city received a letter from the Minnesota Historical Society. The city was informed that the depot will be considered by the State Review board for nomination to the National Register of Historic Places. The register is the official national list of historic properties worthy of preservation.

■ The county requested to purchase more property from the city.

Delton Schulz, county engineer, asked the council to sell all of lot 7, which is located next to the city auditorium. The council has already accepted an offer for the purchase of 15-feet of the lot, but has been unwilling to sell the remainder because of pending plans for making the auditorium handicapped accessible. The county would like to purchase the property to complete plans to construct an elevator.

Schulz said "it would be nice if the county owned the land they propose to build on", which drew laughs from the council and spectators.

Mayor Reeve asked Schulz to consider a counter offer that would include all of the property up to Second Street, which drew additional laughs.

The council, however, has been discussing what to do with the auditorium. Consultants have been studying the facility and have proposed various plans to make the building handicapped accessible, but the council is also considering moving into the Soo Line Depot building.

Alderman Dale Wennberg, was concerned that by selling the county all of lot 7, it wouldn't leave room for a ramp or driveway at the city auditorium.

Alderman Don Barron suggested giving the county an easement to accomplish their objective of putting air conditioning units on the ground and a double wide sidewalk between the properties.

The council agreed to give the county an easement to complete construction plans.

■ Plans are being prepared for improvements to the ditch past Challenger elementary school.

Lowell Enerson of the Red Lake Watershed District said that the watershed board had accepted a petition to make ditch improvements to the ditch next to County Road 61. Enerson said he expects the preliminary engineer's report to be done by June 8.

In response to a question about the county's reaction, Enerson said he thinks they will be cooperative.

In other business, the council: accepted a 1994 Tree City USA award and proclamation designating Arbor Day in Thief River Falls; the city council accepted recommendation to purchase 18 chairs for the city council chambers and noted that the last time they had been replaced was in 1965; the city agreed to participate in the construction of a street to a student housing site near the college; approved a proposal study of the depot baggage room by Michael J Burns; approved a conditional use permit for Dixie Klein for a Bed and Breakfast at 121 North Duluth; extended the TES contract for deed to the former Consumers Co-op building for one additional year; approved a recommendation that Lorrie Johnson be reclassified from category II permanent part-time employee to a full-time employee effective May 1; approved the city's annual donation to Northland Community Band of $2,500; approved a resolution restricting morning and evening school bus traffic on Edgewood Drive from Spruce Avenue to Dale Street and on Dale Street from Edgewood Drive to Bellview Court during spring ball limit restriction period; approved a probation raise for Bruce Erickson, custodian; hired Dale Narlock as Electric Superintendent; approved the city's participation in MNDOT's Community Roadside Landscaping Program, and directed the mayor and city administrator to execute the agreement; approved dance permits for Julie Gustafson on April 28 at the Armory and for Jordan Lindquist on May 5 at the Armory.

very tough industry in which to show profitability. This year he is looking for a 18 per cent increase in the pounds of turkey handled over a year ago.

Christianson said the cooperative has addressed the seasonal labor supply problem by hiring quite a large number of Hispanic workers. Last year about 30 per cent of the employees were of Hispanic background, he said, and the percentage will probably be about the same this processing year.

Christianson said that keeping up with regulations issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture is a challenge and that a number of changes have been made at the plant in preparation for the 1995 processing season.

WATCH AROUND THE REGION

Elizabeth Relshus

Lutefisk and family

Williams — Norwegians Erling and Mari Engebretsen and Mariet Unsvedt recently visited their American cousins, Mary Olson, Agnes Siggerud and Arvid Christiansen, in Williams. The travelers come from Kongsberg, Norway, where farming is a common occupation. They were impressed with the size of the fields in Minnesota; Norwegian fields are much smaller. Although lutefisk is popular in Norway, the Engebretsens admitted that they do not care for the dish.

Trial date set

Red Lake Falls — June 13 has been set for the jury trial of Alan Oliver.

Oliver, 25, of Red Lake Falls was allegedly driving a vehicle that collided with a vehicle driven by Nellie Culkins. He has been charged with three counts including criminal vehicular homicide.

According to the complaint, Oliver had a blood alcohol level of 21 at the time of the accident which resulted in the death of Culkins, 69 and the injury of Oliver's passenger, Larry Jones, Jr.
—The Gazette

Author Night

Hallock — As part of Hallock's Fifth Book and Author Night, brothers, Lin and Leif Enger talked about how they write together, even though they live 150 miles apart. The brothers, who write under the name L.L. Enger, write mysteries about Gun Pederson, an ex-major league baseball player living in Minnesota.

Oh, Baby!

Fosston — Last Wednesday, Karley Fay Vig, daughter of Steve and Shelly Vig of Fosston, became the first person born in the First Care hospital parking lot.

At 2 a.m. Wednesday morning, Shelly Vig went into labor, and they were on their way to the hospital. Shelly knew she would deliver before they got into the hospital, so she laid down in the parking lot while Steve got a nurse. In all the running back and forth, Shelly gave birth, alone. Mother and baby were soon brought into the hospital and both are doing fine.

Fire destroys home

Newfolden — A fire destroyed the family of Harold and Tami Bagnall on Sunday afternoon, April 30. Mr. Bagnall and three of the four Bagnall children were home when the blaze started. Everyone got out of the house safely, but nothing in the house could be salvaged. The cause of the fire is believed to be a child playing with matches.

Conflicting views presented by two sides in Roseau county courthouse election issue

County board removal of 286 names from petitioner list, invalidating petition, sparks new debate

A petition which would give Roseau county voters an opportunity to vote on whether the Roseau county courthouse should be moved to Warroad, fell short by two names after the Roseau county board removed 286 names from the petition.

Taxpayers' Choice, a volunteer committee supporting a petition, is crying foul following the decision by the Roseau board Tuesday. It is also saying that without the public present, these officials reviewed the petition and removed enough names to be just two short of the necessary amount to hold a special election.

The Roseau county board is declaring the battle over and calling on residents to heal wounds caused by the fight over the petition.

On Tuesday, the Roseau county board rejected (4-1) the petition calling for an election to move the county seat from Roseau to Warroad on the grounds that the petition did not contain enough valid signatures as required by state law.

Ruth Stukel, co-chair of Taxpayers' Choice Volunteer Committee, said, "As a former elected official and a believer in open, democratic government, I am ashamed and appalled by the actions of these Roseau county elected officials earlier today." Stukel added, "This has been a long and difficult debate for everyone in this county. But today county officials have forever tarnished our county and have precluded this issue from being decided in a fair and public manner."

According to a news release from the Committee to Save the County Seat in Roseau, the county board passed the motion on a 4-1 vote after the county attorney had reported on the number of invalid petitions rejected because they were signed by felons, minors, those under guardianship or otherwise unverifiable and the Committee to Save the County Seat presented affidavits of withdrawal of names from the petition, which left it approximately 40 short to call for an election.

Bernie Anderson, co-chairman of the Committee to Save the County Seat, pointed out key facts that led to the board decision:

1) The two vote margin was withdrawals only. Actually, there was a known margin of about 40 votes at that time the board passed its final resolution.

2) Unlike the petition, our withdrawals were sworn, notarized statements of withdrawals. There were no unverified signatures as with the petition; rather ours were notarized and further validated by legal Power of Attorneys before [illegible].

3) The county board determined there were clearly ample withdrawals and decided to end it there as is their duty under law.

4) In addition to the withdrawals the Roseau committee was prepared to challenge 200 signatures on the basis of residency, citizenship and for other reasons. "We are confident a strong majority of those challenges would have stood up before board scrutiny," Anderson said.

5) The Taxpayers Choice Committee has been citing the number 4,051 for at least a week in their public statements, which means they were conceding that at least 46 of their signatures were invalid.

6) At all times, the board has been operating under detailed rules handed out by the attorneys and principals from both sides, which were adopted by formal board resolutions without objection by either side.

A news release from Taxpayers' Choice, which supports the petition drive, stated that the county board failed to review the list of removed names from the petition, failed to make public the list, and failed to allow the Taxpayers' Choice Committee the opportunity to speak or to submit a list of revoked withdrawals.

Roseau County Attorney Michelle Moren said "that had the process continued, additional signatures would have been disqualified and that the margin was not that close causing the board to decide it was time to end the fight.

"All we ever asked for was to give taxpayers in this county an opportunity to vote," said Warroad Mayor Bob Marvin. "I encourage citizens of this county to express their outrage directly to county officials. They are the ones who turned their back on 4,098 citizens, on their duty to the law and on the right of the people to govern themselves."

"We're glad it's over," said Anderson, of the Committee to Save the County Seat. "This business has unnecessarily caused divisiveness and contention within our county. Now we must get about the task of healing those wounds and getting back to being a community again."

Stukel said, "This action by the county board was highly outrageous, unreasonable, and a violation of the law. They couldn't defeat 4,098 people in public, so they had to do it in a back room, with no public review or input, and in clear violation of the law. They should be held accountable."

"Because of the way the board acted," Stukel said, "we are confident we will win this issue in court. We will listen to the people and meet with our volunteers before we decide on a course of action to regain our rights."

"We on this committee are not professional politicians," Anderson said. "We are farmers, shopkeepers, small business people, fathers and mothers concerned about our community and the heritage and traditions of our county."

"We did not start this. We merely responded as best we could, under the law passed by the legislature, and are convinced that we represented the will of a majority of the citizens of Roseau county."

The process to move the county courthouse began when the William Marvin Fund of the Minnesota Foundation offered a $4.5 million grant to the city of Warroad to build a new courthouse for Roseau county. Warroad city officials formally presented this plan to the Roseau county board December 29, 1994.

Thursday, William Marvin told the Taxpayers' Choice Committee that, "Margaret and I are extremely

Duncan accepts superintendency at Fergus Falls

Supt. Robert Duncan, who has served School District 564 of Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire since August of 1989, has accepted the post of superintendent of schools for Fergus Falls School District 544 effective July 1.

Dr. Duncan will succeed another former School District 564 superintendent, Robert Block, who is retiring after approximately 11 years in the Fergus Falls district. Block also moved to Fergus Falls from Thief River Falls. The Fergus Falls district has approximately 108 students per grade more than Thief River Falls.

Formerly superintendent at Mountain Iron-Buhl School District 712 prior to coming to Thief River Falls, Dr. Duncan succeeded Dr. Leo Ruberto as superintendent here. Dr. Ruberto moved from here to Farmington and later to Saudi Arabia.

Dr. Duncan and his wife Patricia have one daughter, Jennifer, a 1994 graduate of Lincoln high school who is attending the University of Minnesota at Duluth.

Terming his decision to accept the superintendent position at Fergus Falls "bittersweet," Dr. Duncan said he had enjoyed six phenomenal years in Thief River Falls but looks forward to new challenges in a new position.

"My philosophy has been that it is important for leadership in education to be fresh and objective," he said. "The longer a superintendent stays in a position the more difficult it is to remain objective. I feel that it is time to move on and allow someone else to bring fresh objectivity into this district."

Duncan said the school district staff is exceptional and the people of the district have been supportive of their schools. He said he had tried to provide what the people wanted through the leadership to accomplish those objectives and building on past successes while laying groundwork for the future.

"I feel that the structure is in place to provide continuity of quality education and there are dedicated and qualified people within and outside the schools willing to work to make that happen," he said.

In addition to Fergus Falls, Dr. Duncan was a finalist for superintendent in the Hastings and St. Cloud school districts.

Hospital week activities set

Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls has planned a number of activities in observance of National Hospital Week May 7-13, according to Gail Holland, public relations coordinator for the medical center.

The week will get off to a big start Monday, May 8, when more than 300 second grade youngsters from Thief River Falls and other area schools will visit the medical center. Thief River Falls students will visit from 8:45 to 10:45 a.m. and second graders from several area schools will visit from 12:15 to 2:15 p.m.

The children will watch a Kids on the Block puppet show; be given a demonstration on use of upper extremity prostheses by Art Heinze, director of occupational therapy at the medical center, and have an opportunity to enjoy the activity center set up especially for them.

Residents of the Convalescent and Nursing Care (C&NC) unit will play "Bingo for Bucks" at 2:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, May 9, music by the "Sayler Boys" will provide entertainment for C&NC residents at 6:30 p.m.

Cholesterol screening for staff at Lincoln high school will take place at 3 p.m. in the Lincoln cafeteria by personnel from the medical center on Wednesday, May 10. There will be a sing-along with Ida Nordvall at 9:30 a.m. at the C&NC unit and a resident/hospital staff tea will take place on both C&NC floors at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

At the medical center cafeteria on Thursday, May 11, administration and department heads will serve special ice cream sundaes to all hospital employees from 2 to 4 for the regular shift and 10 to 11 p.m. for the night shift.

Heritage Choir will entertain residents on the first floor of the C&NC unit at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Friday at 2 p.m. Cathy Erickson and her band will perform on the second floor of the C&NC unit.

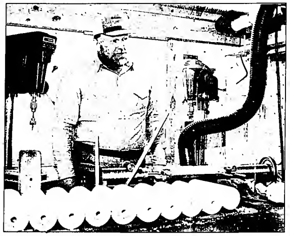
Lokstad Products just keeps rolling along

After disastrous December 7 fire, this 45-year-old rural Newfolden family business is running again



Once a rolling pin is positioned in this lathe, the wood removal process is done automatically, giving shop owner David Lokstad a few seconds to watch what is going on around him and get ready for his next move. If handle pins and handles are ready and a full crew on hand, David said that the shop could produce 500 completed rolling pins in a 10-hour day.

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

There was a time—actually there were many times in the past few months—when David Lokstad would have liked to give up on the 45-year-old family business and save himself weeks of tedious recovery and repair.

"I really don't know why I kept on," he said. "I guess there is the pride and incentive to carry on a family heritage, and Newfolden has called itself the rolling pin capital for quite a few years. But it would have been a whole lot easier to quit, I can tell you that!"

Since 1950 when David's uncle John Lokstad started turning out rolling pins for the market, the 16x24 shop on the Lokstad farm three miles east of Newfolden has been a mini-manufacturing plant. What it may lack in computerization and fancy commercial equipment it makes up for in ingenuity and practicality.

And best of all it produces the epitome of U. S. industry—a high quality product at a competitive price.

Shop Built From 3-Inch Planks

John built the shop himself in 1949 from three-inch-thick planks sawed from discarded electric utility poles, meticulously grooved and fitted to form the roof and walls.

"That construction is probably what saved us," David says, referring to a fire which struck the building early on the morning of Dec. 7, 1994. "It was so tight it just didn't let any air in to let the fire get any headway. And if Morris Hanson hadn't noticed the smoke when driving by in the early morning and called us and the fire department, it would have been too late."

But the heat was intense in some areas of the shop and specialized equipment, much of which had been either built or modified by John, was melted, buckled or twisted. David points to other areas where equipment and other materials stored in the shop miraculously escaped serious damage.

In general, however, the fire damage was a disaster. David spent many long days crawling around the shop on his hands and knees in the winter cold and a pair of blackened coveralls, trying to recover what parts and pieces he could find from 45 years of accumulated clutter and placing them in buckets for later sorting, identification and reconditioning.

Effort Was Rewarded

The tedious effort was rewarded when nearly everything necessary for operation was recovered and most of it was restorable. That restoration, however, was also a long and tedious project. It was during the search for parts and the restoration that David was tempted many times to just give it up and let the operation go.

But as the shop was rebuilt with replacement windows and tongue-and-groove knotty pine to cover the scorched walls and roof interior, and as he was able to piece together the equipment and make it operable, the realization that production could indeed begin again provided

A Heartfelt Thank You

Perhaps you sent a lovely card,
Or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a funeral spray.
If so, we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,
As any friend could say,
Perhaps you were not there at all,
Just thought of us that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts,
We thank you so much whatever the part.

We cannot begin to express our gratitude [illegible] appreciation for the love and support shown to all of us during the shocking time of our recent tragedy. From the 911 call to our friends and neighbors who just stood by and prayed, THANK YOU. The response from the Thief River Falls LEC, Sheriff's Dept., Fire Dept., Pastor John [illegible], Emergency Services at NW Medical Center, Gordie Peterson and the staff at Green Funeral Home was truly above and beyond.

A heartfelt THANK YOU to everyone who stopped by, brought food, remembered us with cards, calls and words of comfort, to the staff at "Evergreen", Sam Hay and the B.W. staff, Marge Peterson and the ICC Nursing staff, Eastern Star and Trinity Church. A special thank you to Pastor John and Gordie for "Eric's Song" and to Sally and Vi for giving this wonderful gift of music and song to everyone who heard and understood. For all the "hugs" that helped to keep us "upright" during this time of sorrow, we want you to know it is a needed, appreciated and necessary comfort.

Christine and Eric will be deeply missed. She loved her family, friends and home. To all of you we express our gratitude and love. Thank you and God Bless.

Star City

Crookston — After seven years of work, Crookston is a Star City. The city started the Crookston 2000 project by focusing on the city's strengths and weaknesses. Five years later, the project was narrowed down to focus on the industries for which Crookston is best suited.

After the data was gathered, Crookston seemed best suited for Information-based telecommunications industries.

New principal

Baudette — Long-time teacher, Ron Omerza is the new principal at Lake of the Woods high school.

Omerza has taught social studies at Lake of the Woods since 1964 and has been the athletic director for the past two years.

Omerza will share some of the principal's duties with other school administrators.

"I think it will work out all right. We have the support of the staff, and that's very important," said Omerza.

Wanna make a bet?

Fertile — On May 1, it rained in Fertile and once again Duane Knutson won his annual bet.

In 1946, he and his brother were trying to plan what to do the following weekend. Duane said not to plan an outdoor activity because it always rains May 1. Kerwin didn't believe this, so they made a bet.

In thirty years Duane only lost twice, in the 1980's he only lost in odd numbered years. He has won every year in the 90's.

Man hit by car

Bagley — A man from Shevlin was hospitalized after he was struck by a car in Bagley on Monday, May 1.

John Norman, 77, was crossing the street at about 3:15 p.m. when a car driven by Edward Bertz, 81, of Bagley struck him. Rescuers quickly arrived on the scene and took Norman to North Country Regional Hospital in Bemidji. There was no word on Norman's condition.

Business women's networking group

The Minnesota Women's Network for Entrepreneurial Training (MWNET), which is sponsored in this region by the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund, have scheduled meetings for the month of May. Women business owners are invited to attend any of the "roundtable" discussions and are reminded there is no cost to join the network. Newcomers are always welcome.

This month the MWNET will meet in the following communities:

Bemidji, May 16 at 8 a.m. at the Edgewater Family Restaurant, 910 Paul Bunyan Drive, the topic will be "creating job descriptions."

Fertile, May 16 at 6:30 p.m. at Eats and Antiques (Fertile Rec), the topic will be "hiring practices and applications."

Mahnomen, May 11 at 11:30 a.m. at Shooting Star Casino Wigwam Room, the topic will be "customer service opportunities."

Please call 218-935-2827 to pre-register. For more information about MWNET, call 1-800-659-7859 or 218-759-2057.

Badger school Key Kid program

Sign-up has begun for "Summer Key Kids" at Badger school. Four communities are invited to enroll their school age children in this non-profit facility. The program will be held from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday beginning May 30 (excluding July 3 and 4).

Children will be able to explore many different opportunities including computer usage, private music lessons, two-week children's theatre and production, softball and t-ball, library usage, gym usage, and swimming.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

With graduations, confirmations and Mother's day coming up, this is a good time for some salad ideas. Double them to serve a bunch.

A little different, this salad will be a hit:

FLUFFY ORANGE SALAD

- 1 (3 ounce) package cream cheese
- 1 (5 ounce) jar Neufchatel cheese spread with pimento
- 1 (11 ounce) can mandarin oranges, drained
- 1 (16 ounce) can sliced peaches
- 1 (13 1/2 ounce) can pineapple tidbits or chunks, drained
- 1 cup miniature marshmallows
- 1 cup cream, whipped

Beat the two kinds of cheese. Drain and cut up peaches, saving 1/4 cup juice. Beat syrup into cheese.

Fold fruit and marshmallows into cheese mixture. Fold in whipped cream and chill.

Here's another old favorite:

LIME PARTY SALAD

- 16 large marshmallows (1/4 pound)
- 1 cup milk
- 1 package lime gelatin
- 2 (3 ounce) packages cream cheese, room temperature
- 1 can crushed pineapple (#2 size) undrained
- 1 cup cream, whipped

Melt marshmallows and milk in double boiler. Pour hot mixture over gelatin and stir until dissolved.

Mash cream cheese and stir into lime mixture until dissolved. Add pineapple and set until cooled.

Blend in whipped cream and refrigerate overnight.

Another tasty cool treat:

TUTTI-FRUITI LEMON SALAD

- 1 (13 1/4 ounce) can crushed pineapple or tidbits, undrained
- 1 (16 ounce) can mandarin orange sections, drained
- 1 (17 ounce) can fruit cocktail, undrained
- 1/2 cup flaked coconut
- 2 cups miniature marshmallows
- 1 package instant lemon pudding
- 1 small container Cool Whip

In large bowl, combine pineapple, fruit cocktail and orange section with coconut and marshmallows.

Sprinkle pudding over ingredients in bowl and stir gently. Let stand one hour, then add Cool Whip.

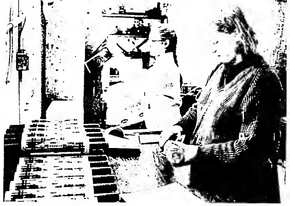
Judy Lokstad boxes several of the Lokstad Products rolling pins for shipment in the shop on the Lokstad farm three miles east of Newfolden. The Lokstads got back into business in mid-April after a fire caused extensive damage to the shop interior and equipment on December 7. Judy also works for Quin County Community Health Service.



Rolling pins completed in the manufacturing process at the Lokstad Products plant east of Newfolden are being wrapped with the colorful plaid wrapper that has long been identified with the Lokstad products by Amie Lokstad (right), a senior at Marshall County Central high school. In the background is Alisha Youngstrand, one of Amie's friends, who is pressing the handles into place. Both girls handle several areas of the operation.

Crime, Freedom, Control And How We React

Too frequently, it seems, our government has a tendency to react to an individual event or circumstance rather than taking reasoned action in anticipation of general needs. Demonstrations of this are seen frequently in the federal Congress and the state Legislature.

In the current issue of Session Weekly, a non-partisan publication of the Minnesota House of Representatives, summaries of parts of the state's omnibus crime bill are presented. Several of these serve to illustrate what we mean.

Under the bill, all people hired to work at a Minnesota school—public or private—would face a criminal background check. Also required under a separate part of the bill would be criminal background checks on potential apartment building managers.

The latter proposal stems from the 1994 abduction and murder of Kari Koskinen, a New Brighton woman believed to have been killed by her building manager. It would require apartment building owners to have the Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension conduct a criminal history check on every building manager applicant or other employee who would have the authority to enter a tenant's apartment.

While owners who fail to conduct such a check would be guilty of a petty misdemeanor punishable by a fine up to $200, they would not be prohibited from hiring an applicant before the results of the checks are made available, nor would they be prohibited from hiring someone who is revealed to be a convicted criminal.

The bill also includes a tenant's right to privacy section which provides that a landlord (landlady?) may only enter an apartment—after giving reasonable notice—for a "reasonable business purpose," such as showing an apartment or maintenance reasons. Presumably existing laws against abduction and murder, both of which would apply in the case in question, would continue in force.

It seems a little strange that employers who are prohibited from asking private questions of prospective employees should also be required to have their past investigated for criminal activity.

Hit 'em where it hurts law is also gaining popularity. There is now a penalty for minors found in possession of guns or other dangerous weapons at school or on a school bus. That penalty is proposed to be expanded to habitual truants as well. The penalty? Revocation of driver's license until reaching the age of 18.

No matter that the driving privilege is generally unrelated to the other infractions. If suspension from school or fines or other penalties don't deter the illegal action, jack up their wheels and put 'em on foot. Why not apply the penalty to any illegal activity by a juvenile?

Session Weekly also contained a photo of a woman who spoke to a group at the State Capitol to commemorate Crime Victim Rights Week. The woman's son had been accidentally shot to death by a school friend 30 days before his 15th birthday. The photo caption said she "shared her frustration with the legal system for allowing people to store loaded weapons in their homes and for not holding someone responsible when a person is shot or killed."

This mother's loss is not to be minimized and her despair is understandable. We sympathize with her in a tragic and traumatic circumstance. Government, however, should rarely be involved in what people are allowed to do in their own homes. Storing loaded weapons is unwise. Failing to familiarize family members with such weapons which are kept is even more unwise. But prohibitions against such activities are both unnecessary and unenforceable as well as an intrusion on privacy which should not be allowed in a free society.

In the wake of the bombing of the federal building in Oklahoma City, while putting in a late night in the darkroom here at the office, we heard a radio talk show host advocate the banning of militia groups across the nation. He perceived them as threats and flatly declared they should not be permitted by our government.

We see no particular value in militia groups, but as long as they are localized and not interconnected we don't see any particular threat in them either. The existence of militias can no more be blamed for the Oklahoma City bombing than, shall we say, talk show hosts, who the President tried to blame. The host in question was a firm defender of free speech (which lets him do his thing) but willing to restrict freedom of assembly and the right to keep and bear arms.

He didn't address the question of what course of action he would condone if the militia groups wouldn't voluntarily disband under some federal order. Presumably some federal military-type action would be permissible, perhaps even encouraged. If so, it would be more of the activity that militia-minded people have decried in federal agencies—the license to practice military action against the country's own citizens.

Certainly a government-led action against militia groups would be no contest. "Dozens of state and federal officers in riot gear and armed with shotguns and automatic weapons" (according to an Associated Press report) were on hand in Carthage, MO, to arrest two drifters who peacefully responded to a telephone call to come out of their room and surrender. It took tanks and a gas attack to move against women and children surrounded and isolated in a religious compound at Waco, TX. One can only imagine the federal military might that would be assembled and unleashed against a group of citizens who actually could be in a position to resist.

Government—ours or any other—is powerless to counter the always present threat of individuals seeking to do damage. It does have the power, however, to control its actions so that it merits the trust and confidence of the American people. Brutal and ill-conceived acts of agents who are not held accountable destroy such trust and confidence and lead to the formation of defensive militia groups. In effect government, by its failure or inability to be accountable for the misdeeds of its agencies and agents, brings this problem unto itself.

The Oklahoma City bombing notwithstanding, citizen militia groups have not proved to be a threat to anyone or anything. Government agencies, on the other hand, have been. If error is to be made, it must be made on the side of personal freedom over government control.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I would like to make the Thief River Falls area public aware of the special service provided by one of your business places, Universal Screenprint.

As the coach of the Mille Lacs (Isle/Onamia) track team, I found myself in charge of hosting a Section 8A True Team track meet Tuesday, May 2, in Onamia. We had more than 500 high school athletes with 28 boys and girls teams participating. I contacted Doug at Universal Screenprint and they designed a t-shirt specifically for this meet. We had taken orders for close to 200 shirts to be distributed the day of the meet.

When the shirts had not arrived on the morning of the meet, I was confused. I have dealt with Doug and his staff countless times and have had nothing but good service. So I called and found out the shirts were being printed and were scheduled for shipment that day. With the many pressures of that day I'm sure I sounded more than a little upset that they would have to be distributed to the teams the next day. It was really no one's fault, we just missed communication on the day the shirts were actually needed.

Imagine my surprise when at 7:30 p.m., with the meet in progress, I saw Bob Huot of Universal Screenprint standing at the gate of the track with a huge box. He had driven the five hours one way from Thief River Falls to Onamia to deliver the shirts. We had plenty of time to distribute them before the conclusion of the meet.

I think that desire and extra effort to satisfy a customer should be recognized. That service, coupled with the fact that we won the meet and qualified for the state meet, made for a great ending to a hectic day. Thanks again to Doug, Bob and Tracy for a job well done!

Sincerely,
Mark Lundin
Onamia, MN

P.S. Our shirts will look great at STATE!

Ekelund Bazaar is on May 13th

There will be a bazaar at the Ekelund church on May 13 from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. sponsored by Lutheran Brotherhood Branch #8129. There will be a bake sale, a rummage sale, a fish pond, a country store, crafts, a cake walk, a quilt raffle, and guessing games.

All proceeds will go to Bible campers. Everyone is welcome. The church is located four miles south and three and one half miles east of the Goodridge corner.

There are nearly 5,000 Conoco retail locations in the Continental U.S. And while they all meet the tough set of quality standards for appearance, products and customer service, this year a select group exceeded those standards to earn the coveted Conoco Image Excellence Award. It's a rare honor to win this award, since finalists have to earn a perfect inspection score twice in one year–something accomplished by only a handful of Conoco retail locations like Falls Diesel Service.

Initiative Fund dinner features Garrison Keillor

Garrison Keillor, host of public radio's nationally broadcast Prairie Home Companion, will be guest speaker for the fourth annual recognition dinner of the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund Wednesday, May 10, at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls, starting at 5:30 p.m.

The dinner is held annually to recognize financial contributors to the Initiative Fund from northwest Minnesota as well as recognize this year's Outstanding Leadership Award winners.

Current donors and the award recipients should have received invitations in the mail. A limited number of tickets are available to the general public for $13 each (includes dinner) by calling the Initiative Fund office at 1-800-659-7859 by 5 p.m. Monday, May 8.

Keillor, who is also a best-selling author and Grammy Award winner, will be telling stories from Lake Wobegon.

Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund is a regional charitable foundation committed to improving the quality of life for residents of northwest Minnesota by increasing economic growth and business development and increasing the capacity of individuals and organizations to shape the region's future.

Contributors to Save the Depot to be recognized

In appreciation for the community support for the campaign that saved the Soo Line Depot in Thief River Falls, the Historic Depot Preservation Committee will be listing all contributors in the May 26 edition of the Northern Watch.

Chairman Larry Rohlf says it is the committee's way of saying "thank you." "We have tried to get out the thank you cards, and some of these folks will be receiving prints, and many of them will be recognized on the 1024 Tribute Wall, but not all of them and we wanted a way to publicly say 'thanks' to everyone."

The listing will include everyone who has donated to the campaign over the past two years. Rohlf said this week that contributions were continuing to come in for the rescue and renovation of the Depot. The campaign topped $200,000 in a giant week of giving last week.

Quilt show May 12th and 13th

The North Star Quilters Guild is sponsoring the "Quilting on the Red Quilt Show" on May 12 and 13 at the Church of Latter-Day Saints.

The show will feature continuing demonstrations of hand and machine applique, paper piecing, rotary cutting and unique computer programming.

The event is free and open to the public.

Temperance meet Sunday

Annual meeting of the Marshall County Temperance Society will take place Sunday, May 7, at 2:30 p.m. at the Newfolden community center.

Terms of Frances Welin, Larry Bjorsness and Ruth Sustad on the board of directors expire this year and election will be held to fill those positions.

A 20-minute video geared to youth on tobacco and alcohol will be shown and Mrs. Jay Hayek of Strandquist will provide special music. Prizes will be awarded in the society's recent poster and essay contest.

Lunch will be served and all interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Magnet Arts music recital Sunday night

Seven vocal and instrumental students in the "Northern Expression School of the Arts," the magnet arts program at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, will present a recital Sunday, May 7, at 7 p.m. in the choir/orchestra room at Lincoln. Public attendance is invited and there is no admission charge.

All of the students will be performing two or three selections that they have been preparing throughout the year.

Students include Chris Tsukiela, tenor; Mandi Rudahl, soprano; Laura Williams, alto saxophone; Mark Spyhalski, horn; Jill Dekkers, flute; Matt Johnson, euphonium; and Allen Cole, composition.

Another component of the recital will be the performance of original pieces composed by the students during their Theory I and Theory II classes. The original compositions include jingles, mood pieces, percussion ensembles and various others. They will either be presented live on various instruments or through the midi computer station that each student has used for different projects throughout the year.

Instructors in the program are Darcy Reese, Music Theory I; Bruce Felt, Music Theory II; and Brian Cole, sight singing/ear training.

The instructors encourage the public to "enjoy an evening with these musicians and see and hear the creativity and musicianship that they have been developing through hard work and many hours of practice."

National Teacher Day proclaimed Tuesday, May 9

Tuesday, May 9, has been proclaimed by Mayor Bob Reeve as National Teacher Day in Thief River Falls as it is being observed throughout the nation under sponsorship of the National Education Association.

The proclamation points out that teachers open children's minds to ideas, knowledge and new possibilities; in partnership with parents instill sound values and good character; renew American democracy by fostering informed and active citizenship, and continue to influence after school days are memories.

Special observances will take place in each of the School District 564 schools on May 9.

Hospital Week activities set at Medical Center

Concluding events on Saturday, May 13, will be the 12th Annual Health in the Long Run which gets underway in the morning and an ice cream social served by the Zion Lutheran Church youth group at 1:30 p.m. at the CANC unit.

Local nursing homes will be observing Nursing Home Week the following week with activities for residents. Valley Home is planning a program and lunch on Tuesday, May 16, and Oakland Park Nursing Home will have its annual spring tea for residents and their families from 2 to 3 p.m. on Wednesday, May 17.

Homeschoolers

Christian Homeschoolers of Thief River Falls are inviting the public to its first curriculum fair Thursday, May 11, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Church on the Move, located next to McDonald's on highway 59 south.

The fair is intended for persons who are presently homeschooling or interested in doing so. For more information call Sue Tuthill at 681-8908.

Conflicting viewpoints presented on Roseau Co. courthouse issue

pround of the volunteers who put so much effort into a very noble goal [illegible] an election for all the people to decide this issue. It disturbs us greatly that the county board so quickly dismissed their petition and denied the people such a simple request, an election."

Marvin added that, "Our respect for our friends and supporters remain high. We appreciate their work, thank them for their friendship, and remain dedicated to our hometown and the values of democracy that we worked so hard to promote."

William Marvin also said that, "We stand by the decision of the Volunteer Committee to continue to pursue an election by reviewing the county's actions. We will be guided by the Taxpayers Choice Committee's recommendations."

On Thursday, Jerome Rice, attorney for the Committee to Save the County Seat, said that as a result of the decision by the county board Tuesday, the game is over. "Under the law, the board's vote means this petition is over," Rice said. "It is invalid under the laws laid down by the Minnesota legislature."

"It seems the Warroad committee doesn't understand the meaning of losing, nor do they understand the basic rules of fair play. The whistle has blown, the score has been posted and the game is over. But now they are apparently trying to force an overtime when the score was not only not tied, it wasn't even close."

Rice accused the Warroad committee of putting pressure on individuals who withdrew their names from the petition asking them to rescind their withdrawal. "There is no legal basis for the board to accept recisions of withdrawals at this point," said Rice. "If the Taxpayers Choice Committee wants to begin a brand new petition drive, of course they have the right to do so. But the old petition has been disposed of according to law.

"I appeal to all the citizens of Roseau county not to sign anything relative to the county seat at this time," Rice said. "The Warroad committee should be ashamed of itself for trying to push [illegible]. The citizens of this county have gone through over this issue for the past four months.

"One thing is clear. The Warroad committee is not interested in doing any so-called favors for the people of Roseau county. This is a pure power grab. They want to control the county government and they will stop at nothing to achieve their [illegible] goal. It's astounding that they are capable of treating our county commissioners, county auditor and county attorney at this time and with these type of tactics."

Ruth Stukel expressed the disappointment of the Taxpayers Choice Committee. "Hundreds of volunteers worked many hours to give the people the right to vote. 4,098 citizens ultimately petitioned their government for an election. These people were ridiculed and harassed by the Roseau county board and the Roseau committee. Their hopes for an election were set aside by a backroom deal engineered by certain members of the county board." Stukel added that, "We are obviously hurt and dismayed by the process."

Grygla SWCD has trees for spring planting

Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District office at Grygla still has a large variety of trees and shrubs available for conservation plantings, according to Kathy Zavoral, district technician.

Persons in the district who would like an order form or have questions about trees and tree planting may contact the district office at 218-294-6144.

Fertile-Beltrami win 7-5 baseball tournament opener...

Falcons' rally stuns Prowlers

Shut out on three hits over six innings, Fertile-Beltrami stunned host Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke with a seven-run seventh inning Thursday as the Falcons pulled out an unlikely 7-5 win in the opening game of the first Prowler Sports Boosters Invitational high school baseball tournament at the Wilson Field.

Corey Jenkins shut down Fertile-Beltrami on three singles over five innings and Rob Stock struck out the side in the sixth before the Prowlers' pitching rotation put Chris Vance on the mound for the seventh. Seven of the eight batters Vance faced reached base, but because of two critical errors, six of the seven Fertile-Beltrami runs were unearned.

Prior to the seventh inning collapse the Prowlers were in charge. Five Fertile-Beltrami errors scored three runs, an RBI single by Chris Keefe in the third made it 4-0 and a solo home run by Nick Chisholm over the right field fence in the fifth provided a five-run gap.

Vance retired the first batter he faced in the seventh, but ran into trouble with the bottom of the [illegible] a single to [illegible] and an RBI double to Mike Sorenson. Matt Forest struck out, [illegible] on an error, [illegible] loaded home a run to make it 5-2.

A potential double-play ball was then dropped at second base, loading the bases and eventually leading to a two-run single by Mike Nesland, a two-run double by Matt Webster and a run-scoring wild pitch.

[illegible] Hunt and the Prowlers' fourth pitcher of the day, came in to get the final out.

[illegible] put the Falcons at 2-6 for the year and left the Prowlers 2-8.

NCC softball team sweeps Brainerd

A big day on offense produced 13-10, 20-12 Northland wins over Brainerd Thursday in a Minnesota Community College Conference softball doubleheader played on the Raiders' diamond.

The Pioneers, led by Marcy Olsen and Ronda Olson, banged out 36 hits in the two games to reach 6-6 in the MCCC and remain in contention for the second Northwest Division seed in the May 13-14 Region 13 tournament behind front-running Fergus Falls.

Ronda Olson was 4-for-4 in the opener and Marcy Olsen went 4-for-5 with two triples and seven RBI. Marcy Olson came to the plate with two on in a 10-10 seventh inning tie and delivered a triple that also scored her when the Raiders stuck an error on to the end of the play.

After an error-free opener, the Pioneers struggled through five second-game errors that kept Brainerd from being blown out. But the Northland offense was still there, this time led by Odetta Blomker, Gina Salverson, Carlene Jadiny, and Carrie Olsen with three hits each. Blomker had two triples and five RBI.

"It was just one of those days where everything seemed to click on offense," noted Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "Everybody on the team had at least two hits for the day. They were just phenomenal. It was a lot of fun."

Celeste Cormican pitched both games for the winners, turning in a solid opener, then struggling at times before finishing strong in Game 2 against the hard-hitting Raiders.

BCC - Nikki Kummel (LP); Hennekamp 3-5.

TRF tennis team posts first win of the season

Straight-set wins throughout the match highlighted Thief River Falls' 7-0 boys high school tennis win over Mahnomen Tuesday on the Prowlers' courts.

It was the Prowlers' first dual in six tries, and it came in Jay Forney's return as head coach. Forney, who stepped down from the position after the 1994 season, resumed coaching duties Monday when he was named to replace Mark Dannhoff for the rest of the 1995 season.

TRF 7, Mahnomen 0

Singles - 1. Keith Anderson (TRF) def. Keith Clark 6-0, 6-1; 2. Brock Wahuth (TRF) def. Benn Baumann 6-0, 6-0; 3. Kyle Anderson (TRF) def. Greg Hendrickson 6-2, 6-0; 4. Tom Fogarty (TRF) def. Scott Saari 6-0, 6-0.

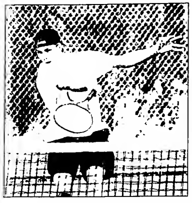
Exhibition - Andy Janisch (TRF) def. Chris Demers 6-0; Andy Janisch-Josh Holmes (TRF) def. Jeff Tibbets-Jims Lelnes 6-0, 6-0.



Keith Anderson came to the net to return this shot at No. 1 singles against Mahnomen Tuesday during Thief River Falls' 7-0 boys high school tennis win.

Scores improving on TRF boys golf squad

Six Thief River Falls golfers finished within eight strokes of each other Tuesday as the Prowlers took part in the Bagley/Fosston Invitational boys high school golf meet.

Nine holes were played at each site, resulting in a one-shot victory for Fosston over runner-up Roseau, 303-304. Thief River Falls finished seventh in the 21-team field with a 328.

Sophomore Chad Nordhagen led the Prowlers with a 79 on nearly identical rounds of 39-40. Senior Tim Barry was right behind him at 80 with a 40-40 day, and senior Jared Lee went from a first-round 46 at Bagley to a 38 at Fosston for an 84.

"Chad had a steady round of golf, Tim was consistent, and Jared showed a lot of concentration with his second round," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Dick Tyler. "The kids were very happy with their scores. We're improving, and feeling very positive about ourselves."

Prowlers run in Crookston VFW meet at UND...

Track teams record time drops

Significant time drops throughout the line-up highlighted the Thief River Falls/Goodridge efforts at the Crookston VFW Invitational high school track meet held Tuesday at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks.

"We had PR's (personal-best) all over the place," reported Prowlers coach Tim Olson. "The kids just exploded with time drops. It was a great day for our kids. We had some outstanding efforts."

The Prowlers had a pair of first place finishes, both coming in the girls portion of the meet, and both involving junior Lisa Swanson, who won the 800-meter run in 2:24.64 and ran a leg on the 4x800-meter relay team that turned in a meet-record 10:09.78. Sophomore Kate Ihle, freshman Becky Mooney, and seventh grader Emily Mugaas were also part of the winning relay team.

Olson also singled out junior Dave Jones for his second place 4:44 clocking in the boys 1600 meters, and seventh grader Rachel Mathson, who made her varsity debut with a fourth place 1:04.32 in the girls 400 meters – the Prowlers' best time of the year in the event.

Park Rapids Area won both the boys and girls team titles.

The Panthers collected 142 points in the boys competition, followed by Marshall County South with 76, Crookston 66, East Grand Forks 56, Thief River Falls/Goodridge 46, Stephen 37, Warroad 32, Roseau 25, Tri-County/Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 21, Red Lake Falls/Oklee/Plummer 12, Mahnomen 11, and Marshall County Central 6.

Park Rapids Area girls scored 121 points, followed by Thief River Falls/Goodridge 63, East Grand Forks 54, Roseau 52, Marshall County South 48, Stephen 42, Tri-County/Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 31, Red Lake Falls/Oklee/Plummer 17, Mahnomen 16, Marshall County Central 16, Kittson Central/Kittson County North 10, Fisher 1.

Summer recreation program sign-up is scheduled for TRF

Registration for the Thief River Falls summer youth baseball, tennis and softball programs will be held from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. May 8-12 at the Parks and Recreation Department located at 803 South Banzen.

Baseball program is designed for ages 7-12. Participation fee is $10 for city residents and $15 for rural residents at the 7-8-year-old level; $15/$20 for the 9-10-year-olds; and $20/$25 for the 11-12-year-olds.

Tennis, open to boys and girls ages 7-18, and softball, offered to girls ages 7-17, both have $10 registration fees for city residents and $15 for rural residents.

There is a family registration fee cap for the programs - $50 for city residents and $60 for rural residents. A $5 late fee will be assessed for those registering after May 12.

For additional information contact the Thief River Falls Parks and Recreation office at 681-2519.

Free May 8-12 swim clinic is offered for grades 1-through-5

Thief River Falls Swim Club will sponsor a free swim clinic for children grades 1 through 5 at the Franklin Middle school swimming pool May 8 through 12.

Classes will be divided into two groupings, students in grades 1-3 and 4-5. The clinic for children grades 1 through 3 will be from 3:30 to 4:15 p.m. The clinic for children in grades 4 and 5 will be from 4:30 to 5:15 p.m. Competitive stokes will be taught.

A swim meet will follow the final day of the week-long clinic on Friday.

Registration takes place on Monday, the first day of classes and is free of charge. The only pre-requisite is that participants be able to swim one length of the pool without a floatation device. Also, parental permission must be obtained before students can participate in the swim clinic.

TRF men's softball league teams meet

Thief River Falls Men's Slow Pitch Softball League meeting will be held Tuesday, May 9, at 7 p.m. in Room 120 at the Northwest Technical College-Thief River Falls.

Purpose of the meeting is to set up the 1995 league schedule and to discuss any changes in league rules.

Anyone entering a team for the 1995 season should attend the meeting. If you are unable to attend the meeting, but plan to have a team in the league, contact Bruce Lawrence at 681-6324.

Early Bird softball set for TRF May 21

Early Bird Invitational men's slow pitch softball tournament will be played Sunday, May 21, in Thief River Falls.

Entry fee is $80, plus a Blue Dot softball. Tournament director is Bruce Lawrence, telephone 681-6324.

Prowlers' baseball game is rained out

MCC/Tri-County wins 25-20 softball meeting with Bears

Marshall County Central/Tri-County and Lake of the Woods combined for 76 runs Monday in a high school softball doubleheader offensive show at Newfolden.

Lake of the Woods won the opener 22-9 on the strength of a 15-run second inning. Marshall County Central/Tri-County took the nightcap 25-20 by outscoring the Bears 17-10 in the second inning.

The split left Marshall County Central/Tri-County at 4-4 for the year.

Brad Johnston displays art at show

Brad Johnston of Gatzke was among 10 Bemidji State University students chosen to present their work in a student art show held in the Touche Gallery on campus.

Johnston is a senior majoring in industrial technology.

The show was sponsored by the Visual Equal Association, a group of students at BSU dedicated to gaining a better understanding of the graphic design profession. Submissions from students were solicited for the exhibit with a panel of faculty and students judging each entry.

JOAN LUBITZ
OPTICIAN

DETECTING BABY'S VISION PROBLEM

There isn't much a baby can see clearly when he's first born. He doesn't have the ability yet to focus quickly or accurately. In the beginning, each eye tends to act independently of the other. It takes awhile before he learns how to use both eyes to see well.

As time goes on, if baby still doesn't seem to be seeing well, he should have an eye examination. There are certain telltale signs a parent can watch for. Does your child find it difficult to pick up small objects? When he reaches for a toy, does he miss it completely? When he starts to walk and hustle around the house, do you often see him stumbling over things that he should have seen and avoided?

Check to see if he is using both eyes to focus on an object. If he tilts his head to look at something, or squints or closes one eye to look closely at something, there may be a vision problem. An eye examination is the only way you can be sure.

the stimulus needed to continue the effort.

For David's wife Judy, the fire meant contacting a number of customers to notify them of the inability to fill their orders. It also meant extra bookkeeping and paper work as she handles the company's government reports, insurance and accounting.

On April 10, after four months of "cleaning, cleaning, cleaning," Lokstad Products was back in the rolling pin business. Dozens of hard maple turned blanks for pins that had been in the shop had to be discarded. But the supplier in Pennsylvania had scheduled a shipment in anticipation of the shop starting again, and it was received right on time to be put to use.

While the shop equipment may not look impressive to the casual observer accustomed to the huge machines of today's industry, the way it works is an eye-opener.

500 Pins A Day Possible

"If we have a full crew, and have the handle pins cut and the handles painted and ready, we don't have any trouble turning out 500 pins in a 10-hour day," David said.

Consider that means trimming the ends of the blanks, drilling holes for the handle pins, turning the blanks to size, cutting grooves around the circumference of two models of pins, cutting intersecting grooves along the length of two additional styles of pins, sanding, installing the handles and packaging.

The several models of pins made by Lokstad Products now can be compared with the single model John made many years ago so a neighbor could roll out lefse dough. His model worked so well that he began to make them for other neighbors, then for retail sale. The business grew from there.

Several Models of Pins Made

Currently the Lokstads make 20-inch long smooth pins; 10-inch smooth pins in both three-inch and two and three-quarter inch diameters; 10-inch grooved pins; and 10-inch die cut and hardtack pins with three-inch diameters. The hardtack pins have grooves cut a quarter-inch deep, leaving points which perforate the material being rolled. The die cut model, used for rolling dough very thin, is the best selling model.

Most of the Lokstad market is directly to retailers, although they do sell to distributors in California, Washington and Missouri. And despite the growth in frequency that families eat outside the home, the demand for rolling pins continues.

"I think younger people are starting to look more at the cost of eating out compared to preparing food at home," says David, who has worked in the business since 1963. "And the pins make great gifts, especially for people just starting out. I would say a majority of our products are probably purchased as gifts."

John Established Precedent

If so, there is good precedent for the practice. John Lokstad gave one of his pins to David's wife Judy for a wedding present. That was a few years and seven children ago, and it is still in use.

The wooden pins, 100 per cent American made and hand-crafted with the traditional old-time quality, find a ready market in hardware stores, gift shops and mail order businesses, particularly those with Scandinavian items. The Lokstad pin is considered to be the ultimate lefse rolling pin.

In addition to David and Judy, their children Annie, 17, a senior at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden and Adam, 15, a freshman at MCC, also work in the shop. So do Jason Youngstrand, a friend of the family, his sister Alisha, a friend of Annie, Brenda Adamek and Judy's mother, Evelyn Skjerven.

Other neighbors have also found occasional employment at the Lokstad shop over the years. During the last couple of years of John's life, when he and his sister Othelia were having health problems, Leslie and Bev Folden provided the assistance needed to keep the operation going.

Other children in the Lokstad family include John, who is serving in the Navy; Sara, a student at the College of St. Scholastica in Duluth; Kari, who lives in Thief River Falls; Jana, 11 and Jane, 10, who attend elementary school in Newfolden.

Lokstads Use What Works Best

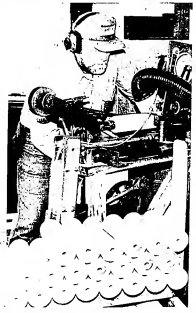
In his never-ending quest for excellence, John Lokstad took items that worked from wherever he could find them. A cutter on one lathe is made from the wrist pin of a Model T Ford. It stays sharp far longer than commercial cutters— and John saw to it that he wouldn't run out. He bought dozens of the Model T parts many years ago.

The machine that turns handles for the rolling pins utilizes the torsion bar of an old Plymouth car. It also out-performs any commercially available cutter.

John Lokstad died in October of 1993. David and his family carried on the business from that time, filling orders until the fire last December. They are now playing catch-up for the time lost from December through April and looking for new business to keep the remodeled shop humming.

Jason Youngstrand of Newfolden is one of the workers at the Lokstad Products rolling pin plant east of Newfolden. He is operating the lathe which cuts grooves around the circumference of the pin.

Adam Lokstad, a freshman at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden, is shown in the family's rolling pin shop. He is sanding one of the pins in preparation for final assembly.



At this piece of equipment in the Lokstad Products rolling pin plant east of Newfolden, David Lokstad saws the grooves which run the length of the pin. Much of the equipment in the shop was built or modified by John Lokstad, who began the business in 1950. Most of it was rebuilt by David—John's nephew—after a fire which caused extensive damage to the shop last December.

Welltek expands

Grygla — One of Grygla's newest businesses, Welltek Engineering, Inc. is now a partnership between three men.

Welltek, which was started about two years ago by Terry Wells, manufactures tools for companies like Polaris Industries. The new partners in the business are Curt Forsland and Mike McKeever.

The company is planning to build a new 6,000 square foot building in Grygla.

New radio station

Red Lake — On May 2 the FCC announced that Red Lake would receive FM frequency 94.1, which means the Red Lake Band may be the first band of Native Americans in Minnesota to have its own radio station.

The next step is to file an application to operate. Getting approval for the building permit from the FCC usually takes about a year. After that, the band will have 18 months to complete the project and get on the air.

The signal would reach from Lake of the Woods to southern Clearwater county. The station would be public, not-for-profit and feature news, sports, cultural information, bilingual and bicultural programming.

Naw manager

Williams — Tom Sawtelle is replacing Chris Weir-Koetter as the new manager of Zippel Bay State Park. Sawtelle moved to the area from Aitkin county where he worked at Savanna Portage State Park. Before that he worked in Indiana for 10 years.

Chris Weir-Koetter left the position when he was promoted to assistant manager of Lake Bemidji State Park last November.

Escape from death

Red Lake Falls — A man from rural Red Lake Falls was released from the Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls after a farming accident left him with cracked ribs and bruises.

On Friday, May 5, Duane Knott was working to repair his feed grinder when the jack slipped and the grinder fell on him. When it seemed Duane had been working quite a while, his wife, Faith, became concerned. She went out to check on him and found him pinned under the grinder. His son, Matthew used a Mitey-Mac to lift the machinery off his father.

Faith credits her children with helping out on the farm while their father heals.

The race is on

Warren — The Northern Outlaw Sprint Racing Association was in town last week to talk with Warren's volunteer fire department and ambulance crews about the dangers involved in race car rescue work.

Driver Sonny Mack was not able to appear in Warren due to injuries he suffered in a race last season.

When NOSA races, they travel at speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour and they wanted to be sure everyone is prepared when they race this summer at the Marshall county fairgrounds.

Seven-year-old Cody Warne of Roseau is the subject of a special fund-raising motorcycle ride to be held Saturday, May 20.

Cyclists to raise funds for Cody

Members of the Grand Forks Harley Owners Group (HOG) have organized a benefit motorcycle ride to benefit seven-year-old Cody Warne of Roseau—paralyzed from the neck down since an auto accident in which his father, Scott Warne, was killed last July.

So far approximately 100 cycle riders are expected for the ride which will begin Saturday, May 20, at 11:30 a.m. from Andy's Harley Davidson on Highway 81 north in Grand Forks and travel north to Drayton, ND, east through Karlstad and Greenbush and on to Roseau, returning through Thief River Falls to Red Lake Falls where a Spring Ride-in is being held.

Each rider will donate $5 to the fund in addition to securing pledges for the ride. Goal of the effort is to raise $5,000 in the "HOG Magic Ride '95—Crusade for Cody" to be used toward special computer equipment for his education and a van with a wheelchair lift. All cycle riders (any make or model of cycle) are welcome to participate in the ride and fund-raising.

Registration for the ride will take place at the starting point between 9 and 11:15 a.m. May 20. For pledge forms or more information, contact Dave Neil at Country Health in Thief River Falls at 681-8214 or 1-800-649-8878.

As a result of the accident, Cody is officially termed a "full-time ventilator-dependent quadriplegic" who requires 24-hour constant specialized nursing care. He spent more than five months in Gillette Children's Hospital in St. Paul before returning to Roseau where his mother and five brothers and sisters—ranging in age from several months to nine years—are living.

Because Cody's home is far too small for the equipment and nursing care Cody needs, Roseau Area Hospital has agreed to serve as his temporary residence until a new and larger home can be built this spring.

The hospital, however, does not staff a respiratory therapy department nor handle ventilatory care on a long term basis. Universal Pediatric Services of Minneapolis provides the specialized nursing care he needs.

Anyone who is not a cycle rider but would like to participate as a donor May make checks payable to the Scott Warne Family Trust and mail them to Grand Forks HOG Chapter, P.O. Box 5667, Grand Forks, ND 58206-5667.

Area school districts plan elections on Tuesday

Several school districts in the area will be holding elections Tuesday, May 16. No special issues will be on ballots. Voters will vote for representation on the school boards.

This year will be unusual in the fact that voters will be voting for representation on the board to serve terms of three and one-half years or four and one-half years. The unusual length of the terms of office are a result of recent legislation requiring all school districts to begin holding elections in the fall during general elections. Many school districts in the region have held elections in the spring.

In Newfolden, school district 441, candidates for the two three and one-half year terms include Mark Carlson, Kevin Maurstad and Susan Peterson. Polling places are at Newfolden Elementary school, Viking Elementary school, and the Holt Community Center, and are open from 3 to 8 p.m.

In Grygla, school district 447, Lee Sundberg and Nicolette McMillan have filed for the two three and one-half year terms. Polls are open from 1 to 8 p.m. and are located at the Grygla school, Gatzke senior center, and Skein town hall.

In Goodridge, school district 561, the two candidates running for the two three and one-half year terms are Tom Scheef and Aldin Hyland. The polling place is located at the Goodridge school lobby and is open from 5 to 8 p.m.

In Middle River, school district 440, the term of office is for three and one-half years. The two candidates running for office are: Lyla Smith, and Wallace Bengtson. The polling place, which is at Middle River school, is open from 5 to 8 p.m.

In Oklee, school district 627, John Lendl and Bonl Rustan have filed for the two three and one-half year terms on the school board. Kim Vettleson has mounted a write-in campaign. The polling place in the Oklee school cafeteria is open from 4 to 8 p.m.

In Plummer, school district 628, the two incumbents filed for the two three and one-half year terms. The candidates are Joe McMullen, and Karen Fossell. Polls at the school cafeteria are open from 5 to 8 p.m.

In Warren, school district 446 four people are running for two three and one-half year terms: Duane Dicken, Robert Johnson, Phillip Awes, and Gary Peterson. Polling places are at the Warren school, Oslo senior citizens center, and Alvarado school.

Lincoln bands' final concert is May 16th

Lincoln high school bands will present their last concert of the year Tuesday, May 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln auditorium. It will also be the last concert at Lincoln for 24 graduating seniors who are members of the Class of 1995.

The concert will feature performances by the jazz band, concert band, wind ensemble and wind ensemble percussion ensemble and will close with a selection performed by the combined bands. It is under the direction of Bruce Pelt and is free and open to the public.

The jazz band will end its year with three songs: "A Little Bird Told Me," featuring alto saxophone soloists Jill Dekkers and Laura Williams; "Come Back to Sorrento," featuring Laura Williams on alto saxophone and Stacy Narlock on trumpet, and "The Buckethead Shuffle," featuring Jake Jacobson on guitar and Kelly Newton on tenor saxophone.

The concert band will also play three numbers. The first, entitled "Lost Colony," musically portrays the hopes and mystery of the lost colony of Roanoke Island, NC, which disappeared for unknown reasons in 1587. The second is a suite of English folk songs by Gustav Holst, and the final will be a medley of Andrew Lloyd Webber songs.

The wind ensemble will open its part of the concert with "Chorale and Shaker Dance," composed by Minnesotan John Zdechlick, followed by "Four Scottish Dances" by Malcolm Arnold. Percussion section will be featured in "Encore in Jazz" and the final number will be the march from the movie "1941."

Grand finale will be "Alleluia! Laudamus Te!" by Alfred Reed, performed by the 125-piece combined band.

A reception honoring the seniors will be sponsored by the Band Boosters in the high school cafeteria following the concert.

Participating in the concert will be the following students:

Class of 1995

Dan Bjerknes, trumpet; Cristi Cota, flute; Jami Fronstad, percussion; Jana Johnson, alto sax; Kelly Lalen, horn; Justin Phillips, trombone; Mark Spyhalski, horn; Nichole Torblaa, oboe; Steve Bushie, trumpet; John Davis, tuba; Karen Halsa, oboe; and Kari Kirkeby, flute.

Also Jennifer Nelson, flute; Rachel Rude, clarinet; Jaymae Stanina, clarinet; Kassie Westerman, clarinet; Allen Cole, percussion; Dustin Edelman, trumpet; Matt Johnson, baritone; Sarah Leach, clarinet; Casher Olson, tenor sax; Mandy Sjaaheim, bassoon; Tom Stumpf, percussion; and Ryan Wold, trombone.

Class of 1996

Chris Bjerken, baritone sax; Nick Der, trombone; Stephanie Durose, tenor sax; Angeline Gunstad, trumpet; Peter Johnson, baritone; Tina Krogstad, flute; Matt Lawrence, percussion; Kelly Newton, tenor sax; Becks Phillips, alto sax; Travis Rothschadl, percus-

Roseau students enjoy pioneer day

by Elizabeth Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

Remember reading "Little House in the Big Woods" and the other books by Laura Ingalls Wilder? Did you ever wonder what the "molasses candy in the snow" tasted like? Third grade students from Roseau county got a taste of molasses candy and life in turn of the century Roseau county on May 5 when third grade students from Mrs. Christian, Mrs. Dahl, Mrs. Erdmann, Mrs. Rund and Mr. Storey's classes hosted Pioneer School Day at the Pioneer Farm just southwest of Roseau on Highway 11.

The day was organized by the grade three teachers of Roseau community schools and inspired by the unit on Laura Ingalls that the third grade studies each year.

"We wanted to provide a living classroom for the students," said Mrs. Christian.

In celebration of Roseau county's 100 year anniversary, they decided to invite the students from around the county. Every third grade class from Warroad, Greenbush, Badger and the Roseau Christian school was invited to tour the farm and enjoy a concert.

The farm was staffed by volunteers who talked about pioneer life and demonstrated skills of days gone by. At the trapper cabin, Mr. Halvorson displayed a variety of trapping equipment. In the Halvorson House, Ardyce Stein baked bread in an old wood stove while Pam Haakonson spun wool into yarn. Kris Grahn demonstrated rugmaking on a loom, and Susan Nordsall-Mellstrom, Kelly Falk and Dorothy Billberg showed off their quilting skills.

Laverne and Merle Goos talked about old machinery and Earl Robinson talked about the role of the blacksmith in the good old days, noting that the blacksmith's shop was once a popular place to gather. In the country store, Shirley Miller, Bea Helstad, Ida Novacek, Jeanette Erickson and Josie Danielson demonstrated butter making. The students were given jars of cream to shake until the cream became butter. Then the ladies added a little salt and the students spread their handmade butter on crackers and tasted the results of their work.

At the Casperson school house, Rose Goos and other retired teachers taught an old-fashion lesson and Vivian Eggen was in charge of recess. At the church, the children heard stories about life in the days of Laura Ingalls and Helen Lanus played her accordion while Delores Lauig played the organ and everyone sang.

Louise Vatnsdal, Karen Mason, Coleen Olson and Emily Wysocki, mom's of third grade students, made molasses candy. All of the students enjoyed a ride on the Skoren horse-drawn wagon. At the farm that Students looked on with interest as Pam Haakonson used an old spinning wheel to make yarn. Pam was one of 100 volunteers who helped teach students about pioneer farm life in turn of the century Roseau county last week.

Harassing calls

Warroad — Residents of Warroad, who have been outspoken in favor of an election to move the Roseau county courthouse to Warroad, reported receiving harassing phone calls consisting of hysterical laughter.

Rick and Eleanor Holmgren reported that they received calls at 5:15 p.m. on Tuesday, May 2 and the following morning at 6:26 a.m. Former Warroad mayor, Ruth Stukel, also reported similar phone calls. The calls are one to three minute long of recorded laughter.

US West gave the Holmgrens a number to call if they receive more harassing calls.

A woman remembers

Karlstad — On May 8 Simone Rector talked to students in Don Aanenson's sixth grade class about living in France during the German occupation of World War II. Simone was twelve years old when the Germans invaded in 1940.

She told the students about the death, destruction and hunger everyone suffered. Simone's father was a fighter pilot. He was shot down in an air raid. In 1942 her twin brother, who worked long hours at a bakery, was shot for violating curfew.

Mrs. Rector said that freedom is taken for granted in the U.S.

"It's just like having the hiccups. Before you know it, it's gone," said Rector.

Tooting their horns

Baudette — It's not everyday tuba players gather to give an outdoor concert, but not everyday is International Tuba Day.

In celebration of this occasion, tuba players from Lake of the Woods high school and their director, Tim Wollenzien, gave a noontime concert on May 5.

After a wet week, even the rain stopped to listen to the music.

Plummer students visit Capitol

Six students from Plummer driver's training class paid a visit to our state capitol on Monday, May 1.

The students were invited by the Lieutenant Governor to set up a booth in the Rotunda.

They collected signatures on buckle-up pledges and passed out seat belt information and buckle-up messages. They also talked to Representative Finseth, Representative Tunheim, and Senator Stumpf about the importance of seat belts.

Students also visited Governor Arne Carlson's office in their spare time.

Tim Finseth showed the students his seat in the House and they were Jim Tunheim's guests during a House session.

Vince and Larry were also present during the presentations given by the students and were popular with visitors of all ages.

The Plummer drivers' training class would like to remind everyone to buckle-up and drive safely.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Today we'll have more recipes you can use for entertaining this summer.

These are tasty hot snacks for your guests to nibble on:

PIZZA CUPS

1 pound pork sausage
1 (14 ounce) jar pizza sauce
2 tablespoons ketchup
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
2 (10 ounces each) packages refrigerated biscuits
Shredded mozzarella cheese
Grated parmesan cheese

Cook sausage and drain. Stir in pizza sauce, ketchup and garlic powder and set aside.

Press biscuits into 20 well-greased muffin cups. Spoon 1 or 2 tablespoons of meat sauce into each biscuit and then top with mozzarella cheese. Sprinkle with parmesan.

Bake at 350 degrees for 10-15 minutes, until golden brown.

This tasty treat will be a hit with your guests:

HONEY-GLAZED SNACK MIX

4 cups rice or corn cereal
1 1/2 cups miniature pretzels
1 cup pecan halves
1/3 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup honey

In large bowl, combine cereal, pretzels and pecans. Set aside.

Melt butter in small saucepan. Stir in honey and blend well. Pour over cereal mixture and stir to coat. Spread evenly in a buttered jelly roll pan.

Bake at 350 degrees for 12-15 minutes, until mixture is lightly glazed, stirring occasionally.

Remove from oven and cool slightly. Spread on waxed paper to cool completely.

Something everyone will love:

PARMESAN CHEESE BALL

2 (8 ounces each) packages softened cream cheese
2/3 cup grated parmesan cheese
2/3 cup finely chopped nuts
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
Coarsely chopped nuts

Mix all ingredients except coarsely chopped nuts. Shape into ball and roll in the coarse nuts.

Wrap in plastic wrap and refrigerate at least 8 hours. Let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes before serving.

These are well worth the extra effort:

PEPPER MINIBITES

1/2 cup chopped red or green bell pepper
1/4 cup finely chopped green onions, with tops
2 eggs
2 egg whites
1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
1/8 teaspoon ground red pepper
1 (4 ounce) can chopped green chilies, well drained

Heat oven to 425 degrees.

Spray 10-inch non-stick skillet with cooking spray and heat over medium heat.

Cook pepper and onions about 5 minutes, until onions are tender.

Beat eggs and egg whites slightly in medium bowl. Stir in pepper mixture and remaining ingredients. Spray small muffin cups with cooking spray. Spoon 1 tablespoon mixture into cups.

Bake 8-10 minutes or until centers are set. Cool 1 minute, loosen edges with knife and remove from pan. Serve immediately.

Sons of Norway to celebrate Syttende Mai in Fosston

The Grandland Lodge no. 240 of the Sons of Norway will hold their May meeting on Thursday, May 18th in the form of a potluck smorgasbord at 7 p.m. at the Embassy Community Center on the corner of 3rd and North Eaton Avenue in Fosston. This will be the official and annual celebration of the "Syttende Mai" observance. This special evening will also be an International Night with a number of foreign students and their host families present.

A short business meeting and the awarding of an attendance gift will be part of the night's schedule of events.

For lodge details and information, contact the president of Grandland Lodge no. 240, Al Bjornerud at 435-6664. He will have information on membership benefits, travel benefits, insurance possibilities, scholarships to Language Camp, Lodge magazine and more.

The Sons of Norway Grandland Lodge no. 240 covers an especially large section of northern Minnesota, including the counties of Polk, Clearwater, Red Lake and Mahnomen.

The lodge is celebrating 100 years of the Sons of Norway which got its start in Minnesota in 1895.

Benefit dinner for Strathcona man

There will be a free-will offering pancake and ham supper to benefit Cordell Wiskow on Sunday, May 21 from 4 to 7:30 p.m. at the cafeteria of Greenbush high school. At the same time, there will be a craft and bake sale. Craft donations to the sale are welcome.

At 8 p.m., Hee Haw — Middle River Style will be performing a family musical comedy show. There is no charge for admission, but a free will-offering will be accepted.

The event is sponsored by the Strathcona Community Club, Strathcona Garden Club, and other friends and family.

GLAUCOMA MAJOR CAUSE OF BLINDNESS
Glaucoma is the leading cause of blindness in America. An estimated 8 million Americans are at risk of vision damage from glaucoma. Almost a quarter million have already lost the sight in one eye, and another 70,000 are completely blind because of the disease.
The greatest risk factor for glaucoma is simply getting older. The disease occurs most often in those over 40, and affects 3% of those over 65. This risk is compounded if you have a family history of the condition, diabetes, myopia (nearsightedness), or are black.
It's not until extensive—and irreversible—damage has occurred that glaucoma causes noticeable symptoms. In its earliest stages, you don't feel or notice anything unusual.
Fortunately, your eye doctor can detect early changes before you are aware of them and commence treatment to arrest the disease. This is why annual eye examinations are so important after the age of 40.

"HOMES FOR THE AGING WEEK"
May 14 - 20, 1995

Valley Home Wishes To Thank All The Staff And Volunteers.

Governor Arne Carlson has proclaimed May 14-20 as "Home For The Aging Week" in Minnesota to honor the state's residents of long-term care and senior housing facilities. The theme for this year's celebration is "Touching Lives With Love: A Celebration of Age." The theme highlights the wealth of wisdom, joy and love the elderly have to share with other generations, and the special role of those professionals who provide care and other services to our elderly.

CORRECTION

In the May 6 issue of the Northern Watch, approximately 1,100 of the papers contained the wrong photo above a caption regarding Jason Youngstrand operating equipment at the Lokstad Products plant at Newfolden. The error was corrected for the remainder of the press run. The Northern Watch apologizes for the error.

Race park at Greenbush opens May 20

Greenbush Race park will open its 1995 racing season on Saturday, May 20, with racing to continue each Saturday through the Labor Day weekend with hot laps at 6 p.m. and first heat races at 7 p.m.

With the addition of the Wissota Super Stock class to the racing program, there will be five classes of race machines competing weekly at the park which features a three-eighths mile clay track and is located one-half mile north of Greenbush on County road 7.

Two special sprint car shows will also be held June 10 and August 12 along with the regular racing program.

Bill Mender of Karlstad, Paul Boen of Karlstad and Mike Tomlinson of Cavalier, ND, are expected to return to defend their total point championships respectively in the Sportsman, Street and Modified classes. Darren Pallen of Winnipeg, last year's Mini-Sprint champion, has moved on to the full-size sprint cars.

Steve Litzinger of Grand Forks will return for his second season as head flagman and Bob Hultgren of Thief River Falls will be back for this third season as track announcer.

Children attending will have an opportunity to register to win a go-cart provided by Brodin Sheetmetal of Thief River Falls.

Ticket prices are the same as last year except for a new group ticket discount available to clubs, groups and organizations of 15 or more.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I don't know how your side of town is doing, but we are certainly seeing some changes in the "Shove Your Junk Days."

First of all, we tried to put our things out in an orderly manner. That didn't last long as people were going through boxes, throwing things all over. I went out twice one day and straightened up my alley.

Then, at 11:45 p.m. last night (May 8), a car came rummaging. Our dogs barked so loudly they not only woke our entire household but I'm sure the whole neighborhood!

Come on, people of TRF! We are being given a wonderful opportunity to get rid of things that normally would be difficult to dispose of...don't mess it up!

I think we should all leave a box of homemade goodies for these nice men who pick up all this mess—they certainly do a wonderful job at our place.

Sincerely,
Pat Dicken

To The Editor:

I am writing regarding people who hit animals and do not have enough decency to stop to see if it is hurt or not.

Friday, May 5, someone driving down Eighth Street hit a dog, and it was not a small dog. I live a couple of houses down and I heard the hit. I talked to neighbors who were in their houses and they also heard it. You can not tell me that the person who hit the dog did not know that they hit it.

I realize not everybody is an animal lover, but for the love of God, that was a family pet! Animals do get loose and accidents do happen, but you have to wonder if it is an accident when people don't stop.

I would like to thank Aaron for stopping to help me get the poor dog off the road so it would not get hit again. I don't know how the dog is (if it ever lived) or who the owners are, but I feel for them.

Sincerely,
Janel Engelstad

P.S. I am not saying this person deliberately hit the dog, but people do seem more guilty when they don't stop.

To The Editor:

In last week's Watch there was a letter to the editor about a Thief River Falls business place. I, too, would like to share my pleasant experience with a Thief River Falls business.

But first, I would like to express my dissatisfaction with some of our local businesses. Quite often I run into these kinds of situations in Thief River Falls stores: Crabby employees, no one available to wait on customers, employees who know precious little about their merchandise or products, merchandise frequently out of stock, uncheerful refunds, outrageous prices, etc.

While I'm sure every community has good and bad businesses, I find myself wondering why some TRF merchants complain about losing customers to larger communities like Grand Forks. I am all for supporting the local economy and am even willing to pay a little more for things rather than spend time and gas driving somewhere else where things are cheaper.

However, if local merchants want repeat customers they need to offer something that the larger cities don't: that being a friendly hometown attitude and good old-fashioned service.

Now, I would like to share an experience I had last week. I walked into Nu-Second Cleaners to pick up a dress I had left to be dry-cleaned. When I opened my wallet to write a check, I realized I was out of check blanks. I told the lady behind the counter I'd have to come back some other time to get the dress.

She then cheerfully responded, "That's O.K. You can take the dress and pay me sometime next week."

I was a total stranger to this nice lady, yet she extended this amazing gesture of trust to me. Fortunately I found enough cash to pay the bill, but I felt very impressed by this example of hometown service. While not every business should go to this extent, they should take note of the attitude shown by that lady—a desire to provide customer satisfaction.

To the many such TRF merchants who provide service with a smile and produce happy, satisfied customers, I commend you. To those businesses which are plagued by the problems mentioned earlier, I say please take note and give me a reason to shop in your store.

Sincerely,
Sharon Gregor

National Safe Kids Week Worth Noting

May 6-13, the week just ending, was designated nationally as Safe Kids Week. Jocelyn Helgeland, a youth leader in the Smiley 4-H club, notes that her club wants the community to be aware that "safe kids are NO accident." She points out that unintentional injuries are the leading killer of children. Each year, more children ages one to 14 die from unintentional injuries than from all childhood diseases combined.

"Each year," Jocelyn writes in a National Safe Kids Week essay, "approximately 7,200 children ages 14 and under are killed and 50,000 are permanently disabled. This year, one child in four (approximately 13 million) will be hurt seriously enough to require medical attention.

"The major unintentional injury risk areas are: Traffic injuries, which includes children as occupants, pedestrians and bicyclists (3,080 fatalities), drowning (1,150 fatalities), fires and burns (1,100 fatalities), suffocation (441 fatalities), poisoning and choking (410 fatalities), unintentional shootings (230 fatalities) and falls (180 fatalities)."

Jocelyn asks that everyone takes the time to go through the following safety checklist:

(1) Our family buckles up on every car ride.

(2) Our family wears bike helmets when biking.

(3) Kids under 10 never cross streets alone.

(4) Kids are always supervised in or near water.

(5) Our home has working smoke detectors and we check the batteries monthly.

(6) Our water heaters are set no higher than 120 degrees Fahrenheit to prevent scald burns.

(7) If guns are in our home, they are kept unloaded and locked away.

(8) Kids are protected against falls from windows, stairs, furniture and playground equipment.

(9) Household cleaners, medicines and vitamins are stored out of the reach of young kids.

(10) Our home has emergency numbers near phones and first aid supplies.

Jocelyn also quotes C. Everett Koop, MD, former Surgeon General of the United States: "If a disease were killing our children in the proportion that accidents are, people would be outraged and demand that this killer be stopped."

No right-thinking individual would ever intentionally harm a child, but how easy it is to allow a child into harm's way through carelessness or indifference or the idea that "kids will be kids."

It is precisely because kids will be kids that adult guidance and supervision are needed. It takes the ability to anticipate danger, often from prior experience, to warn a child, point out an alternative or prevent an act from taking place. National Safe Kids Week should be every week. We thank Jocelyn for that reminder.

A Whole New Concept—Commercial Government

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources is plowing new ground (figuratively speaking, of course) with its 1995 edition of Minnesota fishing regulations. The DNR has about a million copies of the regulations printed each year at a cost of approximately $125,000.

What's new about the publication this year is that it contains commercial advertising. The DNR has sold advertising space on the regulations to an auto manufacturer, boat dock and lift company and a fishing tackle manufacturer for a total of $35,000.

"That's money that anglers won't have to pay out of their fishing licenses," DNR Commissioner Rod Sando was quoted as stating in a recent news release. "We're hoping that future ad sales will eventually cover the entire cost of printing the regulations."

Sando said the decision to sell advertising was made to offset continual budget reductions and that the DNR is currently working on a request for proposals from qualified firms interested in working with the agency to sell advertising for the 1996 fishing regulations.

The idea of selling advertising to finance costs of publications is not new, of course. In our business it is the lifeblood of existence. Rare is the organization which does not attempt to recoup the publication costs of programs or other booklets through the sale of advertising space. Civic groups do it for pageants and programs, schools do it for athletic contests, veterans organizations do it for conventions, the county fair does it for premium lists, and on and on. Sale of advertising on or in publications is not unique.

For some reason or another, however, it seems there is a fine, undrawn line being crossed here in the sale of commercial advertising space in a government agency's publication. It seems to somehow be a violation of ethics or good taste or propriety...something like a block ad for fun and fellowship at Joe's Bar financing a Sunday morning church bulletin. Churches have budget problems, too.

The innovative concept of commercializing government, however, conjures up all sorts of possibilities. Within the DNR itself, state wetland maps could also (for an advertising fee) identify locations of gas stations, convenience stores and motels. Deer tags could have ads for locker plants and sausage makers (by zone). Instead of only the distinctive DNR emblem, vehicles could be covered with sponsor logos like race cars. Tickets for game and fish violations could even have tear-off coupons for discounts at fast food restaurants or free play at a casino.

But there is no need to restrict the financial possibilities to one agency, or only to agencies, for that matter. Lobbyists should be able to get a little more advertising value out of their legislative investments. When legislators vote on nuclear waste storage, why couldn't they wear NSP t-shirts? Or lab coats with the slogan "The Public's Health Is Our Business" when debating the state health insurance system?

Commissioner Sando is on to something. There is real money to be made here. Why levy taxes to pay for it when you could sell advertising on it instead? At least everyone would know up front where the money is coming from and who or what has a financial interest in an action or activity.

Has the commissioner ushered in a new era in governmental finance? Or has his ad space sale on the fishing regulations merely opened... ahem....a can of worms?

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Congratulations
Steve

On the road again, Steve Soiney of Thief River Falls rode his battery-powered cart from Thief River Falls to Warren Thursday, May 4, making the trip in just minutes under 12 hours. Photos above show Soiney leaving in heavy fog at 5:22 a.m. and approaching Warren where he arrived at 5:14 p.m. A picnic was held at the Warren park where the cake shown in the bottom photo was served. Steve had obtained pledges for more than $2,000 which he is now in the process of collecting. Those who pledged—or others who would like to make a contribution—are asked to send their donations to Steve Soiney at P.O. Box 834, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. All funds will be distributed to the Chemical Awareness program, Roots and Wings, Options and Little Brother/Little Sister program. Soiney said he made the trip to within four miles of Warren without incident, then his cart required a battery change (performed by Don Lenhart and David Johnson) to complete the trip. His estimate of eight miles per hour top speed was quite a bit too high, he said, and a brisk headwind didn't help. Soiney, who has multiple sclerosis, said his next goals are to ride a bull at a rodeo and sky dive from 4,000 feet.

Arctic Lites gymnasts to present show May 14

Approximately 85 gymnastic students ranging in age from three and one-half to 18 years will perform at the fifth annual Arctic Lites spring show Sunday, May 14, at the Lincoln high school gymnasium in Thief River Falls.

Performing will be youngsters from Oklee, Red Lake Falls, Warren and Newfolden in addition to the Thief River Falls community.

"Circus Fun" is the theme for this year's show and will provide the backdrop as students dress in costume and demonstrate newly-learned skills. Gymnastics students are placed in classes suited to their abilities and age. As their skills increase, so does the level of complexity and intensity of coaching.

Each class will perform at the show with a finale presented by the Arctic Lites Show Team.

This will be the first performance utilizing the new floor purchased with $10,000 in financial assistance from the Hartz Foundation.

Arctic Lites Gymnastics Club was established in 1990 and employs a director and assistant coaches. A board of directors oversees the club's activities. Classes are held in eight-week blocks beginning in September and ending in June. Individuals interested in learning more about the club are encouraged to attend the show and to contact director Dan Huber at 681-8461.

Retired Educators to meet on May 17 at the Evergreen

Verdie Ellingson of Moorhead, Northwest Division Director of REAM, will be guest speaker when the Northland Retired Educators hold their meeting Wednesday, May 17, at noon in the Evergreen Eating Emporium.

Business meeting following the speaker's presentation will include discussion of plans for summer events and the August banquet honoring new area retirees. All retired educators in the area are invited to attend.

Pioneers, Raiders split games

[illegible] Jack [illegible] Mike Steen both [illegible] performances Wednesday in a Northland Community College baseball doubleheader at Brainerd.

However, Steen [illegible] offensive support and picked up a 7-1 second-game win. Jack [illegible] didn't have the same kind of backing and wound up with a 1-0 eight-inning first-game loss.

"Both of our pitchers did a nice job," said Northland coach Terry Wroeth. "We just didn't get the key hits in the first game. In the second game we had a lot of runners, and with 11 hits you expect to score some runs."

[illegible] had just four hits in [illegible] and Nathan Knutson had [illegible]. Still the Pioneers had chances, leaving nine runners on base [illegible].

Brainerd [illegible] Jacks [illegible] until the bottom of the [illegible] when a [illegible] double and a [illegible] Dan Rocheleau single to right field plated the game's only run.

The Raiders scored again in the first inning of the second game, but that was the only run Brainerd mustered against Steen, who benefited not once from the Pioneers' offensive [illegible], but also from an outstanding defensive effort.

Northland, 11-13 overall and 8-12 in the Minnesota Community College Conference, will close out their 1995 season with Northern Division doubleheaders Wednesday vs. Mesabi in Virginia and Saturday [illegible] in Thief River Falls.

Girls see strong field, tough course at Park Rapids meet

A decent day on a tough course for the Thief River Falls girls high school golf team wasn't nearly enough to put the Prowlers among the leaders at the Park Rapids Invitational Wednesday.

Bemidji won team honors with a 341. Thief River Falls tied for 14th in the 19-team field with a 406.

"A 406 on that course is a real good day for us," said Thief River Falls coach Charlie Cornell. The course will be the site of the Section 8AA meet May 24.

Kristen Hanson of Fosston was medalist with an 80.

Prowlers rally, win 12-10

Chane Keefe hit two home runs and drove in five runs Thursday to lead Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke past Bemidji 12-10 in high-scoring North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball.

The Prowlers, who lost to the Jacks 11-0 earlier this season, trailed 9-4 before staging a comeback that was fueled by a six-run sixth inning.

Keefe hit a solo homer in the fifth and had a 3-run shot to key the sixth inning outburst that improved the Prowlers' record to 5-8.

"It was a nice win," said Prowlers coach Dean Woodman. "We had three errors in one inning, but after that we settled down and played some outstanding baseball."

Prowlers, Pioneers games washed out by rain on Tuesday

Wet weather Tuesday erased scheduled local high school and college baseball and softball games.

The rains wiped out the Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke baseball game vs. Red Lake County and the Prowlers' softball match-up with Bemidji – both scheduled to be played in Thief River Falls. With the regular season nearing a close, neither the baseball game against the Eagles, nor the softball game with the Lumberjacks will be rescheduled.

Another weather victim Tuesday was a Northland Community College softball doubleheader at Fergus Falls.

Horseshoe league preparing for start of its third season

North Star Horseshoe League is scheduled to begin its third year as a sanctioned league later this month.

An adult league for men and women and a junior league for boys and girls will be offered. The league's handicap scoring offers extra points to lower-averaged pitchers to give them an even chance against the better throwers.

Those interested in being involved in the Newfolden area league are invited to contact Jerald Hagen, or any other league members.

Recent Class A Early Bird tournaments, designed as a kick-off for North Star League play, was conducted Saturday and Sunday, with competition being held in Warren because of inclement weather.

Gary Donarski was the winner in the Saturday portion of the tournament with a 6-0 record. Gerald Nelson was second at 4-2 while throwing 33.33 percent. Dick Moen threw 43.33 percent and Walter Hill of International Falls hit 29.52 percent.

Sunday, Donarski won with a 5-0 effort and Moen was second at 4-1 and 46.50 percent. Hill threw 31.5 percent, Nelson hit 23.5 percent and Jerald Hagen 25 percent.

In the Junior Division, Christina Hagen was 5-1 and threw 6.66 percent. Jessi Hodny was second with a 4-2 record and 4.44 percent. Chad Donarski threw 5.55 percent and Stephanie Hagen 2.77 percent.

MCC/Tri-County 20-10 softball winner vs. KC

Often-interrupted 1995 schedule for the Marshall County Central/Tri-County cooperative high school softball team had another weather-forced postponement Tuesday when rain washed out a match-up with Crookston.

Monday, Misty Flick and Jandi Olson both came up three hits, while Erika Spilde and Miki Waterworth had two hits each as Marshall County Central/Tri-County doubled Kittson Central 20-10 to go 5-7 for the year. Amanda Myhrer was the winning pitcher.

The Prowlers' performances featured first place runs by Steve Burslie in the boys 200 meters, Lisa Swnnson in the girls 800 and the girls 4x800 relay team of Kate Ihle, Emily Mugaas, Swanson, and Becky Mooney in a meet-record 10:05.74.

"Our girls did a great job," said Prowlers coach Tim Olson. "For a small group of kids, they went out and scored a lot of points. We're really proud of them."

There were some solid efforts throughout the line-up for both the boys and girls, pointed out Olson. "The cream starts to rise to the top this time of the year," he explained. "We had some kids who stepped forward and ran some exceptional races, and we had some others who stepped in, filled some holes and did a nice job for us."

Pioneers men's team lands pair of recruits

Northland Community College men's basketball coach Mark Dannhoff announced that Macy [illegible] point guard from [illegible] and Joes [illegible] from [illegible] will be playing for the Pioneers in 1995-96.

[illegible] averaged 15 points, 12 assists and 5 [illegible] per game while earning all-[illegible] honors.

"Macy is truly an exceptional player," said Dannhoff. "His love and enthusiasm for the game makes him a special young man. Macy will be one of the best players to come out of Northland."

It will be a return trip to Northland for [illegible], a member of Dannhoff's first recruiting class two years ago. He later decided to attend the University of North Dakota, but now has elected to resume his basketball career at Northland.

"I am really excited that Joes will be returning," said Dannhoff. "He has outstanding work ethic. He is an outstanding young man and I have always had the utmost respect for him."

The band and ensemble are under the direction of Les Torgerson, music director at Northland Community and Technical College.

Update on Libertie

The Eagles Auxiliary of Roseau recently held a sandwich lunch for Libertie Traxler, who was diagnosed with a fatal disease called Tay Sachs. The ticket sales raised $200 for Libertie and the donation jars raised another $100 dollars.

Fund raising efforts will continue for the little girl from Roseau.

No, this is not a scene from Little House on the Prairie, it's third graders from Roseau and Wannaska all dressed up for a day of learning and fun. The students put on two concerts for the public and their peers at Pioneer School Day at the Pioneer Farm just ouside of Roseau.

once belonged to their families. Clara Johnson and Helen Lundgren talked about life on the farm.

Roseau senior citizens sold fresh donuts and the centennial quilts that the host students made were on display for all to enjoy. Lloyd Melby played the fiddle and showed the students numerous old gadgets and articles, including a hair clipper, a pair of boots and arm bands.

Joining Lloyd in music making were Mabel Hanson on keyboard and Ray Gerou on banjo.

The highlights of the day were the two concerts by Ross Sutter, Wally Berger and the third grade host students. The children sang and sometimes danced to old favorites like "Pop Goes the Weasel" and "Buffalo Girls Won't You Come Out Tonight." Mr. Sutter formerly of Ross, hails from Minneapolis. Mr. Berger is a long-time fiddler from the Roseau area.

Many other volunteers contributed to the day with demonstrations and tours. Mrs. Christian said close to 100 volunteers helped to make the day a success. The students all seemed to enjoy their day of fun and learning about pioneer farm life in northern Minnesota.

Ross Suttar, artist-in-rasidence at tha Roseau school, joined Roseau and Wannaska third grade studants and fiddler Wally Berger as thay antertained a larga crowd with many favorita old tunes at the Pioneer School Day in Rosaau on May 12.

Acreage reports due June 30

The final date for reports of planted acreage has been moved up to June 30 instead of the usual mid July date. The field maps for farms were delivered in the spring during sign up. When seeding has been completed, indicate on the map the crop and acreage of each field. All acreages that are shown on the maps must agree with the total cropland acres on farms when this information is loaded into the computer. Accurate reports are necessary to stay in compliance.

When seeding has been completed and producers are ready to file reports, please call 681-1612 for an appointment.

Pam Tillis ticket sale to start

Fly the friendly skies with Capitol Air

Warroad — There is good news for people who don't like that long drive from Warroad to the Twin Cities. LA Air announced that it will begin regular, scheduled flights between Warroad and Chicago and Warroad and St. Paul.

The service, called Capitol Air, will operate during the summer, from Memorial Day to Labor Day. The company is starting out slowly, offering only one flight a day.

"If this works out, we would like to do a winter service December to March," said Jay Pfaender, vice president of sales and marketing for the airline.

Warroad was chosen because of its central location between Roseau and Baudette and because of recent expansions and improvements to the airport.

Contamination fines during April

Hallock — Eight towns were fined by KaMar for having contamination levels above .25 cubic yards for the month of April.

All municipalities with drop boxes signed an agreement on contamination of the boxes, but the first three months were a grace period.

The KaMar board discussed providing signs at recycling drop boxes, defining which items are acceptable.

Housing project may be on hold

Red Lake Falls — Plans for a housing survey and housing redevelopment program may be postponed until next year. Two weeks ago the city council decided to go ahead with the north side housing project survey.

Last week, Joan Abercrombie, grant writer with the Northwest Minnesota Housing and Redevelopment Association, told the Red Lake Falls city council that she may not have time to write a grant for them because so many other cities have similar projects.

Abercrombie suggested that the city wait until next year to take a survey so it will be more accurate when the application process begins. The council said they would like to continue with the project this year, and Abercrombie said she would see if there is any way to squeeze them in.

Gotcha!

Karlstad — Kittson county sheriff's department apprehended a suspect in the robbery of the Cenex Station in Karlstad moments after arriving at the crime scene.

At about 4:45 a.m. on Friday, May 12, employees at Monte's Super Valu noticed someone entering the Cenex station. Realizing it was not an employee, they called 9-1-1. The sheriff's office called the Cenex manager who was at the station by the time the deputy arrived.

Pearson deduced that a car battery had been stolen. Soon after the deputy arrived, he arrested a suspicious man whom Pearson had seen trying to put a battery in a car.

Arctco profit sharing made

Fiscal year-end profit sharing bonus checks were awarded to employees of Arctco, Inc., of Thief River Falls for the 12th consecutive year on Monday, May 15. No dollar amounts of the distribution were announced by the company.

Employees had received a smaller longevity bonus based on length of employment in mid-December. Monday's distribution was larger and based primarily on the company's profitability.

"Thanks to the hard work of our dedicated and committed employees, fiscal 1995 was Arctco's most profitable year ever, with increased sales of Arctic Cat snowmobiles, Tigershark watercraft and related parts, garments and accessories over last year," stated Chris Twomey, president and chief executive officer of Arctco.

"We're proud to be able to say that in the 12-year history of this company we've always been profitable and we've always shared those profits with our employees."

Twomey said Arctco expects to begin marketing its all-terrain vehicles this summer with initial production scheduled for later in the year.

Lincoln high school Envirothon team from Thief River Falls scored a decisive victory over 26 other teams in the state Envirothon at Fridley Thursday to gain advancement to national competition. Lincoln scored 83 points for a five-point margin over two teams tied for second at 78—including the team which won a year ago and returned four of five members this year. It is the first year Lincoln has had a team in the environmental competition. The local team won the regional event at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge April 20 to advance to the state contest conducted at Springbrook Nature Center in Fridley. There the team scored 18 points each in wildlife, forestry and groundwater categories, 15 points in soils and 14 points in aquatics. Perfect score would be 20 in each category for a cumulative total of 100. National competition will be conducted for five days in the first week of August at Rex College in Rexburg, Idaho. Pictured prior to start of the state competition are (left to right), advisor Patti Johnson and team members Justin Phillips, Philip Nelson, Sarah Huschle, Adam Henney and Sarah Leach.

Area school district election results noted

Without competition for seats on school district boards, or other election year issues on the ballot, turnout at the polls Tuesday was characteristically low.

In Grygla, school district 447, where two candidates were running for the two three and one-half year terms, Lee Sundberg and Nicolette McMillian were elected. The total votes cast was 65. Sundberg received 65 votes and McMillian received 64.

In Goodridge, school district 561, Tom Scheef and Aldon Hyland were running for the two three-and-one-half year terms on the school board. Each received 31 votes. Total votes cast was 34.

In Middle River, school district 440, Lyla Smith and Wallace Bentson were elected to two four and one-half yer terms on the school board. Smith received 141 votes and Bengtson 134. A total of 150 votes were cast. Two write-in candidates received a few additional votes.

In Newfolden, school district 441, Mark Carlson received 120 votes, Kevin Maurstad, 76, and Susan Peterson, 92. There were two three and one-half year terms up for grabs. Carlson was the incumbent, so Peterson will join him on the board.

In Oklee, the election was a little more active. Kim Vettleson mounted a write-in campaign after the filing period closed. Four or five other individuals received write-in votes also. The two candidates officially on the ballot, John Lerohl and Errol Rustan, were elected to the two three-and-one-half year terms. Lerohl received 105 votes, Rustan received 95 votes. Vettleson received 74 votes.

In Plummer, school district 628, 66 total votes were cast. Joe McMullen received 59 votes, and Karen Fossell received 57 votes. Both were elected to the two three and one-half year terms on the board. There were two to three other individuals receiving write-in votes.

In Warren, school district 446, consolidation of school districts resulted in four candidates running for two positions on the school board. Each candidate had served on a school board before. Duane Dicken, who received 226 votes, and Phillip Awes, who received 277 votes were elected to serve two three and one-half year terms on the board. Robert Johnson received 208 votes. Gary Peterson received 128 votes.

Franklin musical Monday

Franklin Middle School Choral Musical, "The Castaways" by Jill and Michael Gallina will be performed 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 22 in the Franklin Middle School Fine Arts Multi-Purpose room. Admission is $2 for adults and students grades 9 through 12, and $1 for students in kindergarten through grade 8. Preschool children will be admitted free of charge.

Notes about the play state the following: "The characters in "The Castaways" are fictitious, however, the story is based upon events that took place at the turn of the last century. The historically correct depictions which form the framework of this production are indicative of conditions existing in large eastern cities between 1855 and 1929.

"In the years prior to coordinated social services, many poor families found it impossible to support and shelter all of their children. Some of these children were either abandoned or chose to leave the family setting for what they hoped would be a better life on the streets. The hardships and ordeals experienced by these homeless castaways forms the basis of this story. In the context of this musical, the hardships caused by their homeless condition is balanced by the occasional humor and lighter side of their "Oliver Twist" manner of existence.

"As a result of its large population and desperate horde of struggling immigrants, New York City harbored thousands of castaway children. The unfortunate "Street Arabs", as they were then known,

New business in Grygla is growing

by Elizabeth J. Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

Industry is booming in northwestern Minnesota. Between Polaris in Roseau, Marvin Windows in Warroad, and Arctco and Digi-Key in Thief River Falls, one would never guess how scarce jobs are elsewhere. The best part is, business breeds business. As a result of recent growth in the snowmobile industry, a small business is growing in Grygla.

Welltek Engineering, Inc. has recently tripled it's work force. It went from a one-man operation, to a three-man operation (four counting the new receptionist, Jan Peterson). Welltek is now a partnership between Terry Wells, Curt Forsland and Mike McKeever.

The history of Welltek

Welltek was started by Terry Wells of rural Grygla, who has been a machinist most of his life. He graduated from Staples vo-tech in 1969 and was drafted into the United States Marine Corp shortly after.

When he was discharged from the service, he moved to Thief River Falls and worked for Frosbergs Inc., and later became a tool maker for Arctic Enterprises. He worked as a machinist in Minneapolis and Jamestown, ND before moving to Grygla in 1976 and starting Grygla Welding and Machinery. In 1980, he incorporated into Machinewell, Inc. Two years ago, he left Machinewell and went to work as a product engineer for Polaris Industries. After six months Terry returned to his "calling" to be a machinist.

He started Welltek Engineering, Inc. about two years ago, working by himself for about a year. Eventually, he started to contract work out to Curt Forsland.

Curt, who also attended Staples vo-tech, started his own business in Blackduck. He bought some equipment from Edgar Hettren one day and asked him for ideas about where to get work. Hetteen suggested that Curt get in touch with Wells. Terry contracted work out to Curt for about a year, then Curt decided to close his business and become a partner with Wells.

"If I was going to keep working on this (Welltek products) why have two shops with all that over head," said Forsland.

Curt Forsland began doing contract work for Terry Wells about a year ago. He recently closed his business in Blackduck to become a partner with Wells and Mike McKeever in Welltek Engineering.

Flag Day ceremony

Warren — Marshall County Historical Society will hold a Flag Day ceremony at the museum on Sunday, June 11 at 2 p.m. There will be a flag burning ceremony, sing-along and viewing of the military room and history of the flag. The public is invited to attend.
—Warren Sheaf

Wrestling tour

Fertile — Two students from Fertile-Beltrami have been selected to tour with a wrestling team from the North Dakota Cultural Exchange Program. Lee Rudie and Brian Grunhovd were selected according to weight and grade. The team will train in Grand Forks and then travel to Winnipeg. Later they will travel to Memphis, TN. From Memphis the team will fly to Europe where they will wrestle in Holland and Belgium.

Deadly collision

Bagley — David Lee Goodwin, 28, died Thursday, May 11 after a car-train accident. The Bagely man was driving southbound on Clearwater county road 28 when he collided with an eastbound Burlington Northern train at approximately 3:10 p.m. Police, firefighters, the sheriff department and ambulance service responded. The coroner pronounced Goodwin dead on the scene.

Park vandals strike

Lengby — Vandals recently damaged a slide in Spring Lake Park, and it's not the first time damage like this has occurred.

"We've always had trouble with vandalism in the park," said Jeanette Fenske, past president of the Lengby Improvement Club.

The park has suffered damage to the fishing dock, the kitchen, the picnic tables and more. In spite of this, L.I.C., which bought the $1,000 slide, continues to work to improve the park.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Here are more ideas for festive family get-togethers, such as graduations.

Cheese gives an extra zip to this tasty sandwich spread:

EGG SALAD CHEESE SPREAD

2 cups shredded process cheese
4 hard cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1/4 cup sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon mustard
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine cheese, eggs, mayonnaise, relish and mustard and season to taste.

Serve this tangy dip with veggies, crackers or chips:

CREAMY GREEN ONION SPREAD

1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons milk
2 green onions with tops, chopped

Beat cream cheese and milk until smooth. Stir in onions.

Make your own healthy crackers to go with the above dip:

WHOLE WHEAT CRACKERS

1 cup whole wheat flour
1 cup regular flour
1/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons wheat germ
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup margarine, softened
3/4 cup buttermilk

Heat oven to 350 degrees.

Mix all ingredients except margarine and buttermilk. Cut in margarine until mixture resembles fine crumbs.

Stir in buttermilk until dough leaves the side of the bowl and makes a ball.

Turn onto floured surface and knead lightly 10 times. Roll out 1/4 inch thick.

Cut with floured 1 3/4 inch biscuit cutter and place about 1/2 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheet.

Bake 10-12 minutes, until light brown.

Reduce oven temperature to 300 degrees. Cut hot biscuits in half with sharp knife. Place cut sides up on ungreased cookie sheet and bake 15-20 minutes more, or until crackers appear dry.

Store in airtight container up to 3 days.

This would be an elegant salad to serve to guests:

DILLED EGG AND SHRIMP SALAD

1/3 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 teaspoons chopped fresh or 1/2 teaspoon dried dill weed
1 teaspoon mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
6 hard cooked eggs, chilled and coarsely chopped
2 medium stalks celery, sliced (1 cup)
2 green onions with tops, sliced
1 (6 ounce) package frozen cooked shrimp, thawed
Lettuce leaves

Mix mayonnaise, dill, mustard, salt and pepper.

Gently stir in eggs, celery, onions and shrimp.

Serve immediately on lettuce or store in refrigerator.

WILD RICE SALAD

1 cup uncooked wild rice
Seasoned salt
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 1/2 cups halved green grapes
1 cup sliced water chestnuts, drained
3/4 cup light mayonnaise
1 cup cashews (optional)
Lettuce leaves

Cook rice according to package directions. Drain well and cool to room temperature.

Spoon into a large bowl and add chicken, grapes, water chestnuts and mayonnaise. Toss gently.

Just before serving, add cashews. Serve on lettuce leaves or line bowl with lettuce leaves.

One more fruit salad, quick to fix and tasty:

SOUR CREAM FRUIT SALAD

12 ounces sour cream
1 package instant coconut pudding
1 (20 ounce) can crushed pineapple, undrained
4 teaspoons sugar
1 (30 ounce) can fruit cocktail, drained
2 cups miniature marshmallows

Mix together sour cream, pudding, pineapple and juice, and sugar.

Add drained fruit cocktail and marshmallows. Let stand for at least 24 hours.

Methodist youth group sponsors Fishing Opener

United Methodist Youth Fellowship will sponsor its second annual "Fishing Opener" Wednesday, May 24, for students in grades six through 12 in Thief River Falls public schools.

The church van will pick up students after school at Franklin middle school and students are invited to walk to the church from Lincoln high school. Participants should bring a fishing rod and a Bible; the UMYF will furnish bait and lunch. Fishing gear may also be stored at the church any time prior to the event.

Students will return to the church by 7 p.m.

Top speakers on languages scheduled here

Two noted experts on foreign languages and their incorporation into the elementary as well as middle and high school curriculum have been scheduled to speak in Thief River Falls Tuesday, May 23, including one session for the public.

Afternoon activities will be directed at district teachers, administrators and counselors. The evening session for parents and other interested parties will be conducted at 7 p.m. at Challenger Elementary and Preschool.

Presenters for these sessions will be Suzanne Jebe, world languages and cultures specialist with the Minnesota Department of Education and Carol Ann Pesola of Concordia College in Moorhead, co-author of the book Languages and Children: Making the Match.

Sheryl Novacek, Spanish teacher at Lincoln high school who has arranged Tuesday's sessions, recently attended a K-16 second-language articulation conference in Columbus, OH.

"Articulation, in this context, means the appropriate sequencing of subject matter to assure that topics addressed on one level complement and are compatible with topics addressed on succeeding levels," she said.

"In reality, the conference dealt with plus-K through 16-plus on the assumption that second-language acquisition might begin prior to kindergarten and ideally should continue as a life-long endeavor."

Novacek pointed out that second-language study in kindergarten through fifth grade is a component of the Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire Education Project 2000 Strategic Plan. In addition, parent groups have expressed interest in adding world languages to the elementary curriculum. The sessions Tuesday are an effort to facilitate this addition.

"We are exceptionally fortunate to secure the expertise of these top quality people for the workshop and parent sessions here," Novacek said. "I would hope that those persons interested in expansion of the foreign language program into the elementary grades would make every effort to attend the meeting."

Christian concert in Crookston May 22

Nashville based, Grammy-nominated Margaret Becker, along with Susan Ashton who has toured with Garth Brooks and Christine Dente and Out of Grey will be in concert Monday, May 22, at 7 p.m. at Crookston's Lysaker Auditorium. The concert is presented by World Vision and Shine the Light, Inc., a nonprofit Organization located in Fosston, dedicated to bringing quality musicians to this area.

Ashton, Becker and Dente will perform songs from their trio album, along with songs from Susan Ashton's solo projects and songs by Out of the Grey. Margaret Becker will close the program with songs from her newest project, "Grace."

NO ONE ESCAPES PRESBYOPIA

The word "presbyopia" is Greek in origin and means "old man's eyes." Presbyopia comes to all of us if we live long enough. It's part of the process of aging.

Presbyopia is a condition that exists when vision at reading distances becomes difficult and blurry due to a gradual decrease in the focusing ability of the lens of the eye. Presbyopia usually begins to affect those between 40 and 45 years of age. It is characterized by a need to hold reading matter farther away, better close vision with brighter light, and symptoms of eyestrain and headaches.

Though presbyopia cannot be prevented, properly prescribed reading glasses or bifocals will correct for the progressive loss in near-focusing power, and make reading at normal distances clear, sharp and comfortable. If you are having difficulty reading printed matter, don't put off an eye examination. It's a simple procedure and can make reading and close vision work a pleasure again.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

To The Editor

In reference to the editorial cartoon in the May 17 edition of The Times, I think it hits the nail on the head. The cartoon shows Newt Gingrich holding a pig's tail and a meat cleaver and Bob Dole holding a scissors and a [illegible] from the pig's head. Gingrich is implied to say "to chop" and Dole is implied to say "to snip."

The cartoon goes on to say "That is the Question." The pig is representing farm programs. The question raised is "to chop or to snip ... that is the question."

The November, 1994 elections were a landslide toward conservative self-reliance and less government. The fact that all programs will be hit in balancing the federal budget is a "gimme." What remains is how hard will individuals be hit!

As a retired military veteran, I may be hit with less benefits and possibly losing Grand Forks Air Force Base, thus losing my nearest subsidized shopping privileges. If it means balancing the federal budget and securing our children's financial future, than I'm all for it. What about you so called "farmers?"

I know of several local farmers collecting Conservation Reserve Program monies who are not farming for a living. Sam Donaldson from ABC News collects almost $100,000 [illegible] in mohair subsidies and [illegible] his actions legally [illegible] available [illegible]. Why? It is because as taxpayers we can't afford to continue to pay you monies that you don't earn!

Real farmers are busting their "sod" to make a living providing us with a more than abundant food supply. In the foreign subsidized markets, the American family farmers need a guaranteed price for their products. Reform of farm policies is needed to eliminate wasteful spending, favoring certain abusers and corporate farming, but must protect the future of the family farmer.

Sincerely,
David Mehrkens
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

On Thursday, May 4, 1995, two Franklin middle school music ensembles, the jazz band "Morning Darkness" and the "Sunrise S[illegible]" presented a morning concert at the Fertile-Beltrami school [illegible] Twin Cities.

The students were on the road [illegible] purposeful and [illegible] outstanding in performance and graciousness in their interactions with others. Directors Mike [illegible] and Marc [illegible] deserve credit not only for the proficiency of their musicians, but also for the manner in which the students comported themselves. These young people represented Thief River Falls well.

Very Truly Yours,
Lawrence Grand, Supt.
Fertile-Beltrami Public School

To The Editor,

Congratulations to Lee Torgerson, director of the Eighth Street Girls Ensemble and the Northland Community Band for the great concert held at Pioneer Village on Mothers Day. It was a treat to hear this fun music.

Sincerely,
The Alt Family

Case Files From The "They Should Have Known Better " Dep't.

A couple of area people have been in the political news recently and both likely would much rather have not been in that spotlight. One is in politics by choice and the other chose to urge involvement rather inappropriately.

Rep. Tim Finseth of the rural Warren area, our State Representative from District 1B, found that it is unwise to make inappropriate remarks, even within the supposedly friendly confines of his IR party. We were somewhat surprised by the comment attributed to him, because for the most part he has demonstrated uncommon public restraint.

Speaking at the Seventh District IR convention in Bemidji, Rep. Finseth was especially critical of Rep. Willard Munger, a DFLer from Duluth, the state's longest-serving lawmaker and chairman of the House Environment and Natural Resources committee. Miffed by Rep. Munger's refusal to hear a wetlands reform measure which had passed the Senate, Rep. Finseth said that Munger "won't let any bill have a hearing unless it involves socialism."

He well could have gotten away with that comment, but continued by telling his fellow party members "Here's what Democrats are like to work with...." He outlined a DFL-sponsored bill that would have given "protected" status to coyotes and skunks.

"That's Democrats for you," he is quoted as stating. " If you shot a skunk, you would have to load it up in your car and take it to the nearest DNR officer." He said he had amended the bill to remove coyotes and skunks. As a result, he said, "...the only skunks protected in Minnesota are senior Democratic members."

That stinks.

Not only is such a comment inappropriate and uncalled for, it is definitely counter-productive. If Tim thinks it has been difficult to get along with the DFL party members in the past, he ain't seen nothin' yet! Politicians may have short memories when it comes to pre-election promises, but they never forget an insult.

The other person who found troubled waters can be hot is Vern Treat, a recent transplant from an administrative assistant position at Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls to president of Northwest Technical College in Bemidji.

Vern issued a memo to faculty and staff at NTC in Bemidji, urging them to attend a DFL rally for Rep. Bob Johnson of Bemidji and Rep. Tony Kinkel of Park Rapids.

"This is actually a DFL rally, but I think also a very good opportunity for Northwest Technical College Bemidji to show its support for these two legislators," the memo said. "I urge all of you to attend this event if you feel comfortable in such a setting. Remember, even though Tony and Bob may not be of the party you support, they are our elected officials and certainly can do us some good, particularly in regard to our upcoming building request."

The memo also contained information on how to contribute "to our legislators" and a copy of the state Contribution Refund Application.

Needless to say, the in-house memo didn't stay in-house. It surfaced at the afore-mentioned district IR convention which adopted a resolution calling for Treat's immediate dismissal. The memo was read at the convention by Rep. Kevin Goodno of Moorhead.

Treat later talked to Rep. Goodno, wrote a letter of apology to be distributed to convention delegates and public letters of apology to the editors of the Fargo Forum and Bemidji Pioneer. He said his intent was to "get our faculty involved in the political process, not to endorse a particular political party."

Rep. Goodno said in a letter to Treat that he was convinced of the sincerity of Treat's apology, but that his primary concern was not the fact that Treat had promoted a DFL event over an IR event. "It was that public resources should not be used to promote events of either party or for any specific politician," Rep. Goodno wrote.

That aspect of concern apparently didn't occur to Ray Cross, president and CEO of Northwest Technical College and Treat's immediate superior in the administrative chain. Cross responded to the IR convention resolution by noting that Treat would retract the memo and apologize for distributing it. "Had (Treat) known about the IR convention, he would have included that and would have encouraged them to attend there, too," Cross said.

The plain fact is, Tim and Vern are in public positions that require propriety and diplomacy and both of them should have known better. Treat had the courtesy to apologize, albeit under duress, and we give him credit for that. We haven't heard if Finseth had a similar change of heart.

Tax Freedom Day In Minnesota Was May 14

If you are an average Minnesota wage-earner, May 14 should have been a significant day for you. It was Tax Freedom Day, the day when—if you had given all of your income to local, state and federal governments—you could begin working for yourself and your family.

Average per capita income in Minnesota is $24,403 and more than a third of it ($8,926 or 36.6 per cent) goes to pay taxes. In addition to the obvious personal income and payroll taxes, the costs of nearly all goods and services are inflated by sales and excise taxes. There are property taxes, estate and business taxes and corporate income taxes. If Americans can find a way to earn it, government can find a way to tax it.

Minnesota has the sixth highest tax rate in the nation, behind only Connecticut, New York, Washington, DC, New Jersey and Hawaii. And it is true that our infrastructure and our quality of life to a large degree reflect that lofty position on the tax ladder. But we are fast approaching, if we have not already reached, the saturation point—the point at which we can no longer absorb any more taxes.

This year Tax Freedom Day coincided with Mother's Day. If we keep following the path we have taken in the last couple of decades, we are headed for Tax Freedom Day being moved to Father's Day and then the Fourth of July. And wouldn't that be a sad observance for our nation on Independence Day?

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Two Rivers Area Theatre auditions for summer play

Auditions for adult roles in the Two Rivers Area Theatre production of "Into the Woods" have been scheduled from 6 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 30 and 31, at the community hall in Red Lake Falls.

The musical of popular familiar fairy tales in a modified entertaining format will be presented July 13-16 at the Red Lake Falls community hall.

Andrea Easton, president of the theatre group, will be director with Carol Kankel as music director. A schedule of practice for each character has been arranged and Easton said that "following this type of schedule, independent study and an all-adult cast should not be taxing on anyone."

Most roles require singing and include nine parts for men and 13 for women. Lead roles are Baker, Baker's wife, Cinderella, Jack (of beanstalk fame) and Little Red Riding Hood. Medium roles are the stepmother, stepsisters, a witch, a prince and Jack's mother. Bit parts in one scene or walk ons are the wolf, Snow White, Sleeping Beauty, Steward, Cinderella's mother, Granny, a female giant and a cow.

A list of roles and comments [illegible] for each will be shown at the time of auditions May 30 and 31. Persons to work behind the scenes or in other non-acting positions are also needed.

A preshow for young children dressed as fairy tale characters will be directed by Darla Hunt with auditions scheduled for June 27 from 6 to 8 p.m. at the community hall. Children must commit themselves to two and one-half weeks of practice with parental help.

"Having a children's preshow is part of the many ways we hope to spark an interest in theatre," said Cindy Alt, production coordinator for the theatre group. Two Rivers Area Theatre has as its mission the enhancement of fine arts throughout Red Lake county.

Konicksons have top cow in RL DHIA

Don and Karen Konickson had the top cow in value of production in the Red Lake County Dairy Herd Improvement Association during the month of April. The five-year-old in her fourth lactation produced 30,614 pounds of milk, 852 pounds of butterfat and 882 pounds of protein in 305 days.

Second and third place cows both came from the Tom and Diane Kolstoe herd and respectively produced 27,654 pounds of milk, 927 pounds of butterfat and 740 pounds of protein and 24,974 pounds of milk, 984 pounds of butterfat and 766 pounds of protein.

Other cows in the top 10 came from the following herds with pounds of milk, butterfat and protein listed respectively:

Johnston Farms, 25,445, 763 and 837; Kevin and Beth Roppe, 25,043, 865 and 772; Northwest Ag Experiment Station, 25,144, 737 and 801; Donald Taus, 24,985, 819 and 751; Northwest Ag Experiment Station, 23,690, 841 and 750; and Don and Karen Konickson, 23,129, 793 and 773 and 22,606, 813 and 761.

Other cows which achieved the standards of 22,000 pounds of milk, 750 pounds of butterfat or 700 pounds of protein came from the following herds:

Richard Dummer, David Oslund, Donald Taus, John and Warren Malwitz (2) and Beyer Farms.

RLF student on staff of BSU paper

Nicole Thompson of Red Lake Falls has been selected to be a staff member for the Northern Student, the student-run weekly newspaper on the Bemidji State University campus.

Thompson, a junior business administration major, has been chosen as the business manager for next year. Her duties include sending bills to advertisers, paying the bills for the paper, paying the staff, and managing the publication's budget.

Work less, eat more

The Red Wing raspberry takes the work out of raising a good crop of berries. The Red Wing, developed by the University of Minnesota, bears scrumptious berries all fall. Last year, due to the late frost, all of our friends, neighbors and relatives ate fresh berries out of our patch from August through to early November.

Unlike the old types of raspberries, the Red Wing bears on new stems. If you don't want to trim out the old canes, just mow the patch down in the fall. If you leave a few old stems, you will get a crop the next July as well.

The Red Wing bears its fruit on the tips of the stems--never has picking been so fast or easy. Most people think the flavor and texture of the Red Wing is superior to that of other varieties.

The Viking KB3 asparagus is a vast improvement over the old Mary Washington. We have tried the Viking for several years and have found them to be more winter hardy and productive. We have healthy, stocky roots available in our bare root building.

Canada Red Rhubarb is a perennial favorite. Rhubarb pie is always popular, and Canada Red gives you the good color necessary for sauce. For those of you with a black thumb, rhubarb is difficult to kill and needs little care. Stick it in the ground in full sun, and soon you will be making sauce. Even if you don't want to make sauce, rhubarb is an attractive addition to any garden.

Some people remember when the woods were full of Native American Cranberry. Now you can plant cranberry in your back yard. Cranberry works well in moist spots, and has a bright fall color. We have a good supply on hand of native hardy stock. We raise nearly all of our items right here at the farm, so they have been tested.

Bob Miller (left) of St. Hilaire Elevator awards Business of the Year to Art Tranby of Northern Woodwork of Thief River Falls. The award was presented during a breakfast Tuesday morning at the American Legion. The breakfast was held during Small Business Week In Thief River Falls and was sponsored by the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce. Tranby credited the businesses' success to long term employees, such as Neil Peterson, Arvid Halvorson, Larry Mogen and Myron Oargus, and a long-time committment to excellence. Northern Woodwork is observing its 75th year of operation.

LHS choirs to concert May 23

Lincoln high school choirs will present their final concert of the year on Tuesday night, May 23. Students will be performing various works throughout the program with a fun-filled finale to end the concert. Performance groups include the Swingsations, Concert Choir, Varsity Singers, Freshmen Choir, Mass Women's Choir, Mass Men's Choir and Mass Choir.

Soloists for the evening include: Sarah Harger, Brian Uhlehaun, Matt Bitzegaio, Lana Rodahl, Danielle Goulet, and Michelle Mathison.

The finale will consist of two versions of Beethoven's popular "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee". The choir performs the traditional version as all 138 students enter the auditorium. What happens next is pure excitement. Marisa Toren, a Northern Expressions School of the Arts Dance Student and Concert Choir member, has choreographed some great moves to the new version of "Joyful, Joyful" which was performed in the hit movie "Sister Act II". Lana Rodahl and Megan Browning add their special talents to the beginning of this selection with a beautifully rich soprano solo sung by Lana and graceful sign-language interpretation by Megan.

Darcy Reese the director of all the above groups, is very proud of her students and how hard they have worked throughout the year as well as the progress they have made with their singing voices. She is sure that they will perform an outstanding performance for the public to see and enjoy; however, she will not be directing this final performance as she is expecting her second child any day. A former student of Lincoln high school and former choir student of Mrs. Reese's, took over for Mrs. Reese one week prior to the concert. Her name is Nikki Goulet and Mrs. Reese is very proud to say that the students could not be in better hands. Miss Goulet recently graduated from Concordia College with a major in choral directing and Mrs. Reese states that the timing could not have been better.

Household hazardous waste collection drive successful

April 27 collection of household hazardous waste in Thief River Falls was considered a huge success, according to Howard Person, Pennington county solid waste officer. There were 305 households disposing of wastes at the site.

The collection day and paint/product exchange — sponsored by the Northwest Minnesota Household Hazardous Waste Management Group, Pennington county extension service and Minnesota Pollution Control Agency — resulted in many wastes being recycled within the community.

At the paint/product exchange, residents picked up 474 pounds of useable paint, cleaning supplies, automotive products, numerous aerosols and other products, at no charge, to use for future home improvement projects.

Wastes collected for disposal at a licensed hazardous waste facility included 550 gallons of paint, 730 gallons of used oil and 120 batteries along with 12 55-gallon drums, three 14-gallon drums and two five-gallon drums of other hazardous household items. These items included pesticides, wood preservatives, aerosols, acids and bases (caustics), adhesives, solvents and other household chemicals.

A total of 264 cars were processed through the collection during the 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. collection period — an average of just over two minutes per vehicle.

The collection day and paint/product exchange were offered to Pennington and Marshall county residents as part of the 10 county regional household hazardous waste program that has a permanent facility in Bagley. Residents of participating counties may drop off household hazardous wastes at this facility year around and receive disposal advice from program staff by calling 1-800-637-2090.

College softball doubleheader...

Fergus Falls sweeps Northland 13-5, 14-6

F[illegible] swept Northland 13-5 and 14-6 Wednesday in a pair of [illegible] community college softball games.

The host Spartans collected only nine hits off Pioneers pitcher Odetta Blomker but they capitalized on six Northland errors in Game 1 and then turned 11 walks into a Game 2 win for the rescheduled Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division sweep.

Blomker, a freshman from Thief River Falls, worked both ends of the twinbill because sophomore Celeste [illegible], the Pioneers' No. 1 pitcher, couldn't make the trip.

"Odetta pitched well in the first game," pointed out Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "We were pleased with the way she pitched. But the six errors hurt."

Pitching both games took a toll on Blomker, explained Nikunen.

"She got tired and started walking people," he noted. "She's just not used to pitching that many innings."

It wasn't a great offensive day, either, for the Pioneers. Their top four hitters were a combined 2-for-11 in Game 1, and although they came up with 11 hits in Game 2, the clutch hits failed to materialize.

The losses ended a 9-15 regular season for the Pioneers.

Northland	013	01	5	6	6
Fergus Falls	514	3x	13	4	1

NCC - Odetta Blomker (LP), Blomker 3-3 with a triple and 2 RBI.
FFCC - [illegible] (WP)

Northland	100	14	6	11	3
Fergus Falls	250	7x	14	5	1

NCC - Odetta Blomker (LP), Carlene [illegible] 2-3, Stacy Sele 2-3, Blomker 2-3 with a triple and RBI.
FFCC - Anderson (WP)

Detroit Lakes shortstop Betsy Steffl stepped on second base to force out the Prowlers' Jaime Femrite, then made the throw to first in an attempt to complete a double play during Thursday's North Sub-Section 8AA high school softball game in Thief River Falls.

Lakers 23-1 softball winner vs. Prowlers

Regular season play ended Thursday for the Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke cooperative high school softball team as the Prowlers lost a 23-1 five-inning decision to Detroit Lakes at the fairgrounds diamond.

The Lakers struck early with seven first inning runs, then clinched it with a 13-run fourth.

Jaime Femrite failed to retire any of the nine Detroit Lakes batters she faced as the Prowlers' starting pitcher, prompting the varsity debut in relief of Stephanie Leach. The freshman turned in three innings of scoreless work before the Lakers got to her in the fourth.

"Stephanie did a nice job when she came in," said Prowlers coach John Anderson. "I think she got a little tired in the fourth inning, and they got some runs off her."

The Prowlers' offense was limited to hits by Leach, Amy Peterson, Nicole Burns and Cami Sorenson.

North Sub-Section 8AA tournament play starts Monday with the No. 5 seed at No. 4 and the No. 6 seed at No. 3. Top two seeds await the Wednesday second round match-ups.

TRF golfers compete at Bemidji, Moorhead

Final stages of the 1995 Thief River Falls boys regular season golf schedule had the Prowlers competing in back-to-back meets at Bemidji Monday and Moorhead Tuesday.

Two different sets of golfers represented the Prowlers at Bemidji, where they were 20th in a 21-team field, and at the Moorhead Scramble, where they placed sixth in a field of 15.

"I was really pleased with the results," said Thief River Falls coach Dick Tyler following the Moorhead meet that featured most of his varsity regulars.

The event was played at the new Meadows course, a tree-less layout featuring ponds on most holes.

"It's a beautiful course," pointed out Tyler. "It was a challenge. With the water, you had to hit the landing areas. If you didn't, you had problems."

Wind was also a factor. "There was a 3-to-4 club difference in club selection," explained Tyler. "It was tough, but they adjusted."

Section 8AA meet will be held Friday at Perham.

Women's Softball

Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League opened its 1995 season with eight games Wednesday.

Lisa Spiering was 3-for-3 with a double and Dorene Myers was 3-for-4 with a double as Baker's Acres beat Digi-Key 12-2. Michele Fletcher was 2-for-2 for the winners, while Angie Hoglo and Becky Knutson were both 2-for-3 with a triple.

Baker's Acres also defeated Pizza Hut 13-3 as Myers went 3-for-3 with a triple and Fletcher was 3-for-3 with a double. Knutson and Cheryl Engelstad were both 2-for-2, while Spiering and Penny Iverson went 2-for-3.

Steph Pederson was 3-for-4, while Karen Hruby and Karen Wikstrom both went 2-for-3 as Pizza Hut handled Best Western Inn 16-5.

Best Western Inn bounced back to edge Digi-Key 14-13 as Debbie Williams collected 3 hits in 4 at-bats and Tina Holmm homered.

Jodi Bendickson drove in the winning run as Sather Law Office/Legion got by the Musherettes 17-16. Janet Berberich was 4-for-4 and Kathy Huschle 3-for-4 for the winners.

B&E topped Sather Law Office/Legion 18-6 behind Heidi Rewertz (5/5), Barb Wiess (4/4) and Marlys Schmitz (4/5).

Best Western Inn Ridgerunners won twice. Michelle Erickson was 3-for-3, Marilyn Helgeland 2-for-2 and Andi Nelson 2-3 in an 11-0 victory over the Musherettes, while Patti Peterson was 2-for-0 and Julie Siennes tripled in a 9-6 win over B&E.

Cullen, Spuds beat Prowlers

Hockey is in the future of St. Cloud State University-bound Matt Cullen. However, Thursday the Moorhead High School senior collected a hat trick of a different sort when he hit three home runs as part of a 4-for-4 day at the plate that carried the Spuds to a 7-3 North Sub-Section 8AA baseball win over Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke.

Cullen, batting second, drove in five runs with a solo home run to left center in the first inning, a two-run shot over the right center field fence in the third and a leadoff drive to right field in the fifth. His home run streak ended with an at-bat in the sixth but he still came up with a hard-hit run-scoring single up the middle.

Batting right behind Cullen in the Moorhead batting order was Brian Halvorson, who had himself a 3-for-4 afternoon. Dave Feir was 2-for-4 as the 7-7 Spuds snapped a season-long batting slump with a dozen hits off Prowlers righthander Aaron Ehrenstrom.

"Ernie (Ehrenstrom) pitched a good game," said Prowlers coach Dean Woodman. "He threw strikes. He had three bad pitches (the three Cullen home runs), but the way he was swinging the bat today, it didn't matter where the pitch was, he hit it."

The loss in the Prowlers' final appearance at Irv Wilson Field this spring put them at 6-10 heading into a regulation season-ending Hibbing-Virginia Mike [illegible] Classic this weekend. North Sub-Section 8AA tournament play starts Thursday with the No. 5 seed at No. 4 and the No. 6 seed at No. 3. Top two seeds await the first round winners Saturday, May 27.

The Prowlers actually played the Spuds on near-even terms. They collected 9 hits and were within 6-3 before Cullen sewed it up with his RBI single in the sixth.

"We did a lot of things well," noted Woodman. "Our hits came alive, and we did a pretty good job on defense. I'm proud of the guys, they did a nice job."

The Prowlers countered Cullen's first inning home run with doubles by Nick Chindo and Eric Bjorgaard in the bottom of the inning for a 1-1 tie.

Cullen's two-run third inning homer and an RBI double by Jim [illegible] in the fourth made it 4-1, with Cullen's third homer, along with a run-scoring sacrifice fly by Scott Krenzel, opening up a 6-1 spread in the fifth.

The Prowlers stayed in the game by scoring twice in their half of the fifth thanks to a pair of Moorhead errors. Nathan Anderson singled to start things, advanced a base on an errant pick-off attempt and scored on a throwing error by Cullen at shortstop on a ball hit by Chindo. Chris [illegible] singled, moving Chindo to third. [illegible] was picked off first by Moorhead pitcher Evan Carlson, but did delay the out long enough in a run-down to allow Chindo to score.

Scoring/Innings

Moorhead	102	121	0	7	12	3
Prowlers	100	020	0	3	9	1

Moorhead - Evan Carlson (WP), Matt Cullen 4-4 with 3 home runs and 5 RBI, Brian Halvorson 3-4 with a double, Dave Feir 2-4 with a double.
Prowlers - Aaron Ehrenstrom (LP), Nick Chindo and Eric Bjorgaard had doubles.

Moorhead catcher Nate Baukol held on to the ball after tagging out Prowlers base runner Rob Stock at the plate in the third inning of Thursday's North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball game at Irv Wilson Field.

Weather slows Prowler runners

Poor weather continued to dog the Thief River Falls/Goodridge boys and girls high school track teams as the Prowlers competed in the 52nd annual Otter Invitational Tuesday at Fergus Falls.

Cold temperatures and wind greeted the competitors in the Prowlers' next-to-the-last regular season outing. "The kids did all right for a cold day," explained Prowlers coach Tim Olson. "It's hard to improve times in the cold and wind."

Alexandria boys won team honors with 133 points, followed by Fergus Falls with 119, Bemidji 91, Detroit Lakes 70, Thief River Falls/Goodridge 68, and Ashby/Brandon/Evansville 6.

Moorhead girls won with 155 1/2 points, followed by Bemidji with 99, Thief River Falls/Goodridge 91, Alexandria 73 1/2, Detroit Lakes 54, Fergus Falls 34, and Ashby/Brandon/Evansville 12.

While the boys were shut out of the winner's circle, the Prowler girls received first place finishes from Lisa Swanson in the 800, Kelly Skeim in the discus and Jessica Bugge, who tied for first in the 200.

The Prowlers will close out their regular season schedule at the East Grand Forks Lions Invitational Monday. The 1995 North Sub-Section 8AA meet will be held Thursday at Alexandria.

Huschle leads Prowlers to 13-10 win at Warroad

Sarah Huschle had a big day as a pitcher and a hitter Tuesday to lead the Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke cooperative high school softball team to a 13-10 extra-inning win at Warroad.

As a pitcher, Huschle struck out 17 and gave up only four hits. She came up with bases-loaded, inning-ending strike-outs in both the seventh to force extra innings and in the eighth to preserve the win. The Prowlers scored once in the top of the seventh for a tie and three times in the eighth for the win.

As a batter, Huschle was 3-for-5 in a 20-hit attack – the Prowlers' highest figure of the season.

Warroad was an 18-8 winner when the two teams met the previous Saturday during the Prowler Invitational.

Scoring

Prowlers	013	032	13	13	20	3
Warroad	002	215	00	10	4	1

Prowlers - Sarah Huschle (WP), Huschle struck out 17 and was 3-5 at the plate, Nicole Burns 3-3, Sam Hale 2-2, Cami Sorenson 2-3.
Warroad - Stacey Wojciechowski (LP), Rachel Barry 4 RBI.

NCC offense racks up numbers

■ Pioneers sweep 17-4, 13-1 baseball doubleheader

Big numbers on offense added up to a 17-4, 13-1 Northland sweep over Mesabi Wednesday in a community college baseball doubleheader played at Virginia.

The Pioneers' 30 runs were accompanied by 30 hits, including four home runs as they improved to 12-13 heading into a season-ending doubleheader against MCCC Northern Division-leading Itasca today (Saturday) beginning at 12-noon on the Northland diamond.

Mark St. Marie and Rick Rivera were both 3-for-4 in the opener when Nathan Knutson and Chris Saustad hit home runs. Saustad, a freshman from East Grand Forks, had a fifth inning grand slam.

Ray Reinhart hit a three-run homer and Joe Alexander had a solo shot in the nightcap that also featured a 3-for-3 effort by Josh Stromlund.

Mike Steen and Greg Lien turned in complete-game pitching performances for the wins.

"Mike might not have been quite as sharp as he has been in some games, but he pitched well when he had to," said Northland coach Terry Wiseth. "Greg kept the ball down. He didn't get a lot of strike-outs, but he had them hitting ground balls, and our kids were making the plays behind him."

Northland made quick work of the opener with a seven-run top of the first inning. But the second game was a 2-1 contest before the Pioneers struck for nine runs in the fourth inning.

"Our hitting is coming around," noted Wiseth. "It may be a little late, but the kids are becoming more selective and picking their pitches to hit. We were a little over-anxious at the plate in the second game after the success they had in the first game. Once they settled down and started putting the ball in play instead of trying to hit home runs, they did a nice job."
